Galveston Is Flooded By Biggest Rain In 50 Years

No One Reported Killed Or Injured In City's Worst Drenching Since Hurricane Of 1900; Estimates Damage At A Million Dollars

GALVESTON, Tex., June 3. —(AP)— The biggest rain in 50 years flooded this island resort and port today. Galveston emerged soaked and muddy—but lucky.

The flat island's worst drenching since the deadly hurricane of 1900 left no known dead or injured. Merchants, busily swabbing out their stores late today, scaled down an early estimate of $1,000,000 damage to about $400,000.

The rain measured 14.21 inches on the western edge of town. High tide at 8:17 a.m. added to the flood conditions. The rain was within .14 inch of the all-time 24-hour record—recorded during the 1900 storm in which 5,000 to 7,000 persons died.

Water 3 and one half feet deep was left standing in the 16-block business district after nine hours of wind-driven rain clogged storm sewers.

Nothing moved through the streets, except determined men, wallowing to work in their shorts. Ground floors of all business houses and most homes were inundated.

But skies cleared about noon. By 3 p.m. most of the business area and paved residential streets had drained. Business was underway again in most downtown stores, although mop and bucket crews were still busy drying floors. Most of the business places which stayed closed were furniture stores, which suffered the heaviest damage.

There wasn't much danger of loss of life. This city of about 80,000 people is on level ground on the eastern end of a 30-mile-long island. There are few depressions to hold water. A causeway connects the island with the Texas

Senator Thye Proposes Meet To Thresh Out Party Position On Issue

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(AP)—Republican Senator Thye, declaring the Communists - in - government row is "destroying the government," today proposed a conference of all G. O. P. senators to thresh out a "responsible" party position on the issue.

Senator Millikin of Colorado, chairman of the Republican conference, said in reply to questions about the suggestion that he would be glad to call such a meeting if he gets a formal request. Thye of Minnesota indicated he will submit one.

Millikin noted, however, that the Senate Republican policy committee had debated the matter and decided against taking a stand regarding the charges of Senator McCarthy (R.-Wis.) that there are a lot of Communists and fellow travelers in the state department.

Thye joined six other Republican senators two days ago in issuing a declaration of conscience" which assailed "certain elements" of their party for "selfish political exploitation of fear, bigotry, ignorance and intolerance."

Drafted by Senator Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, the declaration did not call McCarthy by name. It was clear, however, that the seven Republicans had him in mind. The group also sharply criticized the role of the Truman administration in the senate investigation of McCarthy's accusations.

Discussing the situation with newsmen today, They also suggested that President Truman call McCarthy and members of the senate inquiry committee to the White House. Others in the government concerned with the matter also should be summoned, Thye added.

"He (Mr. Truman) should place them all on their honor and have an understanding that there would be no leaks of confidential information," Thye declared. "Then he should lay open the files so they can get to the bottom of this situation."

The president has opened to senate investigators the state depart-

Clear-Cut Break In Diplomatic Relations Appears Strong Possibility

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, June 3—(AP)- -A clear-cut break in diplomatic relations between Yugoslavia and her eastern European neighbors looked like a strong possibility today.

The latest development in the feud between Premier Marshal Tito and the Soviet-led cominform is Yugoslavia's recall of the ambassador to Warsaw because of the Polish government's "insulting and discriminatory conduct."

This came three days after Yugoslav diplomats in Albania were ordered to return here from Tirana and stay "until Albanian authorities change their attitude" toward them.

In both cases Yugoslavia reflected a hardening toward Soviet satellites in growing confidence that she can get along alone.

The decision on Albania was taken after an exchange of insults and numerous border incidents.

Yugoslav diplomats in Poland complained of being persecuted and insulted in the performance of their regular duties.

As long ago as last September Yugoslavia protested that "like all other cominform countries Poland has shown itself willing to violate all laws of hospitality and . . . to shelter and support Yugoslav traitors and counter-revolutionaries."

Relations with the other eastern neighbors — Bulgaria, Romania, Hungary and Czechoslovakia—are similarly bad.

Petition To Outlaw A-Bomb Is Popular

By Preston Grover

PARIS, June 3.—(AP)—A Communist front petition to outlaw the atom bomb has gained so much headway in Europe that it can be considered a major propaganda success, an Associated Press survey indicated today.

Most western observers believe at this time that the petition, being prepared for presentation to national parliaments throughout Europe, will not result in any concrete political action. But some say they may change their minds later.

These observers do consider the petition has dangerous potentialities, and at present there is no good counter propaganda to meet it.

There is no concrete answer from any source except that Communist Press and the Communist front sponsors of the movement as to how big is their success. Russian-controlled papers in Berlin today published a claim that already 100,000,000 signatures had been obtained.

The campaign began March 19 when the pro-Communist "partisans of peace" adopted a resolution in Stockholm urging worldwide support for "absolute interdiction" of atomic weapons.

The resolution demanded rigorous international control to assure suppression of the bomb, and added:

"We consider that the government first to use the bomb, no matter against what country, would be committing a crime against humanity and should be

Thompson Is Named Lafargue's Manager

Lea S. Thompson, local attorney who served as assistant U. S. district attorney under Malcolm LaFargue for more than three and a half years, Friday night was named campaign manager in the fifth congressional district for LaFargue in his race for United States senator.

Thompson stated that LaFargue's headquarters would be opened on the mezzanine floor of the Virginia Hotel within the next few days.

LaFargue attended a meeting of representatives from parishes throughout the district in Monroe Friday night. Sub-campaign headquarters will be set up in each of the 14 parishes in the district, Thompson said.

Thompson pointed out LaFargue plans to conduct an aggressive campaign in north Louisiana and the public will be notified of his itentiary as soon as it is prepared.

European Countries Vote For Alliance

Six European Nations, West Germany, Italy, France, Holland, Belgium And Luxembourg, Agree On Coal-Steel Alliance

By Carl Hartman

PARIS, June 3. —(AP)— Six European countries, but not Britain, agreed today to form a coal-steel alliance to produce the sinews of heavy industry together in peace.

Western Germany and Italy thus were brought into a common economic effort with France, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg for pooled production of basic materials that can be—and have been—turned easily to war production in nationalistic hands.

The union of the ex-enemies in this unique fashion has the blessing of the United States, which has heavily staked the postwar economic reconstruction of Europe, and of the United Nations outside the Soviet orbit.

Britain balked at joining or making any commitment on the plan that will give British Industrialists and the labor government something to think about until the final British decision is made.

But the British came forth after the Paris announcement with a communique in London paying tribute to "the bold and far-reaching importance" of the plan.

It was the brain-child of French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman. He launched it without warning May 9 as a proposal to rub out the French and German national barriers on coal and steel.

Schuman surmised that their total joint production could be far greater than the sum of their separate competitive efforts. For example, the industrial Ruhr needs French coal and France needs the Ruhr steel but each put a premium on the materials they exchanged with each other.

It was obvious that Schuman was thinking deeply of French security against German neighbors who have invaded France three times since 1870 and that the combination would serve as a checkmate on any newly rising German

HITS CONDITION OF LA. HIGHWAYS

Malcolm Lafargue Says Workers Patching Concrete With Blacktop

SHREVEPORT, La., June 3.—(Special)—Malcolm Lafargue, who resigned as U. S. attorney for the western district of Louisiana to oppose Russell Long for election to the United States senate, announced tonight that his statewide organization in the eight congressional districts is complete.

LaFargue returned to Shreveport tonight after 1,500 miles of travel through the eght congressional districts. He coupled his announcement with a denunciation of the present condition of state highways.

"The highways are dotted with highway department workers and trucks as thick as locusts" he said, "but mostly they are patching concrete with temporary blacktop despite the many millions of dollars of tax money available annually to the department. They show the waste, extravagance and squandering that marks the philosophy of the Longs."

Lafargue said Mayor de Lesseps Morrison of New Orleans and his political organization will have complete charge of the Lafargue campaign in the first and second congressional districts and will open their drive the coming week

Farmer, Wife Killed And Daughter Seriously Injured When Twister Hits Farmhouse Eight Miles North Of Kosciusko

KOSCIUSKO, Miss., June 3. —(AP)— A small twister blasted a farmhouse eight miles north of here early today killing the farmer and his wife and seriously injuring their daughter.

The bodies of prominent farmer Walter May and his wife were found at 9 a.m. (CST) this morning about eight hours after the tornado pounced on their Attala county farmhouse.

Their daughter, Mrs. Percy White of Vicksburg was found suffering from a broken arm and head injuries in a pickup truck that was damaged by a falling section of the house.

Mrs. White was brought to the Monfort-Jones hospital here in serious condition.

The storm struck about 1 a.m. (CST) neighbors said and sounded like a low-flying airplane.

The wind scattered the broken farmhouse over a half-mile area.

It dipped to the ground at the May home and again four miles southwest of nearby Hesterville. Some barns and the 100-year-old masonic lodge were damaged at Hesterville but no injuries were reported.

Heavy rains and high winds raked the entire Kosciusko area last night.

The weather was fitful in other sections of Mississippi and Louisiana.

Lashing winds and rain pelted the Opelousas, La., area damaging several homes and blowing over trees. A large limb from a tree crashed through the roof of Henry Dominique's house and landed along side the bed he and his wife occupied.

Rains dropped around the Ville Platte, La., area in such force the Vermilion river was threatening overflow near Lafayette.

S. P. Fatheree Receives Broken Right Leg, Throat Laceration

Three persons were being treated in the St .Francis Sanitarium last night following a series of accidents on Louisville avenue between Friday night and late Saturday night.

Two local men, S. P. Fatheree, 218 Apple street, and Louis Bernhart, 214 Apple street, were hospitalized following an accident on Louisville across from the Clover Leaf Dairy early Saturday morning.

The attending physician said that Fatheree sustained a fractured thigh and neck.

Bernhart is being treated for lacerations in the left forehead, fractured knee cap and possible internal injuries.

A Mulhearn ambulance took both Fatheree and Bernhart to the sanatarium shortly after the accident.

Investigating oficfers said the accident occurred when a truck and semi-trailer driven by Ray Thornhill of Alexandria, stopped in the middle lane for a traffic light and was struck from the rear by the

Japanese Reds Face Defeat In Elections

By Russell Brines

TOKYO, Sunday, June 4.—(AP)—Japan's Communists, whose big anti-U. S. drive blew up yesterday, faced another major defeat in today's national elections.

Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's Liberal Party is expected to be the gainer. It was his government, backed by the power of the occupation, which caused Saturday's Red rallies and "general strike" to fizzle.

The Communists had called the demonstrations to protest the arrest of eight Japanese accused of assaulting five U. S. soldiers at a Red rally in downtown Tokyo on Memorial Day.

On the very day of the scheduled demonstrations, an occupation court convicted all eight and gave them stiff sentences, ranging from five to 10 years imprisonment.

An estimated 28,000,000 Japanese freshly impressed by the show of firmness against threats of violence, will elect 132 members of the parliament's upper house. munists have 50 candidates.

The Red fiasco is expected to cost the Communists some of the popular vote they had expected. The party has been unusually active in the campaign. The Communists have 50 canda det. s ..i

They have been hammering away with appeals to nationalism. They attacked the maintaining of U. S. military bases in Japan. All other parties but Yoshida's jumped on this nationalistic bandwagon.

Thus, in general, votes for Yoshida's Liberals will endorse such pro-American policies as bases and a peace treaty even without Russia.

The police ban on outdoor demonstrations, which broke the back of the Communist drive, extends through election day.

Authorities wheeled out 27,000

United States Policies Toward Europe Undergoing Drastic Change

FOLLOWS ACHESON'S WAR TALKS WITH MINISTERS

By John Hightower

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(AP)—United States policies toward Europe are undergoing a drastic change of direction. The new policy line calls for deeper and more permanent involvement of this country in European affairs.

That is the central fact which stands out of Secretary Acheson's reports and actions here this week following his return from the cold war strategy talks with western foreign ministers at London.

It is also the fact which seems likely from here on to be a major influence in the shaping of foreign policy debates in congress and the country at large. An understanding of the new policy direction, in the opinion of top administration officials, is essential to grasp what Acheson, Defense Secretary Johnson and Presdent Truman now propose to do in terms of future American commitments.

Two steps of the utmost importance are now shaping up for action by the administration and almost certainly for eventual debate in congress.

1. The U. S. Government is preparing to take the lead in pooling the armed forces of the west into what Secretary Acheson has now called "balanced collective forces." Assuming congress and the country support it, this will go a long way toward accomplishing what the joint chiefs of staff chairman, General Omar Bradley, called for several weeks ago in a speech at Chicago — a sacrifice of national sovereignty in the interest of international strength.

For the United States it will mean no longer splitting defense funds about equally three ways on the theory that the United States thus gets the balance of forces it needs for its own defense. Rather, this country would spend more on the air force and navy, relatively less on the army, to carry out a strategic role concerned with defending not the United States alone but all North America and Western Europe.

2. A little noticed section of Acheson's report to congress Monday discloses that the government

ROPER'S SERVICE IS SLATED TODAY

27-Year-Old Monroe Furniture Store Salesman Is Killed In Collision

BASTROP, La., June 3. —(Special)— Funeral services for Jesse E. Roper, 27 - year - old Monroe furniture salesman, who was instantly killed in an automobile-truck collision near Newellton Friday afternoon, will be held 3 p.m. Sunday in the Bartholomew church here.

The Rev. C. E. Gray will officiate.

Roper was fatally injured shortly before 2:30 p.m. Friday when his automobile and a truck driven by Wilbur Jack Scott, 25, of Eddiceton, Miss., collided on the Balmoral curve on highway 65.

Dr. Joseph Whitaker, Tensas parish coroner, said Roper died instantly from multiple injuries and a crushed chest.

Scott, driver of the Columbia Truck Leasing Inc., which delivers mail and was enroute from Natchez to Magee, Ark., was charged with negligent homicide and released from the Tensas parish jail under $1,000 bond.

Dr. Whitaker said an inquest into the fatal accident was held Friday in the Legion Memorial hospital in Newellton.

Investigating officers said Roper a salesman for Monroe Furniture Company in Monroe, was traveling south. The truck and trailer which operates out of Kansas City, Mo., and maintains an office in Monroe was headed north. The two vehicles met in the curve, authorities said, and the left side of the car struck the front of the trailer. The automobile was demolished.

Roper was a veteran of World War II having served several months overseas. He was a member of the Bastrop Masonic Lodge. and Woodman of the World.

He is survived by his wife, one son, Jimmie Roper, a daughter, Carol Ann Roper, a brother, George Roper and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Roper, of Bastrop.

Pallbearers will be Howard Wails, Howard Morgan, Dan Lewis Hattaway, Benjamin Byrd, T. A. and Vallery Rains, Howard Hudson, Jr., and Joe Durrett.

Mauna Loa's Eruption Thunders Into Third Day—Is The Greatest In Volcanic History Of Hawaiian Islands

By Roy Essoyan

HONOLULU, June 3.—(AP)—Mauna Loa's eruption—greatest in Hawaii's volcanic history—thundered into its third day today with no sign of abating.

Coast guard craft stood off the west coast of the Island of Hawaii, rescuing persons trapped between the three molten rivers of lava which have reached the sea.

This is the Kona coast of villages and plantations. One village, upper Hookena, has been destroyed. Several others have been partly destroyed by the searching rivers of melted rock.

The lava mowed down and burned telephone poles, cutting communications. And so the extent of the destruction and the fate of small parties reported trapped were not known. There were no casualties reported, however.

Great white plumes of smoke and fumes towered over the 13,680-foot peak. They were clearly visible in Hilo, the main city on the Island of Hawaii, 35 miles to the east.

An estimated 15 homes were wiped out by the lava along with some village buildings. The estimate of refugees remained at around 80 familes, but broken communications made the total uncertain.

Kona police said 40 of the refugees had been made homeless. They were still rescuing persons

There appeared a strong possibility that residents of many of the small taro-patch communities still may be trapped. The taro root is widely raised for food.

Among those rescued by coast guard cutter were three Hawaiians. They had taken their families to safety and then returned to see how their homes had fared. A fast-moving stream of lave reached the sea, cutting them off.

There was no sign that the eruption was abating. Mauna Loa broke loose Thursday night, blowing three major vents in its southwest flank high up its slope. There is no eruption from the crater.

Eye witnesses said that geysers of lava still spouted from the vents. Small tributaries were branching out from the three main rivers of molten rock.

A fourth big flow that had threatened other ranches and plantations solidified. Eyewitnesses said lava here was piled 24 feet high and was about a quarter of a mile wide.

The main streams stretch for 25 miles or more to the sea and are as much as a mile wide. The lava covers hundreds of acres of the fertile Kona coast.

Mauna Loa last erupted on Jan. 7, 1949. But that was a mild one compared to the present upheaval.

Volcanologist Ruy H. Finch said the eruption was the most violent on record for the amount of lava hurled out in the first 12 hours. The nearest to it was the eruption of Kilauea, Mauna Loa's eastern crater, in 1823.

Hearn's Super Store Is Damaged By Fire

Hearn's Super Market on Jackson street was damaged considerably last night by fire which broke out in rear of the store.

Firemen said that Johnson's Drug Store, adjacent to the market, suffered smoke damage.

An investigation into the cause of the fire had not been made last night.

No estimate of the amount of damage was given. Firemen were called out at 9:30 p.m. The fire was under control shortly after eleven o'clock.

European Countries Vote For Alliance

By Carl Hartman

PARIS, June 3. —(AP)— Six European countries, but not Britain, agreed today to form a coal-steel alliance to produce the sinews of heavy industry together in peace.

Western Germany and Italy thus were brought into a common economic effort with France, Holland, Belgium and Luxembourg for pooled production of basic materials that can be—and have been—turned easily to war production in nationalistic hands.

The union of the ex-enemies in this unique fashion has the blessing of the United States, which has heavily staked the postwar economic reconstruction of Europe, and of the United Nations outside the Soviet orbit.

Britain balked at joining or making any commitment on the plan that will give British Industrialists and the labor government something to think about until the final British decision is made.

But the British came forth after the Paris announcement with a communique in London paying tribute to "the bold and far-reaching importance" of the plan.

It was the brain-child of French Foreign Minister Robert Schuman. He launched it without warning May 9 as a proposal to rub out the French and German national barriers on coal and steel.

Schuman surmised that their total joint production could be far greater than the sum of their separate competitive efforts. For example, the industrial Ruhr needs French coal and France needs the Ruhr steel but each put a premium on the materials they exchanged with each other.

It was obvious that Schuman was thinking deeply of French security against German neighbors who have invaded France three times since 1870 and that the combination would serve as a checkmate on any newly rising German

HITS CONDITION OF LA. HIGHWAYS

Malcolm Lafargue Says Workers Patching Concrete With Blacktop

SHREVEPORT, La., June 3.—(Special)—Malcolm Lafargue, who resigned as U. S. attorney for the western district of Louisiana to oppose Russell Long for election to the United States senate, announced tonight that his statewide organization in the eight congressional districts is complete.

LaFargue returned to Shreveport tonight after 1,500 miles of travel through the eght congressional districts. He coupled his announcement with a denunciation of the present condition of state highways.

"The highways are dotted with highway department workers and trucks as thick as locusts" he said, "but mostly they are patching concrete with temporary blacktop despite the many millions of dollars of tax money available annually to the department. They show the waste, extravagance and squandering that marks the philosophy of the Longs."

Lafargue said Mayor de Lesseps Morrison of New Orleans and his political organization will have complete charge of the Lafargue campaign in the first and second congressional districts and will open their drive the coming week

By Roy Essoyan

HONOLULU, June 3.—(AP)—Mauna Loa's eruption—greatest in Hawaii's volcanic history—thundered into its third day today with no sign of abating.

Coast guard craft stood off the west coast of the Island of Hawaii, rescuing persons trapped between the three molten rivers of lava which have reached the sea.

This is the Kona coast of villages and plantations. One village, upper Hookena, has been destroyed. Several others have been partly destroyed by the searching rivers of melted rock.

The lava mowed down and burned telephone poles, cutting communications. And so the extent of the destruction and the fate of small parties reported trapped were not known. There were no casualties reported, however.

Great white plumes of smoke and fumes towered over the 13,680-foot peak. They were clearly visible in Hilo, the main city on the Island of Hawaii, 35 miles to the east.

An estimated 15 homes were wiped out by the lava along with some village buildings. The estimate of refugees remained at around 80 familes, but broken communications made the total uncertain.

Kona police said 40 of the refugees had been made homeless. They were still rescuing persons

There appeared a strong possibility that residents of many of the small taro-patch communities still may be trapped. The taro root is widely raised for food.

Among those rescued by coast guard cutter were three Hawaiians. They had taken their families to safety and then returned to see how their homes had fared. A fast-moving stream of lave reached the sea, cutting them off.

There was no sign that the eruption was abating. Mauna Loa broke loose Thursday night, blowing three major vents in its southwest flank high up its slope. There is no eruption from the crater.

Eye witnesses said that geysers of lava still spouted from the vents. Small tributaries were branching out from the three main rivers of molten rock.

A fourth big flow that had threatened other ranches and plantations solidified. Eyewitnesses said lava here was piled 24 feet high and was about a quarter of a mile wide.

The main streams stretch for 25 miles or more to the sea and are as much as a mile wide. The lava covers hundreds of acres of the fertile Kona coast.

Mauna Loa last erupted on Jan. 7, 1949. But that was a mild one compared to the present upheaval.

Volcanologist Ruy H. Finch said the eruption was the most violent on record for the amount of lava hurled out in the first 12 hours. The nearest to it was the eruption of Kilauea, Mauna Loa's eastern crater, in 1823.

Farmer, Wife Killed And Daughter Seriously Injured When Twister Hits Farmhouse Eight Miles North Of Kosciusko

KOSCIUSKO, Miss., June 3. —(AP)— A small twister blasted a farmhouse eight miles north of here early today killing the farmer and his wife and seriously injuring their daughter.

The bodies of prominent farmer Walter May and his wife were found at 9 a.m. (CST) this morning about eight hours after the tornado pounced on their Attala county farmhouse.

Their daughter, Mrs. Percy White of Vicksburg was found suffering from a broken arm and head injuries in a pickup truck that was damaged by a falling section of the house.

Mrs. White was brought to the Monfort-Jones hospital here in serious condition.

The storm struck about 1 a.m. (CST) neighbors said and sounded like a low-flying airplane.

The wind scattered the broken farmhouse over a half-mile area.

It dipped to the ground at the May home and again four miles southwest of nearby Hesterville. Some barns and the 100-year-old masonic lodge were damaged at Hesterville but no injuries were reported.

Heavy rains and high winds raked the entire Kosciusko area last night.

The weather was fitful in other sections of Mississippi and Louisiana.

Lashing winds and rain pelted the Opelousas, La., area damaging several homes and blowing over trees. A large limb from a tree crashed through the roof of Henry Dominique's house and landed along side the bed he and his wife occupied.

Rains dropped around the Ville Platte, La., area in such force the Vermilion river was threatening overflow near Lafayette.

FOUR INJURED IN AUTO WRECKS

Three persons were being treated in the St .Francis Sanitarium last night following a series of accidents on Louisville avenue between Friday night and late Saturday night.

Two local men, S. P. Fatheree, 218 Apple street, and Louis Bernhart, 214 Apple street, were hospitalized following an accident on Louisville across from the Clover Leaf Dairy early Saturday morning.

The attending physician said that Fatheree sustained a fractured thigh and neck.

Bernhart is being treated for lacerations in the left forehead, fractured knee cap and possible internal injuries.

A Mulhearn ambulance took both Fatheree and Bernhart to the sanatarium shortly after the accident.

Investigating oficfers said the accident occurred when a truck and semi-trailer driven by Ray Thornhill of Alexandria, stopped in the middle lane for a traffic light and was struck from the rear by the

Japanese Reds Face Defeat In Elections

By Russell Brines

TOKYO, Sunday, June 4.—(AP)—Japan's Communists, whose big anti-U. S. drive blew up yesterday, faced another major defeat in today's national elections.

Prime Minister Shigeru Yoshida's Liberal Party is expected to be the gainer. It was his government, backed by the power of the occupation, which caused Saturday's Red rallies and "general strike" to fizzle.

The Communists had called the demonstrations to protest the arrest of eight Japanese accused of assaulting five U. S. soldiers at a Red rally in downtown Tokyo on Memorial Day.

On the very day of the scheduled demonstrations, an occupation court convicted all eight and gave them stiff sentences, ranging from five to 10 years imprisonment.

An estimated 28,000,000 Japanese freshly impressed by the show of firmness against threats of violence, will elect 132 members of the parliament's upper house. munists have 50 candidates.

The Red fiasco is expected to cost the Communists some of the popular vote they had expected. The party has been unusually active in the campaign. The Communists have 50 canda det. s .1

They have been hammering away with appeals to nationalism. They attacked the maintaining of U. S. military bases in Japan. All other parties but Yoshida's jumped on this nationalistic bandwagon.

Thus, in general, votes for Yoshida's Liberals will endorse such pro-American policies as bases and a peace treaty even without Russia.

The police ban on outdoor demonstrations, which broke the back of the Communist drive, extends through election day.

Authorities wheeled out 27,000

Jes' Ramblin'

Monroe will soon be honored by having a local young man in the ranks of a rabbi. At the Hebrew Union College in Cincinnati, O., Henry Sandman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Sandman, will be ordained to this clerical post on June 10.

Sandman was educated in the city schools in Monroe and gradua ed from Neville High School. For years he had leanings for a career as rabbi and his graduation culminates eight years of faithful study. He received his master's degree last March and has served congregations in Henderson and Danville, Ky. in his under-graduate days. Friends in Monroe are quite proud of the progress and outlook for success of this young man.

C. C. Boardman, and his fellow officers at the Thermatomic Carbon Company in Sterlington, have as guests J. Albert Woods, president of Commercial Solvents Corp., and affiliated with other important companies. He will come here for an inspection visit and will have in his party other officials from Terre Haute, Ind. and New York.

While business of the company will be the chief concern, this will

Hearn's Super Store Is Damaged By Fire

Hearn's Super Market on Jackson street was damaged considerably last night by fire which broke out in rear of the store.

Firemen said that Johnson's Drug Store, adjacent to the market, suffered smoke damage.

An investigation into the cause of the fire had not been made last night.

No estimate of the amount of damage was given. Firemen were called out at 9:30 p.m. The fire was under control shortly after eleven o'clock.

FOLLOWS ACHESON'S WAR TALKS WITH MINISTERS

By John Hightower

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(AP)—United States policies toward Europe are undergoing a drastic change of direction. The new policy line calls for deeper and more permanent involvement of this country in European affairs.

That is the central fact which stands out of Secretary Acheson's reports and actions here this week following his return from the cold war strategy talks with western foreign ministers at London.

It is also the fact which seems likely from here on to be a major influence in the shaping of foreign policy debates in congress and the country at large. An understanding of the new policy direction, in the opinion of top administration officials, is essential to grasp what Acheson, Defense Secretary Johnson and Presdent Truman now propose to do in terms of future American commitments.

Two steps of the utmost importance are now shaping up for action by the administration and almost certainly for eventual debate in congress.

1. The U. S. Government is preparing to take the lead in pooling the armed forces of the west into what Secretary Acheson has now called "balanced collective forces." Assuming congress and the country support it, this will go a long way toward accomplishing what the joint chiefs of staff chairman, General Omar Bradley, called for several weeks ago in a speech at Chicago — a sacrifice of national sovereignty in the interest of international strength.

For the United States it will mean no longer splitting defense funds about equally three ways on the theory that the United States thus gets the balance of forces it needs for its own defense. Rather, this country would spend more on the air force and navy, relatively less on the army, to carry out a strategic role concerned with defending not the United States alone but all North America and Western Europe.

2. A little noticed section of Acheson's report to congress Monday discloses that the government

27-Year-Old Monroe Furniture Store Salesman Is Killed In Collision

BASTROP, La., June 3. —(Special)— Funeral services for Jesse E. Roper, 27 - year - old Monroe furniture salesman, who was instantly killed in an automobile-truck collision near Newellton Friday afternoon, will be held 3 p.m. Sunday in the Bartholomew church here.

The Rev. C. E. Gray will officiate.

Roper was fatally injured shortly before 2:30 p.m. Friday when his automobile and a truck driven by Wilbur Jack Scott, 25, of Eddiceton, Miss., collided on the Balmoral curve on highway 65.

Dr. Joseph Whitaker, Tensas parish coroner, said Roper died instantly from multiple injuries and a crushed chest.

Scott, driver of the Columbia Truck Leasing Inc., which delivers mail and was enroute from Natchez to Magee, Ark., was charged with negligent homicide and released from the Tensas parish jail under $1,000 bond.

Dr. Whitaker said an inquest into the fatal accident was held Friday in the Legion Memorial hospital in Newellton.

Investigating officers said Roper a salesman for Monroe Furniture Company in Monroe, was traveling south. The truck and trailer which operates out of Kansas City, Mo., and maintains an office in Monroe was headed north. The two vehicles met in the curve, authorities said, and the left side of the car struck the front of the trailer. The automobile was demolished.

Roper was a veteran of World War II having served several months overseas. He was a member of the Bastrop Masonic Lodge, and Woodman of the World.

He is survived by his wife, one son, Jimmie Roper, a daughter, Carol Ann Roper, a brother, George Roper and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Roper, of Bastrop.

Pallbearers will be Howard Wails, Howard Morgan, Dan Lewis Hattaway, Benjamin Byrd, T. A. and Vallery Rains, Howard Hudson, Jr., and Joe Durrett.

Jr. C. Of C. In Orleans To Sponsor Ninth Tour Of Louisiana

The New Orleans Junior Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the ninth Louisiana state air tour, June 23, 24 and 25th, to promote general aviation interest, announces air tour chairman, Nash C. Roberts, Jr.

All aircraft owners, pilots and flight operators are cordially invited to participate in this tour, which will cover 22 Louisiana cities and towns. It is Chairman Roberts' goal to have 40 aircraft on the tour with the possiblity of a squadron of National Guard B-25 bombers joining the tour for one day.

A wartime USO touch will be effected as professional night club entertainers from New Orleans will give performances at each scheduled stop. There will be a talented cast of comedians, magicians and singers and dancers.

Among other notables, Arthur Godfrey telegraphed his regrets at being unable to participate in the tour, but Edgar Bergen and Zack "Smiling Jack" Mosely are considering their invitations and both may join the tour. Brigadier General T. B. Herndon, Louisiana state director of aeronautics, is assisting Chairman Roberts in over all planning of the tour and will fly his personal plane. He notes that the first application received this year was from A. W. Powell, a pilot who ran into bad weather on the 1949 air tour and made a forced landing in a cotton field near Bastrop, Louisiana.

"That is the spirit that advances aviation despite all obstacles," states General Herndon.

Both cities and towns have notified Chairman Roberts that they are planning extensive welcoming ceremonies for all the fliers. Numerous banquets, luncheons, bar-b-cues, parties and other festivities will highlight the tour. A special air show will be staged at Ruston, Saturday afternoon, June 24th.

Night stops will be made at Lake Charles and Monroe, luncheon stops are scheduled for Lafayette, Shreveport and St. Joseph. The cities of Rayne and Crowley will both be honored at the Rayne air field.

The complete itinerary of the air tour is as follows: Departure from New Orleans airport, June 23rd at 0830, arrive Donaldsonville 0930, arrive Patterson 1040, arrive Jeanerette 1140, arrive Lafayette 1240 for lunch, arrive Rayne 1415, arrive Lake Arthur 1510, arrive Welsh 1605, arrive Lake Charles 1700 for overnight. Leave Lake Charles 0800 June 24th, arrive DeRidder 0840, arrive Leesville 0930, arrive Many 1040, arrive Shreveport 1220 for lunch, arrive Gilliam 1415, arrive Arcadia 1545, arrive Ruston 1635, arrive Monroe 1800 for overnight. Leave Monroe 0800 June 25th, arrive Bastrop 0830, arrive Lake Providence 0940, arrive St. Joseph 1110 for lunch, arrive Winnfield 1350, arrive Ville Platte 1540 ending the tour.

NO FIGHTS SEEN IN LEGISLATURE

Foes Of Long Lend Support To Some Of His Measures

By Edmond Le Breton

BATON ROUGE, La., June 3.—(AP)—The present session of the Louisiana legislature is beginning to qualify as a rarity—it has gone almost to the halfway mark without a slambang fight on administration and anti-administration lines.

Thosee lines broke when Gov. Earl K. Long's number one measure, the $140,000,000 road and bridge bond authorization, swept through the house with only three votes against it, obviously drawing support outside his faction.

On the other hand, there is plenty of evidence that the governor's leaders in the legislature are following conciliatory tactics and side-stepping fights.

For example:

Although they were unable to reach agreement in advance with opposition members on a civil service bill, and two different measures went in, the administration bill has been allowed to sit quietly in committee. The governor's floor leaders explain that they still have high hopes of patching up the differences and don't want to spoil the chances by pushing the governor's bill prematurely.

Sen. Brooks Oliver of Bastrop Thursday, at Gov. Long's direct request, withdrew a bill that had the New Orleans delegation jittery. It would have taken nearly $2,000,000 a year from the budget of the Crescent city's dock board.

Administration leaders say privately that some adjustment of the tobacco tax revenue in favor of New Orleans is practically certain. The guessing presently favors a bill that would give New Orleans about $550,000 a year more and leave other cities at or near the present level—thus keeping the demand on the state treasury low, while still helping New Orleans.

Bills providing for a transfer of $10,000,000 from the welfare reserve to highways, and cutting the free lunch appropriation—nearly $10,000,000 this year—to $7,500,000 are cooling in committee. Both are potentially explosive if brought to the floor in their present form, and apparently some changes are under consideration.

Verbal criticism of the welfare department in the senate a few days ago was sharp, but when a committee appointed as a result of the complaints reported, its findings were complimentary to the department.

As to fights in which administration measures are not involved—such as the stock law battle and a tiff of two over the state university—the governor's leaders are keeping hands off or making it plain that if they join in they do so as individuals.

"Peace and harmony" as a slogan went out with Gov. Jimmie Davis' administration, but often as the legislature goes on its unwontedly calm way in 1950 it seems to be back as an objective.

NO FIGHTS SEEN IN LEGISLATURE

By Edmond Le Breton

BATON ROUGE, La., June 3.—(AP)—The present session of the Louisiana legislature is beginning to qualify as a rarity—it has gone almost to the halfway mark without a slambang fight on administration and anti-administration lines.

Thosee lines broke when Gov. Earl K. Long's number one measure, the $140,000,000 road and bridge bond authorization, swept through the house with only three votes against it, obviously drawing support outside his faction.

On the other hand, there is plenty of evidence that the governor's leaders in the legislature are following conciliatory tactics and side-stepping fights.

For example:

Although they were unable to reach agreement in advance with opposition members on a civil service bill, and two different measures went in, the administration bill has been allowed to sit quietly in committee. The governor's floor leaders explain that they still have high hopes of patching up the differences and don't want to spoil the chances by pushing the governor's bill prematurely.

Sen. Brooks Oliver of Bastrop Thursday, at Gov. Long's direct request, withdrew a bill that had the New Orleans delegation jittery. It would have taken nearly $2,000,000 a year from the budget of the Crescent city's dock board.

Administration leaders say privately that some adjustment of the tobacco tax revenue in favor of New Orleans is practically certain. The guessing presently favors a bill that would give New Orleans about $550,000 a year more and leave other cities at or near the present level—thus keeping the demand on the state treasury low, while still helping New Orleans.

Bills providing for a transfer of $10,000,000 from the welfare reserve to highways, and cutting the free lunch appropriation—nearly $10,000,000 this year—to $7,500,000 are cooling in committee. Both are potentially explosive if brought to the floor in their present form, and apparently some changes are under consideration.

Verbal criticism of the welfare department in the senate a few days ago was sharp, but when a committee appointed as a result of the complaints reported, its findings were complimentary to the department.

As to fights in which administration measures are not involved—such as the stock law battle and a tiff of two over the state university—the governor's leaders are keeping hands off or making it plain that if they join in they do so as individuals.

"Peace and harmony" as a slogan went out with Gov. Jimmie Davis' administration, but often as the legislature goes on its unwontedly calm way in 1950 it seems to be back as an objective.

Our Four-Year College Bill

The Legislative committee of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday voted unanimously to recommend that the Board of Directors support the bill by Senators McCormick, King and Oliver for the establishment of a four-year college here.

It is inconceivable that there would be any opposition to this bill here.

Under the proposed act, which was introduced in the state legislature last week, Northeast Junior college would be separated from L. S. U., made a four-year college and placed under the jurisdiction of the State Board of Education, just as are Louisiana Tech, Northwestern State college at Natchitoches, Southeastern at Hammond and other schools.

The act provides "that a school of higher education in the Arts and Sciences, be and the same is hereby created and established for the education of persons in the State of Louisiana, said school shall be known and designated as Northeast Louisiana college; and shall be located in Monroe, Ouachita parish, State of Louisiana. That the Board of Supervisors of Louisiana State university shall transfer and convey the site and facilities known as Northeast Junior college, together with all buildings and improvements thereon, and all other lands and properties thereto, to the state of Louisiana and the Louisiana State Board of Education.

"THAT THE STATE OF LOUISIANA SHALL APPROPRIATE SUFFICIENT FUNDS FOR BUILDING, EQUIPPING AND MAINTAINING THE SAID INSTITUTION."

In simple terms, the school would operate under an act of the legislature and not as an "orphan" of L. S. U. And it would be a four-year school which would provide easy access for boys and girls throughout northeast Louisiana whose parents perhaps are not financially able to send them elsewhere.

As one person expressed it at yesterday's meeting of the Chamber's Legislative committee, Northeast Junior college has been operating on "faith, hope and charity." The faith and hope has been engendered among those of us interested in the welfare of the school and the charity has come from the L. S. U. Board of Supervisors.

The junior college here was established in 1931 by the Ouachita Parish Police Jury and some four years later was deeded to L. S. U. with the provision that they operate it. It was deeded under a 25-year contract which stipulates that the university may cancel it at any time. In other words, there's no assured permanancy, and with enrollment steadily declining, it is entirely possible that the state university may chuck the whole deal in a year or two. In fact, it has been hinted that just such a plan has been contemplated and that the school will be dumped back into the lap of the police jury.

Under the proposed act, the permanancy of the college is assured. The legislature will appropriate necessary funds for buildings, maintenance and other facilities, and we won't have to depend upon handouts from the L. S. U. board. The board naturally is chiefly concerned with the welfare of the state university, and the junior colleges, as we stated, have been "orphans" who have received the crumbs which were left from the main course.

A four-year college would be a tremendous asset to Monroe. Under the proposed act, it would be an assurance of stability that would attract students throughout all of northeast Louisiana. Its enrollment would undoubtedly increase materially and it would bring another industry, as you might call it, to this section of the state.

Senator McCormick and the co-authors of this bill are to be congratulated upon their foresight and we wholeheartedly urge the support of all the citizens of this area in their efforts to pass the measure.

Standard Traffic Rules

The Memorial Day weekend produced the predicted highway slaughter across the nation. And no little part of the blame must fall upon the incredible hodge-podge of state and city laws which govern U. S. motor traffic.

No motorist who drives much beyond his own city and state boundaries could possibly hope to master the baffling variety and complexity of these rules. The states and communities could hardly do more to assure accidents—unless they set out deliberately to erect death traps on the highways.

This confusion is an old tale, but apparently it needs to be told again and again, since few governing agencies are doing anything about it. Don Eddy, writing in the June issue of American Magazine, spells out some of the absurd contradictions the average driver meets as he goes from place to place.

Speed limits range from 25 miles an hour in Missouri to no maximum at all in a dozen states.

Though the blinding glare from raised headlight beams is rated a prime accident cause, six states have no law requiring drivers to lower their beams when approaching other cars. Others enforce dimming regulations with widely varying efficiency.

Eddy talked to a South Dakota ranch hand who had whizzed past a stopped school bus in Nebraska, killing three children. Under Nebraska law the children had the right of way, but in South Dakota the ranch hand would have. He didn't know the Nebraska law was different.

Maine, Missouri and the District of Columbia don't require even a temporary halt behind a school bus. The rest of the states offer a bewildering assortment of rules. And although most decree that school buses shall be painted yellow, they may be daubed any old color in a few states.

There are still four states which require no hand signals for turning and stopping. But a motorist will find, too, that signals which are correct in California don't fit in Michigan. Only a Philadelphia lawyer could tour the continent with assurance he was using his arm in the legal manner from state to state.

It's customary to indicate no-passing zones by painted lines on the pavement. It'd be helpful if the same markings applied everywhere, but they don't. A no-passing sector may be indicated by double lines, wavy line, broken line, yellow or white line. Pity the driver who forgets for an instant what state he's driving in.

Examples like these could be multiplied on end. They're proof that states and cities are 'way behind the times on traffic rules.

Highway experts like to say driver education must come first, that you can't legislate safe driving. There's a large grain of truth in that, but it's not fair to ask any motorist to learn today's nonsensical pattern of traffic laws.

The National Highway Conference has drafted two uniform traffic codes, one for states and another for cities. Up to now no state has adopted the code, and only a few cities have accepted the municipal one.

Until the state and cities make real progress toward uniformity, they will sound a bit foolish asking the motorist to develop safe driving habits. How can he do that when a habit that is safe in one state is not safe in another?

Billy Rose:

PITCHING HORSESHOES

OPEN LETTER

Hon. Harry S. Truman
The White House
Washington, D. C.
Dear Mr. President:

I see by the papers that the Freedom Fair which was scheduled to open in Washington in 1951 has been called off. I respectfully suggest that you press a few buttons and call it back on again, and with your patience and permission I'd like to tell you why.

As this lopsided eight-ball of a planet currently shapes up, about the only thing worth talking about is freedom, or the lack of it, and as you yourself have repeatedly pointed out in your speeches, our people ought to know what they're talking about when the subject comes up.

Well, what's the best way to demonstrate that there's still plenty of life in the old liberties? Fastidious facts and figures? Cliche-studded press releases? Rah-rah-rah editorials? No, Mr. President, not in this day and ague. As I see it, the best way to stand off the sugar-coated strychnine being handed out by the kids in the Kremlin is to hand out a few lollypops of our own, and I can't think of a better place to do it than a 200-acre fairground within eyeshot of the Lincoln Memorial.

Impact-wise, what would such a shindig actually accomplish? Not much, Sir, if it were just a run-of-the-Flushing-meadows type of fair. But it would do a potent plenty if it were a mammoth, hit-'em-in-all-five-senses whooptydo in which everything from spectacle to sideshow were built around one simple theme: The Freer the Enterprise, the More Enterprising the Freemen.

Once and for all, let's concretize in terms of daily living and loving how well our Joe Doakses are doing compared with the Josef Dokczes in the Iron Curtain countries. For example, in the exhibit area let our big auto outfits trot out their cars alongside a few Russian cars, and then let them dramatize how many man-hours of work it takes to make one—and, even more important, own one. And alongside the big General Motors building, let's have an even bigger U. A. W. building in which Walter Reuther can dramatically document how much better off his men are in terms of union contracts, working conditions and pension plans than the auto workers in the various Commielands.

Once and for all, let's pull out all the stops and compare our homes, schools and churches with theirs. Let's exhibit an American voting booth with a curtain on the door, and next to it a Russian voting booth with an N. K. V. S. man where the curtain ought to be. In short, let's give the Pinkos the lumps they've been asking for and make it clear as the nose on Jimmy Durante's face that there's no freedom unless everybody can exercise his taste and tonsils as he sees fit.

Let's even show them up on the midway. Instead of the usual Chamber of Horrors, let's restage the trial of Cardinal Mindszenty, and instead of the old-hat Ubangi sideshow, let the populace take a peek at a Siberian slave labor camp.

With no pomp but plenty of documented circumstances, one big lesson is a cinch to emerge from the fair I envision: That "degenerate democracy" still provides the bestest for the mostest; that our way of life has got what it takes, and it woul dbe downright silly to let the Commies take what we've got.

Of course, Mr. President, there isn't a chance of getting such a fair on by next year, but if the right words were dropped into the right ears pronto, there's no reason why the grand opening couldn't be set for '52. And, according to my astrologist, that would be an auspicious year for a fair, seeing as how around that time a certain Party will be doing its darnedest to convince the voters that it has a special talent for making democracy work.

If you think well enough of this notion to get behind it, Sir, I'll be glad to pitch in and help—whether it's making policy or pink lemonade. Of course, I wouldn't do it for free. My fee would have to be the same as I'm getting as Advisory Director to the California World Progress Exposition which will be held in San Diego in '53—a one-pound can of good smoking tobacco.

VALUABLE INFORMATION

The bureau of census, department of commerce of the United States of America, gets out a voluminous annual statistical abstract of the United States. This is a marvelous source of information; in fact, it contains information that is probably not available anywhere else in the world.

For instance, the abstract for 1949, lately published, shows that in 1940 there were 544 asses and burros in the Virgin Islands. It is interesting to note, too, that the ass and burro population of the Virgin Islands seems to have reached a static position, as there were 523 asses and burros there in 1930—an increase of only 21 asses and burros in ten years.

This record of the asses and burros in the Virgin Islands does not stack up nearly so well as the record of the chicken population in Alaska, which nearly doubled during those ten years, increasing from 10,979 in 1930 to 18,374 in 1940. The table does not classify these chickens as between roosters and hens, but from the record it is assumed there is a proportionate share of each.

Sticking to the insular possessions of the United States for one more fact, it is a little distressing to note that the production of taro in Hawaii dropped from 11,951 tons in 1930 to 5,790 tons in 1940. There is no way of telling what accounts for this decline, whether people are eating more sweet potatoes than formerly or less acres planted or what. It will be very interesting to get an official up-to-date report (perhaps the figures for 1950 will be available in the 1960 abstract) and find out what is happening in the taro field. If the farmers in Hawaii have got on to the fact that price support can be obtained from the department of agriculture for a product whether it is in demand or not, production has no doubt greatly increased by now.

Getting back to the mainland, we find that this 1949 abstract tells us that in 1939 there were 201 livery stables in the United States. The average number of employees in these livery stables for the year was 360, full-time and part-time. A footnote tells us, however, that "employees and pay roll include paid executives of corporations but not number and compensation of proprietors of unincorporated businesses." Anyone making a study of the livery stable business in the United States should make careful note of this fact. These footnotes are very helpful.

In letting us in on the amounts and kinds of materials used in making ethyl alcohol and other distilled spirits, except brandy, another table tells us that in 1940 in addition to molasses and grains and ethyl sulphate and pineapple juice, 13,801,000 gallons of "other materials" were used. Another footnote tells us that "other materials" means "diamalt, sulphite liquor, manioca meal, maguey juice, maple sirup cider, corn sirup, potatoes, crude-alcohol mixture, cellulose pulp, and chemical mixtures, etc." The "etc." probably means vanilla extract and battery acid, though the table doesn't say. No wonder the stuff has such a kick to it! It is a little disappointing, though, not to have the exact proportions of each of these materials. For instance, if we knew just how much maguey juice is used, we might find that the spirits could be improved by using just a little more or a little less.

These, my fellow Americans, are just bare peeps into the strange and wonderful vista of information prepared for you by your government—at your expense. And yet there are those who say the federal budget cannot be cut without endangering the safety of the nation!

MIDDLE EAST ARMS

Editors, in substantial majority, are optimistic that the British-French-American agreement to equalize the supply of arms to the Arab states and Israel—and strengthen the military position of these nations—will aid in stabilizing the middle east and in closing an important gap in the concept of "total diplomacy" against Communist aggression. But a rather large minority fears that the plan may only increase the possibilities bf further Arab-Jewish conflict. And a small minority questions the practical value of this armament plan against any possible Russian military action.

Wichita Falls (Texas) Times Dem.): "The agreement by England, France and this country to furnish arms for the middle east is one that many observers view skeptically. There is, to be sure, a stipulation that the weapons are to be used only for defense, and if the . . . countries involved observe this rule, all will be well. But there are grudges and grievances and ambitions that can all too readily lead to a different kind of war from that which the western democracies have in mind."

Philadelphia (Pa.) Inquirer (Ind.): "The Arabs . . . have been receiving munitions all the time—from Britain. . . . To permit certain Arab states to build up militarily at will, while the Israeli government ran up against the stone wall of the U. S. arms embargo, was not contributing to the stabilization of this strategically important region, but inciting further aggression. . . . If the new pact is to mean that its violation will result in intervention by the three powers by economic sanctions or other measures directed against the aggressors, it should help promote peace and security in the near east. . . ."

San Diego (Calif.) Union (Rep.): "Once the arms are supplied, there is no possible way to take them away from the recipients, except by force. And there is no adequate definition as to what 'aggression' consists of. . . . The true objective of the United States, regarding the welfare of the middle east and the peace of the world, is to undertake the prevention of hostilities in that area. Does this objective gain by supplying Israel and the Arabs with weapons of war? Or is the . . . armament more likely to inspire mutual acts of hostility?"

Louisville (Ky.) Courier-Journal (Ind.-Dem.): "Britain, France and the United States are mutually pledged to 'immediately take action' if any middle eastern state violates frontiers or lines of armistice between Israel and the Arab world. . . . These nervous nations have been getting arms anyway—without any conditions attached. Israel has gotten arms from Czechoslovakia. . . . It has added to explosive tensions in a corner of the earth where suspicion of aggression is everywhere."

Oakland (Calif.) Tribune (Ind.-Rep.): "No one questions the need for greater security for the independent nations of the middle east, as a whole, since this area offers a fruitful opportunity for Soviet penetration. . . . No one, however, has been able to explain how arming the near east states is going to contribute to their progress or well-being. Exactly the opposite may very well be the result."

Christian Science Monitor (Ind.): "As a defense against communism the agreement is two edged. A well armed near east can be a military bulwark against its spread. But quite as important is the fact that . . . reduction of the possibilities for further conquest or reconquest or territory there by either Jews or Arabs, will permit and inspire both races to engage in economic reforms and mutual economic aid programs. These will meet and should master communism at its very roots."

Cleveland (Ohio) Plain Dealer (Ind.-Dem.): "Should an east-west war come the near east would be swallowed up in a matter of hours, however much the Arabs and Jews were armed. The Russians would throw tremendous forces into that area to secure control of the vast oil resources on which the west so heavily depends. . . . Certainly the Israelis would line up with the west in such a conflict. . . . On the other hand, there is no assurance how the more numerous Arabs would act. . . . The Arabs turned against the west in World War II."

San Francisco (Calif.) Chronicle (Ind.-Rep.): "In the broader sense the western powers by this move are strengthening the military barrier against Russia that extends from the Iran-Afghanistan border on the east to Greece on the west. This is the barrier through which Russia would have to smash to get at the oil riches of the middle east. . . . The west may be expected, in its long-range effort, to solidify the whole defense line of the middle east. . . ."

In Washington

That "Point Four" plan of the Truman program for world progress, which his critics have ridiculed as unworkable, is slowly getting under way, with a North Carolina newspaper editor and diplomat as the first occupant of the driver's seat.

Capus M. Waynick of High Point, N. C. is now the U. S. ambassador to Nicaragua and will continue in that capacity until his successor is named. The ambassadorship was regarded as a political reward, for Waynick had handled much of the Fair Deal program in North Carolina.

But what has now landed in his lap isn't political. The vast job of extending technical assistance to the backward areas of the world is no sinecure, if congress cooperates on the scale proposed by the administration.

The link between the Nicaraguan ambassador ship and the "Point Four" program seems to be the institute of inter-American affairs, which flared into prominence during the war under the directorship of Nelson Rockefeller, and has been operative in Nicaragua and 17 other countries, with claims of having benefited more than 25,000,000 persons. Congress hasn't been fully sold on the idea of continuing the institute on the scale which its wartime promoters envisioned, and which has now been further enlarged under the "Point Four" plan.

The U. S. spent $71,000,000 on the institute of inter-American affairs between 1942 and 1949. The participating 18 countries chipped in $33,400,000. Results of the cooperation, it has been asserted, are visible in increasing good will between the northern and southern hemispheres and in the improvement of technical know-how in

OUR CHILDREN

APPRECIATION DAY

Looking over the list of special days and weeks when we are exhorted to buy stamps, bonds or whatnot, remember our mothers, send another tie to Dad, eat spinach, subscribe to one more worthy cause, I am appalled, not so much by the length of the list (one can always ignore the more crass appeals) but by the apparently organized effort to force us to support organized groups which must be paid for their efforts — by us.

These drives, started in times of need for the distressed, have spread into fields where selfishness dominates the picture. These we can disregard while attending to those "whose cause is good, whose purpose pure." The Red Cross (first on my list), the hospitals, the Salvation Army, all services for children, the aged and the ill demand out help.

Most of us need no reminder to be kind to our mothers 365 days in the year, nor to honor our fathers,nor to be kind to animals What we do need to be reminded of is the fact that we neglect to say a word of encouragement and thanks to those who serve us daily, to those who gave us help when most we needed it to the friends of the past who stood by us when we needed friendship and the support it afforded. An elderly aunt or uncle, an old retired teacher, an old servant,a writer whose words have given us a happy hour, a sustaining thought, have been neglected.

We don't need an organized drive to understand the need for gratitude and the exprssion of it in thse people. We know from personal experience how a word of appreciation of a bit of work, a thoughtful friendly deed, a recognition of a debt of love and service can leave us treading on air, lifted above the the drabness of our working days.

We grown people should take note of this essential service to one another and do something about it, any day in the year. Most important is our instruction of children in this. They need to be taught by example, and precept, that their thanks are due to all who help them, anywhere, anytime. Appreciation Day comes 365 times a year.

Every time a child smiles and says "thank you," every time he curls his tongue around in his cheek and painfully inscribes his thanks for some kindness rendered him every time his spirit glows with the warmth of his gratitude, something fine is added to him and to those his thanks reach.

Begin with the word. Practice and time will clothe it in reality.

People often smile at infant's play, but this is fundamental to baby's growth. Dr. Patri explains infant's play in an interesting leaflet No. P-16.

PREVIEW NIGHTS: Pic of the week: 20th Century-Fox's "Night and the City" (Richard Widmark-Gene Tierney - Goggie Withers-Hugh Marlowe). Mile-a-minute tempo and an absorbing plot make it one of the most exciting melodramas of the year. . . . GOOD: Universal-International's "Curtain Call at Cactus Creek" (Donald O'Connor-Gale Storm-Walter Brennan-Vincent Price-Eve Arden). Rip-roaring comedy that should be a healthy tonic for box-office ills . . . FAIR: Warner Brothers' "Bright Leaf" (Gary Cooper-Lauren Bacall-Patricia Neal-Jack Carson). A drama of love and revenge, interesting in its promise, but it never quite jells . . . Columbia's "Frightened City" (Evelyn Keyes-Charles Korvin-William Bishop-Dorothy Malone). Good performances fail to offset an unconvincing plot. . .LOW BRIDGE: Monogram's "Father Makes Good" (Raymond Walburn-Walter Catlett-Gary Gray-Mary Stuart). Exhibit 1376980 in the case of The People vs Double Features. . . BEST PERFORMANCE: Richard Widmark in "Night and the City."

I can't go along with other Hollywood columnists who are acclaiming Judy Garland's return to work in "Royal Wedding" as good news. Don't misunderstand me—I'm as strong for Judy as anyone. Sometimes, I think, considerably stronger. At least I'm thinking about her own best interests when I question the wisdom of her return to the screen at this time. It's only been two months and a half since she struggled through her last picture, so ill that doctors insisted on her taking a long vacation. I fail to see how she can have had enough rest to cure her ailments, and I know, from her past history, how prone she is to disregard her doctor's advice and rush back to work. Why risk another setback?

Victor Mature is begging his bosses to put him in as many pictures as they can and the reason given for that request is, at least, unusual. He says he has no hobbies to keep him occupied when he's not working, and that he's apt to get into trouble when he has too much time on his hands. If Vic's problem is factual, instead of a publicity department dream-up, I have a suggestion for him—one that would not only solve his difficulties but accomplish something beneficial to others. Why doesn't he use his spare time to visit disabled veterans in army and navy hospitals, men who have nothing but spare time on their hands. Off-hand, I can't think of a better hobby for any Hollywood star.

Reports from theater owners who have been staging special Saturday matinees for children indicate that parents appreciate this community service as much, or more, than their children do. Despite the general box-office slump, these theaters have been doing good business, not just on Saturdays, but all week long, every week. It seems to me that their report is evidence to support one of my favorite contentions. If exhibitors will try to make their theaters an integral part of community life, where families can gather for wholesome entertainment, there won't be any box-office depression.

I'm amused by a bit of repartee, particularly Hollywoodian in flavor, which was exchanged at a Hollywood soiree the other evening. A certain star, whose current boyfriend has just returned from South America, was displaying aquamarine earrings he had brought her. Said one of her feminine pals: "Let it be a lesson. Never permit your fiance to go to a country that specializes in semi-precious stones."

Our Four-Year College Bill

The Legislative committee of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday voted unanimously to recommend that the Board of Directors support the bill by Senators McCormick, King and Oliver for the establishment of a four-year college here.

It is inconceivable that there would be any opposition to this bill here.

Under the proposed act, which was introduced in the state legislature last week, Northeast Junior college would be separated from L. S. U., made a four-year college and placed under the jurisdiction of the State Board of Education, just as are Louisiana Tech, Northwestern State college at Natchitoches, Southeastern at Hammond and other schools.

The act provides "that a school of higher education in the Arts and Sciences, be and the same is hereby created and established for the education of persons in the State of Louisiana, said school shall be known and designated as Northeast Louisiana college; and shall be located in Monroe, Ouachita parish, State of Louisiana. That the Board of Supervisors of Louisiana State university shall transfer and convey the site and facilities known as Northeast Junior college, together with all buildings and improvements thereon, and all other lands and properties thereto, to the state of Louisiana and the Louisiana State Board of Education.

"THAT THE STATE OF LOUISIANA SHALL APPROPRIATE SUFFICIENT FUNDS FOR BUILDING, EQUIPPING AND MAINTAINING THE SAID INSTITUTION."

In simple terms, the school would operate under an act of the legislature and not as an "orphan" of L. S. U. And it would be a four-year school which would provide easy access for boys and girls throughout northeast Louisiana whose parents perhaps are not financially able to send them elsewhere.

As one person expressed it at yesterday's meeting of the Chamber's Legislative committee, Northeast Junior college has been operating on "faith, hope and charity." The faith and hope has been engendered among those of us interested in the welfare of the school and the charity has come from the L. S. U. Board of Supervisors.

The junior college here was established in 1931 by the Ouachita Parish Police Jury and some four years later was deeded to L. S. U. with the provision that they operate it. It was deeded under a 25-year contract which stipulates that the university may cancel it at any time. In other words, there's no assured permanancy, and with enrollment steadily declining, it is entirely possible that the state university may chuck the whole deal in a year or two. In fact, it has been hinted that just such a plan has been contemplated and that the school will be dumped back into the lap of the police jury.

Under the proposed act, the permanancy of the college is assured. The legislature will appropriate necessary funds for buildings, maintenance and other facilities, and we won't have to depend upon handouts from the L. S. U. board. The board naturally is chiefly concerned with the welfare of the state university, and the junior colleges, as we stated, have been "orphans" who have received the crumbs which were left from the main course.

A four-year college would be a tremendous asset to Monroe. Under the proposed act, it would be an assurance of stability that would attract students throughout all of northeast Louisiana. Its enrollment would undoubtedly increase materially and it would bring another industry, as you might call it, to this section of the state.

Senator McCormick and the co-authors of this bill are to be congratulated upon their foresight and we wholeheartedly urge the support of all the citizens of this area in their efforts to pass the measure.

Standard Traffic Rules

The Memorial Day weekend produced the predicted highway slaughter across the nation. And no little part of the blame must fall upon the incredible hodge-podge of state and city laws which govern U. S. motor traffic.

No motorist who drives much beyond his own city and state boundaries could possibly hope to master the baffling variety and complexity of these rules. The states and communities could hardly do more to assure accidents—unless they set out deliberately to erect death traps on the highways.

This confusion is an old tale, but apparently it needs to be told again and again, since few governing agencies are doing anything about it. Don Eddy, writing in the June issue of American Magazine, spells out some of the absurd contradictions the average driver meets as he goes from place to place.

Speed limits range from 25 miles an hour in Missouri to no maximum at all in a dozen states.

Though the blinding glare from raised headlight beams is rated a prime accident cause, six states have no law requiring drivers to lower their beams when approaching other cars. Others enforce dimming regulations with widely varying efficiency.

Eddy talked to a South Dakota ranch hand who had whizzed past a stopped school bus in Nebraska, killing three children. Under Nebraska law the children had the right of way, but in South Dakota the ranch hand would have. He didn't know the Nebraska law was different.

Maine, Missouri and the District of Columbia don't require even a temporary halt behind a school bus. The rest of the states offer a bewildering assortment of rules. And although most decree that school buses shall be painted yellow, they may be daubed any old color in a few states.

There are still four states which require no hand signals for turning and stopping. But a motorist will find, too, that signals which are correct in California don't fit in Michigan. Only a Philadelphia lawyer could tour the continent with assurance he was using his arm in the legal manner from state to state.

It's customary to indicate no-passing zones by painted lines on the pavement. It'd be helpful if the same markings applied everywhere, but they don't. A no-passing sector may be indicated by double lines, wavy line, broken line, yellow or white line. Pity the driver who forgets for an instant what state he's driving in.

Examples like these could be multiplied on end. They're proof that states and cities are 'way behind the times on traffic rules.

Highway experts like to say driver education must come first, that you can't legislate safe driving. There's a large grain of truth in that, but it's not fair to ask any motorist to learn today's nonsensical pattern of traffic laws.

The National Highway Conference has drafted two uniform traffic codes, one for states and another for cities. Up to now no state has adopted the code, and only a few cities have accepted the municipal one.

Until the state and cities make real progress toward uniformity, they will sound a bit foolish asking the motorist to develop safe driving habits. How can he do that when a habit that is safe in one state is not safe in another?

Billy Rose:

PITCHING HORSESHOES

OPEN LETTER

Hon. Harry S. Truman
The White House
Washington, D. C.
Dear Mr. President:

I see by the papers that the Freedom Fair which was scheduled to open in Washington in 1951 has been called off. I respectfully suggest that you press a few buttons and call it back on again, and with your patience and permission I'd like to tell you why.

As this lopsided eight-ball of a planet currently shapes up, about the only thing worth talking about is freedom, or the lack of it, and as you yourself have repeatedly pointed out in your speeches, our people ought to know what they're talking about when the subject comes up.

Well, what's the best way to demonstrate that there's still plenty of life in the old liberties? Fastidious facts and figures? Cliche-studded press releases? Rah-rah-rah editorials? No, Mr. President, not in this day and ague. As I see it, the best way to stand off the sugar-coated strychnine being handed out by the kids in the Kremlin is to hand out a few lollypops of our own, and I can't think of a better place to do it than a 200-acre fairground within eyeshot of the Lincoln Memorial.

Impact-wise, what would such a shindig actually accomplish? Not much, Sir, if it were just a run-of-the-Flushing-meadows type of fair. But it would do a potent plenty if it were a mammoth, hit-'em-in-all-five-senses whooptydo in which everything from spectacle to sideshow were built around one simple theme: The Freer the Enterprise, the More Enterprising the Freemen.

Once and for all, let's concretize in terms of daily living and loving how well our Joe Doakses are doing compared with the Josef Dokczes in the Iron Curtain countries. For example, in the exhibit area let our big auto outfits trot out their cars alongside a few Russian cars, and then let them dramatize how many man-hours of work it takes to make one—and, even more important, own one. And alongside the big General Motors building, let's have an even bigger U. A. W. building in which Walter Reuther can dramatically document how much better off his men are in terms of union contracts, working conditions and pension plans than the auto workers in the various Commielands.

Once and for all, let's pull out all the stops and compare our homes, schools and churches with theirs. Let's exhibit an American voting booth with a curtain on the door, and next to it a Russian voting booth with an N. K. V. S. man where the curtain ought to be. In short, let's give the Pinkos the lumps they've been asking for and make it clear as the nose on Jimmy Durante's face that there's no freedom unless everybody can exercise his taste and tonsils as he sees fit.

Let's even show them up on the midway. Instead of the usual Chamber of Horrors, let's restage the trial of Cardinal Mindszenty, and instead of the old-hat Ubangi sideshow, let the populace take a peek at a Siberian slave labor camp.

With no pomp but plenty of documented circumstances, one big lesson is a cinch to emerge from the fair I envision: That "degenerate democracy" still provides the bestest for the mostest; that our way of life has got what it takes, and it woul dbe downright silly to let the Commies take what we've got.

Of course, Mr. President, there isn't a chance of getting such a fair on by next year, but if the right words were dropped into the right ears pronto, there's no reason why the grand opening couldn't be set for '52. And, according to my astrologist, that would be an auspicious year for a fair, seeing as how around that time a certain Party will be doing its darnedest to convince the voters that it has a special talent for making democracy work.

If you think well enough of this notion to get behind it, Sir, I'll be glad to pitch in and help—whether it's making policy or pink lemonade. Of course, I wouldn't do it for free. My fee would have to be the same as I'm getting as Advisory Director to the California World Progress Exposition which will be held in San Diego in '53—a one-pound can of good smoking tobacco.

Respectfully,
Billy Rose

VALUABLE INFORMATION

The bureau of census, department of commerce of the United States of America, gets out a voluminous annual statistical abstract of the United States. This is a marvelous source of information; in fact, it contains information that is probably not available anywhere else in the world.

For instance, the abstract for 1949, lately published, shows that in 1940 there were 544 asses and burros in the Virgin Islands. It is interesting to note, too, that the ass and burro population of the Virgin Islands seems to have reached a static position, as there were 523 asses and burros there in 1930—an increase of only 21 asses and burros in ten years.

This record of the asses and burros in the Virgin Islands does not stack up nearly so well as the record of the chicken population in Alaska, which nearly doubled during those ten years, increasing from 10,979 in 1930 to 18,374 in 1940. The table does not classify these chickens as between roosters and hens, but from the record it is assumed there is a proportionate share of each.

Sticking to the insular possessions of the United States for one more fact, it is a little distressing to note that the production of taro in Hawaii dropped from 11,951 tons in 1930 to 5,790 tons in 1940. There is no way of telling what accounts for this decline, whether people are eating more sweet potatoes than formerly or less acres planted or what. It will be very interesting to get an official up-to-date report (perhaps the figures for 1950 will be available in the 1960 abstract) and find out what is happening in the taro field. If the farmers in Hawaii have got on to the fact that price support can be obtained from the department of agriculture for a product whether it is in demand or not, production has no doubt greatly increased by now.

Getting back to the mainland, we find that this 1949 abstract tells us that in 1939 there were 201 livery stables in the United States. The average number of employees in these livery stables for the year was 360, full-time and part-time. A footnote tells us, however, that "employees and pay roll include paid executives of corporations but not number and compensation of proprietors of unincorporated businesses." Anyone making a study of the livery stable business in the United States should make careful note of this fact. These footnotes are very helpful.

In letting us in on the amounts and kinds of materials used in making ethyl alcohol and other distilled spirits, except brandy, another table tells us that in 1940 in addition to molasses and grains and ethyl sulphate and pineapple juice, 13,801,000 gallons of "other materials" were used. Another footnote tells us that "other materials" means "diamalt, sulphite liquor, manioca meal, maguey juice, maple sirup cider, corn sirup, potatoes, crude-alcohol mixture, cellulose pulp, and chemical mixtures, etc." The "etc." probably means vanilla extract and battery acid, though the table doesn't say. No wonder the stuff has such a kick to it! It is a little disappointing, though, not to have the exact proportions of each of these materials. For instance, if we knew just how much maguey juice is used, we might find that the spirits could be improved by using just a little more or a little less.

These, my fellow Americans, are just bare peeps into the strange and wonderful vista of information prepared for you by your government—at your expense. And yet there are those who say the federal budget cannot be cut without endangering the safety of the nation!

MIDDLE EAST ARMS

Editors, in substantial majority, are optimistic that the British-French-American agreement to equalize the supply of arms to the Arab states and Israel—and strengthen the military position of these nations—will aid in stabilizing the middle east and in closing an important gap in the concept of "total diplomacy" against Communist aggression. But a rather large minority fears that the plan may only increase the possibilities bf further Arab-Jewish conflict. And a small minority questions the practical value of this armament plan against any possible Russian military action.

Wichita Falls (Texas) Times Dem.): "The agreement by England, France and this country to furnish arms for the middle east is one that many observers view skeptically. There is, to be sure, a stipulation that the weapons are to be used only for defense, and if the . . . countries involved observe this rule, all will be well. But there are grudges and grievances and ambitions that can all too readily lead to a different kind of war from that which the western democracies have in mind."

Philadelphia (Pa.) Inquirer (Ind.): "The Arabs . . . have been receiving munitions all the time—from Britain. . . . To permit certain Arab states to build up militarily at will, while the Israeli government ran up against the stone wall of the U. S. arms embargo, was not contributing to the stabilization of this strategically important region, but inciting further aggression. . . . If the new pact is to mean that its violation will result in intervention by the three powers by economic sanctions or other measures directed against the aggressors, it should help promote peace and security in the near east. . . ."

San Diego (Calif.) Union (Rep.): "Once the arms are supplied, there is no possible way to take them away from the recipients, except by force. And there is no adequate definition as to what 'aggression' consists of. . . . The true objective of the United States, regarding the welfare of the middle east and the peace of the world, is to undertake the prevention of hostilities in that area. Does this objective gain by supplying Israel and the Arabs with weapons of war? Or is the . . . armament more likely to inspire mutual acts of hostility?"

Louisville (Ky.) Courier-Journal (Ind.-Dem.): "Britain, France and the United States are mutually pledged to 'immediately take action' if any middle eastern state violates frontiers or lines of armistice between Israel and the Arab world. . . . These nervous nations have been getting arms anyway—without any conditions attached. Israel has gotten arms from Czechoslovakia. . . . It has added to explosive tensions in a corner of the earth where suspicion of aggression is everywhere."

Oakland (Calif.) Tribune (Ind.-Rep.): "No one questions the need for greater security for the independent nations of the middle east, as a whole, since this area offers a fruitful opportunity for Soviet penetration. . . . No one, however, has been able to explain how arming the near east states is going to contribute to their progress or well-being. Exactly the opposite may very well be the result."

Christian Science Monitor (Ind.): "As a defense against communism the agreement is two edged. A well armed near east can be a military bulwark against its spread. But quite as important is the fact that . . . reduction of the possibilities for further conquest or reconquest or territory there by either Jews or Arabs, will permit and inspire both races to engage in economic reforms and mutual economic aid programs. These will meet and should master communism at its very roots."

Cleveland (Ohio) Plain Dealer (Ind.-Dem.): "Should an east-west war come the near east would be swallowed up in a matter of hours, however much the Arabs and Jews were armed. The Russians would throw tremendous forces into that area to secure control of the vast oil resources on which the west so heavily depends. . . . Certainly the Israelis would line up with the west in such a conflict. . . . On the other hand, there is no assurance how the more numerous Arabs would act. . . . The Arabs turned against the west in World War II."

San Francisco (Calif.) Chronicle (Ind.-Rep.): "In the broader sense the western powers by this move are strengthening the military barrier against Russia that extends from the Iran-Afghanistan border on the east to Greece on the west. This is the barrier through which Russia would have to smash to get at the oil riches of the middle east. . . . The west may be expected, in its long-range effort, to solidify the whole defense line of the middle east. . . ."

That "Point Four" plan of the Truman program for world progress, which his critics have ridiculed as unworkable, is slowly getting under way, with a North Carolina newspaper editor and diplomat as the first occupant of the driver's seat.

Capus M. Waynick of High Point, N. C. is now the U. S. ambassador to Nicaragua and will continue in that capacity until his successor is named. The ambassadorship was regarded as a political reward, for Waynick had handled much of the Fair Deal program in North Carolina.

But what has now landed in his lap isn't political. The vast job of extending technical assistance to the backward areas of the world is no sinecure, if congress cooperates on the scale proposed by the administration.

The link between the Nicaraguan ambassador ship and the "Point Four" program seems to be the institute of inter-American affairs, which flared into prominence during the war under the directorship of Nelson Rockefeller, and has been operative in Nicaragua and 17 other countries, with claims of having benefited more than 25,000,000 persons. Congress hasn't been fully sold on the idea of continuing the institute on the scale which its wartime promoters envisioned, and which has now been further enlarged under the "Point Four" plan.

The U. S. spent $71,000,000 on the institute of inter-American affairs between 1942 and 1949. The participating 18 countries chipped in $33,400,000. Results of the cooperation, it has been asserted, are visible in increasing good will between the northern and southern hemispheres and in the improvement of technical know-how in

APPRECIATION DAY

Looking over the list of special days and weeks when we are exhorted to buy stamps, bonds or whatnot, remember our mothers, send another tie to Dad, eat spinach, subscribe to one more worthy cause, I am appalled, not so much by the length of the list (one can always ignore the more crass appeals) but by the apparently organized effort to force us to support organized groups which must be paid for their efforts — by us.

These drives, started in times of need for the distressed, have spread into fields where selfishness dominates the picture. These we can disregard while attending to those "whose cause is good, whose purpose pure." The Red Cross (first on my list), the hospitals, the Salvation Army, all services for children, the aged and the ill demand out help.

Most of us need no reminder to be kind to our mothers 365 days in the year, nor to honor our fathers,nor to be kind to animals What we do need to be reminded of is the fact that we neglect to say a word of encouragement and thanks to those who serve us daily, to those who gave us help when most we needed it to the friends of the past who stood by us when we needed friendship and the support it afforded. An elderly aunt or uncle, an old retired teacher, an old servant,a writer whose words have given us a happy hour, a sustaining thought, have been neglected.

We don't need an organized drive to understand the need for gratitude and the exprssion of it in thse people. We know from personal experience how a word of appreciation of a bit of work, a thoughtful friendly deed, a recognition of a debt of love and service can leave us treading on air, lifted above the the drabness of our working days.

We grown people should take note of this essential service to one another and do something about it, any day in the year. Most important is our instruction of children in this. They need to be taught by example, and precept, that their thanks are due to all who help them, anywhere, anytime. Appreciation Day comes 365 times a year.

Every time a child smiles and says "thank you," every time he curls his tongue around in his cheek and painfully inscribes his thanks for some kindness rendered him every time his spirit glows with the warmth of his gratitude, something fine is added to him and to those his thanks reach.

Begin with the word. Practice and time will clothe it in reality.

People often smile at infant's play, but this is fundamental to baby's growth. Dr. Patri explains infant's play in an interesting leaflet No. P-16.

HOLLYWOOD, June 3. — Robert Montgomery will sell all of his Hollywood property and establish permanent residence in Connecticut . . . Hear Hallmark Productions has completed a deal to film the life story of Camille Kelley, famed as a Juvenile Court judge in Memphis, Tennessee . . . Marilyn Maxwell's pals say her marriage to Andy McIntyre is definitely on the rocks; career troubles . . . Look for Max Schmeling, the ex-heavyweight champion, to figure sensationally in a big divorce suit soon to be filed by a big shot in the government of West Germany.

Looks like an all-out feud between June Haver's mother and June's boy-friend, Cy Bartlett, who can't agree on a choice of doctors for Miss Haver in her current illness . . . I'm told that California climate and food have agreed with Judy Holiday so well that Columbia bosses want her to shed at least twenty pounds before undertaking the top role in "Born Yesterday" . . . Author John Steinbeck and Elaine (Zachary's ex) Scott are telling friends they'll altar-trek early this summer, but how can they? Her divorce won't be final until next December.

Helmut Dantine claims that he and Charlene Wrightsman are on the verge of a reconciliation, despite her divorce action, filed May 19 . . . Henry Morgan's European jaunt (he sails the 27th) won't be all play; he's going to film a comedy travelogue for TV . . . I hear that George Raft's long-estranged wife is seriously ill in N. Y.

PREVIEW NIGHTS: Pic of the week: 20th Century-Fox's "Night and the City" (Richard Widmark-Gene Tierney - Goggie Withers-Hugh Marlowe). Mile-a-minute tempo and an absorbing plot make it one of the most exciting melodramas of the year. . . . GOOD: Universal-International's "Curtain Call at Cactus Creek" (Donald O'Connor-Gale Storm-Walter Brennan-Vincent Price-Eve Arden). Rip-roaring comedy that should be a healthy tonic for box-office ills . . . FAIR: Warner Brothers' "Bright Leaf" (Gary Cooper-Lauren Bacall-Patricia Neal-Jack Carson). A drama of love and revenge, interesting in its promise, but it never quite jells . . . Columbia's "Frightened City" (Evelyn Keyes-Charles Korvin-William Bishop-Dorothy Malone). Good performances fail to offset an unconvincing plot. . .LOW BRIDGE: Monogram's "Father Makes Good" (Raymond Walburn-Walter Catlett-Gary Gray-Mary Stuart). Exhibit 1376980 in the case of The People vs Double Features. . . BEST PERFORMANCE: Richard Widmark in "Night and the City."

I can't go along with other Hollywood columnists who are acclaiming Judy Garland's return to work in "Royal Wedding" as good news. Don't misunderstand me—I'm as strong for Judy as anyone. Sometimes, I think, considerably stronger. At least I'm thinking about her own best interests when I question the wisdom of her return to the screen at this time. It's only been two months and a half since she struggled through her last picture, so ill that doctors insisted on her taking a long vacation. I fail to see how she can have had enough rest to cure her ailments, and I know, from her past history, how prone she is to disregard her doctor's advice and rush back to work. Why risk another setback?

Victor Mature is begging his bosses to put him in as many pictures as they can and the reason given for that request is, at least, unusual. He says he has no hobbies to keep him occupied when he's not working, and that he's apt to get into trouble when he has too much time on his hands. If Vic's problem is factual, instead of a publicity department dream-up, I have a suggestion for him—one that would not only solve his difficulties but accomplish something beneficial to others. Why doesn't he use his spare time to visit disabled veterans in army and navy hospitals, men who have nothing but spare time on their hands. Off-hand, I can't think of a better hobby for any Hollywood star.

Reports from theater owners who have been staging special Saturday matinees for children indicate that parents appreciate this community service as much, or more, than their children do. Despite the general box-office slump, these theaters have been doing good business, not just on Saturdays, but all week long, every week. It seems to me that their report is evidence to support one of my favorite contentions. If exhibitors will try to make their theaters an integral part of community life, where families can gather for wholesome entertainment, there won't be any box-office depression.

I'm amused by a bit of repartee, particularly Hollywoodian in flavor, which was exchanged at a Hollywood soiree the other evening. A certain star, whose current boyfriend has just returned from South America, was displaying aquamarine earrings he had brought her. Said one of her feminine pals: "Let it be a lesson. Never permit your fiance to go to a country that specializes in semi-precious stones."

Behind The Scenes

For 30 years this Broadway historian (along with nearly everyone else) echo'd the inaccurate story on how "The Little Church Around the Corner" got that nickname. . . . In every article we read on the theater the erratum went like this: A church in Manhattan refused to accomodate some showfolks who wanted to be married and directed them to "the little church around the corner."

This is how it got the name: George Holland, a destitute player, couldn't sell enough tickets to his own benefit. He stuffed them into a pocket and jumped off the Fulton Market pier into the river. He was rescued and sympathizers bought all of them.

Some years later it was Holland's funeral that started the Little Church legend. Dr. Sabine, minister of the Church of the Atonement, advised the mourners: "Go to the little church around the corner." Because his church was decorated for a wedding.

Nat Goodwin, a star most of his life, was equally renowned for his many lovely wives. . . . Rennold Wolf, the colyumist of the N. Y. Morning Telegraph, once remarked: "When I cannot recall the name of a very beautiful woman I simply greet her with: 'Hello, Mrs. Goodwin!' "

So you think the Ingrid Bergman story will wreck her career? . . . Well, in the long ago, actress Lola Montex (the mistress of Nicholas I of Russia, Franz Lizst and King Ludwig of Bavaria) came to New York after her scandalous career and starred in "Lola Montez in Bavaria." The first sexy sizzler.

Back in the '80s Tony Pastor was so impressed with the thrushing and good looks of Helen Louise Leonard (a graduate of the Convent of the Sacred Heart in Chicago) he decided she needed a glamorous name. The world applauded her as Lillian Russell.

When Edwin Booth and his wife Catherine Sinclair were in the divorce courts 100 years ago the newspapers printed verbatim evidence of chambermaids and servants—about 12,000 pages of it.

Not much of which would be published today.

Rachel, greatest of French stars, was guaranteed $3,500 per performance to come here. . . . She caught pneumonia in Philly. ecause her brother, the stage manager, was too stingy to heat the theater. Her premiere was disrupted by the audience, which kept turning the pages of the "Phedre" translation at the same time.

Even Fanny Ward couldn't make a hit of "A Fool and a Girl" and it folded soon after its Washington, D. C., flop. The author reluctantly took a job in the new-fangled movies—so he could eat.

He considered it such a comedown and disgrace that he dropped his first name (Lawrence) and changed it to David Wark Griffith. . . . He became the Father of the Modern Movie. . . . Griffith once refused to work for Sam Goldwyn because Mr. G. couldn't show him a bank deposit of $300,000.

That perennial favorite, "Within the Law," was turned down by Broadway's top showmen, Belasco, Brady and Harris. After flopping in Chicago it caught on here with Jane Cowl. It ran two years and prospered with 10 road troupes. Author Bayard Veiller got $40,000 per week from his "flop."

Eleanora Duse, renowned for her beautiful hands and her emoting, was born in a third class railroad train, of small-time circus performers. She is beloved to this day for spurning a pension from Mussolini in 1924. When she died in Pittsburgh, the Big Ham tried to cash in on her fame by bringing her home for a state funeral.

When Sarah Bernhardt was 55 she was playing the part of young men! With grace and conviction, too. . . . At the age of 78 she started her film career. . . . For over 30 years The Divine Sarah refused to appear in Germany. . . . She said she would not "soil the hands Victor Hugo had kissed by accepting German money!"

She eventually went there for one performance. . . . Although the audience was hostile and the emperor hated her, they had to surrender to her magic and artistry and at the finale—gave her a deafening ovation.

A feud between P. T. Barnum and publisher James Gordon Bennett of the N. Y. Herald grew so bitter that the Theatrical Managers Ass'n (all friends of Barnum) withdrew their ads. All theatre programs carried a line: "We do not advertise in the N. Y. Herald."

Bennett was once horse-whipped in his own city room by T. S. Hamblin, mgr of The Bowery Theatre. Over some sour notices.

"The Two Orphans," a translation from the French, was tagged an all-time lemon when Albert Marshall Palmer tried to sell it. . . . No takers. . . . He finally produced it himself. . . . It ran 180 performances. . . . Then he sold it to Kate Claxton, who appeared in the original cast as the blind orphan. She clicked in it for 20 years.

Sarah Siddons, the English stage great, once stopped a London riot by merely murmuring to the mob: "Good people, I am Sarah Siddons, let me pass." . . . So beloved was she that the plans for Regent Park (London) were changed so the view from her Baker street windows would not be marred.

When Mme. Francisguy Hutin, the French dancing star, appeared on the stage (at the Lafayette) in short skirts (in 1827) every female in the theater got up and walked out as La Hutin swivel-hipped on.

Synge's "The Playboy of the Western World" aroused great controversy when the Dublin Abbey Players brought it to New York not too many seasons ago. . . . The first audience threw vegetables, shoes and other knickknacks. . . . Some of the actors wrote out hurried wills—expecting to be killed.

Charles Macklin, an Irishman, played Shylock at 98. He was still on the stage at 105 and died at 107. He was the son of a Catholic father and a Presbyterian mother, who got famous playing a Jew.

In 1859 John Wilkes Booth narrowly escaped death at the old Gayety Theater in Albany, N. Y., when he fell on his sword during a performance of "The Apostate." The weapon missed his heart by an inch. The inch that took the life of Abraham Lincoln.

Expanded to include other countries under the Truman program, the "Point Four" blueprint calls for $35,000,000 in the next fiscal year, with future expansion in sight as the amounts spent on the Marshall plan become smaller and smaller.

Then, instead of using funds to balance the economy of Europe, the objective would be to teach people how to better their own conditions—everything from improving breeds of hogs to building railroads through areas plagued by tropical disease. Health, agriculture and forestry would receive attention in about that order.

Waynick's first problem will be to get the experts—men and women willing to live in backward areas for at least two years, wrestle with native languages and put up with primitive conditions. That will call for a lot of well trained people.

Members of the Castle Rock Survivors Association—newspapermen and women who were on the campaign train of Thomas E. Dewey when another train crashed into it at Castle Rock, Wash. during the 1944 presidential campaign—held their annual reunion here this month, with Governor Dewey, who is president of the association, as their host and guest of honor.

The organization has no purpose other than enjoyment, despite the fact that many of those aboard the train were injured and received substantial sums from the railroad in settlement of their claims.

When Dewey arrived for the session, it was generally understood that he would not be a candidate for a third term as governor of New York. After an evening in Washington atmosphere, associating with political writers, he was reported to have changed his mind. On his return to New York, the pendulum swung back again. His associates said he wouldn't run.

In Washington, where more speeches are made per capita than anywhere else in the United States one of the most popular luncheon clubs is the Chatter Box Club, where no speeches are permitted. The club entertains distinguished persons, has a head table of celebrities, and as many as 50 tables of members and guests, but nobody gets up to display his talents as a luncheon speaker. Instead the club has good music, usually at least one singer of note.

At its last luncheon, Major General Carl R. Gray, Jr., administrator of veterans affairs, was the guest of honor. Gray likes opera. One of the coming young American born singers, Ed Ruhl, the only soloist ever to sing in St. Peter's in Rome, sang an Italian serenade which Gray applauded enthusiastically. Then the singer, holding his last high note without faltering, marched twenty yards across the big room to the head table to clasp Gray's outstretched hands.

Note—Ruhl sang at St. Peter's while studying at La Scala, famed Milan Opera House. The clergy liked it, but decided it was not in keeping with the mass, banned further soloists.

George E. Sokolsky:

THESE DAYS

CONSCRIPTION

The national council against conscription is conducting a campaign to influence congress to oppose conscription in peacetime. They quote congressman Lane of Massachusetts to the effect that the conscription law points a dagger at every mother's heart.

This is only partly true, for there are many daggers pointed at mothers' hearts these days, and if conscription is one, the ever-present danger of war is even a more horrible and vicious one.

The national council against conscription asks:

"Why then does the army want to continue to register and classify all boys of draft age? The simple answer is that the army wants to make every family aware of the military claim on its boys. They are potentially in the army in peacetime as well as in wartime."

This is so true. Yet let us put it another way. Since 1945, an astonishing number of countries have been conquered, so that in 1950, the conquering power holds a population of 800,000,000. As of today's date, three more countries are in danger of immediate conquest—Germany, French Indo-China and the Philippines.

What is the responsibility of our government in the face of this ever-present and immediate danger? If we quarrel with the state department, it is because of a feeling that they gambled on peace and lost. There is no peace anywhere in the world today.

Therefore, our government has no alternative but to prepare for the defense of its people, their way of life, and their territory. We can be as craven as the present government of Czechoslovakia which caved in. Or shall we appease the conquerer until he has us without the effort of conquest, or shall we be ready to meet him on any field at any time?

A government has to decide on that question immediately. There can be no waiting until we are attacked, for obviously in the mechanics of the new warfare there is no waiting time on either side.

The dilemma is one of the most unpleasant in history. For the alternatives are so few. I know that there are intelligent, educated people who feel that the so-called warmongers, as they call those who are pushing preparedness, are wrong in their calculaitons. Maybe that is correct. But the danger of error on the part of the pacifists is greater than error on the part of warmongers. If we prepare but have no war, the loss is not as great as it can be if we are unprepared and suffer defeat.

If my fears of Russia, for instance, should prove unfounded, it would be a blessing to all mankind. But should my conclusion that Russia seeks to conquer this country prove to be correct—and we are not ready—it could prove a major if not final catastrophe.

Dean Acheson, our secretary of state, is, on the whole, a peaceful man given to appeasement. Yet he has been driven by the course of events into the position of a warmonger. President Truman hates war. He has certainly done nothing to stir his country to war with any people. Yet he is obviously wearying of the progress that our enemy is making the world over.

Our state department pursued a China policy after the Yalta conference to please Russia, but they never expected the consequences that came from their policy, because they believed in the integrity of Soviet Russia — a nation which has not lived up to a single agreement or treaty composed between us.

Therefore, it is not a matter of choice. This country, for better or worse, is being forced into a militaristic position by the course of events. We are much as Japan was between 1905 and 1931. Most Japanese hated war and they despised their own militarists, but it was as clear to them, as the events eventually proved, that Russia would seek to take Manchuria, and that country, once conquered, would imperil the whole of eastern Asia. They had to desert the progress of their land to concentrate on defense. I recall conversing with top leaders of Japan as far back as 1923 who realized then the historical desperation of their situation.

We need to think our problems out now if we are to survive. And we need to think straight, for the enemy will take advantage of our every error.

Charrles B. Driscoll:

New York Day By Day

NEW YORK—A book that is treasured through generations is precious to the owner, both because of the value of the work and because of the associations and memories connected with it.

Instance: Lee Prior, York, Pa., 68 years old, tells me he has a beautifully bound copy of "The Scarlet Letter," by Nathaniel Hawthorne. It is a first edition, published just 100 years ago. Mr. Pryor's grandmother gave this copy to his mother. It is quite possible that the grandmother bought the book when it had no collector's value, as it surely has today.

Mr. Pryor occasionally refreshes his memory of the great novel by reading passages from this first edition. He also read s this column every evening, before looking at the rest of the paper, he tells me. A man of excellent perception!

The Washington Square Outdoor Art Exhibit is at its best these warm days of early June. Visitors who are in Manhattan up to the closing date, June 11, shouldn't miss the unique sight.

When I visited the Tuberculosis hospital at Webb City, Mo. I became acquainted with the physcician in charge, Dr. Jesse E. Douglass. He is a man of keen wit and a good sense of humor. He twitted me about coughing during my telling of treasure tales to the patients. He admitted that he always coughs when he talks to a group of patients. It's a psychological quirk, I suppose. As for the patients in my audience, not a cough in a carload.

The doctor made me pose for a chest x-ray, and autograph the film, but of course I don't know what it means. Dr. Douglass has a collection of chest x-ray pictures signed by distinguished visitors, and he indicated that he may be able to sneak mine into the third-class file.

My old friend and neighbor, Dr. Albert Shipp Pegues, who is 78 and retired from an English professorship at N. Y. U. was in a fatal automobile accident the other day, and walked away with only a few scratches. He's from Texas and the Carolinas, and hard to bruise.

Dr. Pegues was in a car driven by an old friend. The friend apparently fainted or suffered a heart attack, and the car went out of control, rolled down a steep bank and was wrecked. When help arrived the driver was dead but the young Professor Emeritus was merely discommoded.

He's all right now, but some of his many friends in Texas, where he taught for a good many years, should write him congratulations. If you address them in my care, I'll see that he gets them.

It might interest you to know that in 1922 more than two million passenger automobiles were produced. In that year, 28 years ago if my subtraction still works, Henry Ford bought Lincoln at a receiver's sale, and started out to show the customers that he could make expensive cars, too.

TWO MORE PLEAD GUILTY IN TRIAL

Seven Of Thirteen Have Pleaded Guilty To Treason Charges In Czechoslovakia

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, June 3.—(AP)—Two more defendants, Antonie Kleinerova and Jan Buchal, pleaded guilty today in the trial of 13 Czechs accused of organizing a fifth column for western powers.

So far seven defendants have pleaded guilty in the trial that began Wednesday.

(Prague dispatches to London said an eighth defendant, Dr. Oldrich Pecl, a former coal miner, admitted supplying information to American newspaper employes. But he denied acting as a spy for Yugoslavia, as charged in the indictment.

(During Pecl's testimony the state prosecutor called western newspapermen "petty spies."

(Pecl said Zavis Kalandra, Czech newspaperman who also is a defendant, agreed to write articles against the Communist government from material supplied by Pecl. Miss Helen Fisher, formerly employed by the United Press in Prague, was to distribute the articles, Pecl said.

(The defendant said he and Kalandra also met Dana Adams Schmidt, New York Times correspondent, and supplied information about underground groups in Czechoslovakia which Schmidt agreed to write.

(Schmidt, who was mentioned in the indictment, has left Czechoslovakia to escape arrest. He said he did not even know the names of two of the three persons with whom he was alleged to have contacted. Referring to Schmidt's departure, the prosecutor said, "we are so used to such small espionage activities that we just let him go.")

Buchal, a former security police officer, told the five-man court sitting in Pankrac prison that he made plans for an armed uprising in Ostrava region which he expected would be supported by British and the radio station from which to broadcast proclamations.

Mrs. Kleinerova, a former deputy of the National Socialist Party of the late President Eduard Eq, reported that she decided to engage in activities to undermine the government as soon as the Communists got control in February, 1948.

Hero Of W. W. Two Is Given Suspended Term

NEW ALBANY, Ind., June 3.—(AP)— The day of reckoning for a two-year-old jewel robbery brought mercy for a hero of the Battle of the Bulge yesterday.

Alex Ross, 27, Butlerville, Ind., farmer, wept when Federal Judge William E. Steckler pronounced a one-year sentence and then suspended it.

"The records show Ross faced one frustration after another," the judge said. "It is one of the most unusual cases I have ever heard of." Ross had won a spot promotion from prvate to first lieutenant for initiative he showed in the crucila Battle of the Bulge.

The veteran had been awaiting sentence ever since he pleaded guilty in 1948 to a charge of violating the federal stolen property act. A search of his farm had yielded 31 damond rings and 70 cameo rings stolen from the jade store in San Francisco, May 17, 1948. He signed a confession that he had pulled the $27,000 robbery.

The store manager, Louis Bernstein, said at the time the man who held him up contended:

"I hate to do this to you people, but I'm paying back the American people."

Former Judge Robert C. Baltzell postponed sentencing Ross four times to give probation officers time to check the case.

Ross brought home no wounds from the war, Browning reported, but he had suffered "acute battle fatigue."

Ga. And Tenn. Troopers Make New Efforts To Capture Men, Womar

CALHOUN, Ga., June 3.—(AP)— Georgia and Tennessee troopers spun a new armed web today for a red-haired woman and two desperate men who have defied huge posses since Thursday.

Almost 100 patrolmen blocked all roads leading from the little town of Ranger in northwest Georgia, in the wild, mountainous approaches to the Chattahoochee National Forest.

A lonely storekeeper said he spotted the heavily armed fugitives there shortly after they slipped out of a police cordon five miles southward that had trapped them afoot for 36 hours.

A key left carelessly in a 1948 pickup truck opened the getaway trail from the earlier police circle.

The dangerous game of hide and seek began Thursday when the trio was halted by a Tennessee trooper for a routine check. In a gun battle that followed, they sped away with the trooper's patrol car and machine gun.

Seizing another car and crashing through two roadblocks, they abandoned their bullet-pierced, blood-stained car near here. Officers traced them to an 18-square-mile section of dense thickets.

For 36 hours, police with guns poised probed gingerly into the area, using airplanes, bloodhounds and floodlights. But all they found were campfire ashes and a woman's heel print.

Then the trail got hot. A night watchman at a lumber mill said the woman and one of the men terrorized him from 1 a.m. to 4 a.m. today. Shortly afterward, the pickup truck disappeared from a nearby farmhouse.

Then the storekeeper saw the trio heading north. Police fanned out into a new ring, and started all over again.

Teneessee patrolmen have identified the men as Fred Scroggins, a native of the Calhoun area, and William J. Parker of Huntsville, Ala., wanted on five counts of burglary.

The only clue to the woman's identity is that she is red-haired and has a scar between her eyes.

72-YEAR-OLD U. S. ADMIRAL MARRIES

Is Veteran Of Three Wars And Former Commander Of U. S. Fleet

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(AP)— Admiral Arthur Japy Hepburn, 72-year-old veteran of three wars and former commander in chief of the U. S. fleet, was married today to Miss Agnes McMahon, 47.

The wedding ceremony was performed by the Rev. Robert L. Keesler in the rectory of St. Thomas the Apostle Catholic Church here, attended only by members of the couple's immediate families. After a honeymoon in New York, the Hepburns will make their home in Washington.

Hepburn, whose first wife died in 1933, has held numerous top naval posts and served as this country's naval delegate to various arms limitation conferences between the two world wars.

A native of Carlisle, Pa., he attended Dickinson College and was graduated from the naval academy in 1897. During the Spanish-American war he served as an ensign and in World War I commanded the battleship South Carolina.

Hepburn became a rear admiral in 1929 and was promoted to full admiral in 1936 when he was named commander of the fleet.

He retired in 1941 but was called back to active duty after Pearl Harbor and served briefly as director of navy public relations. From 1942 to 1945, when he again retired, he was chairman of the navy general board.

Since his retirement the admiral has been making his home with his son, Arthur, Jr., in Baltimore. He also has another son, Philip Roman.

Miss McMahon, who has been living in Washington for the past 15 years, is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. P. F. McMahon of Steubensville, Ohio.

Bitter Personal Fight Is Highlight Of Nomination

By Harold S. Milner

PIERRE, S. D., June 3.—(AP)—A bitter personal fight between aspirants for the Republican nomination for the U. S. senate highlighted the campaign leading to South Dakota's primary election Tuesday June 6.

The principals are Senator Chan Gurney and Rep. Francis Case, a veteran of 14 years in the house.

Other contests before the voters are the races for the Democratic nomination for senator, for the Republican nomination for the first district congressional seat, and the five-man race for the Republican nomination for governor. Joe Foss, World War II ace flier, is among the candidates for governor.

Joseph Robbie, Mitchell attorney, is unopposed for the Democratic nomination for governor, and Sam Bober, Newell grain man, has no opposition for the first district Democratic nomination for the house.

Case has accused Gurney of "bending to pressure" and "lining up with the big spenders." He has pledged a fight for a balanced budget and to battle to halt the drift toward war.

Gurney responded:

"My opponent's sudden interest in peace is a mask which he put on the day he announced his candidacy for the senate. When we tear it off we find a long, shameful record of shortsightedness and political cowardice."

Gurney declared Case was so "helplessly uninformed or so politically cowardly that he voted against strengthening our military establishment four months before Pearl Harbor."

Gurney is finishing his second six-year term in the senate.

Candidates for the Democratic senatorial nomination are Dr. John S. Tschetter, retired physician and mayor of Huron, and John A. Engel, Avon attorney. Neither has mentioned the Truman administration during the campaign.

Both have promised a fight for 100 per cent parity for farm products and both have taken a stand against socialized medicine.

Joe Bottum, former state Republican chairman, and E. Y. Berry, McLaughlin publisher and attorney, seek the Republican nomination for the second district house seat given up by Rep. Case.

Merton B. Tice, Mitchell attorney, and Rep. Harold O. Lovre are candidates for the Republican nomination for the house in the first district.

WALTER WINCHELL

Behind The Scenes

For 30 years this Broadway historian (along with nearly everyone else) echo'd the inaccurate story on how "The Little Church Around the Corner" got that nickname. . . . In every article we read on the theater the erratum went like this: A church in Manhattan refused to accomodate some show-folks who wanted to be married and directed them to "the little church around the corner."

This is how it got the name: George Holland, a destitute player, couldn't sell enough tickets to his own benefit. He stuffed them into a pocket and jumped off the Fulton Market pier into the river. He was rescued and sympathizers bought all of them.

Some years later it was Holland's funeral that started the Little Church legend. Dr. Sabine, minister of the Church of the Atonement, advised the mourners: "Go to the little church around the corner." Because his church was decorated for a wedding.

Nat Goodwin, a star most of his life, was equally renowned for his many lovely wives. . . . Rennold Wolf, the colyumist of the N. Y. Morning Telegraph, once remarked: "When I cannot recall the name of a very beautiful woman I simply greet her with: 'Hello, Mrs. Goodwin!' "

So you think the Ingrid Bergman story will wreck her career? . . . Well, in the long ago, actress Lola Montex (the mistress of Nicholas I of Russia, Franz Lizst and King Ludwig of Bavaria) came to New York after her scandalous career and starred in "Lola Montez in Bavaria." The first sexy sizzler.

Back in the '80s Tony Pastor was so impressed with the thrushing and good looks of Helen Louise Leonard (a graduate of the Convent of the Sacred Heart in Chicago) he decided she needed a glamorous name. The world applauded her as Lillian Russell.

When Edwin Booth and his wife Catherine Sinclair were in the divorce courts 100 years ago the newspapers printed verbatim evidence of chambermaids and servants—about 12,000 pages of it.

Not much of which would be published today.

Rachel, greatest of French stars, was guaranteed $3,500 per performance to come here. . . . She caught pneumonia in Philly, because her brother, the stage manager, was too stingy to heat the theater. Her premiere was disrupted by the audience, which kept turning the pages of the "Phedre" translation at the same time.

Even Fanny Ward couldn't make a hit of "A Fool and a Girl" and it folded soon after its Washington, D. C., flop. The author reluctantly took a job in the new-fangled movies—so he could eat.

He considered it such a comedown and disgrace that he dropped his first name (Lawrence) and changed it to David Wark Griffith. . . . He became the Father of the Modern Movie. . . . Griffith once refused to work for Sam Goldwyn because Mr. G. couldn't show him a bank deposit of $300,000.

That perennial favorite, "Within the Law," was turned down by Broadway's top showmen, Belasco, Brady and Harris. After flopping in Chicago it caught on here with Jane Cowl. It ran two years and prospered with 10 road troupes. Author Bayard Veiller got $40,000 per week from his "flop."

Eleanora Duse, renowned for her beautiful hands and her emoting, was born in a third class railroad train, of small-time circus performers. She is beloved to this day for spurning a pension from Mussolini in 1924. When she died in Pittsburgh, the Big Ham tried to cash in on her fame by bringing her home for a state funeral.

When Sarah Bernhardt was 55 she was playing the part of young men! With grace and conviction, too. . . . At the age of 78 she started her film career. . . . For over 30 years The Divine Sarah refused to appear in Germany. . . . She said she would not "soil the hands Victor Hugo had kissed by accepting German money!"

She eventually went there for one performance. . . . Although the audience was hostile and the emperor hated her, they had to surrender to her magic and artistry and at the finale—gave her a deafening ovation.

A feud between P. T. Barnum and publisher James Gordon Bennett of the N. Y. Herald grew so bitter that the Theatrical Managers Ass'n (all friends of Barnum) withdrew their ads. All theatre programs carried a line: "We do not advertise in the N. Y. Herald."

Bennett was once horse-whipped in his own city room by T. S. Hamblin, mgr of The Bowery Theatre. Over some sour notices.

"The Two Orphans," a translation from the French, was tagged an all-time lemon when Albert Marshall Palmer tried to sell it. . . . No takers. . . . He finally produced it himself. . . . It ran 180 performances. . . . Then he sold it to Kate Claxton, who appeared in the original cast as the blind orphan. She clicked in it for 20 years.

Sarah Siddons, the English stage great, once stopped a London riot by merely murmuring to the mob: "Good people, I am Sarah Siddons, let me pass." . . . So beloved was she that the plans for Regent Park (London) were changed so the view from her Baker street windows would not be marred.

When Mme. Francisguy Hutin, the French dancing star, appeared on the stage (at the Lafayette) in short skirts (in 1827) every female in the theater got up and walked out as La Hutin swivel-hipped on.

Synge's "The Playboy of the Western World" aroused great controversy when the Dublin Abbey Players brought it to New York not too many seasons ago. . . . The first audience threw vegetables, shoes and other knick-knacks. . . . Some of the actors wrote out hurried wills—expecting to be killed.

Charles Macklin, an Irishman, played Shylock at 98. He was still on the stage at 105 and died at 107. He was the son of a Catholic father and a Presbyterian mother, who got famous playing a Jew.

farming, construction, medicine and other fields.

Expanded to include other countries under the Truman program, the "Point Four" blueprint calls for $35,000,000 in the next fiscal year, with future expansion in sight as the amounts spent on the Marshall plan become smaller and smaller.

Then, instead of using funds to balance the economy of Europe, the objective would be to teach people how to better their own conditions—everything from improving breeds of hogs to building railroads through areas plagued by tropical disease. Health, agriculture and forestry would receive attention in about that order.

Waynick's first problem will be to get the experts—men and women willing to live in backward areas for at least two years, wrestle with native languages and put up with primitive conditions. That will call for a lot of well trained people.

Members of the Castle Rock Survivors Association—newspapermen and women who were on the campaign train of Thomas E. Dewey when another train crashed into it at Castle Rock, Wash. during the 1944 presidential campaign—held their annual reunion here this month, with Governor Dewey, who is president of the association, as their host and guest of honor.

The organization has no purpose other than enjoyment, despite the fact that many of those aboard the train were injured and received substantial sums from the railroad in settlement of their claims.

When Dewey arrived for the session, it was generally understood that he would not be a candidate for a third term as governor of New York. After an evening in Washington atmosphere, associating with political writers, he was reported to have changed his mind. On his return to New York, the pendulum swung back again. His associates said he wouldn't run.

In Washington, where more speeches are made per capita than anywhere else in the United States one of the most popular luncheon clubs is the Chatter Box Club, where no speeches are permitted. The club entertains distinguished persons, has a head table of celebrities, and as many as 50 tables of members and guests, but nobody gets up to display his talents as a luncheon speaker. Instead the club has good music, usually at least one singer of note.

At its last luncheon, Major General Carl R. Gray, Jr., administrator of veterans affairs, was the guest of honor. Gray likes opera. One of the coming young American born singers, Ed Ruhl, the only soloist ever to sing in St. Peter's in Rome, sang an Italian serenade which Gray applauded enthusiastically. Then the singer, holding his last high note without faltering, marched twenty yards across the big room to the head table to clasp Gray's outstretched hands.

Note—Ruhl sang at St. Peter's while studying at La Scala, famed Milan Opera House. The clergy liked it, but decided it was not in keeping with the mass, banned further soloists.

George E. Sokolsky:

THESE DAYS

CONSCRIPTION

The national council against conscription is conducting a campaign to influence congress to oppose conscription in peacetime. They quote congressman Lane of Massachusetts to the effect that the conscription law points a dagger at every mother's heart.

This is only partly true, for there are many daggers pointed at mothers' hearts these days and if conscription is one, the ever-present danger of war is even a more horrible and vicious one.

The national council against conscription asks:

"Why then does the army want to continue to register and classify all boys of draft age? The simple answer is that the army wants to make every family aware of the military claim on its boys. They are potentially in the army in peacetime as well as in wartime."

This is so true. Yet let us put it another way. Since 1945, an astonishing number of countries have been conquered, so that in 1950, the conquering power holds a population of 800,000,000. As of today's date, three more countries are in danger of immediate conquest—Germany, French Indo-China and the Philippines.

What is the responsibility of our government in the face of this ever-present and immediate danger? If we quarrel with the state department, it is because of a feeling that they gambled on peace and lost. There is no peace anywhere in the world today.

Therefore, our government has no alternative but to prepare for the defense of its people, their way of life, and their territory. We can be as craven as the present government of Czechoslovakia which caved in. Or shall we appease the conquerer until he has us without the effort of conquest, or shall we be ready to meet him on any field at any time?

A government has to decide on that question immediately. There can be no waiting until we are attacked, for obviously in the mechanics of the new warfare there is no waiting time on either side.

The dilemma is one of the most unpleasant in history. For the alternatives are so few. I know that there are intelligent, educated people who feel that the so-called warmongers, as they call those who are pushing preparedness, are wrong in their calculaitons. Maybe that is correct. But the danger of error on the part of the pacifists is greater than error on the part of warmongers. If we prepare but have no war, the loss is not as great as it can be if we are unprepared and suffer defeat.

If my fears of Russia, for instance, should prove unfounded, it would be a blessing to all mankind. But should my conclusion that Russia seeks to conquer this country prove to be correct—and we are not ready—it could prove a major if not final catastrophe.

Dean Acheson, our secretary of state, is, on the whole, a peaceful man given to appeasement. Yet he has been driven by the course of events into the position of a warmonger. President Truman hates war. He has certainly done nothing to stir his country to war with any people. Yet he is obviously wearying of the progress that our enemy is making the world over.

Our state department pursued a China policy after the Yalta conference to please Russia, but they never expected the consequences that came from their policy, because they believed in the integrity of Soviet Russia — a nation which has not lived up to a single agreement or treaty composed between us.

Therefore, it is not a matter of choice. This country, for better or worse, is being forced into a militaristic position by the course of events. We are much as Japan was between 1905 and 1931. Most Japanese hated war and they despised their own militarists, but it was as clear to them, as the events eventually proved, that Russia would seek to take Manchuria, and that country, once conquered, would imperil the whole of eastern Asia. They had to desert the progress of their land to concentrate on defense. I recall conversing with top leaders of Japan as far back as 1923 who realized then the historical desperation of their situation.

We need to think our problems out now if we are to survive. And we need to think straight, for the enemy will take advantage of our every error.

New York Day By Day

NEW YORK—A book that is treasured through generations is precious to the owner, both because of the value of the work and because of the associations and memories connected with it.

Instance: Lee Prior, York, Pa., 68 years old, tells me he has a beautifully bound copy of "The Scarlet Letter," by Nathaniel Hawthorne. It is a first edition, published just 100 years ago. Mr. Pryor's grandmother gave this copy to his mother. It is quite possible that the grandmother bought the book when it had no collector's value, as it surely has today.

Mr. Pryor occasionally refreshes his memory of the great novel by reading passages from this first edition. He also read s this column every evening, before looking at the rest of the paper, he tells me. A man of excellent perception!

The Washington Square Outdoor Art Exhibit is at its best these warm days of early June. Visitors who are in Manhattan up to the closing date, June 11, shouldn't miss the unique sight.

When I visited the Tuberculosis hospital at Webb City, Mo. I became acquainted with the physcician in charge, Dr. Jesse E. Douglass. He is a man of keen wit and a good sense of humor. He twitted me about coughing during my telling of treasure tales to the patients. He admitted that he always coughs when he talks to a group of patients. It's a psychological quirk, I suppose. As for the patients in my audience, not a cough in a carload.

The doctor made me pose for a chest x-ray, and autograph the film, but of course I don't know what it means. Dr. Douglass has a collection of chest x-ray pictures signed by distinguished visitors, and he indicated that he may be able to sneak mine into the third-class file.

My old friend and neighbor, Dr. Albert Shipp Pegues, who is 78 and retired from an English professorship at N. Y. U. was in a fatal automobile accident the other day, and walked away with only a few scratches. He's from Texas and the Carolinas, and hard to bruise.

Dr. Pegues was in a car driven by an old friend. The friend apparently fainted or suffered a heart attack, and the car went out of control, rolled down a steep bank and was wrecked. When help arrived the driver was dead but the young Professor Emeritus was merely discommoded.

He's all right now, but some of his many friends in Texas, where he taught for a good many years, should write him congratulations. If you address them in my care, I'll see that he gets them.

It might interest you to know that in 1922 more than two million passenger automobiles were produced. In that year, 28 years ago if my subtraction still works, Henry Ford bought Lincoln at a receiver's sale, and started out to show the customers that he could make expensive cars, too.

TWO MORE PLEAD GUILTY IN TRIAL

Seven Of Thirteen Have Pleaded Guilty To Treason Charges In Czechoslovakia

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, June 3.—(AP)—Two more defendants, Antonie Kleinerova and Jan Buchal, pleaded guilty today in the trial of 13 Czechs accused of organizing a fifth column for western powers.

So far seven defendants have pleaded guilty in the trial that began Wednesday.

(Prague dispatches to London said an eighth defendant, Dr. Oldrich Pecl, a former coal miner, admitted supplying information to American newspaper employes. But he denied acting as a spy for Yugoslavia, as charged in the indictment.

(During Pecl's testimony the state prosecutor called western newspapermen "petty spies."

(Pecl said Zavis Kalandra, Czech newspaperman who also is a defendant, agreed to write articles against the Communist government from material supplied by Pecl. Miss Helen Fisher, formerly employed by the United Press in Prague, was to distribute the articles, Pecl said.

Bitter Personal Fight Is Highlight Of Nomination

CLASS OF 1950 FNISHES STUDY

Commencement Held By Northeast Junior College; Dean Caldwell Speaker

Education gives a better understanding of the fundamentals of each other's jobs, declared Dr. Stephen A. Caldwell in addressing the graduating class of Northeast Junior College Friday. We must appreciate the significance of both laborers and employers in our attempt to answer the question: "What Is Education?" said the dean of the junior division and coordinator of junior colleges, Louisiana State University.

We may possess bountiful resources, yet it is also essential that we have labor and capital for production, the speaker explained.

Every producer is a laborer or captialist. In a democracy the vital factor is having people appreciate what part of industry belongs to each group. Dr. Caldwell said. This ability to understand comes with education.

The man who does a job must understand the history and development of natural resources and machines. Scientists must determine what tools to use in the various stages of development of resources. Then it becomes the responsibility of social scientists to consider the best way in which these people who use tools can get along.

The influence of cultural fields in education cannot be overestimated, Dr. Caldwell said. Preparing ourselves to possess the fullest lives demands the appreciation of literature, art and religion.

Regardless of great resources, capable labor and fine management, we cannot be educated unless we have some conception of the Great Master's qualities, the speaker declared. Faith, hope and charity are essentials for the fine life, he stressed.

Love, Dr. Caldwell said, is many times greater than fire. It may cause more misery than anything else; yet it also may bring more happiness.

Education will prepare us to consider all these factors in proper proportion, the speaker concluded.

The commencement program included the invocation by the Rev. E. L. Tanner, pastor of the Assembly of God church, West Monroe; piano solo, Prelude, Opus 28, No. 24 in D Minor (Chopin) by Joe Monroe, N. J. C. music student; awarding of diplomas by Dean Rodney Cline; Alma Mater by the audience; benediction by the Reverend Tanner; processional and recessional by Mrs. Florence Ziegler Allbritton of the N. J. C. faculty.

Special recognition was given three members of the graduating class who received the highest academic rating. Fred Wayne Rogers, chemical engineering major of West Monroe, scored a grade point ratio of 2.96 in a possible 3.00. Second place was captured by Joseph Charles Griffing, premedical student of Gilbert, whose average was 2.93. William McLemore, agriculture student of Gilbert, rated a 2.79 average.

Rogers was winner of the cash award given annually by the local campus chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, national junior college honorary scholastic fraternity, to the student having the highest two-year average.

WILL REJECT CUT IN EXCISE TAXES

Committee Member Says Truman Will Veto Cut Netting Loss In Revenue

WASHINGTON, June 3. —(AP)— A key member of the house ways and means committee said today President Truman has again served notice he will veto any cut in excise taxes which brings a net loss in federal revenue.

The committee voted yesterday to stand fast on excise tax cuts it had previously approved tentatively. They would total an estimated $1.075.000.000 a year—more than twic the $655,000,000 limit which Mr. Truman proposed.

It has done little about making up this potential revenue loss in other ways. Committee staff experts estimate that the bill, in its present form, would result in a revenue loss of about $760,000,000 a year.

When Mr. Truman submitted his tax recommendations to congress early in the year, he suggested modest cuts in excise taxes—the levies on such things as furs, jewelry, luggage, toilet preparations, admissions and other items.

But he told congress bluntly that the government cannot now afford to cut its net revenue, and he said the legislators must vote new or increased levies elsewhere to make up the excise tax loss.

A top member of the house committee, who asked that he not be named, told newsmen Mr. Truman reiterated this view in a message relayed by administration leaders who called at the White House recently.

This committee member said the situation is that the bill will be vetoed unless the committee votes —and congress approves—higher corporation taxes. There has been no serious talk of increasing individual income taxes.

The president had recommended that the corporation income tax rate be hiked from 38 to 42 per cent—a boost which treasury experts estimate would bring in an additional $650,000,000 a year.

CHINESE REVEAL CLOSURE OF PORT

Communists Close Port Of Swatow To Foreign Shipping To Conceal Plans

HONG KONG, June 3.—(AP)—The Chinese Communists have closed their port of Swatow to foreign shipping, possibly to conceal preparations for an invasion of Formosa.

This port on the southeast coast of China has been a busy one for ships running the Nationalist blockade.

Thus, the official explanation for its closing, as received by the China mail, was discounted. The Communists said they wanted to keep the port closed until they could investigate the explosion and sinking of the British tanker Ebonal off Swatow May 25.

The ship is reported to have struck a mine. Its crew of 17 was saved.

Swatow is one of the string of southeast ports from which an invasion would be launched across 100-mile-wide Formosa strait.

The pro-Communist newspaper Ta Kung Pao reported authorities had directed foreign shipping to use Haimung bay. The bay is 15 miles southwest of Swatow.

The Daily Mail said the belief was widely held in shipping circles that the Communists wanted to hide troop movements for the Formosan venture.

FUTURE MOTHER CARE IS GIVEN

119 Expectant Ones Are Treated Through Community Chest Means

In a recent report to the board of the directors of the Monroe Maternal and Infant Welfare Clinic, a Red Feather Service of the Community Chest, and devoted in broad sense to a program of social welfare for mothers of the Twin City and Ouachita parish of modest income, it was revealed that during the past six months 119 expectant mothers have been certified and admitted for care.

At the local health center, St. John and Grammont streets, clinics are held on Tuesday and Wednesday of each week under supervision of physician and nurses furnished by the local health department, medical attention is given these mothers and their social welfare need considered by the social welfare director of the clinic's sponsor, the Catholic Daughters of America. In the latter connection medicine, layettes and milk are furnished where the need is verified, as are other maternal requisites for the needy mother.

The program is definitely not one of charity, but confines itself to those families of small income, entitled to, and who may not be able to obtain such needed care on the level of those better placed financially. A hospitalized delivery service is also made available by the sponsor through cooperation of the St. Francis Sanitarium, where for a very nominal fee complete care for the mother and infant is made possible. Any mother in the community, regardless of race or creed. is accepted at the clinic if her need is found to be a just one.

The Monroe Maternal and Infant Welfare Clinic has a justifiably proud record of over 13 years of community service: rendering a complete maternal and infant care of the highest type and made possible for those less financially favored among us. Literally hundreds of families have been recipient of the clinic's work because of recognition of a long felt need in the community for an organization of this type: saving the mother and giving to the infant a fair start in life.

The clinic's slogan tersely emphasizes far reaching and important work: "In the great scheme of things life must go on. . . . Let us lend a helping hand to the needy mother." The successful civic status of this community wide organization attests the value of the vision of its founders in its program for good in the Twin City and environs, it is stated.

not preclude some social affairs. The Ouachita National Bank will stage a dinner in the Lotus Club tonight for the distinguished guests and there will be a barbecue on Monday. Various plantations will be visited to observe methods used in the application of ammonia to the soil and a staff photographer will accompany the party to secure pictures for later use by the company. Monroe is proud to have such a plant as the Thermatomic and to have as guests important leaders in the ranks of the chemical world. We hope that Jupiter Pluvius deals kindly with the party in atonement for the downpour on Saturday.

Sam and Maryem Fowlkes are given a human interest writeup in the current issue of The Red Book under the caption, "This Is The Life". Lest some readers not at once identify Mrs. Maryem Fowlkes, we will do so for them. She was before her marriage, Miss Maryem Colbert and her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry W. Colbert of Park avenue. All her girlhood was spent in Monroe where she has worlds of friends.

The story in the magazine recites how this couple bought a house in much need of repair with eight acres of land surrounding it located near Gulfport, Miss. They then lived in New Orleans where the husband was on the staff of Hotel Roosevelt and they planned to utilize the newly-acquired possession as a sort of week end hideaway. But as time went on they enjoyed it so much after it had been overhauled that ultimately it has become a full time proposition. The family now makes a good living from the cultivation of choice camellias.

Those who know these people will find interest in their story.

Delta Air Lines asked the Civil Aeronautics Board Friday for an extension from Columbia, S. C., to Washington and New York via Fayetteville and Wilson, N. C., and Philadelphia.

The application requested that the Columbia-New York route be an extension of both Route 54 (Chicago-Miami; and Route 24 (Ft. Worth-Charleston).

The proposed extension would total 655 air miles from Columbia to New York, providing first tair service for Wilson and first north-south service for Fayetteville. The route also would allow Delta to offer through service to the Washington-New York area from Augusta, Atlanta and points already served by Delta west of Atlanta as far west as Dallas-Ft. Worth.

C. E. Woolman, president and general manager of Delta, said both Wilson and Fayetteville are fast-growing trade centers of a rich North Carolina area.

Louisiana State University's mid-century class, totalling some 1800 graduates, received their degrees Friday night at commencement exercises held in the agricultural center.

Speaker for the occasion was General J. Lawton Collins, U. S. army chief of staff.

Diplomas were presented by President Harold W. Stoke, who also made a brief address to the class of '50. Greetings from the state, on behalf of Governor Earl K. Long, were given by Theo Cangelosi, general counsel for the highway department.

Music for the processional and recessional was by the L. S. U. orchestra. The Rev. Leonard E. nelson, pastor of the Episcopal Student Center, gave the invocation, and benediction was by Rabbi Walter G. Peiser, B'Nai Israel Temple, Baton Rouge.

Galveston residents had no alternative but to sit up all night and watch the storm, because thunder kept them awake. Thunder claps like major explosions shook the city while constant lightening illuminated water-filled streets.

"There's no distress, no danger to life," said Tom Mulvany of the Galveston News. Mulvany telephoned from his home, where he was marooned. "It's just that we're water-bound. Every home is surrounded by a moat. There's nothing to do but wait for the water to drain off."

Galveston had perhaps its worst drenching since the 1900 hurricane in which 5,000 to 7,000 people were killed.

The weather bureau said it was a continuation of torrential rains which flooded Brownsville at Texas' southern tip yesterday. Today seven inches of rain fell at Port Arthur, up the coast from Galveston on the Louisiana border. The rain was accompanying 61-mile-an-hour winds did minot damage at Port Arthur.

Streets were flooded briefly at Beaumont, close to Port Arthur, after 3.24 inches fell last night and early today. Heavy rains also drenched several Louisiana and Mississippi areas last night and today. Lake Charles, La., had almost seven inches.

Galveston's downpour began about midnight. Between 6 and 8 a.m. (C. S. T.) 7.35 inches fell.

Eighteen inches of rain water covered the airport. Water stretched from front porch to front porch in residential areas. Most downtown stores closed as ground floors were turned into debris-littered ponds.

is planning a sweeping change in its economic relationships with Western Europe. It is hoping to accomplish this in such a manner that it can maintain close economic cooperation even with the so-called "neutral" countries like Switzerland and Sweden.

Acheson said the United States intends to establish, by invitation, member organization for European a new relationship with the 18-member organization for European economic cooperation in Paris. Yesterday the council of the OEEC, exactly as Acheson had predicted, voted to ask the United States and Canada to establish this new association.

There are a number of nations in the OEEC—not only the "neutrals" but also the remote cold war allies like Greece and Turkey —with which the United States feels it must maintain close coordination after the Marshall Plan ends in 1952. By working through the OEEC the United States can help develop a common line of cooperation designed to increase trade and prosperity throughout the Mediterranean, western European and northern European area

Officials said the U. S. could not accomplish this through the Atlantic council alone. Nor could it hope to do so, they said, if the OEEC was permitted to disintegrate after the Marshall Plan ended and the United States discarded the close contacts with the non-Communist nations of Europe which the Marshall Plan has generated.

There is a third field of deep commitments on the part of the United States in which the machinery has already been agreed on but the consequences of which are not yet entirely clear. That is the field of expansion of the North Atlantic treaty operation. The treaty began largely as an Amercian guarantee to western Europe against Russian aggression and as a basis for arms aid to Europe.

That was little more than a year ago. Today it has become a frame which the London meetings decid-with a "big program." Mayor Morrison is expected to start off with a radio speech backing Lafargue, whom he already has endorsed.

The fourth congressional district will be handled through the local Shreveport headquarters. Other district campaign managers have been named as follows, Lafargue said:

Fifth district, headquarters Monroe Virginia Hotel; Manager Lee S. Thompson, formerly assistant U. S. district attorney.

Eighth district, headquarters Rapides Hotel, Alexandria; manager, Charles Burden, who was manager of the recent successful campaign of Sheriff Grady Kelly in opposition to various Long forces.

Sixth district, Baton Rouge; manager, Emile Greenleaf, who managed the recent campaign of Mayor Higginbotham of Baton Rouge.

Seventh district, Lake Charles; manager, Murphy Moss, so Clement Moss.

Third district, two divisions; headquarters at Thibodeaux parishes of Assumption, Lafourche and Terre Bonne, under Dr. Baker headquarters at New Iberia for other five parishes under comanagement of Sebastian Petout and Gordon Millat.

Lafargue will leave Sunday for Baton Rouge and New Orleans.

militarism.

It was fairly clear, too, that Britain, struggling on an austere domestic level to win back a high place in world trade, was caught by surprise.

The first British reaction to a secret French note asking Britain to join was a refusal to make any commitment on the plan until it passed the preliminary negotiation stage. A second French note failed to bring Britain in.

But the other countries, after thinking it over, came along with France and with the West German government at Bonn which was first to endorse it. The proposal won out even though it ran counter to many established ideas of economists.

The Schuman plan represents a historic surrender of national sovereignty of all the six countries in their economy.

"It is the first time in the history of the world," a French government spokesman said, "that countries whose differences have caused so many wars, are getting together to create a community of interests that will eliminate the cause of wars."

The way they hope to do this is by turning over major decisions of their pooled coal and steel industries to an independent international high authority.

The coal-steel pool is one of a series of recent developments in Paris for European unity where the job is hardest—in the areas of the pocketbook and breadbasket.

The political front was also briefly active today when the council of Europe—sometimes called an embryo parliament—went to work on the delicate diplomatic task of harmonizing its two houses.

The council committee of ministers, or upper house, met at the French foreign ministry and suggested forming a 12-man joint committee with the lower house, or consultative assembly.

Britain produces more coal than all the six pool countries combined and almost as much iron ore.

treated as a war criminal."

Since then a virtual door canvass of Europe for signatures of endorsement has been conducted. For a time it was more or less ignored by non-Communist forces.

The Communist newspapers made practically no effort to hide the fact that it was aimed at America, and any countries or individuals friendly to America.

In France, for instance, solicitors agree that it would apply equally to Russia. But they insist with spirit that there isn't the remotest chance of such a "peace-loving country as Russia" being the first to use the atom bomb against an enemy. This leaves the ready implication that the United States, which has used the bomb against Japan, is already considered a criminal country.

Some American officials have commented that "anybody will sign a petition." But other Americans, and some French leaders, say that the thing is playing deeply on the emotions of people worried about the threat of war.

The non-Communist Press in all western European countries recently has begun to attack the petition as a tool of Russia and the cominform.

Catholic leaders and the Catholic Press in general have attacked the petitions and urged people not to sign. But the signing goes on. The drive seemed to find least favor in Norway and West Germany. Even far away Syria reported that public leaders were signing it.

police in Tokyo to enforce the edict. The Communist rally wilted.

The Communists had boasted they would have 30,000 demonstrators in Tokyo. Only 5,000 turned out for a rally at a building rented from the Red Cross.

There were none of the bellicose, anti-American speeches that had resounded all week. Instead the meeting issued an open letter to General MacArthur demanding an early peace that would include Russia and Communist China.

The Communists had announced that 400,000 workers all over Japan would take part in a so - called "general strike". Authorities estimated that no more than 100,000 responded to the 24-hour walkout. No violence was reported anywhere. Osaka, where another big Red rally had been scheduled, also was quiet.

Kaneji Onishi, one of the eight Japanese on trial, got the heaviest jolt, 10 years. The prosecution designated him "the number one man among the defendants."

Defense counsel called the verdict "unexpected". They maintained they had not enough time to prepare a defense and would appeal. The sentences are subject to review by Maj. Gen. Walter L. Weible, commander of the headquarters group.

Yoshida's Liberals have 136 candidates in the field. They hope to increase their membership of 60 in the 250-member upper house.

The Social Democrats, who fluctuate between the left and middle ground, have 75 candidates out. The Conservative Green Wind Society, which has the largest number of seats in the upper house, has 57 candidates. It now holds 71 seats.

Officers said both Bernhart and Fatheree were unconscious when they were removed from the vehicle.

Mrs. J. T. Post of Sterlington was reported hurt in an accident at the ntersection of Riverside and Louisville Friday night. She was reported to have received a shoulder injury in a hit and run accident, although there was no record of her having been hospitalized.

Early last night a 22-year old Negro girl was injured when the taxi in which she was riding collided with an automobile at 2400 Louisville avenue.

Jo Ella Wilson, of 512 Magnolia street, sustained a lacerated knee-cap and possible back injury.

Police arrested the driver of each vehicle.

Police identified them as Jim Durham, 29, Tallulah, and G. C. Gilbert 28, Negro, of Calypso street, Monroe.

Durham was charged with drunk driving and doing damage to city property.

Gilbert, driver of the taxi in which the Wilson girl was injured, was charged with reckless driving and causing personal injury.

The accident occurred at 8:15 p. m.

In proposing a conference of all Republican senators to formulate a party policy on the matter, Thye said that naturally he is hopeful there could be an agreement on something along the line of the declaration of conscience issued earlier this week.

Thye said the Republicans should "thresh out a responsible position," and added:

"The Republican party is assuming a certain responsibility (regarding the McCarthy charges) in the public mind and it should be clear on it's own stand."

McCarthy made it plain in a senate speech yesterday that the criticism fired at him by the seven Republicans will not keep him from pressing his charges. He said he is determined to carry on despite anything said about him.

Charles also predicted heavy flooding in the Bayou Nezpique at Basile and in the Bayou Des Cannes at Eunice within the next 48 hours.

A high wind, at first mistaken for a tornado, whipped the Laurel Hill area in West Feliciana parish just south of the Mississippi line.

Telephone poles snapped under the blow but damage was slight and no injuries were reported.

Lake Charles reported almost seven inches of rain during the night and early morning. It was whipped by wind gusts up to 55 miles per hour.

Crowley dripped from a driving rain that began last night and was still falling today. No measurement was available.

Alexandria, Lafayette and Shreveport had 3.17, 4.14 and 1.02 inches respectively.

At New Orleans the weather bureau said thundershowers and southerly winds that may reach 22 miles per hour will add hazards to weekend fishing. Winds and rain will be in the entire area during the next two days.

Several Sabine parish towns including Many, La., the parish seat, were almost isolated today as overflow waters from rain swollen creeks inundated highway 171 and roads of lesser importance.

LUCKY OUR CREDIT WAS GOOD...when the baby came

It would have been embarrassing and inconvenient if Lucy had come "C.O.D."

Not that we couldn't have managed, but there were a lot of little extra expenses we hadn't figured on—items we had not included in our budget. And the things Lucy needed she had to have right now—not next week, or next month.

Fortunately, our credit was good. Everybody we bought from knew we always paid promptly—when our bills came due. They knew that anything we bought on our charge accounts this month would be paid on or before the due date the following month . . . and they gave us all the credit we needed, when we needed it.

A good credit record is not, of course, a matter of luck. It is the result of a sensible policy of buying — on your charge accounts or deferred payments—only what you can pay for on the date it is due.

Paying your bills promptly is not only a measure of personal prestige. It's a practical proposition, too, for you never know when the need will arise for merchandise or services for which you are not immediately prepared to pay cash. Protect your credit standing ...pay all bills on the date they are due.

Acheson said the United States intends to establish, by invitation, member organization for European a new relationship with the 18-member organization for European economic cooperation in Paris. Yesterday the council of the OEEC, exactly as Acheson had predicted, voted to ask the United States and Canada to establish this new association.

There are a number of nations in the OEEC—not only the "neutrals" but also the remote cold war allies like Greece and Turkey—with which the United States feels it must maintain close coordination after the Marshall Plan ends in 1952. The non-Communist Press in all western European countries recently has begun to attack the petition as a tool of Russia and the cominform.

police in Tokyo to enforce the edict. The Communist rally wilted.

The Communists had boasted they would have 30,000 demonstrators in Tokyo. Only 5,000 turned out for a rally at a building rented from the Red Cross.

There were none of the bellicose, anti-American speeches that had resounded all week. Instead the meeting issued an open letter to General MacArthur demanding an early peace that would include Russia and Communist China.

The Communists had announced that 400,000 workers all over Japan would take part in a so-called "general strike". Authorities estimated that no more than 100,000 responded to the 24-hour walkout. No violence was reported anywhere. Osaka, where another big Red rally had been scheduled, also was quiet.

Kaneji Onishi, one of the eight Japanese on trial, got the heaviest jolt, 10 years. The prosecution designated him "the number one man among the defendants."

Defense counsel called the verdict "unexpected". They maintained they had not enough time to prepare a defense and would appeal. The sentences are subject to review by Maj. Gen. Walter L. Weible, commander of the headquarters group.

Yoshida's Liberals have 136 candidates in the field. They hope to increase their membership of 60 in the 250-member upper house.

The Social Democrats, who fluctuate between the left and middle ground, have 75 candidates out. The Conservative Green Wind Society, which has the largest number of seats in the upper house, has 57 candidates. It now holds 71 seats.

Officers said both Bernhart and Fatheree were unconscious when they were removed from the vehicle.

Mrs. J. T. Post of Sterlington was reported hurt in an accident at the ntersection of Riverside and Louisville Friday night. She was reported to have received a shoulder injury in a hit and run accident, although there was no record of her having been hospitalized.

Early last night a 22-year old Negro girl was injured when the taxi in which she was riding collided with an automobile at 2400 Louisville avenue.

Jo Ella Wilson, of 512 Magnolia street, sustained a lacerated kneecap and possible back injury.

Police arrested the driver of each vehicle.

Police identified them as Jim Durham, 29, Tallulah, and G. C. Gilbert 28, Negro, of Calypso street, Monroe.

Durham was charged with drunk driving and doing damage to city property.

Gilbert, driver of the taxi in which the Wilson girl was injured, was charged with reckless driving and causing personal injury.

The accident occurred at 8:15 p. m.

ment loyalty files on 81 persons accused by McCarthy. But he has rejected McCarthy's demands that the FBI so-called "raw" files also be made available, on the ground it would cripple the FBI, wreck the federal loyalty program, and smear innocent people.

In proposing a conference of all Republican senators to formulate a party policy on the matter, Thye said that naturally he is hopeful there could be an agreement on something along the line of the declaration of conscience issued earlier this week.

Thye said the Republicans should "thresh out a responsible position," and added:

"The Republican party is assuming a certain responsibility (regarding the McCarthy charges) in the public mind and it should be clear on its own stand."

McCarthy made it plain in a senate speech yesterday that the criticism fired at him by the seven Republicans will not keep him from pressing his charges. He said he is determined to carry on despite anything said about him.

are designed to permit both freshmen and sophomores to schedule a full load of class work. All basic courses for both groups have been provided. Courses may also prove practical for teachers who now wish to extend them, Hamner explained.

The registration fee is $15. An additional cost of $15 will be required of out-of-state students.

Regular students may schedule a maximum of 10 semester hours of work, and veterans are required to enroll for six hours in order to draw full compensation.

Living accommodations on the campus will be available in the dormitory for women.

Charles also predicted heavy flooding in the Bayou Nezpique at Basile and in the Bayou Des Cannes at Eunice within the next 48 hours.

A high wind, at first mistaken for a tornado, whipped the Laurel Hill area in West Feliciana parish just south of the Mississippi line.

Telephone poles snapped under the blow but damage was slight and no injuries were reported.

Lake Charles reported almost seven inches of rain during the night and early morning. It was whipped by wind gusts up to 55 miles per hour.

Crowley dripped from a driving rain that began last night and was still falling today. No measurement was available.

Alexandria, Lafayette and Shreveport had 3.17, 4.14 and 1.02 inches respectively.

At New Orleans the weather bureau said thundershowers and southerly winds that may reach 22 miles per hour will add hazards to weekend fishing. Winds and rain will be in the entire area during the next two days.

Several Sabine parish towns including Many, La., the parish seat, were almost isolated today as overflow waters from rain swollen creeks inundated highway 171 and roads of lesser importance.

LUCKY OUR CREDIT WAS GOOD...when the baby came

It would have been embarrassing and inconvenient if Lucy had come "C.O.D."

Not that we couldn't have managed, but there were a lot of little extra expenses we hadn't figured on—items we had not included in our budget. And the things Lucy needed she had to have right now—not next week, or next month.

Fortunately, our credit was good. Everybody we bought from knew we always paid promptly—when our bills came due. They knew that anything we bought on our charge accounts this month would be paid on or before the due date the following month . . . and they gave us all the credit we needed, when we needed it.

A good credit record is not, of course, a matter of luck. It is the result of a sensible policy of buying — on your charge accounts or deferred payments—only what you can pay for on the date it is due.

Paying your bills promptly is not only a measure of personal prestige. It's a practical proposition, too, for you never know when the need will arise for merchandise or services for which you are not immediately prepared to pay cash. Protect your credit standing ...pay all bills on the date they are due.

SPORTS RETURN HOME FOR NATCHEZ SERIES

2 GAMES BILLED AT INDIAN CAMP ARE RAINED OUT

Mississippians Here For Game This Afternoon; 'Ladies' Tilt Tomorrow

Weather permitting, the Monroe Sports and the Natchez Indians will move into Monroe today for the opener of a two-game series at 3 o'clock this afternoon at Legion Memorial Stadium.

The Sports have been in Natchez the past two days where rain forced postponement of games scheduled for Friday and last night.

Unusually heavy rain Friday night and yesterday fell throughout this area, and all other Cotton States games yesterday were rained out as well as the Natchez-Monroe contest.

Provided weather conditions permit the Natchez series here, the two-game stand will be one of the shortest at home for the Sports who are due to move on to El Dorado for three games, beginning Tuesday. After the trip to El Dorado, Skipper Al Mazur brings his boys home for five crucial games, three with Hot Springs and two with Pine Bluff.

Right now the Sports are technically tied for second with Hot Springs although the Bathers have a four-point margin in the averages. The Sports have won one more game than the Spas, but have also lost one more. Both are only six games behind the front-running Pine Bluff Judges.

"Ladies' Night" has been set for tomorrow night at Legion Memorial Stadium.

It is the first "Ladies' Night" to be scheduled for Monroe's new baseball plant, and Busness Manger Paul Manasseh has announced the fairer sex will be admitted upon payment of the 25-cent service fee.

Winnsboro Has Four Contests This Week

WINNSBORO, La., June 3. —(Special)— The Winnsboro Red Sox, who lost their last Northeast Louisiana League appearance here Wednesday night to the Lake Providence Clippers, 6 to 3, have three league scraps and an exhibition on tap for next week.

Monday night Manager "Frenchie" Marionneaux takes his Sox to Urania for a league game with the LaSalle Producers. A Tuesday night exhibition will be played here with Farmerville, leader of the Big Eight League, and the Crimson Hose play other league games at Jonesville Wednesday night and here Friday with Columbia.

Hicks, Lake Providence shortstop, led the Clips' attack here Wednesday, slamming out three hits, two of them triples, in five times at bat. Womack was Winnsboro's top slugger, getting two for four.

Score by innings:

Tuero Will Defend College Net Crown

AUSTIN, Texas, June 3.—(AP)— Jack Tuero of Tulane, defending N. C. A. A. tennis champion, will be the only semi-finalist of 1949 singles play returning to the National Collegiate Tennis Tournament this year.

Play will begin June 19 here on Penick courts.

Chick Harris and Jack Tuprin of Rice are the only 1949 N. C. A. A. semi-finals doubles teams to return. They are the 1950 doubles champions of the Southwest Conference.

Jim Brink and Fred Fisher of the University of Washington will not defend their doubles title.

Early entries include Earl Cochell of the University of Southern California, Tony Vincent and Sidney Schwartz of the University of Miami, Dick Savitt of Cornell, Herbie Flam of U. C. L. A., Tom Mulloy and Ricardo Balbiers of Rollins College, and Lorne Maine of the University of California. Main, a Candian Davis Cup player, is considered a dark horse.

Texas Longhorns Added To L. S. U. Grid Slate

BATON ROUGE, La., June 3.—(AP)—Louisiana State University has added Texas to its 1950 football schedule, making the coming season one of the two longest in Bengal history.

The Texas game, in Austin Dec. 9, will be the 11th this year. Only in 1934 did L. S. U. meet so many opponents in a single fall.

Texas and L. S. U. have been intermittent rivals since 1896 and their series stands at five victories each and a 6-6 tie which marred an otherwise perfect L. S. U. season in 1936.

L. S. U. Athletic Director T. P. Heard said arrangements had been made for four more L. S. U.-Texas games, here Sept. 20, 1952, here Sept. 19, 1953, and in Austin Sept 18,

Tag Team Tussle Features Tuesday Card At Kallio's

CURTIS BROTHERS MATCHED AGAINST CHAMPION'S TEAM

Bobby Segura Selects Q. Ball As His Partner For Mat Show

"This is the match the fans have been urging to arrange," declared Promoter Gus Kallio last night as he announced that Jack Curtis and his brother George will square off against World's Champion Bobby Segura and a newcomer, Q. Ball, in a tag team main event at his Walnut street arena here Tuesday night.

"Actually, the fans have been clamoring for a meeting of the Curtis brothers with Segura and "Wild Bill" Steddum," Kallio said, "but Segura didn't want Steddum working with him. He promises Ball will prove just as exciting."

Segura, in agreeing for the tag scramble, said he wanted the right to select his own partner. Kallio gave him the right, and the clever Mexican battler, who only recently added the world's light heavyweight belt to the Mexican title he already held, announced he would bring in Q. Ball, a product of Tulsa, Okla., and new to the southern mat circuit.

George Curtis, one of the most greatly improved of the younger crop of matmen, looked exceptionally fine in a match with Segura here the past week. Teamed with his brother, Big Jack, the former holder of the world's crown, George is already promising an even greater performance Tuesday.

Jack Curtis has held the world's light-heavy crown on four separate occasions and is considered a good bet to hold it a fifth time. Curtis lost his crown several months ago to Balk Estes, Elk City, Okla., and Estes was defeated by Segura a couple of weeks ago at Pensacola, Fla.

Although the tag scrap will in no way endanger Segura's crown, the match may serve to warm up one of the Curtis boys for a title battle.

George Curtis sought to have last week's match made a title affair, but Segura passed him up. George is still anxious to get a chance at the belt, something he never sought when brother Jack was kingpin of the division. Big Jack might like to see his brother get the chance, but he'll be in there bidding for another chance himself.

The tag match will have a 90-minute time limit, two falls to win. A pair of one-fall preliminaries will start the show at 8 o'clock.

LIGHTS UP COPS PETER PAN 'CAP

Widener Entry Pulls Surprise In Beating Out Mr. Trouble

By John Chandler

NEW YORK, June 3 —(AP)— Lights Up, who has been chasing the big horses in the three-year-old division home all spring, pulled a surprise today when he drove down the stretch at Belmont Park to beat Mr. Trouble in the 11th running of the Peter Pan Handicap.

The chestnut son of Eight Thirty-Tedmelia, owned by Belmont's president, George D. Widener, rambled the mile and one eighth in 1:50 2-5 to earn himself a starting job in the $75,000-added Belmont Stakes next week. Lights Up, gaining control in the final sixteenth, beat Mr. Trouble by a half length. Ferd was third, another length and a quarter back.

Mr. Trouble, C. V. Whitney's main hope for the Belmont, was the even money favorite to the crowd of 34,425, and it looked as if Eddie Arcaro would make it when the small field of five hit the top of the stretch.

At that point, Mr. Trouble, Lights Up and Ferd—who won the Jersey Stakes last Tuesday for Mrs. Andy Schuttinger—were only necks apart. Ferd had set a fast pace after taking the lead midway down the backstretch from B. L. Williams' Passemson.

Mr. Trouble went in to a slight lead, but Jockey George Hettinger never gave up with the Widener colt, and he pulled past the tiring Mr. Trouble just at the last moment.

The winner, third choice, returned $9.60 and $4.20 with no show wagering due to the small field. Mr. Trouble returned $2.80 to place.

Holladay Heading Recreation Work

Sam Holladay, with a degree from Northwestern Louisiana State College in physical education and work on a masters degree at L. S. U., will succeed Woodrow W. Turner, Columbia High School coach, as director of recreation in West Monroe this summer, it was announced last night by Joe Rutledge, member of the West Monroe recreation commmittee.

Rutledge said Coach Turner had resigned to do summer work for the Caldwell parish school board this year.

Holladay will take charge as the city opens its summer program tomorrow, and opening ceremonies will be conducted by the Civic League on the West Monroe playground at 4 p.m. Handicraft is being added to the usual program this year.

The West Monroe Midget Softball League will again operate this year. Teams already entered are Westside Flower Shop, West Monroe Kiwanis, Brownville Methodist Church, Ransom School, Memorial Presbyterian, and Recreation Council. Boys desiring to play are invited to contact any of the teams for positions.

Citation Sets Record In Golden Gate Mile, Becomes Leading Money Winner

Big Cy's Earnings Now Total $924,630, Shading Stymie's Old Mark

By Russ Newland

ALBANY, Calif., June 3. —(AP)— Citation, great star of the Calumet farm, galloped into horse racing history today when he broke the world's record for the mile and became the leading money winner of all time. The time was 1:33 3-5, two fifths better than the old mark.

The brilliant five-year-old son of Bull Lea set his two sensational marks in the $20,000-added Golden Gate Mile. The victory lofted his total earnings in 36 races to $924,630. Stymie held the old money winning record of $918,485, established in 131 races.

Citaton's new mile record broke the 1.34 clocking set by his stablemate Coaltown last Aug. 20 at Washington Park, Chicago.

Bolero, who set the world's 3-4 of a mile record of 1.08 1-5 here a week ago, ran second, three quarters of a length behind Citation. Bolero set all the pace until his conqueror took command in the home stretch.

On Trust, leading California-bred horse, was third and Old Rockport was fourth.

Steve Brooks, contract rider for Calumet, gave Citation a heady race. Breaking evenly with the field, he hustled his mount into second place behind Bolero as they came down before the stands. A near capacity crowd of 20,391, practically all of them pulling for the big bay horse, shouted and cheered as he kept after the leader around every turn.

In the back stretch, the fleet Bolero opened a three and one-half length lead on Citation. The Calumet horse, however, was running easily.

As they moved into the far turn, Jockey Brooks urged Citation lightly and the big boy responded with telling power. He moved up on Bolero until his nose was just about even with the latter's hind quarters.

The distance separating them shortened from then on as Citation charged relentlessly to go on even terms just as they headed into the stretch.

Citation packed top weight of 128 pounds. Bolero was second high with 123 pounds. Former national champion Johnny Longden was aboard Bolero.

The first two horses were the only ones ever in contention.

The double honors came to Citation after he had been defeated in his five previous starts. Altogether, he now has won 29 and lost 7 races.

Citation went off as the three-to-five favorite in spite of his previous losses. He rewarded backers with $3.20, $2.10 and $2.10. Bolero paid $2.20 and $2.20. On Trust paid $2.70.

The victory today netted citation $14,550.

OLIVER CROWDS LLOYD MANGRUM

Pulls Within One Stroke Of Leader In Fort Wayne Open Golf

FORT WAYNE, Ind., June 3.—(AP)—Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago and Ed (Porky) Oliver of Kenmore, Wash., turned the $15,000 Fort Wayne Open Golf Tournament into a two-man duel at the three-quarter point today .

Mangrum, a man in a rut, shot his third straight 67 to hold the lead at 201, but Oliver closed in on him with a 65 for 202.

E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of St. Andrews, Ill., had a scorching 64 one stroke off the course record and the best round of the tournament so far. His previous pair of 73s left him out of the running, however.

Bob Toski, 23-year-old unknown from Northampton, Mass., matched Oliver's 65 and had the best nine of the tourney, a 30 on the back nine. He pulled into a tie for fourth at 208.

Mangrum and Oliver appeared to have the tournament pretty much to themselves going into the final round tomorrow. There was a fivestroke gap between Oliver and their closest challenger, Buck White of Greenwood, Miss. and back in 33, dropping putts from everywhere.

Toski, a 125-pound slugger, was the surprise of the tourney. He was out in 35, one under par, and had five birdies and four pars coming back.

Cardinals, Dodgers Plan For Sunday Night Game

ST. LOUIS, June 3.—(AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals and Brooklyn Dodgers plan to break another baseball tradition with Sunday night baseball July 16, it was announced tonight.

Fred Saigh, president of the Cardinals, said Branch Rickey, president of the Dodgers, had agreed to reset today's rained out game for that night.

A day Cardinal-Dodger game already is on the books. There will be two admissions for the day-night Sunday affair.

"The movies, municipal (summer) opera, legtimate theater, basketball and hockey operate on Sunday night, and I see no reason why we shouldn't play baseball then, too," Saigh declared.

Saigh quoted Rickey as saying: "Yes, we are in the entertainment business, too."

Ty Cobb batted over .300 a total of 23 times from 1906 to 1928—a major league record.

SPORTS RETURN HOME FOR NATCHEZ SERIES

Mississippians Here For Game This Afternoon; 'Ladies' Tilt Tomorrow

Weather permitting, the Monroe Sports and the Natchez Indians will move into Monroe today for the opener of a two-game series at 3 o'clock this afternoon at Legion Memorial Stadium.

The Sports have been in Natchez the past two days where rain forced postponement of games scheduled for Friday and last night.

Unusually heavy rain Friday night and yesterday fell throughout this area, and all other Cotton States games yesterday were rained out as well as the Natchez-Monroe contest.

Provided weather conditions permit the Natchez series here, the two-game stand will be one of the shortest at home for the Sports who are due to move on to El Dorado for three games, beginning Tuesday. After the trip to El Dorado, Skipper Al Mazur brings his boys home for five crucial games, three with Hot Springs and two with Pine Bluff.

Right now the Sports are technically tied for second with Hot Springs although the Bathers have a four-point margin in the averages. The Sports have won one more game than the Spas, but have also lost one more. Both are only six games behind the front-running Pine Bluff Judges.

"Ladies' Night" has been set for tomorrow night at Legion Memorial Stadium.

It is the first "Ladies' Night" to be scheduled for Monroe's new baseball plant, and Busness Manger Paul Manasseh has announced the fairer sex will be admitted upon payment of the 25-cent service fee.

Winnsboro Has Four Contests This Week

WINNSBORO, La., June 3. — (Special)— The Winnsboro Red Sox, who lost their last Northeast Louisiana League appearance here Wednesday night to the Lake Providence Clippers, 6 to 3, have three league scraps and an exhibition on tap for next week.

Monday night Manager "Frenchie" Marionneaux takes his Sox to Urania for a league game with the LaSalle Producers. A Tuesday night exhibition will be played here with Farmerville, leader of the Big Eight League, and the Crimson Hose play other league games at Jonesville Wednesday night and here Friday with Columbia.

Hicks, Lake Providence shortstop, led the Clips' attack here Wednesday, slamming out three hits, two of them triples, in five times at bat. Womack was Winnsboro's top slugger, getting two for four.

Score by innings:

Tuero Will Defend College Net Crown

AUSTIN, Texas, June 3.—(AP)—Jack Tuero of Tulane, defending N. C. A. A. tennis champion, will be the only semi-finalist of 1949 singles play returning to the National Collegiate Tennis Tournament this year.

Play will begin June 19 here on Penick courts.

Chick Harris and Jack Tuprin of Rice are the only 1949 N. C. A. A. semi-finals doubles teams to return. They are the 1950 doubles champions of the Southwest Conference.

Jim Brink and Fred Fisher of the University of Washington will not defend their doubles title.

Early entries include Earl Cochell of the University of Southern California, Tony Vincent and Sidney Schwartz of the University of Miami, Dick Savitt of Cornell, Herbie Flam of U. C. L. A., Tom Mulloy and Ricardo Balbiers of Rollins College, and Lorne Maine of the University of California. Main, a Candian Davis Cup player, is considered a dark horse.

Texas Longhorns Added To L. S. U. Grid Slate

BATON ROUGE, La., June 3.—(AP)—Louisiana State University has added Texas to its 1950 football schedule, making the coming season one of the two longest in Bengal history.

The Texas game, in Austin Dec. 9, will be the 11th this year. Only in 1934 did L. S. U. meet so many opponents in a single fall.

Texas and L. S. U. have been intermittent rivals since 1896 and their series stands at five victories each and a 6-6 tie which marred an otherwise perfect L. S. U. season in 1936.

L. S. U. Athletic Director T. P. Heard said arrangements had been made for four more L. S. U.-Texas games, here Sept. 20, 1952, here Sept. 19, 1953, and in Austin Sept 18,

Tag Team Tussle Features Tuesday Card At Kallio's

CURTIS BROTHERS MATCHED AGAINST CHAMPION'S TEAM

Bobby Segura Selects Q. Ball As His Partner For Mat Show

"This is the match the fans have been urging to arrange," declared Promoter Gus Kallio last night as he announced that Jack Curtis and his brother George will square off against World's Champion Bobby Segura and a newcomer, Q. Ball, in a tag team main event at his Walnut street arena here Tuesday night.

"Actually, the fans have been clamoring for a meeting of the Curtis brothers with Segura and "Wild Bill" Steddum," Kallio said, "but Segura didn't want Steddum working with him. He promises Ball will prove just as exciting."

Segura, in agreeing for the tag scramble, said he wanted the right to select his own partner. Kallio gave him the right, and the clever Mexican battler, who only recently added the world's light heavyweight belt to the Mexican title he already held, announced he would bring in Q. Ball, a product of Tulsa, Okla., and new to the southern mat circuit.

George Curtis, one of the most greatly improved of the younger crop of matmen, looked exceptionally fine in a match with Segura here the past week. Teamed with his brother, Big Jack, the former holder of the world's crown, George is already promising an even greater performance Tuesday.

Jack Curtis has held the world's light-heavy crown on four separate occasions and is considered a good bet to hold it a fifth time. Curtis lost his crown several months ago to Balk Estes, Elk City, Okla., and Estes was defeated by Segura a couple of weeks ago at Pensacola, Fla.

Although the tag scrap will in no way endanger Segura's crown, the match may serve to warm up one of the Curtis boys for a title battle.

George Curtis sought to have last week's match made a title affair, but Segura passed him up. George is still anxious to get a chance at the belt, something he never sought when brother Jack was kingpin of the division. Big Jack might like to see his brother get the chance, but he'll be in there bidding for another chance himself.

The tag match will have a 90-minute time limit, two falls to win. A pair of one-fall preliminaries will start the show at 8 o'clock.

LIGHTS UP COPS PETER PAN 'CAP

By John Chandler

NEW YORK, June 3 —(AP)—Lights Up, who has been chasing the big horses in the three-year-old division home all spring, pulled a surprise today when he drove down the stretch at Belmont Park to beat Mr. Trouble in the 11th running of the Peter Pan Handicap.

The chestnut son of Eight Thirty-Tedmelia, owned by Belmont's president, George D. Widener, rambled the mile and one eighth in 1:50 2-5 to earn himself a starting job in the $75,000-added Belmont Stakes next week. Lights Up, gaining control in the final sixteenth, beat Mr. Trouble by a half length. Ferd was third, another length and a quarter back.

Mr. Trouble, C. V. Whitney's main hope for the Belmont, was the even money favorite to the crowd of 34,425, and it looked as if Eddie Arcaro would make it when the small field of five hit the top of the stretch.

At that point, Mr. Trouble, Lights Up and Ferd—who won the Jersey Stakes last Tuesday for Mrs. Andy Schuttinger—were only necks apart. Ferd had set a fast pace after taking the lead midway down the backstretch from B. L. Williams' Passemson.

Mr. Trouble went in to a slight lead, but Jockey George Hettinger never gave up with the Widener colt, and he pulled past the tiring Mr. Trouble just at the last moment.

The winner, third choice, returned $9.60 and $4.20 with no show wagering due to the small field. Mr. Trouble returned $2.80 to place.

Holladay Heading Recreation Work

Sam Holladay, with a degree from Northwestern Louisiana State College in physical education and work on a masters degree at L. S. U., will succeed Woodrow W. Turner, Columbia High School coach, as director of recreation in West Monroe this summer, it was announced last night by Joe Rutledge, member of the West Monroe recreation commmittee.

Rutledge said Coach Turner had resigned to do summer work for the Caldwell parish school board this year.

Holladay will take charge as the city opens its summer program tomorrow, and opening ceremonies will be conducted by the Civic League on the West Monroe playground at 4 p.m. Handicraft is being added to the usual program this year.

The West Monroe Midget Softball League will again operate this year. Teams already entered are Westside Flower Shop, West Monroe Kiwanis, Brownville Methodist Church, Ransom School, Memorial Presbyterian, and Recreation Council. Boys desiring to play are invited to contact any of the teams for positions.

Citation Sets Record In Golden Gate Mile, Becomes Leading Money Winner

Big Cy's Earnings Now Total $924,630, Shading Stymie's Old Mark

By Russ Newland

ALBANY, Calif., June 3. —(AP)—Citation, great star of the Calumet farm, galloped into horse racing history today when he broke the world's record for the mile and became the leading money winner of all time. The time was 1:33 3-5, two fifths better than the old mark.

The brilliant five-year-old son of Bull Lea set his two sensational marks in the $20,000-added Golden Gate Mile. The victory lofted his total earnings in 36 races to $924,630. Stymie held the old money winning record of $918,485, established in 131 races.

Citaton's new mile record broke the 1.34 clocking set by his stablemate Coaltown last Aug. 20 at Washington Park, Chicago.

Bolero, who set the world's 3-4 of a mile record of 1.08 1-5 here a week ago, ran second, three quarters of a length behind Citation. Bolero set all the pace until his conqueror took command in the home stretch.

On Trust, leading California-bred horse, was third and Old Rockport was fourth.

Steve Brooks, contract rider for Calumet, gave Citation a heady race. Breaking evenly with the field, he hustled his mount into second place behind Bolero as they came down before the stands. A near capacity crowd of 20,391, practically all of them pulling for the big bay horse, shouted and cheered as he kept after the leader around every turn.

In the back stretch, the fleet Bolero opened a three and one-half length lead on Citation. The Calumet horse, however, was running easily.

As they moved into the far turn, Jockey Brooks urged Citation lightly and the big boy responded with telling power. He moved up on Bolero until his nose was just about even with the latter's hind quarters.

The distance separating them shortened from then on as Citation charged relentlessly to go on even terms just as they headed into the stretch.

Citation packed top weight of 128 pounds. Bolero was second high with 123 pounds. Former national champion Johnny Longden was aboard Bolero.

The first two horses were the only ones ever in contention.

The double honors came to Citation after he had been defeated in his five previous starts. Altogether, he now has won 29 and lost 7 races.

Citation went off as the three-to-five favorite in spite of his previous losses. He rewarded backers with $3.20, $2.10 and $2.10. Bolero paid $2.20 and $2.20. On Trust paid $2.70.

The victory today netted citation $14,550.

OLIVER CROWDS LLOYD MANGRUM

Pulls Within One Stroke Of Leader In Fort Wayne Open Golf

FORT WAYNE, Ind., June 3.—(AP)—Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago and Ed (Porky) Oliver of Kenmore, Wash., turned the $15,000 Fort Wayne Open Golf Tournament into a two-man duel at the three-quarter point today.

Mangrum, a man in a rut, shot his third straight 67 to hold the lead at 201, but Oliver closed in on him with a 65 for 202.

E. J. (Dutch) Harrison of St. Andrews, Ill., had a scorching 64 one stroke off the course record and the best round of the tournament so far. His previous pair of 73s left him out of the running, however.

Bob Toski, 23-year-old unknown from Northampton, Mass., matched Oliver's 65 and had the best nine of the tourney, a 30 on the back nine. He pulled into a tie for fourth at 208.

Mangrum and Oliver appeared to have the tournament pretty much to themselves going into the final round tomorrow. There was a fivestroke gap between Oliver and their closest challenger, Buck White of Greenwood, Miss. and back in 33, dropping putts from everywhere.

Toski, a 125-pound slugger, was the surprise of the tourney. He was out in 35, one under par, and had five birdies and four pars coming back.

DiMaggio Hits Tremendous 425-Foot Homer Tigers Beat A's, 6-1

NEW YORK, June 3. —(AP)— The New York Yankees swept a hotly contested doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox, 3-1 and 6-3, today to increase their American League lead over the Detroit Tigers to two and one half games.

Joe DiMaggio

Tommy Byrne scattered nine hits in the opener in outpitching Bob Cain, who blanked the Yanks, 15 - 0, on May 4. The victory was Bryne's sixth straight compared to one defeat.

The Yanks nicked Cain for a run in the fifth when Phil Rizzuto singled, stole second and scored on a one-bagger by Hank Bauer. The White Sox tied the count in the sixth on a home run by Al Kozar.

Rizzuto broke the deadlock in the eighth when he smashed a double down the left field foul line to score Joe Collins and Billy Johnson.

Joe DiMaggio was the big gun in the Yanks' nightcap victory. The Yankee clipper drove home four runs on a single and tremendous three-run homer in the seventh inning. The blast sailed at lesat 425 feet into the left center field bleachers close to the Chicago bullpen.

Fred Sanford started for the Yanks and yielded two runs in the third on singles by Ed Malone, Herb Adams and a triple by Dave Philley. The Yanks tied it against Bill Wight in the fourth, scoring twice on a walk and singles by Bauer, DiMaggio and Yogi Berra's fly ball.

Chicago broke the stalemate in the seventh on two-baggers by Nelson Fox and Al Carrasquel. Then with two out in the last of the seventh Gene Woodling walked, Bauer singled and DiMaggio homered to clinch the game.

Joe Page took over at the start of the eighth and was in trouble in the remaining two innings. He stranded two Sox in the eighth. In the ninth, Page walked two batters and allowed an infield hit to load the bases after two were out. The star reliever then got pinch-hitter Phil Masi to rap back to the box and end the game.

RE-SCHEDULED

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—(AP)— The Philadelphia Athletics announced today that a rained-out game with the St. Louis Browns, originally scheduled to be played Monday night, has been re-scheduled as part of a twi-night double header at Shibe Park July 14.

BOSOX OUTLAST TRIBE

BOSTON, June 3. —(AP)— Boston's Red Sox leaped to six runs in the opening inning today and then had to fight before they downed the Cleveland Indians 11-9 for their second victory in as many games here with the Tribe.

And for the second time the Indians used five pitchers in a vain effort to pull out the decision.

The Sox clouted 13 hits and the Indians nine.

Among them were Boston homers by Birdie Tebbetts, his fifth and Ted Williams' 13th, poled 420 feet into the right field bleachers with one man on base.

Luke Easter slapped one in the opening inning against Mel Parnell, who was replaced by Al Papai in the fourth when the Ohioans scored five times for their biggest session of the day.

Mike Garcia, who was yanked in the first inning when he walked two and was rattled for three hits, was charged with the loss, his fourth against one victory. Papai was credited with the victory and his record now is 3-2.

TIGERS WHIP MACKS

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—(AP)— Detroit scored its sixth straight 1950 American League victory over Philadelphia today as Pitcher Hal Newhouser won his fourth straight decision with a seven hitter for a 6-1 triumph.

Every member of Detroit's lineup, save Don Kolloway, hit safely at least once as the Tigers belted starter Bobby Shantz for 14 blows. One was Aaron Robinson's fourth home run.

Sam Chapman spoiled Newhouser's bid for a shutout with a ninth inning home run, his sixth of the season.

Detroit scored once in the opening inning on a walk to George Kell and singles by Vic Wertz and Hoot Evers with two down. They picked up another marker in the third, also with two away, on a single by Kell and Wertz' double.

Robinson's fourth home run of the year, a walk to Johnny Lipon and Gerry Priddy's two - bagger was good for a pair of Detroit counters in the sixth.

Detroit came up with another two spot in the seventh on Evers' double, Johnny Groth's single, a fielding error and Robinson's two base hit.

ALL-STAR TEAMS FROM N.F.L. WILL APPEAR IN GAME

Los Angeles Group To Back Tilt Due To be Played Next January

By Ralph Bernstein

PHILADELPHIA, June 3. —(AP)— A pro bowl game between all-star teams from the two divisions of the National Football League, to be played next January under sponsorship of the Los Angeles Publishers Association, was authorized today by N. F. L. owners.

The 13 owners unanimously approved the game at an executive session ending the league's two-day summer meeting here. The publishers association, and representatives from Houston, Tex., and the Al Malikah Shrine of Los Angeles were bidding for the game.

N. F. L. Commissioner Bert Bell said the league would approve co-sponsorship of the game by the publishers and the Shriners group if the publishers desired to share the promotion.

Bell explained the league felt "morally obligated" to assign the game to the publishers since the Los Angeles Times had sponsored a similar project in 1941. He referred to the game in that year between the National League champions and an all-star league team. Originally planned as an annual affair, it was discontinued because of wartime travel restrictions.

N. F. L. owners opposed reviving the Champions vs. All-Stars game because it might detract from the Chicago Tribune's established annual summer game between the N. F. L. titleholders and the College All-Stars at Soldier Field.

Bell said final approval of the Los Angeles game would be withheld until satisfactory terms were arranged with the sponsor or sponsors. He said definitely that each player participating in the game would receive not less than $500 plus traveling expenses. The game will be played in the Los Angeles coliseum, which seats approximately 100,000 cash customers.

As to the personnel of the two all star teams, Bell said the league office would work out a satisfactory plan of selecting players. The coach of each division champion will direct their respective all-star aggregations.

Bell further explained that representatives of the Publishers Association and the Shriners had been given until July 1 to get together on the co - sponsorship proposition. If they fail to do so, the game will go to the publishers.

A Shriners' spokesman said he doubted whether his organization could collaborate with the publishers since the Shriners charter forbids co-sponsoring such events.

Before the owners adjourned their sessions, committees from the east and west were appointed to study all television and radio operations. The committees were directed to present proposals for adoption by the league next October. Until then, Bell said, no games will be televised unless approved by the home team, visiting club and the commissioner's office.

During the two-day meeting the owners drafted 140 players from the rosters of the defunct Buffalo Bills, Los Angeles Dons and Chicago Hornets. The league also made James Breuil, former Buffalo owner, a 25 percent stockholder in the Cleveland Browns.

Breuil was given three players from the pool of talent taken over by the league when the A. A. C. folded and Cleveland, Baltimore and San Francisco joined the 10 team N. F. L. The oil millionaire turned the players over to Cleveland in exchange for a 25 percent interest in the team.

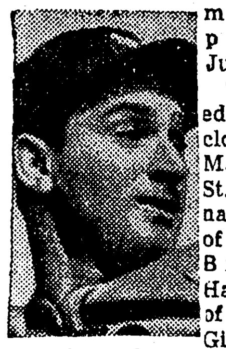
It's Beginning To Look Like A Big Year For Big League Grand Slams

By Ted Meier

NEW YORK, June 3.—(AP)—The way grand slam homers are being belted in the major leagues this year, last year's total of 50 may be surpassed before July 4.



Sid Gordon

The bases-loaded roundtrippers clouted by Marty Marion, of the St. Louis Cardinals; Sid Gordon, of the Boston Braves; and Hank Thompson, of the New York Giants, on Thursday raised to 28 grandslammers for the first six weeks of the campaign.

This compared to the 1949 total of 50 and the 1948 total of 49.

Of the 50 grand slammers posted last year 30 were in the National and 20 in the American.

Through games of June 1 this year, 15 already have smashed in the National and 13 in the American.

No one seems to know the reason for this year's rash of grand slammers.

Apparently the batters are ahead of the pitchers and they take a toe-hold when the bases are full and the pitcher has to get the ball over.

Gordon, who didn't hit a grand slammer last year, apparently is back in his 1948 form when he clouted three as a member of the Giants. Now, in a Braves uniform, he has already clouted two, one against his old teammates, and is tied with Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh slugger, for the current National League lead.

Gil Coan, Washington outfielder, also has connected twice with the bases loaded and tops the American League.

Five of the 15 National League grand slammers were made against New York Giant pitching. Three each were made against Brooklyn and Pittsburgh; two against Cincinnati and one each against Chicago and Philadelphia. Boston and St. Louis pitching has yet to yield a grand slammer.

Washington and Boston Red Sox pitching has not yet been dented by grand slammers in the American League. Four of the 13 have been made against St. Louis; three against Detroit; two each against Philadelphia and Cleveland; and New York.

The list of grand slammers posted through June 1:

National League

April 19—Sid Gordon, Boston, against New York.

College Pitcher Signed By Chicago White Sox

OXFORD, O., June 3.—(AP)—Bob Black, of New Paris, O., 21-year-old right handed pitcher for Miami University, said today he had signed a contract with the Chicago White Sox.

Black, who won 13 games and lost six in three seasons of collegiate pitching, said Sox officials told him he would be farmed out to a class C club, probably Superior, Wis.

Black said he was paid $6,000 to sign with the Sox, $5,100 of which was a bonus. He will be graduated from Miami June 12.

ROBINSON CHOICE OVER VILLEMAIN

Welters Battle Tomorrow In Pennsylvania Version For World's Title

By Orlo Robertson

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—(AP)— Ray Robinson, lanky ruler of the welterweights, and stocky Robert Villemain from France meet Monday night in Philadelphia's huge Municipal Stadium for the Pennsylvania version of the middleweight boxing championship.

The 15-round bout under the promotion of Phil Glassman has been sanctioned by the Pennsylvania state athletic commission as a championship affair.

The commission ruled that Jake LaMotta had not defended the 160-pound crown within the time limit of six months and, in meeting Rocky Graziano later this month in New York, he is not taking on the logical contender.

The National Boxing Association however, declined to go along with the Pennsylvania commission but ordered LaMotta to meet the winner of the Robinson-Villemain fight within 90 days if he whips Graziano.

Robinson, beaten only once in more than 100 bouts, and Villemain, whipped three times and never knocked out in 103 amateur and pro battles, are expected to attract a crowd of around 40,000 and a gate of $250,000.

There will be no telecast or broadcast of the fight. In event weather forces postponement it will be held on the first clear night thereafter.

Robinson, considered by many boxing experts as the greatest fighter, pound for pound, in modern ring history, was whipped by LaMotta but later walloped the middleweight titleholder four times. Sugar Ray has been champion of the welters since defeating Tommy Bell Dec. 20, 1946, but long before that was considered the uncrowned king.

One of Villemain's three defeats also was by La Motta. It was questionable decision and later the Frenchman squared matters. His two other setbacks were by Steve Belloise and Dave Sands in London.

Although Robinson at 30 is four-years older than the flashy Frenchman, he is the strong favorite to win the nod of the two judges and the referee.

In Villemain he'll be meeting a fighter who is a busy puncher, working on his opponents with head down and firing away at close range with both hands. Villemain's record indicates he is also a difficult target to nail with a knockout punch.

Rapid Robert has trained for this the most important fight of his career at Pleasantville, N. J., under the watchful eye of his pilot, Jean Bretonnel, and Mrs. Villemain. His sparring partners for the most part have been the type who danced and jabbed away from the wiry Frenchman. That's the way Villemain figures Robinson will fight.

Robinson, who has been finding the problem of getting down to the welterweight poundage increasingly difficult, has stepped through his practice rounds at Pompton Lakes with no thought of weight. He is expected to come in around 155 pounds.

YANKS SWEEP 2 FROM CHISOX, BOOST LEAD

DiMaggio Hits Tremendous 425-Foot Homer Tigers Beat A's, 6-1

NEW YORK, June 3. —(AP)— The New York Yankees swept a hotly contested doubleheader from the Chicago White Sox, 3-1 and 6-3, today to increase their American League lead over the Detroit Tigers to two and one half games.

Joe DiMaggio

Tommy Byrne scattered nine hits in the opener in outptiching Bob Cain, who blanked the Yanks, 15 - 0, on May 4. The victory was Bryne's sixth straight compared to one defeat.

The Yanks nicked Cain for a run in the fifth when Phil Rizzuto singled, stole second and scored on a one-bagger by Hank Bauer. The White Sox tied the count in the sixth on a home run by Al Kozar.

Rizzuto broke the deadlock in the eighth when he smashed a double down the left field foul line to score Joe Collins and Billy Johnson.

Joe DiMaggio was the big gun in the Yanks' nightcap victory. The Yankee clipper drove home four runs on a single and tremendous three-run homer in the seventh inning. The blast sailed at lesat 425 feet into the left center field bleachers close to the Chicago bullpen.

Fred Sanford started for the Yanks and yielded two runs in the third on singles by Ed Malone, Herb Adams and a triple by Dave Philley. The Yanks tied it against Bill Wight in the fourth, scoring twice on a walk and singles by Bauer, DiMaggio and Yogi Berra's fly ball.

Chicago broke the stalemate in the seventh on two-baggers by Nelson Fox and Al Carrasquel. Then with two out in the last of the seventh Gene Woodling walked, Bauer singled and DiMaggio homered to clinch the game.

Joe Page took over at the start of the eighth and was in trouble in the remaining two innings. He stranded two Sox in the eighth. In the ninth, Page walked two batters and allowed an infield hit to load the bases after two were out. The star reliever then got pinch-hitter Phil Masi to rap back to the box and end the game.

RE-SCHEDULED

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—(AP)— The Philadelphia Athletics announced today that a rained-out game with the St. Louis Browns, originally scheduled to be played Monday night, has been re-scheduled as part of a twi-night double header at Shibe Park July 14.

BOSOX OUTLAST TRIBE

BOSTON, June 3. —(AP)— Boston's Red Sox leaped to six runs in the opening inning today and then had to fight before they downed the Cleveland Indians 11-9 for their second victory in as many games here with the Tribe.

And for the second time the Indians used five pitchers in a vain effort to pull out the decision.

The Sox clouted 13 hits and the Indians nine.

Among them were Boston homers by Birdie Tebbetts, his fifth and Ted Williams' 13th, poled 420 feet into the right field bleachers with one man on base.

Luke Easter slapped one in the opening inning against Mel Parnell, who was replaced by Al Papai in the fourth when the Ohioans scored five times for their biggest session of the day.

Mike Garcia, who was yanked in the first inning when he walked two and was rattled for three hits, was charged with the loss, his fourth against one victory. Papai was credited with the victory and his record now is 3-2.

TIGERS WHIP MACKS

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—(AP)— Detroit scored its sixth straight 1950 American League victory over Philadelphia today as Pitcher Hal Newhouser won his fourth straight decision with a seven hitter for a 6-1 triumph.

Every member of Detroit's lineup, save Don Kolloway, hit safely at least once as the Tigers belted starter Bobby Shantz for 14 blows. One was Aaron Robinson's fourth home run.

Sam Chapman spoiled Newhouser's bid for a shutout with a ninth inning home run, his sixth of the season.

Detroit scored once in the opening inning on a walk to George Kell and singles by Vic Wertz and Hoot Evers with two down. They picked up another marker in the third, also with two away, on a single by Kell and Wertz' double.

Robinson's fourth home run of the year, a walk to Johnny Lipon and Gerry Priddy's two - bagger was good for a pair of Detroit counters in the sixth.

Detroit came up with another two spot in the seventh on Evers' double, Johnny Groth's single, a fielding error and Robinson's two base hit.

ALL-STAR TEAMS FROM N.F.L. WILL APPEAR IN GAME

Los Angeles Group To Back Tilt Due To be Played Next January

By Ralph Bernstein

PHILADELPHIA, June 3. —(AP)— A pro bowl game between all-star teams from the two divisions of the National Football League, to be played next January under sponsorship of the Los Angeles Publishers Association, was authorized today by N. F. L. owners.

The 13 owners unanimously approved the game at an executive session ending the league's two-day summer meeting here. The publishers association, and representatives from Houston, Tex., and the Al Malikah Shrine of Los Angeles were bidding for the game.

N. F. L. Commissioner Bert Bell said the league would approve co-sponsorship of the game by the publishers and the Shriners group if the publishers desired to share the promotion.

Bell explained the league felt "morally obligated" to assign the game to the publishers since the Los Angeles Times had sponsored a similar project in 1941. He referred to the game in that year between the National League champions and an all-star league team. Originally planned as ar annual affair, it was discontinued because of wartime travel restrictions.

N. F. L. owners opposed reviving the Champions vs. All-Stars game because it might detract from the Chicago Tribune's established annual summer game between the N. F. L. titleholders and the College All-Stars at Soldier Field.

Bell said final approval of the Los Angeles game would be withheld until satisfactory terms were arranged with the sponsor or sponsors. He said definitely that each player participating in the game would receive not less than $500 plus traveling expenses. The game will be played in the Los Angeles coliseum, which seats approximately 100,000 cash customers.

As to the personnel of the two all star teams, Bell said the league office would work out a satisfactory plan of selecting players. The coach of each division champion will direct their respective all-star aggregations.

Bell further explained that representatives of the Publishers Association and the Shriners had been given until July 1 to get together on the co - sponsorship proposition. If they fail to do so, the game will go to the publishers.

A Shriners' spokesman said he doubted whether his organization could collaborate with the publishers since the Shriners charter forbids co-sponsoring such events.

Before the owners adjourned their sessions, committees from the east and west were appointed to study all television and radio operations. The committees were directed to present proposals for adoption by the league next October. Until then, Bell said, no games will be televised unless approved by the home team, visiting club and the commissioner's office.

During the two-day meeting the owners drafted 140 players from the rosters of the defunct Buffalo Bills, Los Angeles Dons and Chicago Hornets. The league also made James Breuil, former Buffalo owner, a 25 percent stockholder in the Cleveland Browns.

Breuil was given three players from the pool of talent taken over by the league when the A. A. C. folded and Cleveland, Baltimore and San Francisco joined the 10 team N. F. L. The oil millionaire turned the players over to Cleveland in exchange for a 25 percent interest in the team.

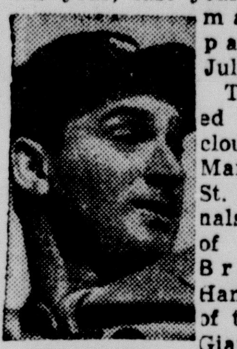
It's Beginning To Look Like A Big Year For Big League Grand Slams

By Ted Meier

NEW YORK, June 3.—(AP)—The way grand slam homers are being belted in the major leagues this year, last year's total of 50 may be surpassed before July 4.



Sid Gordon

The bases-loaded roundtrippers clouted by Marty Marion, of the St. Louis Cardinals; Sid Gordon, of the Boston Braves; and Hank Thompson, of the New York Giants, on Thursday raised to 28 grandslammers for the first six weeks of the campaign.

This compared to the 1949 total of 50 and the 1948 total of 49.

Of the 50 grand slammers posted last year 30 were in the National and 20 in the American.

Through games of June 1 this year, 15 already have smashed in the National and 13 in the American.

No one seems to know the reason for this year's rash of grand slammers.

Apparently the batters are ahead of the pitchers and they take a toehold when the bases are full and the pitcher has to get the ball over.

Gordon, who didn't hit a grand slammer last year, apparently is back in his 1948 form when he clouted three as a member of the Giants. Now, in a Braves uniform, he has already clouted two, one against his old teammates, and is tied with Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh slugger, for the current National League lead.

Gil Coan, Washington outfielder, also has connected twice with the bases loaded and tops the American League.

Five of the 15 National League grand slammers were made against New York Giant pitching. Three each were made against Brooklyn and Pittsburgh; two against Cincinnati and one each against Chicago and Philadelphia. Boston and St. Louis pitching has yet to yield a grand slammer.

Washington and Boston Red Sox pitching has not yet been dented by grand slammers in the American League. Four of the 13 have been made against St. Louis; three against Detroit; two each against Philadelphia and Cleveland; and New York.

The list of grand slammers posted through June 1:

April 19—Sid Gordon, Boston, against New York.

April 21 — Ray Campanella, Brooklyn, against New York.

April 21—Willie Jones, Philadelphia, against Brooklyn.

May 6—Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh, against New York.

May 27—Andy Seminick, Philadelphia, against New York.

May 28—Joe Garagiola, St. Louis against Cincinnati.

June 1—Gordon against Pittsburgh.

June 1—Marty Marion, St. Louis, against Brooklyn.

June 1—Hank Thompson, New York, against Cincinnati.

April 21—Vern Stephens, Boston, against Philadelphia.

April 23—Dick Kokos, St. Louis, against Cleveland.

May 11—Ted Williams, Boston, against Detroit.

May 13—Roy Sievers, St. Louis, against Detroit.

May 16—Billy Johnson, New York, against St. Louis.

May 16—Larry Doby, Cleveland, against Philadelphia.

May 17—Sherm Lollar, St. Louis, against New York.

May 21—Wally Moses, Philadelphia, against St. Louis.

May 21—Joe DiMaggio, New York, against Cleveland.

May 25—Yogi Berra, New York, against Detroit.

May 25—Walt Dropo, Boston, against St. Louis.

College Pitcher Signed By Chicago White Sox

OXFORD, O., June 3.—(AP)—Bob Black, of New Paris, O., 21-year-old right handed pitcher for Miami University, said today he had signed a contract with the Chicago White Sox.

Black, who won 13 games and lost six in three seasons of collegiate pitching, said Sox officials told him he would be farmed out to a class C club, probably Superior, Wis.

Black said he was paid $6,000 to sign with the Sox, $5,100 of which was a bonus. He will be graduated from Miami June 12.

ROBINSON CHOICE OVER VILLEMAIN

By Orlo Robertson

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—(AP)— Ray Robinson, lanky ruler of the welterweights, and stocky Robert Villemain from France meet Monday night in Philadelphia's huge Municipal Stadium for the Pennsylvania version of the middleweight boxing championship.

The 15-round bout under the promotion of Phil Glassman has been sanctioned by the Pennsylvania state athletic commission as a championship affair.

The commission ruled that Jake LaMotta had not defended the 160-pound crown within the time limit of six months and, in meeting Rocky Graziano later this month in New York, he is not taking on the logical contender.

The National Boxing Association however, declined to go along with the Pennsylvania commission but ordered LaMotta to meet the winner of the Robinson-Villemain fight within 90 days if he whips Graziano.

Robinson, beaten only once in more than 100 bouts, and Villemain, whipped three times and never knocked out in 103 amateur and pro battles, are expected to attract a crowd of around 40,000 and a gate of $250,000.

There will be no telecast or broadcast of the fight. In event weather forces postponement it will be held on the first clear night thereafter.

Robinson, considered by many boxing experts as the greatest fighter, pound for pound, in modern ring history, was whipped by LaMotta but later walloped the middleweight titleholder four times. Sugar Ray has been champion of the welters since defeating Tommy Bell Dec. 20, 1946, but long before that was considered the uncrowned king.

One of Villemain's three defeats also was by La Motta. It was questionable decision and later the Frenchman squared matters. His two other setbacks were by Steve Belloise and Dave Sands in London.

Although Robinson at 30 is four-years older than the flashy Frenchman, he is the strong favorite to win the nod of the two judges and the referee.

In Villemain he'll be meeting a fighter who is a busy puncher, working on his opponents with head down and firing away at close range with both hands. Villemain's record indicates he is also a difficult target to nail with a knockout punch.

Rapid Robert has trained for this the most important fight of his career at Pleasantville, N. J., under the watchful eye of his pilot, Jean Bretonnel, and Mrs. Villemain. His sparring partners for the most part have been the type who danced and jabbed away from the wiry Frenchman. That's the way Villemain figures Robinson will fight.

Robinson, who has been finding the problem of getting down to the welterweight poundage increasingly difficult, has stepped through his practice rounds at Pompton Lakes with no thought of weight. He is expected to come in around 155 pounds.

GOLF'S GREATS POISED FOR NATIONAL OPEN

FIFTIETH ANNUAL TOURNEY DRAWS 165 TOP ENTRIES

Stranahan Seen As Aiming For First Grand Slam Since Bobby Jones

By Will Grimsley

ARDMORE, Pa., June 3.—(AP)—One hundred and sixty-five of golf's upper crust will tee off Thursday in the 50th National Open championship over one of America's fabled courses.

Frank Stranahan

Merion's historic acres, where Bobby Jones completed his grand slam 30 years ago, hides the answer this time to four big questions:

1. Can Sam Snead, lending money winner and low scorer among present-day pros, overcome an old bugaboo and win his first open?

2. Can Ben Hogan, the grim little battler from Texas, complete hs comeback by adding another championship to that he won before an auto accident nearly shattered his career?

3. Can Frank Stranahan, fresh from a resounding British amateur triumph, forge a second link in his bid to match Jones' famous sweep of 1930?

4. Can Cary Middlecoff, the golfing dentist, become the first since Ralph Guldahl in 1938 to repeat as champion?

The Merion Golf Club, older than the Open itself, remaining the exacting course that has defied the masters down through the years. Its par 70 is evasive. Its 6,694 yards call for the highest accuracy.

"It's a course with character," says Stubby Gene Sarazen, who at 48 will be gunning for his third crown. "The steady man off the tees will win it."

It is a robust, down-the-driving game that has established Snead the jinxed West Virginian, and Hogan, the gritty comebacker, as favorites in the three-day, 72-hole grind.

Eighteen-hole rounds Thursday and Friday wll reduce the field to 50 for Saturday's 36-hole windup.

The rigorous final day schedule has raised doubts about Hogan's ability to repeat his performance of 1948, when he won every major U. S. championship available to a pro.

The sinewy Texan, although his return has been spectacular, has not recovered fully from the accident that left him a heap of broken bones beside an El Paso, Tex., highway Feb. 2, 1949.

It still takes a lot of effort for him to navigate on injured legs. But Hogan tied Snead for the Los Angeles open title in January, losing later in a playoff; tied for fourth in the recent masters and then won the Greenbrier open over Snead's own course at Sulphur Springs, West Va., with a record-tieing 259.

Snead regards Hogan as the toughest barrier between him and the crown—toughest besides Snead himself.

"He's the man I've got to beat," the West Virginia slugger predicts.

Snead has come to realize that a fellow named Samuel Jackson Snead is perhaps his worst enemy in an open championship.

Sammy lost the championship last year at Medinah, Ill., by a stroke after choosing the wrong club for a fringe shot on the next-to-last green and three-putting from heavy grass.

He blew a 30-nch putt to lose a playoff in St. Louis n 1947 and his explosion at the seams on the final hole at Philadelphia's Spring Mill in 1939 still ranks as one of golf's most harrowingnightmares. golf's most harrowing nightmares. He took an eight when a par five would have done it.

Rated high as a threat is Jimmy Demaret, the Ojai, Calif., clothes horse who won the masters championship this spring at Augusta, and who is battling Snead for money-winning honors.

Norman Von Nilda, the little Australian who has been particularly successful in England, is the leading foreign menace. He shot 135 for 36 holes in qualifying at Fort Worth, Tex.

No foreigner has taken away our Open title since big, mustachioed Ted Ray succeeded in 1920.

The last amateur to outstroke the professionals was Johnny Goodman, who won at North Shore in Glen View, Ill., in 1933.

Stranahan, the muscled millionaire from Toledo, Ohio, hopes to bridge the gap, although he insists he has no idea of ever equalling Bobby Jones' four-title slam.

Playing perhaps the best golf of his life, the new British amateur champion flew in from England Thursday and immediately began getting his game in shape.

"Who knows? Maybe this is my year," the handsome, blond young man said. He was a sensation at St. Andrews where the Scottish fans labelled him a "new Stranahan" and "the greatest amateur."

Stranahan was exempt from qualifying by a special edict of the U. S. Golf Association, which also admitted two other British amateur contenders, Jim McHale of Philadelphia and Bill Campbell of Huntington, West Va.

Other exempt players included Defending Champion Middlecoff, 10 former champions and 17 players who finished in the top twenty last year.

Middlecoff, the rangy dentist who gave up his white coat to fill a different kind of cavity, won at Medinah with a score of 286.

The champion may be the 1950 tournament "Dark Horse."

MONROE JUNIORS DRILL TOMORROW

Rain Causes Delay In Legion Baseball Schedule For District

The Monroe American Legion Juniors, their first two games of the season postponed because of rain, meet for another workout tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock on the Neville High School diamond as they get ready for two other games scheduled during the week.

Coach George Riser has a squad of 40 boys trying out for the team. Only four of them are playing their last year and most of them have two more Legion seasons to go. Experience is needed by the club since only Jimmy Choate, Guy Gannaway, and Tommy Leos has campaigned with the Juniors before to any extent. Pitcher Dick Campbell has some experience.

Games scheduled for Friday with Rayville and yesterday with Farmerville were postponed because of rain. Tuesday night Riser is due to take his boys to Clarks, and their next home game is billed for Friday with Bastrop.

Coach Bob McNeely's West Monroe Juniors, who won their opener from Bastrop a week ago, had their Friday game with Clarks rained out.

West Monroe, playing its first season of Legion baseball, is due to play Ruston at Cloy'd Park, West Monroe, Tuesday night, and Friday.

COACH

PEORIA, Ill., June 3.—(AP)—Don Unruh, Bradley University basketball letter man for three seasons, will coach at Tabor College, Hillsboro, Kans., next season it was announced today.

'PANTS' READY FOR BATTLE WITH 'SKIRTS'

Eastern Star Women Meet Men Of Masonic Lodge At Memorial Stadium

The "Pants" vs. the "Skirts" will be the baseball attraction at Legion Memorial Stadium here Tuesday night when the women of the Order of the Eastern Star, West Monroe, don the pants for a seven-inning encounter with the men of the West Monroe Masonic Lodge. The men will be attired in the skrts and other women's accessories.

It's a benefit affair with all profits derived to be turned over to the Rob Morris Club for promotion of charitable activities.

Additional features will be the "cigarette girls," Masons attired as fellow "gals" on the diamond but not participating in the game.

Ike Hamilton, the popular and well known West Monroe auctioneer, will be on hand as master of ceremonies and handle the public address system.

Mayor C. C. Bell has been named as bat boy for both teams—it looks like it's going to be a tremendous job for "Dutchy."

Team managers are Mrs. Georgia Hatten of the "Pants." and Dr. J. C. Stewart will pilot the "Skirts."

A barrel of refreshments has been promised the "Skirts" by Dr. G. T. Gallaspie, and music will be furnished by J. D. Taylor's hill billy band.

LIGHTS GOING UP ON SKEET RANGE

Regular Sunday Shooting Is Scheduled Here Again This Afternoon

Improvement continues on the Monroe Skeet Club's range at Plum and South Six streets as work continued the past week on lighting the range and giving it a general renovation for expected larger turnouts of skeet and trapshooters during the summer season.

Bill Love of the city's electrical department has been busy the past week installing lights for the range, and Johnny Simmons, commissioner of streets and parks, had the entire field mowed and everything put in readiness for today's scheduled shoot.

Rain may make it appear boats should be a top accessory along with shellls, guns, and targets today, but a good crowd was on hand last Sunday despite high winds and rain. A five-man team was on hand to demonstrate duck shooting, and the weather obliged by giving them a good soaking.

J. B. Thoman, co-manager of the range, last night reported the concession stand at the club house has been about completed, but he will not be able to serve refreshments until next Sunday.

A barbecue is being planned for the club soon, Thoman said, and all members are expected to register today for the event.

LUFFEY ON G. S. C. ALL-STAR TEAM

Monroe Athlete Outstanding Pitcher For Southwestern Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS, June 3.—(AP)—Six Gulf States Conference baseball players were named to the all-conference squad for the second straight year.

The team, selected by coaches in the G. S. C., was announced today.

Three of the repeaters are from Loyola—Catcher Bill Glennon and Pitchers Don Robinson and Eddie Knoick. The others are Centerfielder George Crowson of Southwestern Louisiana Institute's championship team, Shortstop Jules Mugnier of Spring Hill and Catcher Ben Carroll of Louisiana Tech.

Crowson and teammate George Luffey, a pitcher, are co-captains of the squad. They tied for the G. S. C. player of the year award.

Loyola dominated the eastern division all-star team with five players. Another tied for a berth. Loyola won the eastern title, but lost to S. L. I. in the east-west playoff.

S. L. I. paced its outfield and one pitcher on the all-west team.

All four eastern schools are represented on the all-star squad. Only Centenary of the five-member western division failed to place a man on the team.

Here are the all-division teams, with batting or pitching averages in parenthesis:

Two Spectators Hurt, One Killed At Stock Car Race

BELLEFONTAINE, O., June 3.—(AP)— Three spectators were injured — one fatally — last night when two racing autos locked wheels and crashed over an embankment at the Shady Bowl Speedway, 14 miles southwest of Bellefontaine.

Melvin Kohlrieser, about 30, of Uniopolis, died early today in a Bellefontaine hospital of internal injuries.

Witnesses said the three men were standing on an embankment outside the track, watching the race. The two vehicles — both stock cars — locked wheels went over the 25-foot embankment, through a fence and overturned. The drivers escaped serious injury.

Roland K. Hemmert of Wapakoneta was reported in critical condition in the Bellefontaine Hospital. His brother, Franklin J. of Sidney, was reported in satisfactory condition.

Baseball League For Boys Will Be Formed

Organization of a baseball league for boys under 16 years of age will be undertaken by the Monroe recreation department at a meeting scheduled for Tuesday night at 7 o'clock at the Monroe Recreation Center.

Any teams desiring to join the league are urged to have representatives present at the meeting.

"This league will be similar in operation and aim to the Buddy Leagues already organized elsewhere," Jack Hesketh, recreation director, said. "We are interested in having as many representatives as possible at the meeting."

Athletic Hurlers, Fowler, Coleman, To Visit Doctor

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—(AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics today announced that pitchers Dick Fowler and Joe Coleman will undergo checkups by Dr. George Bennett at Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, on Monday.

Both the veteran chuckers are bothered with ailing flippers. Coleman has worked only one third of an inning this year.

Fowler, although he has been in 21 2-3 innings so far, has been forced to quit the mound in his last two outings because of arm trouble.

FIFTIETH ANNUAL TOURNEY DRAWS 165 TOP ENTRIES

Stranahan Seen As Aiming For First Grand Slam Since Bobby Jones

By Will Grimsley

Frank Stranahan

Merion's historic acres, where Bobby Jones completed his grand slam 30 years ago, hides the answer this time to four big questions:

1. Can Sam Snead, lending money winner and low scorer among present-day pros, overcome an old bugaboo and win his first open?

2. Can Ben Hogan, the grim little battler from Texas, complete hs comeback by adding another championship to that he won before an auto accident nearly shattered his career?

3. Can Frank Stranahan, fresh from a resounding British amateur triumph, forge a second link in his bid to match Jones' famous sweep of 1930?

4. Can Cary Middlecoff, the golfing dentist, become the first since Ralph Guldahl in 1938 to repeat as champion?

The Merion Golf Club, older than the Open itself, remaining the exacting course that has defied the masters down through the years. Its par 70 is evasive. Its 6,694 yards call for the highest accuracy.

"It's a course with character," says Stubby Gene Sarazen, who at 48 will be gunning for his third crown. "The steady man off the tees will win it."

It is a robust, down-the-driving game that has established Snead the jinxed West Virginian, and Hogan, the gritty comebacker, as favorites in the three-day, 72-hole grind.

Eighteen-hole rounds Thursday and Friday wll reduce the field to 50 for Saturday's 36-hole wind-up.

The rigorous final day schedule has raised doubts about Hogan's ability to repeat his performance of 1948, when he won every major U. S. championship available to a pro.

The sinewy Texan, although his return has been spectacular, has not recovered fully from the accident that left him a heap of broken bones beside an El Paso, Tex., highway Feb. 2, 1949.

It still takes a lot of effort for him to navigate on injured legs. But Hogan tied Snead for the Los Angeles open title in January, losing later in a playoff; tied for fourth in the recent masters and then won the Greenbrier open over Snead's own course at Sulphur Springs, West Va., with a record-tieing 259.

Snead regards Hogan as the toughest barrier between him and the crown—toughest besides Snead himself.

"He's the man I've got to beat," the West Virginia slugger predicts.

Snead has come to realize that a fellow named Samuel Jackson Snead is perhaps his worst enemy in an open championship.

Sammy lost the championship last year at Medinah, Ill., by a stroke after choosing the wrong club for a fringe shot on the next-to-last green and three - putting from heavy grass.

He blew a 30-nch putt to lose a playoff in St. Louis n 1947 and his explosion at the seams on the final hole at Philadelphia's Spring Mill in 1939 still ranks as one of golf's most harrowingnightmares. golf's most harrowing nightmares. He took an eight when a par five would have done it.

Rated high as a threat is Jimmy Demaret, the Ojai, Calif., clothes horse who won the masters championship this spring at Augusta, and who is battling Snead for money-winning honors.

Norman Von Nilda, the little Australian who has been particularly successful in England, is the leading foreign menace. He shot 135 for 36 holes in qualifying at Fort Worth, Tex.

No foreigner has taken away our Open title since big, mustachioed Ted Ray succeeded in 1920.

The last amateur to outstroke the professionals was Johnny Goodman, who won at North Shore in Glen View, Ill., in 1933.

Stranahan, the muscled millionaire from Toledo, Ohio, hopes to bridge the gap, although he insists he has no idea of ever equalling Bobby Jones' four-title slam.

Playing perhaps the best golf of his life, the new British amateur champion flew in from England Thursday and immediately began getting his game in shape.

"Who knows? Maybe this is my year," the handsome, blond young man said. He was a sensation at St. Andrews where the Scottish fans labelled him a "new Stranahan" and "the greatest amateur."

Stranahan was exempt from qualifying by a special edict of the U. S. Golf Association, which also admitted two other British amateur contenders, Jim McHale of Philadelphia and Bill Campbell of Huntington, West Va.

Other exempt players included Defending Champion Middlecoff, 10 former champions and 17 players who finished in the top twenty last year.

Middlecoff, the rangy dentist who gave up his white coat to fill a different kind of cavity, won at Medinah with a score of 286.

The champion may be the 1950 tournament "Dark Horse."

Loyola dominated the eastern division all-star team with five players. Another tied for a berth. Loyola won the eastern title, but lost to S. L. I. in the east-west playoff.

S. L. I. paced its outfield and one pitcher on the all-west team.

All four eastern schools are represented on the all - star squad. Only Centenary of the five-member western division failed to place a man on the team.

Here are the all-division teams, with batting or pitching averages in parenthesis:

Two Spectators Hurt, One Killed At Stock Car Race

BELLEFONTAINE, O., June 3.—(AP)— Three spectators were injured — one fatally — last night when two racing autos locked wheels and crashed over an embankment at the Shady Bowl Speedway, 14 miles southwest of Bellefontaine.

Melvin Kohlrieser, about 30, of Uniopolis, died early today in a Bellefontaine hospital of internal injuries.

Witnesses said the three men were standing on an embankment outside the track, watching the race. The two vehicles — both stock cars — locked wheels went over the 25-foot embankment, through a fence and overturned. The drivers escaped serious injury.

Roland K. Hemmert of Wapakoneta was reported in critical condition in the Bellefontaine Hospital. His brother, Franklin J. of Sidney, was reported in satisfactory condition.

Baseball League For Boys Will Be Formed

Organization of a baseball league for boys under 16 years of age will be undertaken by the Monroe recreation department at a meeting scheduled for Tuesday night at 7 o'clock at the Monroe Recreation Center.

Any teams desiring to join the league are urged to have representatives present at the meeting.

"This league will be similar in operation and aim to the Buddy Leagues already organized else - in having as many representatives where," Jack Hesketh, recreation director, said. "We are interested as possible at the meeting."

Athletic Hurlers, Fowler, Coleman, To Visit Doctor

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—(AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics today announced that pitchers Dick Fowler and Joe Coleman will undergo checkups by Dr. George Bennett at Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, on Monday.

Both the veteran chuckers are bothered with ailing flippers. Coleman has worked only one third of an inning this year.

Fowler, although he has been in 21 2-3 innings so far, has been forced to quit the mound in his last two outings because of arm trouble.

Gordon Bests Westlake In Homer Duel As Braves Down Pirates, 10-6

Del Ennis

CHICAGO, June 3. —(AP)— The Philadelphia Phillies moved within a half game of pace setting Brooklyn in the National League race today when they defeated the Chicago Cubs, 6 to 2, before a ladies day gathering of 16,445.

The Phillies routed Bob Rush, who had previously beaten them twice, in the third inning. They battered him for five runs and seven hits. The kayo wallop was delivered by Del Ennis with his sixth homer of the season. It followed a double by Eddie Waitkus that opened the third inning.

Emory "Bubba" Church, rookie right hander, registered his first major league victory in his second start. However, he required a helping hand from Jim Konstanty, star relief hurler who made his 19th appearance of the season when he relieved Church in the seventh inning.

The Cubs raked Church for 10 hits and had runners aboard in every frame. However, three double plays helped to pull him out of repeated jams.

Rush was two runs down in the first inning after only five pitches. Dick Whitman and Gran Hamner doubled and Waitkus, who collected three hits for the day, singled. Singles by Dick Sisler and Mike Goliat and Whitman's fly tallied another run in the second. Then Ennis produced the next pair in the third.

BRAVES PLASTER BUCS

PITTSBURGH, June 3.—(AP)—Sid Gordon of the Boston Braves and Wally Westlake of Pittsburgh put on a home-duel here today, with Gordon the victor as Boston won, 10-6, before a meager crowd of 5,737.

Gordon's two homers, and a long fly drove in seven Boston runs. His first round-tripper, over the left field scoreboard, was his third grandslammer of the year.

The two brought his total to 11 homers, tops in the league.

Johnny Sain became the first pitcher in the major leagues to win eight games when he was credited with the victory, although he had to be relieved in the sixth inning by Bob Hogue.

The victory gave Boston the three-game series, 2-1.

Batting, Fielding Of Monroe Sports Improves; Cross Off To Fast Start

By J. P. Friend

BLYTHEVILLE, Arkansas, June 3.—(Special)—Blasting 17 hits in 32 times at bat during the week, Pine Bluff's John Ramm added 41 points to his batting average and swept into the Cotton States League lead for the period ending May 30, according to the Friend News Service release Saturday.

The Judge outfielder enjoyed a batfest in all seven games, topped with five hits in one contest, four in another and again three safe blows to up his plate mark to .364, four points better than Teammate Ben (Rosey) Cantrell, who posted a lusty .360.

Appearing in 40 games, Ramm has toed the platter 165 official times and blasted 60 hits. He has five doubles, four triples and two home runs. He has scored 35 runs and helped 29 others dent the rubber.

Cantrell's bat was far from silent as he picked up 22 decimals with a spree of his own. Included in his 14 hits out of 31 tries were a pair of home runs, a triple and three two baggers. He sent 14 mates scampering over home plate and counted 11 times himself.

Pine Bluff, league leader, also furnished the third ranking hitter as Harry Schwegman entered into the spirit of the banging bats with some base hits—lots of 'em. His chart for the week totaled 16 out of 30 that skyrocketed his mace mark from .319 to .358.

Alex Cosmidis, Hot Springs, snapped the Judges strangle hold by winding up with .339 and fourth place. Manager Chet Morgan completed the upper five bracket at .324.

Roy Coss, El Dorado, who collected the season's first hit cycle, topped the second division hitting brigade with .317, the same as his manager, Roy Schaik, Bill Jones, Natchez, is but seven points away with .318, deadlocked with Greenville's Jerry Lynch. Len Morrison, Monroe, has .307, one point higher than El Dorado's Frank Quicutis.

Allen Crsos, who recently joined the Monroe Sports, posted a sensational .500 mark in 10 games. He blasted three doubles, three triples and a brace of homers, batting in 15 runs, to gladden the Sports who have been punch-lacking. Bob Barton, Greenville outfielder, is hitting .403 in 15 contests. In five games last week Bob smacked 13 hits in 22 chances that netted 103 points.

Pine Bluff spangle wearers also monopolized the specialized batting departments. Ramm and Schwegman run 1-2 in hits with 60 and 59. Schwegman has scored 47 runs for first. Cantrell's hits have totaled 92 bases. He has batted in 51, also tops. Frank Scarpace, Judges cleanup hitter, has connected for seven home runs while building a .279 batting average. Manager Dick Adkins has the most doubles, 13, one more than Cantrell and Scarpace. Jim Gilbert, Natchez, has seven triples. Ramm not only runs hard but runs very fast and well, attest his 19 stolen bases, five more than Danny Daum, Greenwood.

Pitching and winning two games in five days, Bobby Johnson, Monroe righthander, strengthened his grip on the hurling corps with six straight victories without a loss. Ted Gardner, Pine Bluff, tripped Greenville on Memorial Day and slipped into a tie with another Pine Bluffian, Rhyne Duren, for second place, at 4-0.

Cliff Coggin, Monroe, has won seven and dropped one. Adam Stempowski, Pine Bluff, has also posted seven victories but has been on the short end thrice. Bob Picken, Pine Bluff, has 4-1; Dan Caccave, Hot Springs, 6-2; George Witt Greenwood, 5-2. Capeland Goss, El Dorado, and Everette Hill, Pine Bluff, have won six, lost four. Coggin has fanned 67.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

by Hugh S. Fullerton Jr.

NEW YORK, June 3.—(AP)—Frank Lane, the White Sox general manager, gets positively lyrical when he discusses the way Bucky Harris has handled his young Washington players. . . . That's what away Eddie Robinson and Ray Scarborough, Lane explains. "We started working on the trade in February but Bucky couldn't let them go because they were the only pros on his club." . . . And by implication, Frank indicates that "Lollipop" Corriden will use the same gentle methods. . . . "Bucky told me he never bawls out a bad baseball player; it just makes them worse," says Lane. "We're trying to build up our ball club and it doesn't help a young player to bawl him out. They're bound to make mistakes." . . . Lane stopped long enough to consider Jack Onslow's more virile methods, then continued: "I think maybe Harris has his kids playing over their heads. I hope so because we want to beat them out."

Consistency Note

After the William and Mary football team invaded Texas last September and barely squeaked through to a 14-13 victory over Houston U., Coach-Athletic Director Rube McCray groaned: "Deliver me from this country in September. We'll never play ball in this kind of heat again. . . . Since then William and Mary has scheduled games against Oklahoma at Norman, Okla., in September, 1951, and Texas at Austin in September, 1953. . . . The fans are wondering if Arizona doesn't have an open date for '52.

Sportsmention

Only "home" club golfer in the national open at Merion next week will be Jack Houdry, a sweet-swinging young amateur who could disturb the pros for a round or two. . . . Tom Lieb's Alabama track team, unbeaten in dual competition this season, has no seniors and only three juniors among its point-scorers. . . . The Harlem Globetrotters will visit North Africa after they end their European tour this month. . . . Nick Kerbawy, the Detroit Lions tub-thumper, moans that he'll have to add a dozen pages to his team brochure this year to list the honors won by Leon Hart, Doak Walker, Bobby Layne and Joe Watson. . . . George Sauer has traveled some 4,000 miles since taking over as Baylor football coach and hasn't gone outside the state of Texas. . . . Most Texans will merely ask: "Why should he?"

Weak End Notes

When Tookie Gilbert, who got $50,000 to sign with the Giants, was playing at Erie, Pa., a few years ago, the kid who played next to him was getting $200 a month—and no bonus. . . . One "Yankee" doing okay in the south is Tom Bishop of Pittsburgh, who scored 404 points for the Mississippi Southern Basketball team last winter and hit .353 for the baseball team this spring. . . . And a gag around Chicago is that Tom Haggerty, who took his basketball coaching talents from there to New Orleans, drove back to his old haunts with a trailer bearing a big arrow and a sign: "To Loyola of the South."

FISHING CONTEST OPENS AT SEARS

Awards Offered Sportsmen For Catching Largest Game Fish

Featuring a "Biggest Fish" contest, the Sears, Roebuck Company store here at 328 DeSiard street will hold its second annual National Sporting Goods Week from Thursday through Saturday, June 17.

According to C. D. McAdams, store manager, prizes of $25, $15, and $10 in merchandise or cash will be awarded to the anglers entering the three largest fish by weight during those dates.

The prizes are $25 for the biggest fish, $15 for the runner - up and $10 for the third largest.

Rules for the contest state that any locally-recognized game fish may be entered provided that the catch is of legal size, weight and limit and caught in accordance with the local fish and game laws. The catch must be made by rod, reel, hook and line.

To enter the "Biggest Fish" contest, an angler simply brings his entry to the sporting goods department at the local Sears store for an official weighing. The contest closes at 4 p.m. on June 17, with the winners being announced that day at 5 o'clock.

Manager McAdams said that National Sporting Goods Week is held annually in this area to call attention to the start of the summer outdoor recreational season.

During the 10-day event, Sears will feature several new items of sports merchandise including a 16-horsepower twin outboard motor; lightweight plywood or metal boats; a 1950 line of bicycles with shock-absorbing action, and a full line of fishing tackle, including the new J. C. Higgins glass casting rod.

Chatham will play Eros in a game which will determine if the Red Sox will continue to remain on top of the Eastern division. Ansley, only one-half a game off the pace will go to West Monroe and Weston invades Quitman.

The teams will be enjoying a breathing spell in the Western division with the top teams playing their bottom clubs with no danger of losing their standing for another week.

KRAMER BOOSTED FOR NET THRONE

Defending Champion Riggs Tags '48 Winner; Meet Opens Tomorrow

CLEVELAND, June 3. —(AP)— Defending champion Bobby Riggs thinks Jack Kramer of Los Angeles will win the National Professional tennis championships which open here Monday.

"Kramer should win," Riggs declared today, adding quickly that "I expect to be right up in there."

But another leading contender, Frank Kovacs of Oakland, Calif., predicted: "Kramer won't get into the finals."

Kramer won the 1948 championship, but did not defend his title last year.

Riggs, also of Los Angeles, ventured that Kovacs and Frank Parker of Milwaukee have "outside chances" at the title. He said he considers Francisco (Pancho) Segura of Ecuador as the "dark horse" in the net tilt.

Kovacs, the "clown prince" of tennis, said too many tough players are gunning for Kramer in this week-long tournament.

"Furthermore, the slower clay courts are not to his liking," Kovacs said.

Of himself, Kovacs offered: "Guess I'm like wine growing better with age. I've never played better."

Tournament officials gave first round byes in the singles to Riggs, Parker, Segura and Welby Van Horn of Philadelphia. Thus they avoided naming a player for the number one rating. Kramer, however, was placed against Billy Doeg of Pittsburgh in the first round.

In the doubles, Van Horn and Kovacs was seeded first, Kramer and Riggs second, both pairs drawing first round byes. Segura and Parker were seeded third. Their first round opponents will be Lloyd Budge of Willoughby, O., and John Hendrix of Cleveland.

Seeded fourth were Carl Earn of Los Angeles and Johnny Faunce of Burbank, Calif. Their first opponents will be Junior Stubbs of Miami and Joe Fishback of New York.

Singles matches will be decided on a two-of-three set basis until the semifinals. But from there on it will take three sets to win. The doubles finals also will be three out of five.

Proceeds from the matches will be given to the Jackson Memorial Laboratory Association for cancer research.

BLUE JAYS ONLY HALF GAME OUT OF FIRST PLACE

Gordon Bests Westlake In Homer Duel As Braves Down Pirates, 10-6

CHICAGO, June 3.—(AP)— The Philadelphia Phillies moved within a half game of pace setting Brooklyn in the National League race today when they defeated the Chicago Cubs, 6 to 2, before a ladies day gathering of 16,445.

Del Ennis

The Phillies routed Bob Rush, who had previously beaten them twice, in the third inning. They battered him for five runs and seven hits. The kayo wallop was delivered by Del Ennis with his sixth homer of the season. It followed a double by Eddie Waitkus that opened the third inning.

Emory "Bubba" Church, rookie right hander, registered his first major league victory in his second start. However, he required a helping hand from Jim Konstanty, star relief hurler who made his 19th appearance of the season when he relieved Church in the seventh inning.

The Cubs raked Church for 10 hits and had runners aboard in every frame. However, three double plays helped to pull him out of repeated jams.

Rush was two runs down in the first inning after only five pitches. Dick Whitman and Gran Hamner doubled and Waitkus, who collected three hits for the day, singled. Singles by Dick Sisler and Mike Goliat and Whitman's fly tallied another run in the second. Then Ennis produced the next pair in the third.

BRAVES PLASTER BUCS

PITTSBURGH, June 3.—(AP)—Sid Gordon of the Boston Braves and Wally Westlake of Pittsburgh put on a home-duel here today, with Gordon the victor as Boston won, 10-6, before a meager crowd of 5,737.

Gordon's two homers, and a long fly drove in seven Boston runs. His first round-tripper, over the left field scoreboard, was his third grandslammer of the year.

The two brought his total to 11 homers, tops in the league.

Johnny Sain became the first pitcher in the major leagues to win eight games when he was credited with the victory, although he had to be relieved in the sixth inning by Bob Hogue.

The victory gave Boston the three-game series, 2-1.

Batting, Fielding Of Monroe Sports Improves; Cross Off To Fast Start

By J. P. Friend

BLYTHEVILLE, Arkansas, June 3.—(Special)—Blasting 17 hits in 32 times at bat during the week, Pine Bluff's John Ramm added 41 points to his batting average and swept into the Cotton States League lead for the period ending May 30, according to the Friend News Service release Saturday.

The Judge outfielder enjoyed a batfest in all seven games, topped with five hits in one contest, four in another and again three safe blows to up his plate mark to .364, four points better than Teammate Ben (Rosey) Cantrell, who posted a lusty .360.

Appearing in 40 games, Ramm has toed the platter 165 official times and blasted 60 hits. He has five doubles, four triples and two home runs. He has scored 35 runs and helped 29 others dent the rubber.

Cantrell's bat was far from silent as he picked up 22 decimals with a spree of his own. Included in his 14 hits out of 31 tries were a pair of home runs, a triple and three two baggers. He sent 14 mates scampering over home plate and counted 11 times himself.

Pine Bluff, league leader, also furnished the third ranking hitter as Harry Schwegman entered into the spirit of the banging bats with some base hits—lots of 'em. His chart for the week totaled 16 out of 30 that skyrocketed his mace mark from .319 to .358.

Alex Cosmidis, Hot Springs, snapped the Judges strangle hold by winding up with .339 and fourth place. Manager Chet Morgan completed the upper five bracket at .324.

Roy Coss, El Dorado, who collected the season's first hit cycle, topped the second division hitting brigade with .317, the same as his manager, Roy Schaik, Bill Jones, Natchez, is but seven points away with .318, deadlocked with Greenville's Jerry Lynch. Len Morrison, Monroe, has .307, one point higher than El Dorado's Frank Quicutis.

Allen Crsos, who recently joined the Monroe Sports, posted a sensational .500 mark in 10 games. He blasted three doubles, three triples and a brace of homers, batting in 15 runs, to gladden the Sports who have been punch-lacking. Bob Barton, Greenville outfielder, is hitting .403 in 15 contests. In five games last week Bob smacked 13 hits in 22 chances that netted 103 points.

Pine Bluff spangle wearers also monopolized the specialized batting departments. Ramm and Schwegman run 1-2 in hits with 60 and 59. Schwegman has scored 47 runs for first. Cantrell's hits have totaled 92 bases. He has batted in 51, also tops. Frank Scarpace, Judges cleanup hitter, has connected for seven home runs while building a .279 batting average. Manager Dick Adkins has the most doubles, 13, one more than Cantrell and Scarpace. Jim Gilbert, Natchez, has seven triples. Ramm not only runs hard but runs very fast and well, attest his 19 stolen bases, five more than Danny Daum, Greenwood.

Pitching and winning two games in five days, Bobby Johnson, Monroe righthander, strengthened his grip on the hurling corps with six straight victories without a loss. Ted Gardner, Pine Bluff, tripped Greenville on Memorial Day and slipped into a tie with another Pine Bluffian, Rhyne Duren, for second place, at 4-0.

Cliff Coggin, Monroe, has won seven and dropped one. Adam Stempowski, Pine Bluff, has also posted seven victories but has been on the short end thrice. Bob Pickens, Pine Bluff, has 4-1; Dan Caccave, Hot Springs, 6-2; George Witt Greenwood, 5-2. Capeland Goss, El Dorado, and Everette Hill, Pine Bluff, have won six, lost four. Coggin has fanned 67.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh S. Fullerton Jr.

NEW YORK, June 3.—(AP)—Frank Lane, the White Sox general manager, gets positively lyrical when he discusses the way Bucky Harris has handled his young Washington players. . . . That's what away Eddie Robinson and Ray Scarborough, Lane explains. "We started working on the trade in February but Bucky couldn't let them go because they were the only pros on his club." . . . And by implication, Frank indicates that "Lollipop" Corriden will use the same gentle methods. . . . "Bucky told me he never bawls out a bad baseball player; it just makes them worse," says Lane. "We're trying to build up our ball club and it doesn't help a young player to bawl him out. They're bound to make mistakes." . . . Lane stopped long enough to consider Jack Onslow's more virile methods, then continued: "I think maybe Harris has his kids playing over their heads. I hope so because we want to beat them out."

Consistency Note

After the William and Mary football team invaded Texas last September and barely squeaked through to a 14-13 victory over Houston U., Coach-Athletic Director Rube McCray groaned: "Deliver me from this country in September. We'll never play ball in this kind of heat again. . . . Since then William and Mary has scheduled games against Oklahoma at Norman, Okla., in September, 1951, and Texas at Austin in September, 1953. . . . The fans are wondering if Arizona doesn't have an open date for '52.

Sportsmention

Only "home" club golfer in the national open at Merion next week will be Jack Houdry, a sweet-swinging young amateur who could disturb the pros for a round or two. . . . Tom Lieb's Alabama track team, unbeaten in dual competition this season, has no seniors and only three juniors among its point-scorers. . . . The Harlem Globetrotters will visit North Africa after they end their European tour this month. . . . Nick Kerbawy, the Detroit Lions tub-thumper, moans that he'll have to add a dozen pages to his team brochure this year to list the honors won by Leon Hart, Doak Walker, Bobby Layne and Joe Watson. . . . George Sauer has traveled some 4,000 miles since taking over as Baylor football coach and hasn't gone outside the state of Texas. . . . Most Texans will merely ask: "Why should he?"

Weak End Notes

When Tookie Gilbert, who got $50,000 to sign with the Giants, was playing at Erie, Pa., a few years ago, the kid who played next to him was getting $200 a month—and no bonus. . . . One "Yankee" doing okay in the south is Tom Bishop of Pittsburgh, who scored 404 points for the Mississippi Southern Basketball team last winter and hit .353 for the baseball team this spring. . . . And a gag around Chicago is that Tom Haggerty, who took his basketball coaching talents from there to New Orleans, drove back to his old haunts with a trailer bearing a big arrow and a sign: "To Loyola of the South."

FISHING CONTEST OPENS AT SEARS

Awards Offered Sportsmen For Catching Largest Game Fish

Featuring a "Biggest Fish" contest, the Sears, Roebuck Company store here at 328 DeSiard street will hold its second annual National Sporting Goods Week from Thursday through Saturday, June 17.

According to C. D. McAdams, store manager, prizes of $25, $15, and $10 in merchandise or cash will be awarded to the anglers entering the three largest fish by weight during those dates.

The prizes are $25 for the biggest fish, $15 for the runner - up and $10 for the third largest.

Rules for the contest state that any locally-recognized game fish may be entered provided that the catch is of legal size, weight and limit and caught in accordance with the local fish and game laws. The catch must be made by rod, reel, hook and line.

To enter the "Biggest Fish" contest, an angler simply brings his entry to the sporting goods department at the local Sears store for an official weighing. The contest closes at 4 p.m. on June 17, with the winners being announced that day at 5 o'clock.

Manager McAdams said that National Sporting Goods Week is held annually in this area to call attention to the start of the summer outdoor recreational season.

During the 10-day event, Sears will feature several new items of sports merchandise including a 16-horsepower twin outboard motor; lightweight plywood or metal boats; a 1950 line of bicycles with shock-absorbing action, and a full line of fishing tackle, including the new J. C. Higgins glass casting rod.

Today's Games

Chatham at Eros
Ansley at West Monroe
Weston at Quitman
Oil Field Center at Saline
Danville at Ashland
Martin at Simsboro

The Jackson - Bienville League will swing into action again Sunday after a week of rest in which only the Ansley Trojans made any progress. Chatham will play Eros in a game which will determine if the Red Sox will continue to remain on top of the Eastern division. Ansley, only one-half a game off the pace will go to West Monroe and Weston invades Quitman.

The teams will be enjoying a breathing spell in the Western division with the top teams playing their bottom clubs with no danger of losing their standing for another week.

KRAMER BOOSTED FOR NET THRONE

Defending Champion Riggs Tags '48 Winner; Meet Opens Tomorrow

CLEVELAND, June 3. —(AP)— Defending champion Bobby Riggs thinks Jack Kramer of Los Angeles will win the National Professional tennis championships which open here Monday.

"Kramer should win," Riggs declared today, adding quickly that "I expect to be right up in there."

But another leading contender, Frank Kovacs of Oakland, Calif., predicted: "Kramer won't get into the finals."

Kramer won the 1948 championship, but did not defend his title last year.

Riggs, also of Los Angeles, ventured that Kovacs and Frank Parker of Milwaukee have "outside chances" at the title. He said he considers Francisco (Pancho) Segura of Ecuador as the "dark horse" in the net tilt.

Kovacs, the "clown prince" of tennis, said too many tough players are gunning for Kramer in this week-long tournament.

"Furthermore, the slower clay courts are not to his liking," Kovacs said.

Of himself, Kovacs offered: "Guess I'm like wine growing better with age. I've never played better."

Tournament officials gave first round byes in the singles to Riggs, Parker, Segura and Welby Van Horn of Philadelphia. Thus they avoided naming a player for the number one rating. Kramer, however, was placed against Billy Doeg of Pittsburgh in the first round.

In the doubles, Van Horn and Kovacs was seeded first, Kramer and Riggs second, both pairs drawing first round byes. Segura and Parker were seeded third. Their first round opponents will be Lloyd Budge of Willoughby, O., and John Hendrix of Cleveland.

Seeded fourth were Carl Earn of Los Angeles and Johnny Faunce of Burbank, Calif. Their first opponents will be Junior Stubbs of Miami and Joe Fishback of New York.

Singles matches will be decided on a two-of-three set basis until the semifinals. But from there on it will take three sets to win. The doubles finals also will be three out of five.

Proceeds from the matches will be given to the Jackson Memorial Laboratory Association for cancer research.

FORESTRY MEET BEING PLANNED

Louisiana Association Directors Will Discuss Pending Legislation

ALEXANDRIA, La. June 3. — (Special) — Important forestry legislation now pending in Baton Rouge will be discussed at a special meeting of the board of directors of the Louisiana Forestry Association Tuesday at the Bentley Hotel here, John B. Ferran, executive secretary of the organization announced today.

Among matters to be considered, he said, is the proposal to create a Louisiana Reforestation Finance Corporation for the purpose of making low interest, long-term loans to land owners for reforesting their cut-over timberlands, and a bill to increase the appropriation of the state forestry commission.

Several other items pertaining to legislative measures will also be discussed at the meeting which is scheduled for 10:00 a.m. Tuesday morning, Ferran advised.

The Forestry Association is a voluntary, non-profit, privately supported group of individuals and organizations interested in the protection and development of the state's forest resources. It has headquarters at Alexandria.

Association board members from the Monroe area include Ben Rush, Ruston; Mayo M. Iles, Clarks; Q. T. Hardtner, Urania; C. O. Walker, Talor; Wilbur C. McDonald, Hodge and Lloyd P. Blackwell, Ruston.

Forest Fires Crackling Over Cregon, Washington

PORTLAND, Ore., June 3.—(AP)—Forest fires that have blackened more than 4,000 acres were crackling over Oregon and southwest Washington today.

The fires, springing up in the first big outbreak of the season, burned 1,000 acres of the Klamath Indian reservation, drove farm families from their homes, and ate through timber in widely-scattered areas.

The worst fire today was on Little Fall creek near Eugene, Ore.

Other fires, which erupted yesterday under a brisk east wind and low humidity, were brought under control as the wind's intensity diminished.

The get-together was the 14th annual convention of Indoor Sports Club, Inc., wth headquarters in Los Angeles.

INSURANCE FIRM IN NEW OFFICE

Sherrouse Insurance Agency, Inc., Opens New Office At 128 Jackson Street

Sherrouse Insurance Agency, Inc., one of Monroe's newest insurance firms formerly located at 906 Breard street, is now established in new offices a t128 Jackson street, according to Chevis Sherrouse, president.

The insurance firm moved into the recently vacated down-town offices last week and closed their office on Breard street.

The three offices now consumed by the corporation have been remodeled and redecorated with all new equipment, Sherrouse said. Mrs. Lula Bell Humphries is in charge of the offices.

Sherrouse, a native of Gilbert and graduate of Louisiana State University asserted that the corporation was formed in May, 1949, and is engaged in selling fire, automobile, liability, workmen's compensation, bonds and allied lines of insurance.

The Sherrouse Insurance Agency is affiliated with the Maryland Casualty Company, Preferred Accident Company and the following fire insurance companies: American Eagle, Potamic, Newark, Pacific National.

ORDERS EXECUTION

TAIPEI, Formosa, June 3.—(AP)—Chiang Kai-Shek today ordered the immediate execution of anyone in public service found guilty of graft.

The orders apply particularly to officers who graft off enlisted men, or who pocket pay for non-existent soldiers. Persons who shield grafters also are made liable to the death penalty.

Architects Plan Features Of The House Of Tomorrow

By David G. Bareuther
AP Real Estate Editor

What will the house of the future look like?

Home buyers would like to know. No one wants to buy a house set to go out of style in a few years.

Bankers would like to know. Making long-term mortgage loans, now ranging up to 30 years, they do not want their money tied up in houses people may not want.

The men who design homes have been trying to figure this out. The task involves much more than crystal gazing. A house that is merely different from anything ever seen before is not the answer.

A group of New York mortgage financiers — the Metropolitan League of Savings and Loan Associations — recently asked architects for their ideas. One of the first warnings received was to beware of designs claimed to be 20 to 30 years ahead of their time.

"Examine such extreme designs of 20 or 30 years ago," the mortgage men were advised. "Are those homes, once called modernistic, still modern today? Are their rooms small? What about the windows, the heating, plumbing and other equipment?"

Rudolph A. Matern, Long Island architect specializing in small houses, told a meeting of the league "you will find as much obsolescence in such homes as in any other house of the period."

"Today's preferences could not be anticipated," he said, "because those designs were based on theory rather than living practice."

Matern contends that the house of tomorrow can be anticipated to some extent by planning for livability.

"On changes of preferences among home buyers in all parts of the country since the war, some predictions can be made for the house of tomorrow," he observed.

1. "The average house will continue to have a pitched roof. The pitch will tend to decrease. There already is an increasing market for flat roofs.

2. "Currently there is a $1,000 to $1,100 difference in slab construction as compared with a full cellar. This differential will become less as utility rooms become larger.

3. "There will be more blending of living room and dining room to a point where the division will not be recognizable.

4. "There will be a growing demand for a rear vestibule to serve kitchen, cellar and outside.

5. "The trend away from 1 1-2-story, two-bedroom expansion attic houses will continue.

6. "The front living room with picture window is giving way to a front-to-rear living room with big windows front and back. Next will be the rear living room, but with some visual contact with the front yard.

7. "The trend toward more and more equipment covered by the 'package mortgage' will continue.

8. "Houses will be set low in contrast to the high out-of-the-ground, half exposed basement type.

9. "Accessories will remain on exteriors—cupolas, shutters, flower boxes, etc. Their forms may change, but people cling to them just as you and I continue to wear neckties and useless buttons on our coat sleeves.

10. "There will be more closet and storage space.

11. "More furniture will be built-in.

12. "Houses will be more colorful, outside as well as in.

13. "Kitchens and baths will tend to be larger, with a greater number of appointments.

14. "The use of wet materials—plaster and masonry — will decrease.

15. "There will be more open planning. Flexibility in the use of rooms — multi-use rooms and movable partitions."

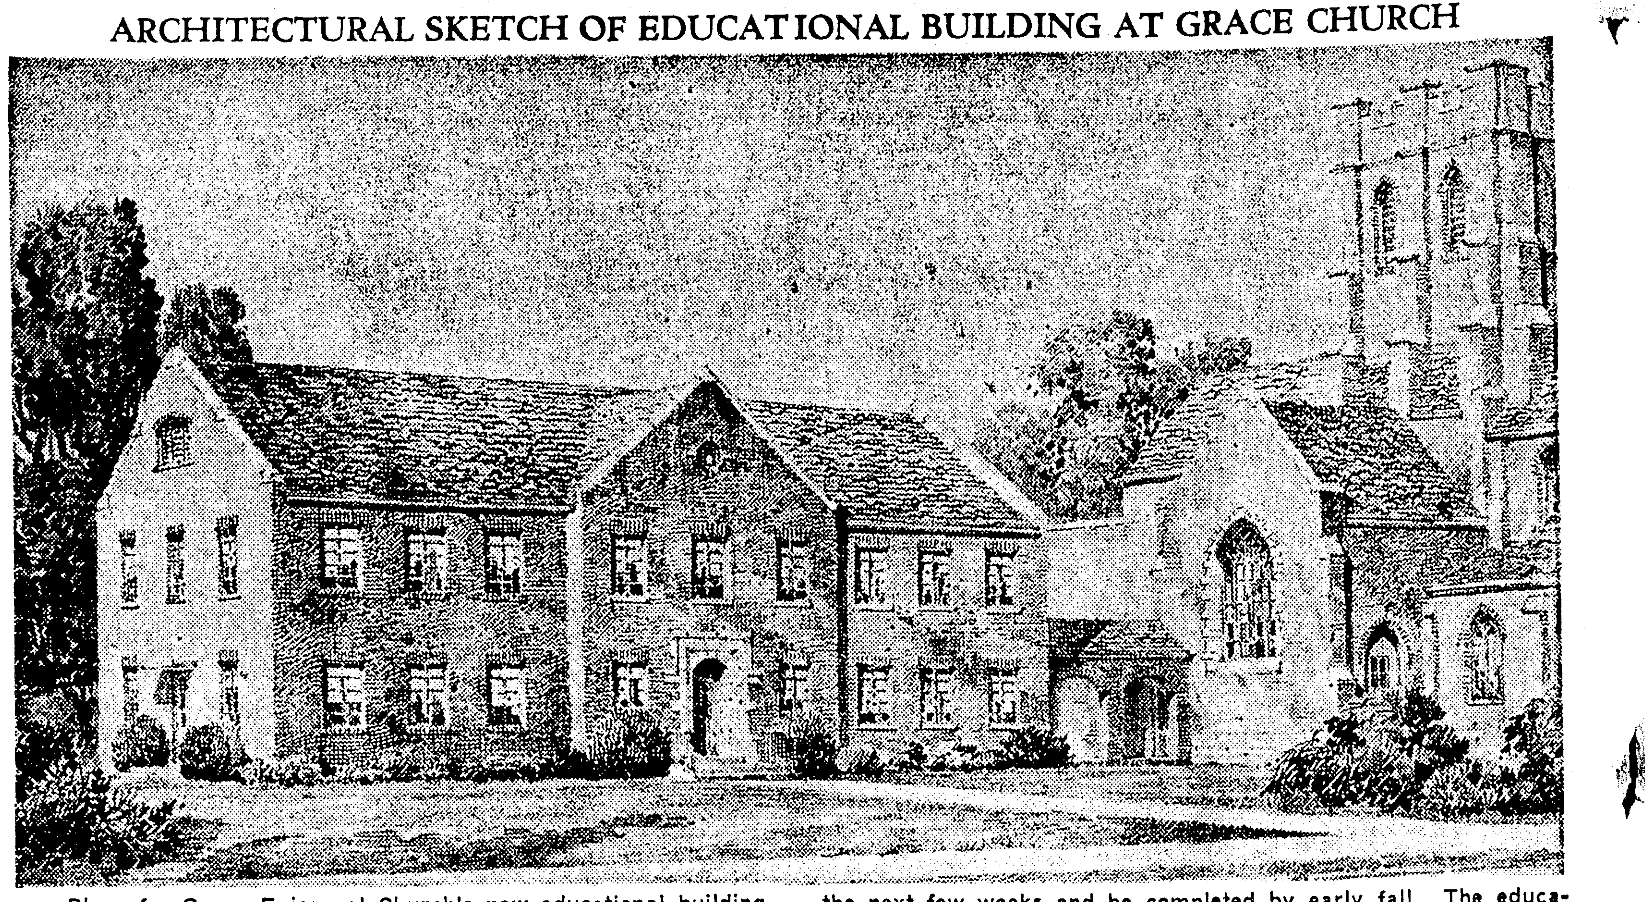
ARCHITECTURAL SKETCH OF EDUCATIONAL BUILDING AT GRACE CHURCH



Plans for Grace Episcopal Church's new educational building, drawn by H. H. Land, local architect, have been submitted to contractors who bid on the project this week. The Rev. Davis A. Jones announced that construction is expected to begin within the next few weeks and be completed by early fall. The educational building will face North Fourth street and be located on the north side of the church. It will be constructed of brick and along corresponding lines with Grace Church.

LOCAL STUDIO IS REMODELED

Griffin's Studio Is Enlarged; Will Celebrate 36th Anniversary This Month

Contractor Hilton C. Hazel, is scheduled to complete remodeling of Griffin's Studio at 318 DeSiard street this week, according to Durwood Griffin, co-owner and manager of the studio.

Griffin's, northeast Louisiana's oldest studio, will celebrate their 36th anniversary here June 16 and 17 at which time special exhibits including pictures taken by them in and around Monroe 20 and 30 years ago will be displayed in their newly decorated studio.

In addition to the local exhibits, Eastman Kodak Company will feature a special exhibit of pictures.

The modern studio is being completely redecorated and expanded to include an office balcany and provide space for a larger stock of cameras and photography equipment, Griffin said. He added that new furnishings including an air-conditioning unit were included in the remodeling plans.

Construction on the studio began four weeks ago and is being completed at an estimated cost of $7,500.

Griffin's Studio is owned and operated by Mrs. J. E. Griffin and her son, Durwood Griffin, both of Monroe.

Reward Offered For Destroyer's Arrest

Chief H. T. Ward said yesterday that a reward would be offered anyone who gave information to the arrest and conviction of persons destroying property at a local trap-shoot range.

The trap-shoot is located at South Sixth and Plum street.

Police have received reports that a general destruction of property has been perpetrated. Chief Ward said if the vandals are caught, "we are going to prosecute."

COSTS $10,000

SAN DIEGO, Calif., June 3.—(AP) —Two days at Reno's gambling tables cost a young San Diego man $10,000, he testified in court here. He said he is now dependent upon his take-home earnings of $34.25 a week.

Dale Brix, 22, gave the testimony yesterday in connection with family financial litigation. He said that prior to the visit to Reno last February, he had lost $500 to $1,000 in Las Vegas, Nev.

Brix works for a newspaper.

BORN IN BOOTH

SEOUL, June 3.—(AP)—Ahn Won Yu, 32-year-old farmer's wife, gave birth to a son in a voting booth at Chechon in Tuesday's election.

So determined was she to vote in South Korea's second election that she had walked six miles to the voting place.

She named the son Ee Sun. Translated from the Korean, that means "second election."

Episcopalians Plan To Erect An Educational Building On North Fourth Adjoining Grace Church; Contractors Submit Bids June 1st

Bids will be received for construction of Grace Episcopal Church's new two-story brick educational building to be erected on North Fourth street June 1, according to the Rev. David A. Jones, rector.

Rev. Jones said if satisfactory bids were received the contract would be let June 5th at the regular vestry meeting.

Plans for the spacious educational building were drawn by H. H. Land's architectural firm in Monroe.

Construction of the building will begin soon after the contract is awarded, Reverend Jones said. He expressed hopes of the building being completed and ready for use by early fall.

Reverend Jones stressed that the modern educational building has been planned over a period of several years and most of the money for the construction is now on hand.

The building when completed will provide classrooms for the entire church school, now comprised of 190 members, facilities for adult classes, a general assembly room for the primary and kindergarten departments, a special visual educational room for illustrations with movies and slides and three offices.

Reverend Jones explained that a special teacher would instruct pupils in the visual education room to coordinate work and emphasize important parts of a course.

Administration offices of the church and the rector's office will all be located in the educational building when it is completed. The new building will also allow more space for the choir studio, Reverend Jones said, by making the upstairs of the church available for use of the choir.

The new structure will be erected of brick matching those in Grace Church and along the same lines. The educational building will connect to the church with a cloister on the north side.

The building, which is to be 75 feet long and 37 feet wide will leave sufficient space on the church's lots facing Erin street for construction of private residences if the church should ever choose to do so, Reverend Jones said.

He added that the educational building is actually the second phase of the church's building program. Last fall, he asserted, the church purchased a rectory at 501 Erin street which was a part of the church's expansion program.

The parish house is not being replaced by the educational building, Reverend Jones said. It will continue to be used as it has been for the past several years with minor changes, he asserted.

Reverend Jones added that the new building was designed with adequate facilities for the church's present need. It has been planned with the idea of enlarging whenever the church deems it necessary.

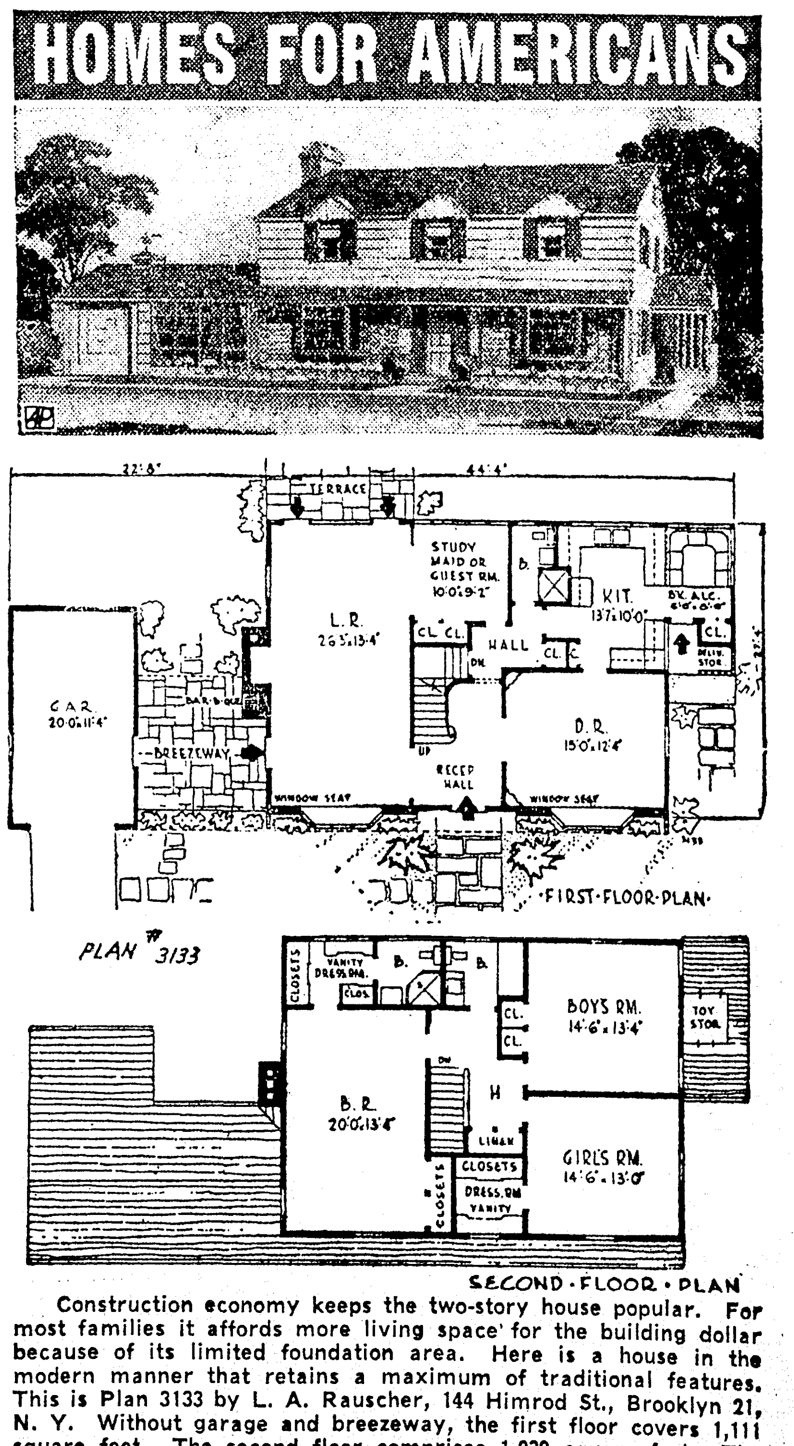
Grace Church was erected at the corner of North Fourth and Glemar street in 1926 and is one of the oldest churches in the Twin Cities.

NEEDED SPANKING

PLAINESVILLE, O., June 3.—(AP) —A policeman filed this report yesterday after a girl called headquarters and tearfully complained that her father was beating her up:

"Daughter, 15 years old, stayed out till 3 a.m. got paddled. Needed it."

HOMES FOR AMERICANS



Construction economy keeps the two-story house popular. For most families it affords more living space for the building dollar because of its limited foundation area. Here is a house in the modern manner that retains a maximum of traditional features. This is Plan 3133 by L. A. Rauscher, 144 Himrod St., Brooklyn 21, N. Y. Without garage and breezeway, the first floor covers 1,111 square feet. The second floor comprises 1,039 square feet. The plan is distinguished by a spacious reception hall, front-to-rear living room, three baths and abundant closets.

FORESTRY MEET BEING PLANNED

Louisiana Association Directors Will Discuss Pending Legislation

ALEXANDRIA, La. June 3. —(Special)—Important forestry legislation now pending in Baton Rouge will be discussed at a special meeting of the board of directors of the Louisiana Forestry Association Tuesday at the Bentley Hotel here, John B. Ferran, executive secretary of the organization announced today.

Among matters to be considered, he said, is the proposal to create a Louisiana Reforestation Finance Corporation for the purpose of making low interest, long-term loans to land owners for reforesting their cut-over timberlands, and a bill to increase the appropriation of the state forestry commission.

Several other items pertaining to legislative measures will also be discussed at the meeting which is scheduled for 10:00 a.m. Tuesday morning, Ferran advised.

The Forestry Association is a voluntary, non-profit, privately supported group of individuals and organizations interested in the protection and development of the state's forest resources. It has headquarters at Alexandria.

Association board members from the Monroe area include Ben Rush, Ruston; Mayo M. Iles, Clarks; Q. T. Hardtner, Urania; C. O. Walker, Talor; Wilbur C. McDonald, Hodge and Lloyd P. Blackwell, Ruston.

Forest Fires Crackling Over Oregon, Washington

PORTLAND, Ore., June 3.—(AP)—Forest fires that have blackened more than 4,000 acres were crackling over Oregon and southwest Washington today.

The fires, springing up in the first big outbreak of the season, burned 1,000 acres of the Klamath Indian reservation, drove farm families from their homes, and ate through timber in widely-scattered areas.

The worst fire today was on Little Fall creek near Eugene, Ore.

Other fires, which erupted yesterday under a brisk east wind and low humidity, were brought under control as the wind's intensity diminished.

INSURANCE FIRM IN NEW OFFICE

Sherrouse Insurance Agency, Inc., Opens New Office At 128 Jackson Street

Sherrouse Insurance Agency, Inc., one of Monroe's newest insurance firms formerly located at 906 Breard street, is now established in new offices a t128 Jackson street, according to Chevis Sherrouse, president.

The insurance firm moved into the recently vacated down-town offices last week and closed their office on Breard street.

The three offices now consumed by the corporation have been remodeled and redecorated with all new equipment, Sherrouse said. Mrs. Lula Bell Humphries is in charge of the offices.

Sherrouse, a native of Gilbert and graduate of Louisiana State University asserted that the corporation was formed in May, 1949, and is engaged in selling fire, automobile, liability, workmen's compensation, bonds and allied lines of insurance.

The Sherrouse Insurance Agency is affiliated with the Maryland Casualty Company, Preferred Accident Company and the following fire insurance companies: American Eagle, Potamic, Newark, Pacific National.

ORDERS EXECUTION

TAIPEI, Formosa, June 3.—(AP)—Chiang Kai-Shek today ordered the immediate execution of anyone in public service found guilty of graft.

The orders apply particularly to officers who graft off enlisted men, or who pocket pay for non-existent soldiers. Persons who shield grafters also are made liable to the death penalty.

Architects Plan Features Of The House Of Tomorrow

By David G. Bareuther
AP Real Estate Editor

What will the house of the future look like?

Home buyers would like to know. No one wants to buy a house set to go out of style in a few years.

Bankers would like to know. Making long-term mortgage loans, now ranging up to 30 years, they do not want their money tied up in houses people may not want.

The men who design homes have been trying to figure this out. The task involves much more than crystal gazing. A house that is merely different from anything ever seen before is not the answer.

A group of New York mortgage financiers — the Metropolitan League of Savings and Loan Associations — recently asked architects for their ideas. One of the first warnings received was to beware of designs claimed to be 20 to 30 years ahead of their time.

"Examine such extreme designs of 20 or 30 years ago," the mortgage men were advised. "Are those homes, once called modernistic, still modern today? Are their rooms small? What about the windows, the heating, plumbing and other equipment?"

Rudolph A. Matern, Long Island architect specializing in small houses, told a meeting of the league "you will find as much obsolescence in such homes as in any other house of the period."

"Today's preferences could not be anticipated," he said, "because those designs were based on theory rather than living practice."

Matern contends that the house of tomorrow can be anticipated to some extent by planning for livability.

"On changes of preferences among home buyers in all parts of the country since the war, some predictions can be made for the house of tomorrow," he observed.

1. "The average house will continue to have a pitched roof. The pitch will tend to decrease. There already is an increasing market for flat roofs.
2. "Currently there is a $1,000 to $1,100 difference in slab construction as compared with a full cellar. This differential will become less as utility rooms become larger.
3. "There will be more blending of living room and dining room to a point where the division will not be recognizable.
4. "There will be a growing demand for a rear vestibule to serve kitchen, cellar and outside.
5. "The trend away from 1 1-2-story, two-bedroom expansion attic houses will continue.
6. "The front living room with picture window is giving way to a front-to-rear living room with big windows front and back. Next will be the rear living room, but with some visual contact with the front yard.
7. "The trend toward more and more equipment covered by the 'package mortgage' will continue.
8. "Houses will be set low in contrast to the high out-of-the-ground, half exposed basement type.
9. "Accessories will remain on exteriors—cupolas, shutters, flower boxes, etc. Their forms may change, but people cling to them just as you and I continue to wear neckties and useless buttons on our coat sleeves.
10. "There will be more closet and storage space.
11. "More furniture will be built-in.
12. "Houses will be more colorful, outside as well as in.
13. "Kitchens and baths will tend to be larger, with a greater number of appointments.
14. "The use of wet materials—plaster and masonry — will decrease.
15. "There will be more open planning. Flexibility in the use of rooms — multi-use rooms and movable partitions."

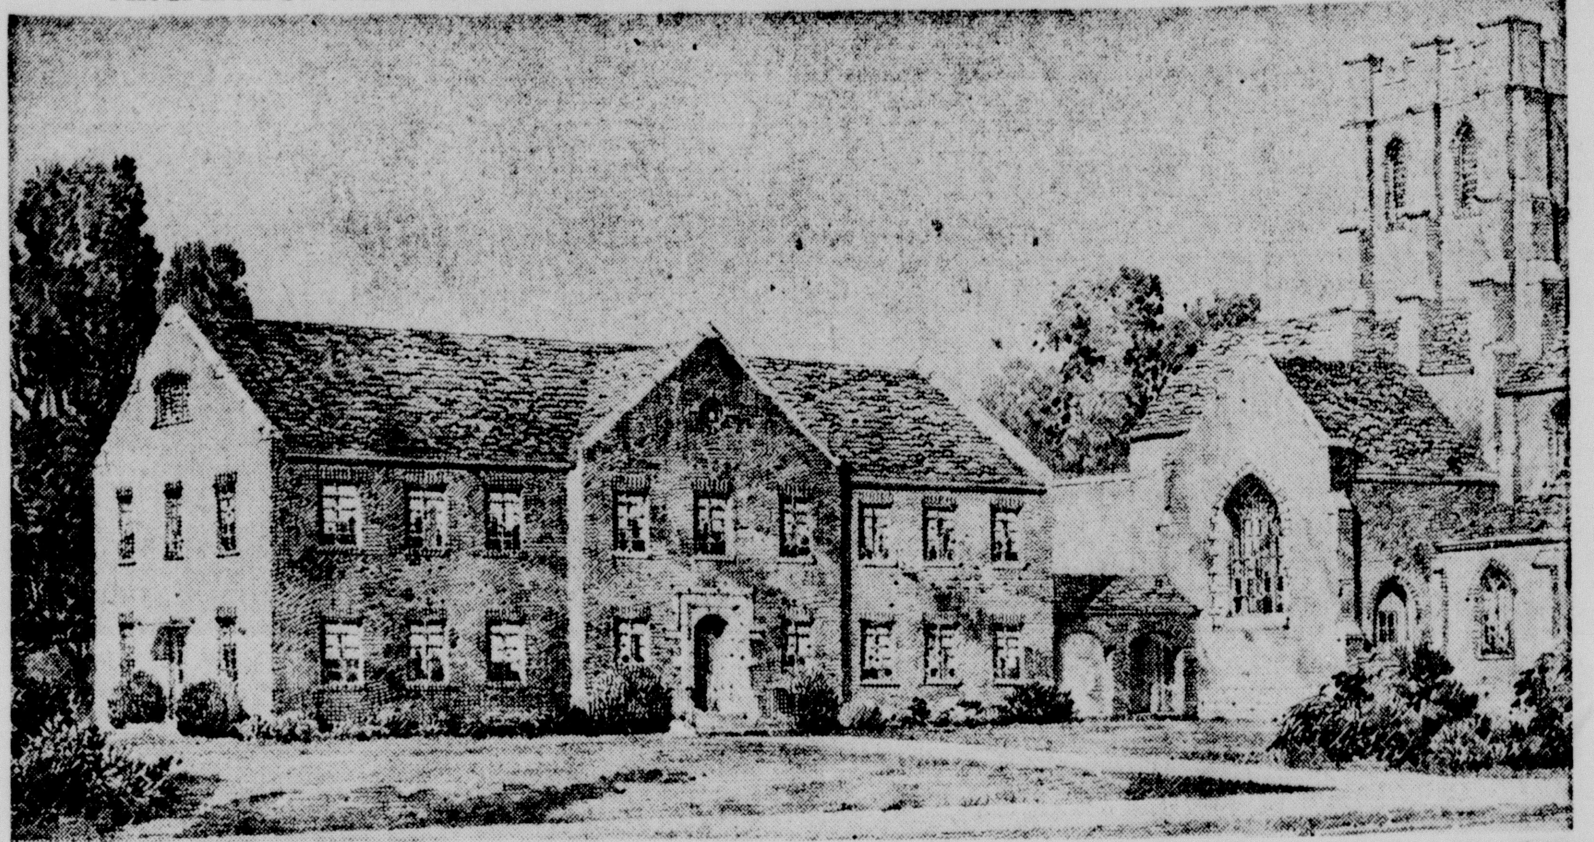
ARCHITECTURAL SKETCH OF EDUCATIONAL BUILDING AT GRACE CHURCH



Plans for Grace Episcopal Church's new educational building, drawn by H. H. Land, local architect, have been submitted to contractors who bid on the project this week. The Rev. Davis A. Jones announced that construction is expected to begin within the next few weeks and be completed by early fall. The educational building will face North Fourth street and be located on the north side of the church. It will be constructed of brick and along corresponding lines with Grace Church.

LOCAL STUDIO IS REMODELED

Griffin's Studio Is Enlarged; Will Celebrate 36th Anniversary This Month

Contractor Hilton C. Hazel, is scheduled to complete remodeling of Griffin's Studio at 318 DeSiard street this week, according to Durwood Griffin, co-owner and manager of the studio.

Griffin's, northeast Louisiana's oldest studio, will celebrate their 36th anniversary here June 16 and 17 at which time special exhibits including pictures taken by them in and around Monroe 20 and 30 years ago will be displayed in their newly decorated studio.

In addition to the local exhibits, Eastman Kodak Company will feature a special exhibit of pictures.

The modern studio is being completely redecorated and expanded to include an office balcany and provide space for a larger stock of cameras and photography equipment, Griffin said. He added that new furnishings including an air-conditioning unit were included in the remodeling plans.

Construction on the studio began four weeks ago and is being completed at an estimated cost of $7,500.

Griffin's Studio is owned and operated by Mrs. J. E. Griffin and her son, Durwood Griffin, both of Monroe.

Reward Offered For Destroyer's Arrest

Permission was granted F. Wimberley and A. R. Bates to add to a supply company at 406 Olive street, at a cost of $1,250, with the use of day labor.

James H. Butler received a permit to build a residence at 3705 Grammont street, at a cost of $6,500. R. W. Butler and Sons lumber Company will be the contractors.

M. D. Sorkins was issued a permit to erect a residence at 1911 Pargoud boulevard, at a cost of $9,500. J. D. Kitchingham and Son will be the contractors.

BORN IN BOOTH

SEOUL, June 3.—(AP)—Ahn Won Yu, 32-year-old farmer's wife, gave birth to a son in a voting booth at Chechon in Tuesday's election.

So determined was she to vote in South Korea's second election that she had walked six miles to the voting place.

Grace Church Announces Plans For New Building

Episcopalians Plan To Erect An Educational Building On North Fourth Adjoining Grace Church; Contractors Submit Bids June 1st

Bids will be received for construction of Grace Episcopal Church's new two-story brick educational building to be erected on North Fourth street June 1, according to the Rev. David A. Jones, rector.

Rev. Jones said if satisfactory bids were received the contract would be let June 5th at the regular vestry meeting.

Plans for the spacious educational building were drawn by H. H. Land's architectural firm in Monroe.

Construction of the building will begin soon after the contract is awarded, Reverend Jones said. He expressed hopes of the building being completed and ready for use by early fall.

Reverend Jones stressed that the modern educational building has been planned over a period of several years and most of the money for the construction is now on hand.

The building when completed will provide classrooms for the entire church school, now comprised of 190 members, facilities for adult classes, a general assembly room for the primary and kindergarten departments, a special visual educational room for illustrations with movies and slides and three offices.

Reverend Jones explained that a special teacher would instruct pupils in the visual education room to coordinate work and emphasize important parts of a course.

Administration offices of the church and the rector's office will all be located in the educational building when it is completed. The new building will also allow more space for the choir studio, Reverend Jones said, by making the upstairs of the church available for use of the choir.

The new structure will be erected of brick matching those in Grace Church and along the same lines. The educational building will connect to the church with a cloister on the north side.

The building, which is to be 75 feet long and 37 feet wide will leave sufficient space on the church's lots facing Erin street for construction of private residences if the church should ever choose to do so, Reverend Jones said.

He added that the educational building is actually the second phase of the church's building program. Last fall, he asserted, the church purchased a rectory at 501 Erin street which was a part of the church's expansion program.

The parish house is not being replaced by the educational building, Reverend Jones said. It will continue to be used as it has been for the past several years with minor changes, he asserted.

Reverend Jones added that the new building was designed with adequate facilities for the church's present need. It has been planned with the idea of enlarging whenever the church deems it necessary.

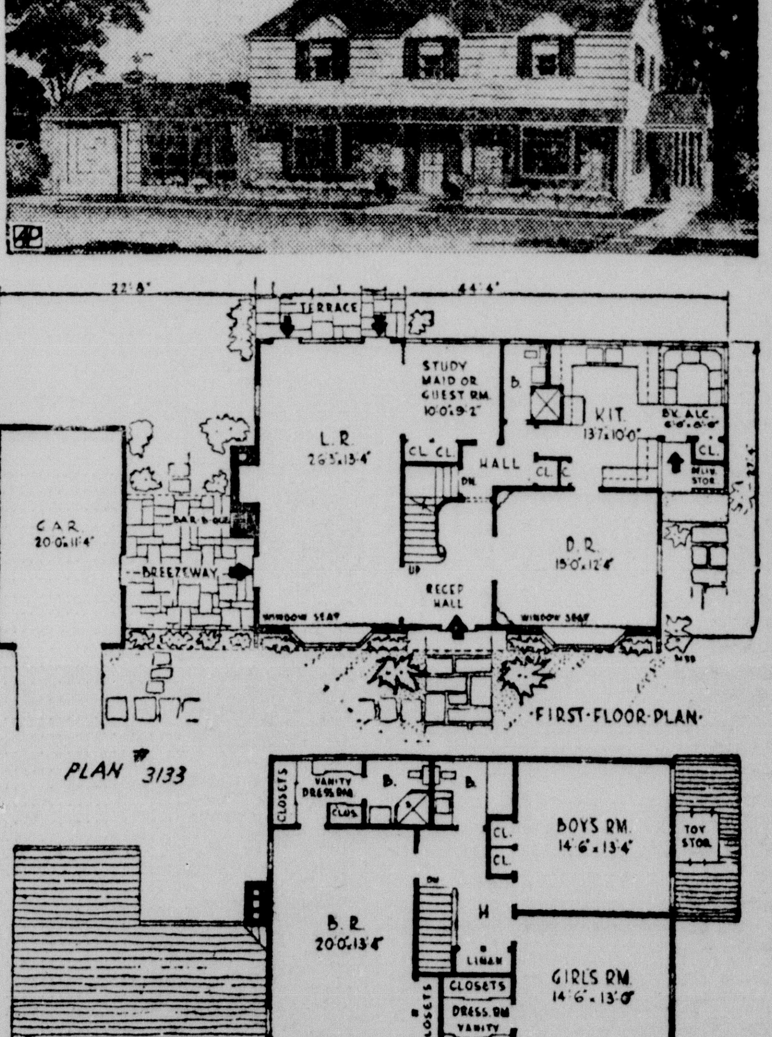
Grace Church was erected at the corner of North Fourth and Glemar street in 1926 and is one of the oldest churches in the Twin Cities.

NEEDED SPANKING

PLAINESVILLE, O., June 3.—(AP)—A policeman filed this report yesterday after a girl called headquarters and tearfully complained that her father was beating her up:

"Daughter, 15 years old, stayed out till 3 a.m. got paddled. Needed it."

HOMES FOR AMERICANS



Construction economy keeps the two-story house popular. For most families it affords more living space for the building dollar because of its limited foundation area. Here is a house in the modern manner that retains a maximum of traditional features. This is Plan 3133 by L. A. Rauscher, 144 Himrod St., Brooklyn 21, N. Y. Without garage and breezeway, the first floor covers 1,111 square feet. The second floor comprises 1,039 square feet. The plan is distinguished by a spacious reception hall, front-to-rear living room, three baths and abundant closets.

This Week In Business

By G. A. Phillips

NEW YORK, June 3.—(AP)—The Memorial Day holiday caused a slight drop in overall business activity this week.

The strongest segments of the economy—steel, autos and building—were barely touched by the holiday schedule, however, and benefits flowing from the surge of travel and recreational activities helped to make up for lower folume in retail stores and other lines of business which closed for the day.

It was another week of smooth relations in the labor field except for one or two isolated cases; the if unspectacular course; national employment edged upward in response to agricultural and vaca-sumer and durable goods than in were fewer price increases in con-tion industry demands and there any recent week.

The lull in inflationary pressure, while not very pronounced, was enough to bring the suggestion in some quarters that this particularly disturbing aspect of the national economy may be undergoing a corrective process.

True, there were price hikes this week in familiar places—non-ferrous metals, some chemicals, rubber, certain types of lumber and some kinds of food. The steel scrap market showed extraordinary vigor in a rising trend. Demand continued extremely heavy for some of these, indicating a high rate of usage and low condition of inventories.

While a further bulge is possible in some or all of the commodities in heavy demand and scarce supply, the overall price pattern indicated some cross currents were beginning to develop.

Sears, Roebuck & Co., for instance, sent out its mid-summer catalogue with thousands of items marked down an average of 7 per cent from those prevailing in the spring order book. Biggest reductions were in seasonal wearing apparel but there were cuts of 25 per cent in ice cream freezers; 16 per cent in garden hose and 12 per cent slash in refrigerators. Homewares were lowered by an average of 11 per cent.

Reports were heard in trade circles that refrigerator sales of big department stores were not so strong these days—with summer just around the corner. Big discounts and unusually easy installment terms have featured some recent clearance sales of other household goods, including television sets and radios.

While internal conditions within individual selling organiations probably had something to do with some of these situations, there was enough evidence of another kind to encourage the thought that heavy consumer demand for numerous types of "hard goods" may have witnessed its peak, at least for the summer months.

If this turns out to be the case, it will not take long for production at current rates to restore inventories to a point where further price increases will be discouraged by normal competitive conditions.

Steel mills came close to providing the country with another record output this week. Operating at 101.5 per cent of capacity, the industry turned out 1,934,900 tons of finished products. This was an insignificant drop from last week's record high of 1,940,600 tons achieved on an operating rate of 101.8 per cent of capacity.

It was the seventh straight week in which the mills worked above theoretical capacity and from all evidence available at the end of the week, another record operation can be expected next week.

There is not the slightest suggestion anywhere that the extraordinary demand for finished steel from all sources is likely to lessen in the nearby future. Iron age said there were three outstanding factors in the present situation: 1—Runaway scrap markets. 2—Conversion deals. 3—Premium prices extending to $20 a ton on cold-rolled sheets.

Automobile production was a little under the preceding week due to a two-day holiday observed by General Motors and some other makers, but assemblies of 147,914 units were well ahead of last year's 98,087 in this country and Canada. Output in the previous week was 186,249 units a record high for all-time.

Heavy engineering construction contract awards were again at exceptionally high levels, although a bit under the large volume of last week. The figures were $206,467,000 this week against $291,190,000 in the preceding period and compared with $123,055,000 a year ago.

Electric power production was up this week to 5,893,782,000 kilowatthours from 5,844,561,000 in the preceding week. The total was far ahead of last year's 5,270,161,000.

Managers of this great American industry will meet in Atlantic City next week for their annual confab and advance indications are they will be able to report the vast $9,000,000,000 expansion and modter the war more than half completed.

Freight carloadings showed improvement with considerable assistance from miscellaneous freight and coal loadings. The total in the latest week of 780,959 stacked up favorably with last year's 784,824 and was well ahead of loadings of 743,307 in the preceding period.

There was a modest pickup in soft coal production at 10,200,000 tons, crude oil production of 5,041,000 barrels was almost even with that in the preceding week and not greatly changed from a year ago. Paper and paper board output was about in line with production in the preceding week but showed wide gains over last year.

The stock market plodded an unusually narrow course and would up about where it started in the averages. It was a short week with activity suspended on Tuesday for the Memorial Day tribute and again on Saturday, start of the summer schedule. As a result sales fell to 5,674,799 shares from 8,200,595 in the preceding full week but even then turnover was far out in front of last year's measley 3,742,172 shares.

Banking statistics were uninteresting except for a drop of $18,000,000 in business loans by banks, reversing a recent tendency to rise in response to seasonal needs of farmers and others doing spring work. There was no particular reason assigned for the poor showing.

SEARS OFFICIALS VISIT MONROE

Hormone Injections Can Cure Alcoholism

By Alton L. Blakeslee

NEW YORK, June 3.—(AP)—Hormone injections can break up alcoholism and drug addiction, two physicians said today.

They reported evidence that both alcoholics and drug addicts suffer from the same trouble—lazy or impaired adrenal glands. Sleeping pill addicts even show the same mental patterns as alcoholics, they said.

In both addictions, the glands apparently don't produce enough of the hormones that come from the outer covering (cortex) of the adrenal glands, they said. The injections overcome this lack. The hormone used is Ace, adrenal cortical extract.

The report was made by Drs. Harold Lovelland, John W. Tintera of Flower and Fifth Avenue Hospitals, New York, to the American Geriatrics Society. Geriatrics is the medical specialization in problems and diseases of old age.

The hormone injections "eliminate the torturing crying out period in alcoholism and lessen significantly the recurrent craving for alcohol," they said.

The physicians urged a triple treatment for alcoholism. One, the hormone injections. Secondly, a diet low in starches and sugars, rich in proteins, and medium in fats. And third, joining alcoholics anonymous for moral support.

The harmone shots successfully overcome addiction to barbiturates or sleeping pills, and to narcotic drugs, they said. The treatment was much the same, but with more frequent injections of hormone. Sleep pill addicts were hospitalized 10 to 14 days, and narcotic addicts for at least three weeks.

Alcoholism is neither a purely mental or purely physical disease, Dr. Lovell and Dr. Tintera said. They called it a disease with both mental and physical sides that act and react on one another.

Their studies show the adrenal glands' failure is one of the main factors involved. This failure may come from an inherited tendency, or can be acquired, they said. It affects blood sugar and may have other physical effects.

The gland failure might even start through mental stimuli, such as grief or worry, they theorized. The emotional upset affects the gland, and the reduced hormone output then causes more nervous or emotional troubles, which in turn lead to more physical effects on the gland.

There is also evidence, they added, that alcohol and certain drugs may either start or aggravate the gland failure.

The hormone treatment for alcoholism and drug addicton is relatively simple and entirely safe under guidance of a competant physician, they said, and "the average patient should be under observation and treatment for one year."

DODSON

Mrs. J. G. Higgs of Rayville visited in Dodson last week with Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Lee and other friends.

Miss Loura Temple left Saturday for Longview, Texas for a visit with her sister. Mrs. Kenneth Parker and family. Little Becky Parker will return home with her.

Mrs. W. J. Pine, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Pine and children of Natchitoches visited friends in Dodson Thursday.

Mrs. R. W. Gates and Mrs. L. L. Lee attended hte Winn Parish Home Demonstration Club Council meeting Thursday at the Calvin High School. Mrs Herbert Moss of Winnfield, president, resigned due to the fact that she and Mr. Moss will make their home in Shreveport after June 1. Mrs. R. W. Gates will replace Mrs. Moss as president.

The Rev. J. O. Payne and family of Arcadia visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Payne Thursday and Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Sanders and children of Tullos spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. George Terral.

Mrs. H. J. Waters visited relatives in Alexandria last week and attended her daughter's graduation at Louisiana College who finished her nurses course.

Arnold Sanders of Columbia was here on business Monday.

SEARS OFFICIALS MAKE VISIT HERE

Group Includes Charles Kellstadt, Vice-President Of Sears Firm

Charles H. Kellstadt, vice-president of Sears, Roebuck and Co., in charge of the company's Southern territory, visited Monroe on a general inspection trip of the company's operations and Twin Cities in general early last week.

He was accompanied on this trip by T. S. Dunn, manager of the Memphis district, along with members of both territorial and district office staffs.

Kellstadt was recently appointed as vice-president in charge of the southern territory on February 6th. He is a veteran merchandising executive, having been with Sears, Roebuck and Co. since 1932.

In addition to his business duties, Mr. Kellstadt has long been active in charitable and civic projects on both a local and national scale. Currently he is serving as vice-chairman of the National American Red Cross, and as a member of the board of governors of the National Better Business Bureau. Until recently he was a director of the Chicago Housing Authority. The territory which Kellstadt supervises includes the states of Virginia, Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, eastern Louisiana, and eastern Arkansas. It contains three large mail order plants and 74 retail stores.

Atomic Scientist Finds Substance Is Radioactive

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(AP)—Atomic scientists who thought the substance tellurium 130 was stable have now discovered that it is radioactive — shedding half its atoms over a period of 1,500,000,000,000,000,000,000 years.

That's the longest time interval ever measures — 500,000,000,000 times the age of the earth—the atomic energy commission said in announcing the discovery.

The agency said that while a pair of its researchers were learning this at the Argonne National Laboratory in Chicago, another scientist at the University of California in Berkeley was clocking the life-span of a neutral meson—the shortest-lived sub-atomic particle.

This meson lasts just one ten-trillionth of a second, the commission reported. It noted that the half-life of tellurium 130 is 500,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000, -000,000,000 times as long as the life of the neutral meson.

The meson is measured by Dr. Herbert York; the isotope tellurium 13 by Dr. Mark G. Ingraham and John Reynolds.

POPE PIUS CALLS FOR COALITION

Says Only Way To Prevent Disastrous Hot And Burning War

VATICAN CITY, June 3.—(AP)—Pope Pius XII said today only a world-wide coalition of people of good will can bring peace out of "ruinous cold war" that "threatens to burst into an incomparably disastrous hot and burning war."

He appealed to people everywhere in the "great human family" to join in vast action to avert the threat.

The pope addressed 200 delegates to the international congress of social studies.

He told them a common effort to give people a fuller life, "one of the most preoccupying factors in the international situation, is the great social problem that must be met at the crossroads of the present hour."

The 74-year-old Pontiff said "millions of men are suffering in modern society and an immense multitude of unhappy ones are hungry or threatened with hunger by unemployment."

Without mentioning communism specifically, he said:

"It is upon their misery, their discouragement, that the spirit of evil gambles to hurl them into the current of atheism and materialism and use them in mechanisms of social organizations contradictory to the order established by God."

Then, he said, the poor millions "dazed by the blinding light of beautiful promises, by bold claims of successes that can not be checked are tempted to abandon themselves to easy illusions."

Such illusions, he added, "cannot but lead them to new and terrible social upheavals."

"It is necessary to look full in the face, in its full extent, the duty of giving to innumerable families, in their natural, moral, juridical and economic unity, a just, vital space—even though in modest measure — at least sufficient to the needs for human dignity."

He declared industrialization some times has been accomplished at the cost of agricultural economy.

"One has too often attempted mass production, exploitation to exhaustion of all resources of the earth, and, above all, one has sacrificed agricultural people and economy too much to these attempts."

LAKE PROVIDENCE

Highlighting the social calendar of the week was the beautifully appointed tea on Monday afternoon at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Forrest M. Terral complimenting Mrs. Robert Twohig, Jr., of Huntington, W. Va. Mrs. Terral and Mrs. Frank Voelker, Jr., were hostsesses for the hours of four to six, when more than 100 guests were entertained.

The reception suite was effective in a decoration of mixed spring flowers. To receive their guests Mrs. Terral was gowned in white crepe print of tailored simplicity and Mrs. Voelker a blue and white sheer. Mrs. Twohig's gown of black crepe was enhanced by a rope of pearls and shoulder corsage of red carnations.

The tea table was overlaid with a grass linen cloth with lace medallion insets. Three light candelabra burned at either end of the table which was centered with a low bowl of mixed flowers. Alternating at the punch bowl were Mrs. H. H. Howington, Jr., who was gowned in an orange chambray with brown jacket with lapel and cuffs of orange and Mrs. Stephen H. Guenard, wearing a black crepe printed with red and white carnation design. Each wore a shoulder corsage of seasonal flowers.

Hosts at "Star Bellaggio plantation", Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Peeler, noted for their hospitality and good eating were up to par on Wednesday evening when they entertained the Stewardship class of the Methodist church school with turkey and all the trimmings.

The recently enlarged living room was lovely with day lilies, shasta daises and radiance roses from the home garden.

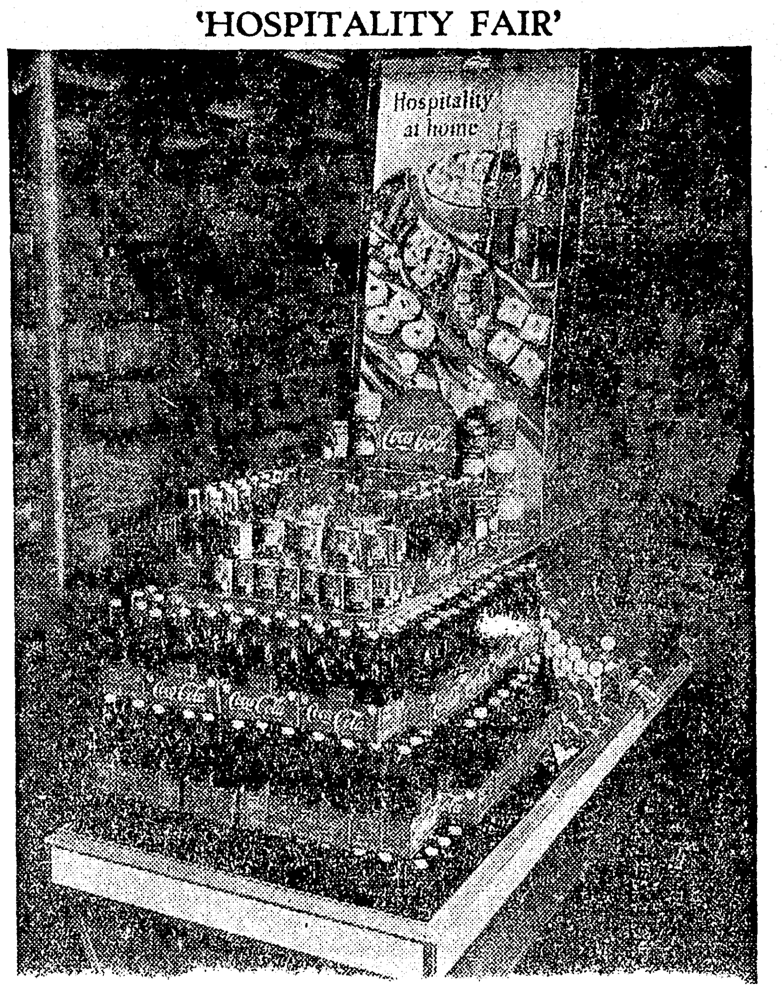
The banquet board was overlaid with quaker lace cloth and cenered with low crystal bowl of mixed flowers. Tall pink tapers in crystal candlesticks burned for effective lighting. E. J. Perry assited in the serving.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lutcher Dalfume, Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Russell, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Green, Mr. and Mrs. Atlas Harrison and son Ronnie, Mr. and Mrs. William Shirey and son, Bill, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Grady McDonald, Mrs. John Hester, Mrs. W. R. Abernethy, Mrs. H. T. Van Fossen, Miss Nikki Cade, Miss Fleeta Howell, Mrs. John Rolfe Howard and Mrs. F. A. Babb.

Mrs. John L. Logan, Jr., and son Ronnie enroute to Dallas stopped over in Crew Lake for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. John L. Logan, and attended the Eastern Star school of instruction in Monroe. Continuing to Dallas a two weeks visit will be enjoyed with Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Turnage and to Wichita Falls to visit Ronnie's grandparents Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Slack.

Mary Ann Rose, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Rose will attend camp Rockwood, Brevard, N. C. this summer.

'HOSPITALITY FAIR'



Food stores and Coca-Cola bottlers all over the country have begun a special promotion campaign to brighten the nation's summer meals. The "Hospitality Fair," based on mass displays of top suggestions for hot weather fare and Coca-Cola has attracted the attention of both dealers and shoppers from coast to coast.

The Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of Monroe and many Twin Cities stores have already begun the campaign in the Monroe area.

Advertising campaigns, special promotions and "Hospitality" sales mark the exploitation plan. The "Fair" opened in neighborhood stores and supermarkets on the first of June, and will continue through the fifth of July.

Retailers credit the campaign with attracting the attention of the food-buying public to the summer specialties in their stores, the warm-weather foods that suit the temperatures and the taste. The nationwide fame of Coca-Cola, they find, affords a wonderful opportunity to tie in their other summer specials.

Cold cuts of all descriptions, sliced meats, light and tasty appetizers and crisp, light crackers are the shoppers' choice for first place on the summer menu. Fruits prepared with an eye toward visual attraction as well as taste are also favorites of the average housewife during the hot months.

This month, shoppers are keeping an eye for appetizing, bargain-priced delicacies on the gay display, the "Hospitality Fair" at their grocer's.

Pattern And Materials Now Part Of Hobby Kit

By Adelaide Kerr

NEW YORK—Even if you do think you are "all thumbs," you can have a hobby now. It has been made easy for you with dozens of different kits that give you —all in one Box—tools, rules and a shove down a road so well mapped that it is virtually impossible to get lost.

All the materials you need are in the kit. Clear-cut instructions direct every move. Patterns for tracing set the design. Your part is to follow the leader.

Suppose you hanker to carve, but you don't know how to begin. For you there is a kit with blocks of far eastern stone—jade, ebony and other shades with marble markings—so soft it can be cut with a penknife. You can carve, file, drill, sandpaper, oil and polish it to make chess men, book ends, ash trays and a lot of other things.

If you do a good careful job you can turn out something astonishingly handsome.

Oil Painting Is Foolprooff

Or suppose you love color and long to paint, but you can't draw. To your paint kit you can add a lithograph of a painting you would like to make and a canvas with the outlines. If you need more help than that, you can get canvass marked off in numbered sections and correspondingly numbered capsules of paint. Instructions say "Paint capsule 10 in Square 10."

Nobody pretends to call it art. But a lot of people call it fun. And many have found hobbies like this a fine remedy for the Wish-I-was-a-millionaire blues.

"More and more people are turning to hobbies especially of the model kit type," says Irwin S. Polk, president of Polk's Model Craft Hobbies, Inc. "Shorter working hours have given them more time. Slimmer pocketbooks make them want some amusement which won't cost much. And wartime work taught a lot of people the pleasure of working with their hands. They find an answer to all these in the model kit hobby."

Many Cash In on Hobbies

Edward Miller, former president of the Model Industry Association, a trade group, reports substantial increase in the sale of hobby kits in the past year. And Edward T. Hall, founder and director of the Universal School of Handicrafts says lots of retired people, and others, have made their hobbies yield pay dirt to help support them.

If what you want is play, there is plenty for you in kits of model ships, airplanes, automobiles and trains, with a ready made building start. You don't have to be a whittling expert to build ship models any more. You can start with a hull already carved and set the rigging to produce a miniature schooner, Spanish galleon, pirate brig or what you will. With a correspondingly stimulated start you can build railroad trains and a model town and play tycoon or create a fleet of racing automobiles or airplanes that will fly.

But most of the model kits designed to appeal to home hungry Americans provide work to beautify the home. And all the work can be done there too. There are paints for china and glass, which can be fired to a permanent finish in your own oven, set to 300 degrees for 15 minutes. Plaster of Paris figures now in the market can be treated the same way to ornament your bookshelves. Or you can make your own ceramics—statuettes, vases, bowls and such—and fire them in the home oven, too. Or paint designs on your draperies and curtains, and set the color permanently with an iron.

Furniture Offers A Field

One of the most popular hobbies for men is woodwork-refurbishing old furniture pieces and building new. If that is beyond our ability today.

One New York clerk, who thought he was completely "butter-fingered," when it came to work with his hands, succumbed to the rainy-night lure of a kit that produced a little wooden old-world cart, designed to hold plants at the kitchen window or fruit for the children. In no time, he was back for a second, a third and a fourth.

"What's the matter?" asked the store manager. "Did you spoil those others?"

"Spoil nothing!" said the clerk indignantly. "My mother saw mine and she wanted one and my sister-in-law saw hers and she wanted one and now my cousin. . . . "

Gov. Reports Destruction Of Stronghold In Burma

RAGOON, Burma, June 3. —(AP)—The Communist rebel army stronghold at Yinchintaung in the rich Tavoy tin mine district of lower Burma was reported destroyed by Government troops today.

Offical reports said 35 Red-flagged arsenals, barracks and warehouses were set afire during a government offensive that inflicted heavy losses on Red flag (Trotskyite) Communists.

Survivors were reported escaping by sea.

The government soldiers were reported wounded.

A communique reported successes against two other rebel elements — the white band People's Volunteer Organization (P. V. O.) and the Karen tribesmen who are fighting to set up a state of their own.

The government announcement told of P. V. O. surrenders in North Central and South Burma.

A split in the top P. V. O. ranks was indicated by a published report that P. V. O. Chief Bo Po Kun threatens to shoot himself dead if his hot-headed lieutenants persist in disobeying his command for a cease-fire.

Negro Arrested On Shooting Charge

A 49-year-old Monroe Negro identified as Hosey Lewis, of 222 South Twenty-Second street, was arrested by city police early Saturday and booked for shooting with the intent to kill.

He was transferred to the parish jail and no bond had been fixed on his case late Saturday.

Lewis is charged with having shot Mack Hatten, 49, Negro, of 505 North Eleventh street shortly before 11:30 p.m. Friday with a .12 gauge shotgun following an argument over $50.

Hatten was taken by a Mulhearn ambulance to the charity hospital where he is being treated for gunshot wounds in the left shoulder and lower portion of the neck.

BOOKS EX-MARINE FOR KILLING AUNT

Wm. Elwell Returned To Melrose, Mass., After Capture By Police

MELROSE, Mass., June 4.—(AP)—Stolid after being brought back to the still-bloodstained house of the crime, a 19-year-old ex-marine was booked on a murder charge today in the beating death of his well-to-do aunt.

William W. Elwell of East Sullivan, Me., was returned here by police after his gunpoint capture in Portland, Me., yesterday.

The body of his aunt, Mrs. Viola Tully, 56-year-old widow, was found in a watery ditch in Scarboro, a Portland suburb.

Massachusetts State Police Lt. Sylvester Meade said the bushy-haired youth admitted orally that he beat his aunt to death Thursday night and then stuffed her body in the trunk of her car before the flight to Maine.

Handcuffed to a police lieutenant, Elwell was poker-faced as he came out of the nine-room house after being inside with investigators for about 15 minutes.

District Atty. George E. Thompson said Elwell would be arraigned Monday in Malden district court.

Newsmen were barred from the house during what Thompson said was "a partial reenactment of the crime."

Lt. Joseph Conniff said Elwell told him he attacked his aunt while she was reading a newspaper.

Earlier, police said tests showed evidence of blood on Elwell's hands.

Police quoted Elwell as saying he beat his aunt with a foot-long metal tool which had small wheels and two prongs at one end.

They said he told them he wanted his aunt's automobile to drive to an air force field at San Antonio, Tex. Discharged from the marines a year ago, he was scheduled for an enlistment examination at the Texas field.

He was turned over to Massachusetts authorities this morning after waiving extradition in municipal court in Portland.

CHAIRMAN TREATED

SAN FRANCISCO, June 3.—(AP)—William Z. Foex, national chairman of the Communist party, is in San Francisco for treatment of a heart ailment. He said he expected to be here until September.

Foster, who was indicted with 11 other top Communist leaders recently convicted in New York of conspiracy charges in connection with party activities, obtained a delay in his case because of ill health.

He said no tral date had been set for him. He declared the trial of the 11 was "an outrageous travesity on justice."

Sears, Roebuck & Co., for instance, sent out its mid-summer catalogue with thousands of items marked down an average of 7 per cent from those prevailing in the spring order book. Biggest reductions were in seasonal wearing apparel but there were cuts of 25 per cent in ice cream freezers; 16 per cent in garden hose and 12 per cent slash in refrigerators. Homewares were lowered by an average of 11 per cent.

Reports were heard in trade circles that refrigerator sales of big department stores were not so strong these days—with summer just around the corner. Big discounts and unusually easy installment terms have featured some recent clearance sales of other household goods, including television sets and radios.

While internal conditions within individual selling organiations probably had something to do with some of these situations, there was enough evidence of another kind to encourage the thought that heavy consumer demand for numerous types of "hard goods" may have witnessed its peak, at least for the summer months.

If this turns out to be the case, it will not take long for production at current rates to restore inventories to a point where further price increases will be discouraged by normal competitive conditions.

Steel mills came close to providing the country with another record output this week. Operating at 101.5 per cent of capacity, the industry turned out 1,934,900 tons of finished products. This was an insignificant drop from last week's record high of 1,940,600 tons achieved on an operating rate of 101.8 per cent of capacity.

It was the seventh straight week in which the mills worked above theoretical capacity and from all evidence available at the end of the week, another record operation can be expected next week.

There is not the slightest suggestion anywhere that the extraordinary demand for finished steel from all sources is likely to lessen in the nearby future. Iron age said there were three outstanding factors in the present situation: 1—Runaway scrap markets. 2—Conversion deals. 3—Premium prices extending to $20 a ton on cold-rolled sheets.

Automobile production was a little under the preceding week due to a two-day holiday observed by General Motors and some other makers, but assemblies of 147,914 units were well ahead of last year's 98,087 in this country and Canada. Output in the previous week was 186,249 units a record high for all-time.

Heavy engineering construction contract awards were again at exceptionally high levels, although a bit under the large volume of last week. The figures were $206,467,000 this week against $291,190,000 in the preceding period and compared with $123,055,000 a year ago.

Electric power production was up this week to 5,893,782,000 kilowatthours from 5,844,561,000 in the preceding week. The total was far ahead of last year's 5,270,161,000.

Managers of this great American industry will meet in Atlantic City next week for their annual confab and advance indications are they will be able to report the vast $9,000,000,000 expansion and modter the war more than half completed.

Freight carloadings showed improvement with considerable assistance from miscellaneous freight and coal loadings. The total in the latest week of 780,959 stacked up favorably with last year's 784,824 and was well ahead of loadings of 743,307 in the preceding period.

There was a modest pickup in soft coal production at 10,200,000 tons, crude oil production of 5,041,000 barrels was almost even with that in the preceding week and not greatly changed from a year ago. Paper and paper board output was about in line with production in the preceding week but showed wide gains over last year.

The stock market plodded an unusually narrow course and would up about where it started in the averages. It was a short week with activity suspended on Tuesday for the Memorial Day tribute and again on Saturday, start of the summer schedule. As a result sales fell to 5,674,799 shares from 8,200,595 in the preceding full week but even then turnover was far out in front of last year's measley 3,742,172 shares.

Banking statistics were uninteresting except for a drop of $18,000,000 in business loans by banks, reversing a recent tendency to rise in response to seasonal needs of farmers and others doing spring work. There was no particular reason assigned for the poor showing.

Hormone Injections Can Cure Alcoholism

By Alton L. Blakeslee

NEW YORK, June 3.—(AP)—Hormone injections can break up alcoholism and drug addiction, two physicians said today.

They reported evidence that both alcoholics and drug addicts suffer from the same trouble—lazy or impaired adrenal glands. Sleeping pill addicts even show the same mental patterns as alcoholics, they said.

In both addictions, the glands apparently don't produce enough of the hormones that come from the outer covering (cortex) of the adrenal glands, they said. The injections overcome this lack. The hormone used is Ace, adrenal cortical extract.

The report was made by Drs. Harold Lovelland, John W. Tintera of Flower and Fifth Avenue Hospitals, New York, to the American Geriatrics Society. Geriatrics is the medical specialization in problems and diseases of old age.

The hormone injections "eliminate the torturing crying out period in alcoholism and lessen significantly the recurrent craving for alcohol," they said.

The physicians urged a triple treatment for alcoholism. One, the hormone injections. Secondly, a diet low in starches and sugars, rich in proteins, and medium in fats. And third, joining alcoholics anonymous for moral support.

The harmone shots successfully overcome addiction to barbiturates or sleeping pills, and to narcotic drugs, they said. The treatment was much the same, but with more frequent injections of hormone. Sleep pill addicts were hospitalized 10 to 14 days, and narcotic addicts for at least three weeks.

Alcoholism is neither a purely mental or purely physical disease, Dr. Lovell and Dr. Tintera said. They called it a disease with both mental and physical sides that act and react on one another.

Their studies show the adrenal glands' failure is one of the main factors involved. This failure may come from an inherited tendency, or can be acquired, they said. It affects blood sugar and may have other physical effects.

The gland failure might even start through mental stimuli, such as grief or worry, they theorized. The emotional upset affects the gland, and the reduced hormone output then causes more nervous or emotional troubles, which in turn lead to more physical effects on the gland.

There is also evidence, they added, that alcohol and certain drugs may either start or aggravate the gland failure.

The hormone treatment for alcoholism and drug addicton is relatively simple and entirely safe under guidance of a competant physician, they said, and "the average patient should be under observation and treatment for one year."

DODSON

Mrs. J. G. Higgs of Rayville visited in Dodson last week with Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Lee and other friends.

Miss Loura Temple left Saturday for Longview, Texas for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Kenneth Parker and family. Little Becky Parker will return home with her.

Mrs. W. J. Pine, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Pine and children of Natchitoches visited friends in Dodson Thursday.

Mrs. R. W. Gates and Mrs. L. L. Lee attended hte Winn Parish Home Demonstration Club Council meeting Thursday at the Calvin High School. Mrs Herbert Moss of Winnfield, president, resigned due to the fact that she and Mr. Moss will make their home in Shreveport after June 1. Mrs. R. W. Gates will replace Mrs. Moss as president.

The Rev. J. O. Payne and family of Arcadia visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Payne Thursday and Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Sanders and children of Tullos spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. George Terral.

Mrs. H. J. Waters visited relatives in Alexandria last week and attended her daughter's graduation at Louisiana College who finished her nurses course.

Arnold Sanders of Columbia was here on business Monday.

SEARS OFFICIALS MAKE VISIT HERE

Group Includes Charles Kellstadt, Vice-President Of Sears Firm

Charles H. Kellstadt, vice-president of Sears, Roebuck and Co., in charge of the company's Southern territory, visited Monroe on a general inspection trip of the company's operations and Twin Cities in general early last week.

He was accompanied on this trip by T. S. Dunn, manager of the Memphis district, along with members of both territorial and district office staffs.

Kellstadt was recently appointed as vice-president in charge of the southern territory on February 6th. He is a veteran merchandising executive, having been with Sears, Roebuck and Co. since 1932.

In addition to his business duties, Mr. Kellstadt has long been active in charitable and civic projects on both a local and national scale. Currently he is serving as vice-chairman of the National American Red Cross, and as a member of the board of governors of the National Better Business Bureau. Until recently he was a director of the Chicago Housing Authority. The territory which Kellstadt supervises includes the states of Virginia, Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, eastern Louisiana, and eastern Arkansas. It contains three large mail order plants and 74 retail stores.

Atomic Scientist Finds Substance Is Radioactive

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(AP)—Atomic scientists who thought the substance tellurium 130 was stable have now discovered that it is radioactive — shedding half its atoms over a period of 1,500,000,000,000,000,000,000 years.

That's the longest time interval ever measures — 500,000,000,000 times the age of the earth—the atomic energy commission said in announcing the discovery.

The agency said that while a pair of its researchers were learning this at the Argonne National Laboratory in Chicago, another scientist at the University of California in Berkeley was clocking the life-span of a neutral meson—the shortest-lived sub-atomic particle.

This meson lasts just one tentrillionth of a second, the commission reported. It noted that the half-life of tellurium 130 is 500,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000,000 times as long as the life of the neutral meson.

The meson is measured by Dr. Herbert York; the isotope tellurium 13 by Dr. Mark G. Ingraham and John Reynolds.

Says Only Way To Prevent Disastrous Hot And Burning War

VATICAN CITY, June 3.—(AP)—Pope Pius XII said today only a world-wide coalition of people of good will can bring peace out of "ruinous cold war" that "threatens to burst into an incomparably disastrous hot and burning war."

He appealed to people everywhere in the "great human family" to join in vast action to avert the threat.

The pope addressed 200 delegates to the international congress of social studies.

He told them a common effort to give people a fuller life, "one of the most preoccupying factors in the international situation, is the great social problem that must be met at the crossroads of the present hour."

The 74-year-old Pontiff said "millions of men are suffering in modern society and an immense multitude of unhappy ones are hungry or threatened with hunger by unemployment."

Without mentioning communism specifically, he said:

"It is upon their misery, their discouragement, that the spirit of evil gambles to hurl them into the current of atheism and materialism and use them in mechanisms of social organizations contradictory to the order established by God."

Then, he said, the poor millions "dazed by the blinding light of beautiful promises, by bold claims of successes that can not be checked are tempted to abandon themselves to easy illusions."

Such illusions, he added, "cannot but lead them to new and terrible social upheavals."

"It is necessary to look full in the face, in its full extent, the duty of giving to innumerable families, in their natural, moral, juridical and economic unity, a just, vital space—even though in modest measure — at least sufficient to the needs for human dignity."

He declared industrialization some times has been accomplished at the cost of agricultural economy.

"One has too often attempted mass production, exploitation to exhaustion of all resources of the earth, and, above all, one has sacrificed agricultural people and economy too much to these attempts."

LAKE PROVIDENCE

Highlighting the social calendar of the week was the beautifully appointed tea on Monday afternoon at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Forrest M. Terral complimenting Mrs. Robert Twohig, Jr., of Huntington, W. Va. Mrs. Terral and Mrs. Frank Voelker, Jr., were hostsesses for the hours of four to six, when more than 100 guests were entertained.

The reception suite was effective in a decoration of mixed spring flowers. To receive their guests Mrs. Terral was gowned in white crepe print of tailored simplicity and Mrs. Voelker a blue and white sheer. Mrs. Twohig's gown of black crepe was enhanced by a rope of pearls and shoulder corsage of red carnations.

The tea table was overlaid with a grass linen cloth with lace medallion insets. Three light candelabra burned at either end of the table which was centered with a low bowl of mixed flowers. Alternating at the punch bowl were Mrs. H. H. Howington, Jr., who was gowned in an orange chambray with brown jacket with lapel and cuffs of orange and Mrs. Stephen H. Guenard, wearing a black crepe printed with red and white carnation design. Each wore a shoulder corsage of seasonal flowers.

Hosts at "Star Bellaggio plantation", Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Peeler, noted for their hospitality and good eating were up to par on Wednesday evening when they entertained the Stewardship class of the Methodist church school with turkey and all the trimmings.

The recently enlarged living room was lovely with day lilies, shasta daises and radiance roses from the home garden.

The banquet board was overlaid with quaker lace cloth and cenered with low crystal bowl of mixed flowers. Tall pink tapers in crystal candlesticks burned for effective lighting. E. J. Perry assited in the serving.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lutcher Dalfume, Mr. and Mrs. Ogden Russell, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Green, Mr. and Mrs. Atlas Harrison and son Ronnie, Mr. and Mrs. William Shirey and son, Bill, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Grady McDonald, Mrs. John Hester, Mrs. W. R. Abernethy, Mrs. H. T. Van Fossen, Miss Nikki Cade, Miss Fleeta Howell, Mrs. John Rolfe Howard and Mrs. F. A. Babb.

Mrs. John L. Logan, Jr., and son Ronnie enroute to Dallas stopped over in Crew Lake for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. John L. Logan, and attended the Eastern Star school of instruction in Monroe. Continuing to Dallas a two weeks visit will be enjoyed with Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Turnage and to Wichita Falls to visit Ronnie's grandparents Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Slack.

Mary Ann Rose, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Rose will attend camp Rockwood, Brevard, N. C. this summer.

'HOSPITALITY FAIR'

Hospitality at home
Coca-Cola

Food stores and Coca-Cola bottlers all over the country have begun a special promotion campaign to brighten the nation's summer meals. The "Hospitality Fair," based on mass displays of top suggestions for hot weather fare and Coca-Cola has attracted the attention of both dealers and shoppers from coast to coast.

The Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of Monroe and many Twin Cities stores have already begun the campaign in the Monroe area.

Advertising campaigns, special promotions and "Hospitality" sales mark the exploitation plan. The "Fair" opened in neighborhood stores and supermarkets on the first of June, and will continue through the fifth of July.

Retailers credit the campaign with attracting the attention of the food-buying public to the summer specialties in their stores, the warm-weather foods that suit the temperatures and the taste. The nationwide fame of Coca-Cola, they find, affords a wonderful opportunity to tie in their other summer specials.

Cold cuts of all descriptions, sliced meats, light and tasty appetizers and crisp, light crackers are the shoppers' choice for first place on the summer menu. Fruits prepared with an eye toward visual attraction as well as taste are also favorites of the average housewife during the hot months.

This month, shoppers are keeping an eye for appetizing, bargain-priced delicacies on the gay display, the "Hospitality Fair" at their grocer's.

By Adelaide Kerr

NEW YORK—Even if you do think you are "all thumbs," you can have a hobby now. It has been made easy for you with dozens of different kits that give you—all in one Box—tools, rules and a shove down a road so well mapped that it is virtually impossible to get lost.

All the materials you need are in the kit. Clear-cut instructions direct every move. Patterns for tracing set the design. Your part is to follow the leader.

Suppose you hanker to carve, but you don't know how to begin. For you there is a kit with blocks of far eastern stone—jade, ebony and other shades with marble markings—so soft it can be cut with a penknife. You can carve, file, drill, sandpaper, oil and polish it to make chess men, book ends, ash trays and a lot of other things.

If you do a good careful job you can turn out something astonishingly handsome.

Oil Painting Is Foolprooff

Or suppose you love color and long to paint, but you can't draw. To your paint kit you can add a lithograph of a painting you would like to make and a canvas with the outlines. If you need more help than that, you can get canvass marked off in numbered sections and correspondingly numbered capsules of paint. Instructions say "Paint capsule 10 in Square 10."

Nobody pretends to call it art. But a lot of people call it fun. And many have found hobbies like this a fine remedy for the Wish-I-was-a-millionaire blues.

"More and more people are turning to hobbies especially of the model kit type," says Irwin S. Polk, president of Polk's Model Craft Hobbies, Inc. "Shorter working hours have given them more time. Slimmer pocketbooks make them want some amusement which won't cost much. And wartime work taught a lot of people the pleasure of working with their hands. They find an answer to all these in the model kit hobby."

Many Cash In on Hobbies

Edward Miller, former president of the Model Industry Association, a trade group, reports substantial increase in the sale of hobby kits in the past year. And Edward T. Hall, founder and director of the Universal School of Handicrafts says lots of retired people, and others, have made their hobbies yield pay dirt to help support them.

If what you want is play, there is plenty for you in kits of model ships, airplanes, automobiles and trains, with a ready made building start. You don't have to be a whittling expert to build ship models any more. You can start with a hull already carved and set the rigging to produce a miniature schooner, Spanish galleon, pirate brig or what you will. With a correspondingly stimulated start you can build railroad trains and a model town and play tycoon or create a fleet of racing automobiles or airplanes that will fly.

But most of the model kits designed to appeal to home hungry Americans provide work to beautify the home. And all the work can be done there too. There are paints for china and glass, which can be fired to a permanent finish in your own oven, set to 300 degrees for 15 minutes. Plaster of Paris figures now in the market can be treated the same way to ornament your bookshelves. Or you can make your own ceramics—statuettes, vases, bowls and such—and fire them in the home oven, too. Or paint designs on your draperies and curtains, and set the color permanently with an iron.

Furniture Offers A Field

One of the most popular hobbies for men is woodwork-refurbishing old furniture pieces and building new. If that is beyond our ability today.

One New York clerk, who thought he was completely "butter-fingered," when it came to work with his hands, succumbed to the rainy-night lure of a kit that produced a little wooden old-world cart, designed to hold plants at the kitchen window or fruit for the children. In no time, he was back for a second, a third and a fourth.

"What's the matter?" asked the store manager. "Did you spoil those others?"

"Spoil nothing!" said the clerk indignantly. "My mother saw mine and she wanted one and my sister-in-law saw hers and she wanted one and now my cousin. . . ."

Gov. Reports Destruction Of Stronghold In Burma

RAGOON, Burma, June 3. —(AP)—The Communist rebel army stronghold at Yinchintaung in the rich Tavoy tin mine district of lower Burma was reported destroyed by Government troops today.

Offical reports said 35 Red-flagged arsenals, barracks and warehouses were set afire during a government offensive that inflicted heavy losses on Red flag (Trotskyite) Communists.

Survivors were reported escaping by sea.

The government soldiers were reported wounded.

A communique reported successes against two other rebel elements — the white band People's Volunteer Organization (P. V. O.) and the Karen tribesmen who are fighting to set up a state of their own.

The government announcement told of P. V. O. surrenders in North Central and South Burma.

A split in the top P. V. O. ranks was indicated by a published report that P. V. O. Chief Bo Po Kun threatens to shoot himself dead if his hot-headed lieutenants persist in disobeying his command for a cease-fire.

Negro Arrested On Shooting Charge

A 49-year-old Monroe Negro identified as Hosey Lewis, of 222 South Twenty-Second street, was arrested by city police early Saturday and booked for shooting with the intent to kill.

He was transferred to the parish jail and no bond had been fixed on his case late Saturday.

Lewis is charged with having shot Mack Hatten, 49, Negro, of 505 North Eleventh street shortly before 11:30 p.m. Friday with a .12 gauge shotgun following an argument over $50.

Hatten was taken by a Mulhearn ambulance to the charity hospital where he is being treated for gunshot wounds in the left shoulder and lower portion of the neck.

BOOKS EX-MARINE FOR KILLING AUNT

Wm. Elwell Returned To Melrose, Mass., After Capture By Police

MELROSE, Mass., June 4.—(AP)—Stolid after being brought back to the still-bloodstained house of the crime, a 19-year-old ex-marine was booked on a murder charge today in the beating death of his well-to-do aunt.

William W. Elwell of East Sullivan, Me., was returned here by police after his gunpoint capture in Portland, Me., yesterday.

The body of his aunt, Mrs. Viola Tully, 56-year-old widow, was found in a watery ditch in Scarboro, a Portland suburb.

Massachusetts State Police Lt. Sylvester Meade said the bushy-haired youth admitted orally that he beat his aunt to death Thursday night and then stuffed her body in the trunk of her car before the flight to Maine.

Handcuffed to a police lieutenant, Elwell was poker-faced as he came out of the nine-room house after being inside with investigators for about 15 minutes.

District Atty. George E. Thompson said Elwell would be arraigned Monday in Malden district court.

Newsmen were barred from the house during what Thompson said was "a partial reenactment of the crime."

Lt. Joseph Conniff said Elwell told him he attacked his aunt while she was reading a newspaper.

Earlier, police said tests showed evidence of blood on Elwell's hands.

Police quoted Elwell as saying he beat his aunt with a foot-long metal tool which had small wheels and two prongs at one end.

They said he told them he wanted his aunt's automobile to drive to an air force field at San Antonio, Tex. Discharged from the marines a year ago, he was scheduled for an enlistment examination at the Texas field.

He was turned over to Massachusetts authorities this morning after waiving extradition in municipal court in Portland.

CHAIRMAN TREATED

SAN FRANCISCO, June 3.—(AP)—William Z. Foex, national chairman of the Communist party, is in San Francisco for treatment of a heart ailment. He said he expected to be here until September.

Foster, who was indicted with 11 other top Communist leaders recently convicted in New York of conspiracy charges in connection with party activities, obtained a delay in his case because of ill health.

He said no tral date had been set for him. He declared the trial of the 11 was "an outrageous travesity on justice."

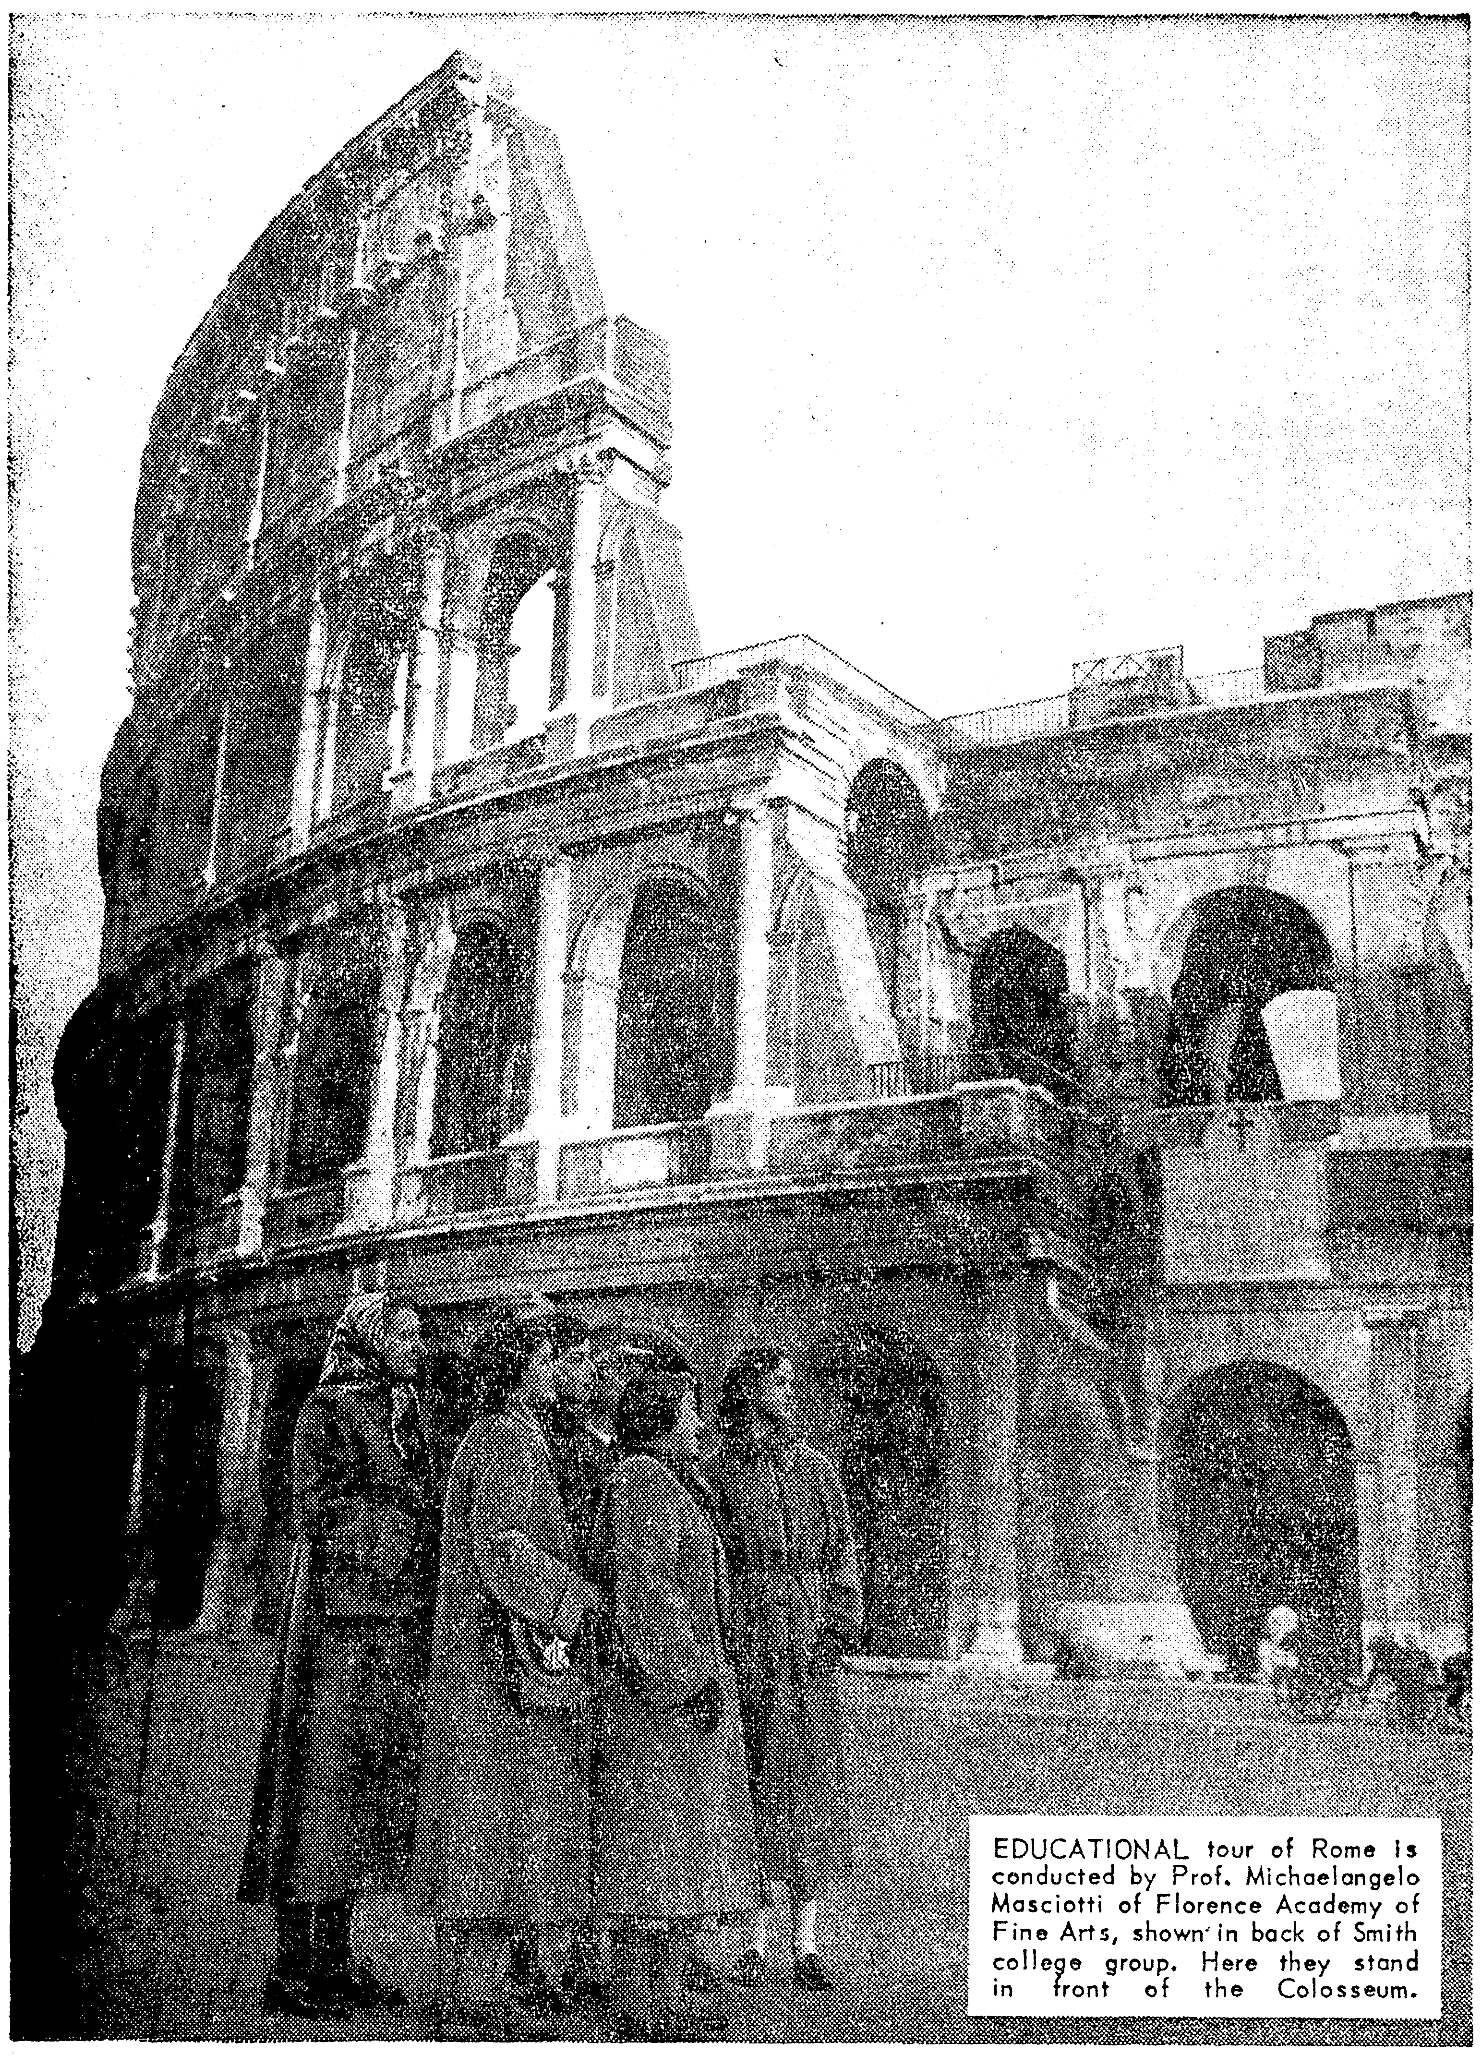
U.S.CLASSROOM OVERSEAS



EDUCATIONAL tour of Rome is conducted by Prof. Michaelangelo Masciotti of Florence Academy of Fine Arts, shown in back of Smith college group. Here they stand in front of the Colosseum.

Each year Smith College, girls' school at Northampton, Mass., sends a group of juniors to study abroad, giving them the opportunity to develop the broader outlook and wider interests that come through contact with students, teachers, and peoples of other nations. In each case students carry a college program in the foreign countries which fulfills the junior year requirements at Smith. The girls are enrolled in colleges in France, Italy, Switzerland and Mexico. The 34 members of the group in Switzerland live in a hotel and study at the University of Geneva. About half of the Paris students live with French families for the first time since the war. They study at the Sorbonne, the Ecole de Louvre and the Institut d'Etudes. The juniors in Italy live with Italian families in Florence. Classes in Mexico are under the direction of teachers at El Colegio de Mexico and the National Museum of Anthropology and Archaeology. Pictured here are Smith's junior misses in France and Italy.

HOMEWORK. Jeannette Ballentine studies at home of Adolfo Pecchioli in Florence. She's living with family.

AFTERNOON tea with members of Cantagalli family in Florence is enjoyed by Alberta Chenet, second from right.

THE SMITH girls listen to lecture on Italian literature by Prof. Lanfranco Caretti at University of Florence.

PLOTTING course for bike ride in Paris are Barbara Johnson, Mary Freedman, Diana Gatch, Connie Gilger.

Cards of Thanks

I wish to take this means to express my sincere thanks and deepest gratitude, to all my friends and neighbors for their kindness and sympathy toward the sudden loss of my dear pal and husband, Lucien N. Talbot. I wish to thank the Hixon Bros., Mr. Miller and his entire staff of the funeral home and especially Rev. Ernest Holloway for the manner in which the funeral was conducted. I also want to express my deepest appreciation to the American Legion Post for the ceremonies at the grave.

MRS. L. N. TALBOT.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our deep gratitude and appreciation to our friends and neighbors, Dr. Taylor, Rev. Cage, and Rev. Bryan for their kindness and sympathy during the illness and loss of our dear father and Husband, Mr. W. L. Emory of Chroudant, La.

Ouachita Parish High School Has Annual Commencement

That youth today faces a changing world, was the message given members of the 1950 class of Ouachita Parish High School at their commencement exercises in Neville High auditorium Friday night. The speaker was Dr. Joe J. Mickle president of Centenary College.

The members of the class filed into the auditorium to the strains of a number by the school's band, "Amparito Roca," after which invocation was by Dr. Ernest Duncan Holloway.

Ouachita Parish High School choir then rendered "Were You There" after which the salutatory address was given by Mary Jo Inzina. It was entitled "Social Aspects of the Changing South."

The valedictory address, "Economic Aspects of the Changing South" was by Jane Steed.

The address of the evening by Dr. Mickle, in part was as follows:

"Although it has become rather trite to say that we live in a changing world, yet a short glance backward over the past 50 years of American life quickly verifies this fact. Fifty years ago many of the things which are now accepted as commonplace in our mechanized life didn't exist. Many of the outward evidences of our present material civilization were not present 50 years ago.

There were few paved roads, and these only within city limits. There were no great connecting highways from city to city across our land.

There were no automobiles, no moving pictures, phonographs, electric refrigerators, airplanes, radios, or television. Another thing, high school graduation was not a common occurence among young people. It was an uncommon thing. And, college graduation was the good fortune of a relatively small number. The world has changed.

"Some people, however, either have not heard of the changing world or thoroughly disapprove of the majority of changes which they see taking place. Some complain, "Students don't think the way they did 30 years ago." Perhaps a proper reply to these people would be, "They never did." Yet rapid change is a significant fact in the life of every young person. You may face a changing world in two ways. You may be afraid of it, you may shrink from it, you may face it with fear and trembling. You may say, "Oh, what's the use. We don't know what's coming. The chances are there is to be another war and we will all be killed anyway. There is no use for further preparation."

"However, I am confident that despite all the talk about the atomic bomb the human race is not going to destroy itself. Life will go on and we will continue to need all of the preparation, all of the courage, all of the virtues of moral living, and clear heads.

"There is a second way to face a changing world, and I am going to call it "Houdini's Way." Houdini in his life time was able to escape from sealed coffins, riveted boilers, and every type of jail. How did he do this? He did it by rigid training of body and mind and by having a scientific knowledge of locks. Houdini never knew what new situation might confront him, but his motto seemed to have been "Prepare yourself as best you can and when you face a new situation tackle it as best you can." He faced life with courage and preparation.

"One other thought, all change is not good change. All new things are not automatically superior. The mature mind and the well educated mind is needed to sense the difference. If you now take it for granted that your present store of knowledge is sufficient for the rest of your life, you are making a tragic mistake. In a rapidly changing world, particularly in a democracy, we need education and maturity to a high degree.

"America today is suffering from immature minds trying to interpret democracy. Too many believe that everything should come easily in a democracy simply because it is a democracy. Others, particularly young people, sometimes seem to think that in a democracy there should be no rules and regulations beyond their own wills and desires. This too is wrong. Others talk very loudly of their so called "rights" under a Democratic form of government, and say nothing of their responsibilities. However, a Democratic society demands a thinking citizenship which, like Houdini, will face life with courage and with control over both body and mind."

Jane Wallace, talented musician and member of the class, directed the choir when they sand her original "Ouachita Parish High School Alma Mater" which was well received by the large audience.

Travis De Freese and Mary Jo Inzina were given the American Legion awards which were presented by H. Flood Madison, Jr. The Daughters of the American Revolution, Fort Miro Chapter award, was made to Jane Steed for superior excellence in American history. This award was made by Mrs. W. B. Inabnett.

Principal I. C. Strickland presented the graduates of the class of whom there were more than 200, after which J. H. Trousdale, Jr., president of the school board, presented diplomas.

Benediction was by Dr. Holloway.

Ouachita Parish High School Has Annual Commencement

That youth today faces a changing world, was the message given members of the 1950 class of Ouachita Parish High School at their commencement exercises in Neville High auditorium Friday night. The speaker was Dr. Joe J. Mickle president of Centenary College.

The members of the class filed into the auditorium to the strains of a number by the school's band, "Amparito Roca," after which invocation was by Dr. Ernest Duncan Holloway.

Ouachita Parish High School choir then rendered "Were You There" after which the salutatory address was given by Mary Jo Inzina. It was entitled "Social Aspects of the Changing South."

The valedictory address, "Economic Aspects of the Changing South" was by Jane Steed.

The address of the evening by Dr. Mickle, in part was as follows:

"Although it has become rather trite to say that we live in a changing world, yet a short glance backward over the past 50 years of American life quickly verifies this fact. Fifty years ago many of the things which are now accepted as commonplace in our mechanized life didn't exist. Many of the outward evidences of our present material civilization were not present 50 years ago.

There were few paved roads, and these only within city limits. There were no great connecting highways from city to city across our land.

There were no automobiles, no moving pictures, phonographs, electric refrigerators, airplanes, radios, or television. Another thing, high school graduation was not a common occurence among young people. It was an uncommon thing. And, college graduation was the good fortune of a relatively small number. The world has changed.

"Some people, however, either have not heard of the changing world or thoroughly disapprove of the majority of changes which they see taking place. Some complain, "Students don't think the way they did 30 years ago." Perhaps a proper reply to these people would be, "They never did." Yet rapid change is a significant fact in the life of every young person. You may face a changing world in two ways. You may be afraid of it, you may shrink from it, you may face it with fear and trembling. You may say, "Oh, what's the use. We don't know what's coming. The chances are there is to be another war and we will all be killed anyway. There is no use for further preparation."

"However, I am confident that despite all the talk about the atomic bomb the human race is not going to destroy itself. Life will go on and we will continue to need all of the preparation, all of the courage, all of the virtues of moral living, and clear heads.

"There is a second way to face a changing world, and I am going to call it "Houdini's Way." Houdini in his life time was able to escape from sealed coffins, riveted boilers, and every type of jail. How did he do this? He did it by rigid training of body and mind and by having a scientific knowledge of locks. Houdini never knew what new situation might confront him, but his motto seemed to have been "Prepare yourself as best you can and when you face a new situation tackle it as best you can." He faced life with courage and preparation.

"One other thought, all change is not good change. All new things are not automatically superior. The mature mind and the well educated mind is needed to sense the difference. If you now take it for granted that your present store of knowledge is sufficient for the rest of your life, you are making a tragic mistake. In a rapidly changing world, particularly in a democracy, we need education and maturity to a high degree.

"America today is suffering from immature minds trying to interpret democracy. Too many believe that everything should come easily in a democracy simply because it is a democracy. Others, particularly young people, sometimes seem to think that in a democracy there should be no rules and regulations beyond their own wills and desires. This too is wrong. Others talk very loudly of their so called "rights" under a Democratic form of government, and say nothing of their responsibilities. However, a Democratic society demands a thinking citizenship which, like Houdini, will face life with courage and with control over both body and mind."

Jane Wallace, talented musician and member of the class, directed the choir when they sand her original "Ouachita Parish High School Alma Mater" which was well received by the large audience.

BRIDE-ELECT

Miss Nell Ricks, whose engagement and approaching marriage to Harold O. Wykoff, son of Mr. and Mrs. John O. Wykoff of Los Angeles, California, is announced today by her mother, Mrs. W. H. Ricks of this city. The wedding will take place June 16 at the Sunnyside Baptist Church in Los Angeles.

Nell Terry McCormick Bride Of Lloyd Frederick Church

Impressive Ceremony Takes Place In Home Of Bride's Parents

At a ceremony characterized by simple dignity and beauty, Miss Nell Terry McCormick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Henry McCormick exchanged vows with Lloyd Frederick Church, son of Mr. Edgar L. Church and the late Mrs. Church of this city.

The marriage was solemnized on Saturday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock, May 20, in the home of the bride's parents on Island drive with Dr. Ernest Holloway officiating in the prseence of close friends and relatives.

The bridal couple exchanged the vows of the impressive double ring ceremony before a setting of tall white baskets of madonna lilies, magnolia and fern.

Mrs. Dan Cox rendered a program of prenuptial music and accompanied Mrs. B. R. Brazzis as she sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore the traditional white satin wedding gown with bridal veil of net illusion trimmed in seed pearls. Her lovely bouquet was a single white orchid encircled with white rose buds. She wore a string of pearls, a gift from the groom.

Mrs. David A. Hill, sister of the bride, was her only attendant and was wearing an aqua taffeta gown and carried an old fashioned bouquet of daisies.

Mr. Robert Church served his brother as best man.

A reception immediately followed the ceremony. The dining room was decorated with white gladioli and daisies and placed on the buffet were tall tapers in silver candelabra.

Centering the lace covered dining table was the tiered wedding confection. Mrs. Herbert E. Dickard, aunt of the bride, presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. Sam Walker, Jr., assisted by Miss Emma Jane Weil, had charge of the bride's book. Tea girls were Miss Ann Wilson, Miss Faye Todd, Mrs. Aage Glud, Miss Sue Diskard and Mrs. George Whitmeyer.

The bride was wearing a suit of silk shantung with natural silk shantung accessories for their wedding trip to the Ozarks. After June 1 the couple will be at home in their apartment on Park avenue.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Dr. and Mrs. Jospeh H. McCormick, Jr., and son Steve, of New Orleans; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Terry of El Dorado, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Musgrave of Jackson, Miss.; Mrs. D. E.Watson and Mrs. C. W. Dew of Hamburg, Ark.

NEWS FROM THE GIRL SCOUTS

We want to remind all Intermediates and Brownies who are interested in learning to swim or in advanced swimming lessons that classes begin at the pool tomorrow at 3:00, 4:00, and 5:00 p.m. These classes will continue for ten days. Beginning June 19 there will be another ten-day period for those who were unable to make the first classes. Miss Annis Klie, our executive Director, Miss Shelby Meek and Mr. James Sisco will be the instructors. So lets be early birds and join them at the pool tomorrow.

Speaking of early birds, the first girl to register for swimming classes and day camping was Gloria Jean Rogillio, Troop 20, whose father, W. H. Rogillio, brought her by the office himself to sign up. Mr. Rogillio states he's especially interested in the day camp at Ki-Ro-Li because he attended the first Boy Scout camp there in 1929. So you see, twenty years from now you girls will still be treasuring pleasant memories of your camping experiences in 1950! That's how much fun they are.

Troop 4, Brownies, Mrs. Louis Turner, leader had their "Fly-Up" in the beautiful garden of Mrs. Turner's home recently and from all reports this ceremony was very outstanding and impressive. The flag ceremony was ably conducted by Judy Pou, flag bearer, Carey Sue Turner, color guard, and Susan Austin, color guard, and they looked lovely in their white summer dress, wearing red flag sashes. Mrs. W. H. Burke assisted with this part of the program and also pinned the wings on all members of this troop. Sue Grower then presented Mrs. Turner with a beautiful demi-tasse cup inscribed with "Brownie Troop 4, '47-'50" on behalf of the whole troop. At the end of the program, as if everything wasn't already beautiful enough, a rainbow glowed in the sky to make an even more impressive touch as Mrs. Turner presented each girl with her new Girl Scout Pin. Refreshments all in green, the scout color, were served to parents and guests by the girls. They served green punch with lime sherbet floating in it, and green Brownie cookies. So now they're full - fledged Girl Scouts and we welcome each and everyone.

And now, your reporter would like to wish you all a happy, happy vacation. We know it will be even happier for having attended our day camps and troop camps, so we'll be anxious to hear your reports on those in the Fall. Until then, have fun!

Welcome Garden Club Closes Season With Flower Lecturer

Mrs. Howard S. Kittel, Noted Authority, Makes Second Appearance Recently

Welcome Garden Club closed the season with Mrs. Howard S. Kittel's lecture and class instruction. Mrs. Kittel, recognized authority in flower work, made her second appearance here recently at the Virginia Hotel, under the auspices of this club. The club feels honored to have had such a fine response to the invitations to other clubs to take advantage of hearing this talented speaker. Eleven out-of-town clubs were represented, as well as several from West Monroe and Monroe.

Mrs. Kittel had arrived via airlines from her home in Ft. Worth Texas, the day prior to the meeting, and she had many lovely arrangements made in time for the lecture hour. She took each arrangement in turn, placing it upon a lazy-Suzan, and pointed out its good points or bad. Two beautifully appointed tables had been arranged, one formal and the other with informal setting, and Mrs. Kittel devoted a part of her lecture time to correct table settings. At the close of her lecture she made a lovely table arrangement of magnolias for the formal dinner table. Mrs. Kittel stressed that the back of an arrangement must have attention too, not only to be attractive from that angle, but to give it depth. Most of the arrangements she had prepared were designed for use on the dinner table, but several were made that would be appropriate for use in the church sancturary.

Ladies who signed the guest register were as follows: Mrs. J. W. Stegall, Mrs. W. P. Crawford, Mrs. B. Skidmore, Mrs. L. P. Craighead, Mrs. Fred Preeur, Mrs. Ralph Harper, Mrs. R. R. James, Mrs. L. S. Littleton, Mrs. Ralph Gullery, Mrs. N. B. James, Mrs. G. B. Hammons, Mrs. E. J. Sockett, Mrs. J. L. Glasgow, Mrs. Robert L. Watt, Mrs. Murphy Tannehill, Mrs. Zollie Meadows, Mrs. S. A. Halt, Mrs. C. A. Marlette, Mrs. C. A. Dalfume, Mrs. Edward D. Schneider, Mrs. Grace Van Valkenburgh, Mrs. T. T. Towles, Mrs. B. G. Coultes, Mrs. Benjamin I. Berry, Mrs. W. H. Bergston, Mrs. J. B. Knight, and Mrs. J. L. Fairbanks.

Mrs. Inez Callaway, Mrs. Leon Dennis, Mrs. Dan Dennett, Mrs. J. W. Golson, Mrs. Ethel Cooper, Mrs. W. B. Wheelis, Mrs. J. L. Warren, Mrs. R. W. Bandy, Mrs. O. R. Brauer, Mrs. W. A. Smith, Mrs. D. B. Gee, Mrs. Julius Fink, Mrs. J. P. Royce, Mrs. V. S. Garnett, Mrs. L. N. Copes, Mrs. H. G. Thompson, Mrs. T. Burford, Mrs. M. W. Montgomery, Mrs. J. F. Stone, Mrs. A. L. Dickerson, Mrs. C. A. Caldwell, Mrs. H. S. Coon, Mrs. W. L. Mitchell, Mrs. E. L. Page, Mrs A. G. McHenry, Miss Emy Lou Biedenharn, Mrs Harold Mouk, Mrs. J. C. Earnst, Mrs. H. W. Gill, Mrs. C. T. Johnson, Mrs. W. E. Young, Mrs. John A. Peters, Mrs. L. A. Smith, Mrs. Wesley Walters and Mrs. F. C. Howard.

Mrs. G. C. Williams, Mrs. Sam A. Orchard, Mrs. John Lewis, Mrs. Ray Rhymes, Mrs. O. M. White, Sr., Mrs. G. M. Gleason, Mrs. J. L. Hulin, Mrs. John Lewis, Mrs. Jewel McQuiller, Mrs. R. M. Kettenring, Mrs. Norman Jardine, Mrs. Henry Ray, Mrs. Robert Choats, Mrs. W. J. Coats, Mrs. J. H. Fairbanks, Mrs. R. R. Pigott, Mrs. J. H. Fairbanks, Mrs. L. Wright, Mrs. P. K. Smith, Mrs. W. J. Lewis, Mrs. S. H. Henderson, Mrs. George Nicol, Mrs. Alben Barksdale, Mrs. J. C. Ritchie, Mrs. G. C. McLaren, Mrs. A. Kiper, Mrs. Earl Shipp, Mrs. Julien Greenwall, Mrs. P. L. Berry, Mrs. R. Peroy, Mrs. W. A. Chatma and Mrs. F. T. Mulhearn.

During the afternoon hours Mrs. Kittel gave a class of instruction. She limited her class to number twenty because she feels a larger number would not get full benefit of her teachings. Each lady was equipped with container, flower holder, wire, clippers, flowers and greenery, and lovely arrangements were turned out under Mrs. Kittel's guidance.

CLUB COLORS USED IN DECORATIONS AT MEETING OF BONHOMIE CLUB

The annual meeting of the Bonhomie Club was held recently at a local restaurant, with husbands of the club members present. Club colors were carried out in the table decorations with lovely arrangements of yellow day lilies, green foliage, and Queen Ann's lace. The place cards bore a sprig of fern, the club flora.

After reading the club collect, as the invocation, the members and their guests were served a delightful dinner. The president, Mrs. George Forman, then welcomed the guests. After the dinner, Mrs. E. L. Hoskins gave a brief history of the Woman's Club, after which the group sang the Federated Woman's Club song "Louisiana." The following program was presented: Mrs. Robert Irby, accompanied by Mrs. G. E. Stedman, sang "The Song is Ended" and "Always". Mrs. Hal Laymon gave two readings, and Mr. E. L. Hoskins favored the group with his musical saw, playing "Moonlight and Roses" and "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life."

Following the program, Mrs. Forman gave the annual report, and the installation of new officers took place.

The following guests and members attended: Mrs. Jack Rushing, Mrs. Melvin Harrison, Mrs. G. E. Stedman, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McCready, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Lanier, Mr. and Mrs. George Forman, Mr. and Mrs. O. Willis, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hoskins, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Waldroup, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Irby, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Raye Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Laymon, Mrs. Rodman Collins, Mrs. L. H. Leverett, Mrs. W. D. Womack, Jr., and Mrs. R. B. Pilaut.

ROARER STAFF OF O. P. H. S. HAVE TRADITIONAL BREAKFAST

Crowded into the whirl of social activities for the graduates of the Ouachita Parish High School was the traditional breakfast held recently for the Roarer staff at which time each of the staff members received for their first examination a copy of the 1950 year book, which is unusually attractive this year with its hard red leather binding etched in white and the traditional Lion on the front cover, and using as its theme "The Lion."

Attractive place cards—replicas of the 1950 Roarer—marked the places for Mr. I. C. Strickland, principal of the school, Mr. S. R. Braley, assistant principal, Mrs. Sarah Hollingsworth and Miss Mary Annie Wall, sponsors of the student publication, Miss Grace Carter, senior class sponsor, Mr. Ed Hayman, and the following staff members: Mary Jo Inzina, Margaret Ann Tatum, Dorothy Willard, Jane Wallace, Jane Steed, Mary Poulos, Loraine McClendon, Peggy Newcomer, Anna Stokes, Jo Thompson, Ann Hinton, Claudette Schroeder, Marvin Terry, Barlow Inabnet, Frank Stevens, Tom Wafer, Gregory Hare, Quinton Van Cleave, John Jardine.

Unique programs done in the school colors added a further note of emphasis to the breakfast table.

Margaret Ann Tatum gave the invocation and Mary Jo Inzina, editor-in-chief of the year book welcomed the guests.

A high point in the program was the singing of the newly adopted Alma Mater written by Jane Wallace.

The sponsors, Mrs. Hollingsworth and Miss Wall were wearing lovely orchids presented to them by the staff.

The autographing of the new Roarers climaxed the 1950 Roarer breakfast.

Miss Nell Ricks, whose engagement and approaching marriage to Harold O. Wykoff, son of Mr. and Mrs. John O. Wykoff of Los Angeles, California, is announced today by her mother, Mrs. W. H. Ricks of this city. The wedding will take place June 16 at the Sunnyside Baptist Church in Los Angeles.

Nell Terry McCormick Bride Of Lloyd Frederick Church

Impressive Ceremony Takes Place In Home Of Bride's Parents

At a ceremony characterized by simple dignity and beauty, Miss Nell Terry McCormick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Henry McCormick exchanged vows with Lloyd Frederick Church, son of Mr. Edgar L. Church and the late Mrs. Church of this city.

The marriage was solemnized on Saturday afternoon at two-thirty o'clock, May 20, in the home of the bride's parents on Island drive with Dr. Ernest Holloway officiating in the prseence of close friends and relatives.

The bridal couple exchanged the vows of the impressive double ring ceremony before a setting of tall white baskets of madonna lilies, magnolia and fern.

Mrs. Dan Cox rendered a program of prenuptial music and accompanied Mrs. B. R. Brazzis as she sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore the traditional white satin wedding gown with bridal veil of net illusion trimmed in seed pearls. Her lovely bouquet was a single white orchid encircled with white rose buds. She wore a string of pearls, a gift from the groom.

Mrs. David A. Hill, sister of the bride, was her only attendant and was wearing an aqua taffeta gown and carried an old fashioned bouquet of daisies.

Mr. Robert Church served his brother as best man.

A reception immediately followed the ceremony. The dining room was decorated with white gladioli and daisies and placed on the buffet were tall tapers in silver candelabra.

Centering the lace covered dining table was the tiered wedding confection. Mrs. Herbert E. Dickard, aunt of the bride, presided at the punch bowl. Mrs. Sam Walker, Jr., assisted by Miss Emma Jane Weil, had charge of the bride's book. Tea girls were Miss Ann Wilson, Miss Faye Todd, Mrs. Aage Glud, Miss Sue Diskard and Mrs. George Whitmeyer.

The bride was wearing a suit of silk shantung with natural silk shantung accessories for their wedding trip to the Ozarks. After June 1 the couple will be at home in their apartment on Park avenue.

Out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Dr. and Mrs. Jospeh H. McCormick, Jr., and son Steve, of New Orleans; Mr. and Mrs. Norman Terry of El Dorado, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Musgrave of Jackson, Miss.; Mrs. D. E.Watson and Mrs. C. W. Dew of Hamburg, Ark.

NEWS FROM THE GIRL SCOUTS

We want to remind all Intermediates and Brownies who are interested in learning to swim or in advanced swimming lessons that classes begin at the pool tomorrow at 3:00, 4:00, and 5:00 p.m. These classes will continue for ten days. Beginning June 19 there will be another ten-day period for those who were unable to make the first classes. Miss Annis Klie, our executive Director, Miss Shelby Meek and Mr. James Sisco will be the instructors. So lets be early birds and join them at the pool tomorrow.

Speaking of early birds, the first girl to register for swimming classes and day camping was Gloria Jean Rogillio, Troop 20, whose father, W. H. Rogillio, brought her by the office himself to sign up. Mr. Rogillio states he's especially interested in the day camp at Ki-Ro-Li because he attended the first Boy Scout camp there in 1929. So you see, twenty years from now you girls will still be treasuring pleasant memories of your camping experiences in 1950! That's how much fun they are.

Troop 4, Brownies, Mrs. Louis Turner, leader had their "Fly-Up" in the beautiful garden of Mrs. Turner's home recently and from all reports this ceremony was very outstanding and impressive. The flag ceremony was ably conducted by Judy Pou, flag bearer, Carey Sue Turner, color guard, and Susan Austin, color guard, and they looked lovely in their white summer dress, wearing red flag sashes. Mrs. W. H. Burke assisted with this part of the program and also pinned the wings on all members of this troop. Sue Grower then presented Mrs. Turner with a beautiful demi-tasse cup inscribed with "Brownie Troop 4, '47-'50" on behalf of the whole troop. At the end of the program, as if everything wasn't already beautiful enough, a rainbow glowed in the sky to make an even more impressive touch as Mrs. Turner presented each girl with her new Girl Scout Pin. Refreshments all in green, the scout color, were served to parents and guests by the girls. They served green punch with lime sherbet floating in it, and green Brownie cookies. So now they're full - fledged Girl Scouts and we welcome each and everyone.

And now, your reporter would like to wish you all a happy, happy vacation. We know it will be even happier for having attended our day camps and troop camps, so we'll be anxious to hear your reports on those in the Fall. Until then, have fun!

Welcome Garden Club Closes Season With Flower Lecturer

Mrs. Howard S. Kittel, Noted Authority, Makes Second Appearance Recently

Welcome Garden Club closed the season with Mrs. Howard S. Kittel's lecture and class instruction. Mrs. Kittel, recognized authority in flower work, made her second appearance here recently at the Virginia Hotel, under the auspices of this club. The club feels honored to have had such a fine response to the invitations to other clubs to take advantage of hearing this talented speaker. Eleven out-of-town clubs were represented, as well as several from West Monroe and Monroe.

Mrs. Kittel had arrived via airlines from her home in Ft. Worth Texas, the day prior to the meeting, and she had many lovely arrangements made in time for the lecture hour. She took each arrangement in turn, placing it upon a lazy-Suzan, and pointed out its good points or bad. Two beautifully appointed tables had been arranged, one formal and the other with informal setting, and Mrs. Kittel devoted a part of her lecture time to correct table settings. At the close of her lecture she made a lovely table arrangement of magnolias for the formal dinner table. Mrs. Kittel stressed that the back of an arrangement must have attention too, not only to be attractive from that angle, but to give it depth. Most of the arrangements she had prepared were designed for use on the dinner table, but several were made that would be appropriate for use in the church sancturary.

Ladies who signed the guest register were as follows: Mrs. J. W. Stegall, Mrs. W. P. Crawford, Mrs. B. Skidmore, Mrs. L. P. Craighead, Mrs. Fred Preeur, Mrs. Ralph Harper, Mrs. R. R. James, Mrs. L. S. Littleton, Mrs. Ralph Gullery, Mrs. N. B. James, Mrs. G. B. Hammons, Mrs. E. J. Sockett, Mrs. J. L. Glasgow, Mrs. Robert L. Watt, Mrs. Murphy Tannehill, Mrs. Zollie Meadows, Mrs. S. A. Halt, Mrs. C. A. Marlette, Mrs. C. A. Dalfume, Mrs. Edward D. Schneider, Mrs. Grace Van Valkenburgh, Mrs. T. T. Towles, Mrs. B. G. Coultes, Mrs. Benjamin I. Berry, Mrs. W. H. Bergston, Mrs. J. B. Knight, and Mrs. J. L. Fairbanks.

Mrs. Inez Callaway, Mrs. Leon Dennis, Mrs. Dan Dennett, Mrs. J. W. Golson, Mrs. Ethel Cooper, Mrs. W. B. Wheelis, Mrs. J. L. Warren, Mrs. R. W. Bandy, Mrs. O. R. Brauer, Mrs. W. A. Smith, Mrs. D. B. Gee, Mrs. Julius Fink, Mrs. J. P. Royce, Mrs. V. S. Garnett, Mrs. L. N. Copes, Mrs. H. G. Thompson, Mrs. T. Burford, Mrs. M. W. Montgomery, Mrs. J. F. Stone, Mrs. A. L. Dickerson, Mrs. C. A. Caldwell, Mrs. H. S. Coon, Mrs. W. L. Mitchell, Mrs. E. L. Page, Mrs A. G. McHenry, Miss Emy Lou Biedenharn, Mrs Harold Mouk, Mrs. J. C. Earnst, Mrs. H. W. Gill, Mrs. C. T. Johnson, Mrs. W. E. Young, Mrs. John A. Peters, Mrs. L. A. Smith, Mrs. Wesley Walters and Mrs. F. C. Howard.

Mrs. G. C. Williams, Mrs. Sam A. Orchard, Mrs. John Lewis, Mrs. Ray Rhymes, Mrs. O. M. White, Sr., Mrs. G. M. Gleason, Mrs. J. L. Hulin, Mrs. John Lewis, Mrs. Jewel McQuiller, Mrs. R. M. Kettenring, Mrs. Norman Jardine, Mrs. Henry Ray, Mrs. Robert Choats, Mrs. W. J. Coats, Mrs. J. H. Fairbanks, Mrs. R. R. Pigott, Mrs. J. H. Fairbanks, Mrs. L. Wright, Mrs. P. K. Smith, Mrs. W. J. Lewis, Mrs. S. H. Henderson, Mrs. George Nicol, Mrs. Alben Barksdale, Mrs. J. C. Ritchie, Mrs. G. C. McLaren, Mrs. A. Kiper, Mrs. Earl Shipp, Mrs. Julien Greenwall, Mrs. P. L. Berry, Mrs. R. Peroy, Mrs. W. A. Chatma and Mrs. F. T. Mulhearn.

During the afternoon hours Mrs. Kittel gave a class of instruction. She limited her class to number twenty because she feels a larger number would not get full benefit of her teachings. Each lady was equipped with container, flower holder, wire, clippers, flowers and greenery, and lovely arrangements were turned out under Mrs. Kittel's guidance.

CLUB COLORS USED IN DECORATIONS AT MEETING OF BONHOMIE CLUB

The annual meeting of the Bonhomie Club was held recently at a local restaurant, with husbands of the club members present. Club colors were carried out in the table decorations with lovely arrangements of yellow day lilies, green foliage, and Queen Ann's lace. The place cards bore a sprig of fern, the club flora.

After reading the club collect, as the invocation, the members and their guests were served a delightful dinner. The president, Mrs. George Forman, then welcomed the guests. After the dinner, Mrs. E. L. Hoskins gave a brief history of the Woman's Club, after which the group sang the Federated Woman's Club song "Louisiana." The following program was presented: Mrs. Robert Irby, accompanied by Mrs. G. E. Stedman, sang "The Song is Ended" and "Always". Mrs. Hal Laymon gave two readings, and Mr. E. L. Hoskins favored the group with his musical saw, playing "Moonlight and Roses" and "Ah Sweet Mystery of Life."

Following the program, Mrs. Forman gave the annual report, and the installation of new officers took place.

The following guests and members attended: Mrs. Jack Rushing, Mrs. Melvin Harrison, Mrs. G. E. Stedman, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McCready, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Lanier, Mr. and Mrs. George Forman, Mr. and Mrs. O. Willis, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Hoskins, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Waldroup, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Irby, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Raye Rhodes, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Laymon, Mrs. Rodman Collins, Mrs. L. H. Leverett, Mrs. W. D. MUSIC STUDENTS TO BE PRESENTED IN SPRING RECITAL ON MONDAY

The music students of Mrs. E. Everett Lawson will give a demonstration of their year's work when they present their spring recital at Neville Auditorium, Monday night, June 5, at eight o'clock. Those interested in following the musical progress of these youthful musicians, will find the program a diversified one. The first part of the program will be based principally upon folk-songs and folk-dance melodies. The second sequence will feature compositions of the classic, romantic and modern periods, with several numbers of a descriptive nature chosen for their lyrical line.

At the conclusion of the program, three students who won National honors with a ten-piece memorization program in the recent National Piano Playing Auditions, will be awarded their 1950 certificates. They are Janice Strong, Betty Port, and Geraldine Weir. In recognition of outstanding work and achievement during the entire year, Geraldine Weir and Janice Strong, who won "Superior" ratings in the National Auditions, will play a group of two numbers on Monday night's program.

The entire program, to which the public is cordially invited, is as follows:

"Le Spectre De La Rose" (Invitation To The Dance) — (Weber-Kosloff), King Trousdale.

"Soldiers On Parade" (Eckstein), Billy Roark.

LAKE PROVIDENCE

Catherine Feltus Barfield leaves soon for Monroe where she will visit with her maternal grandmother Mrs. J. L. Powers, after which she will go to Arkansas to attend camp Joyzell.

Mr. and Mrs. Holmes Breithaupt are returning to their home in Jena after a year of teaching at the Lake Providence High School, to which position they will not return in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Renald Knecht, the latter Miss Charlotte Ann Nelson before her marriage, have spent the past ten days in Lake Providence. During their stay Mrs. Knecht was taken critically ill and rushed to Mercy Hospital in Vicksburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Etier and daughter Alexis left for a week end visit in Columbia, La., with Mrs. Etier's parents Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Fluitt. Mrs. Etier and Alexis will remain with the Fluitt's while Mr. Etier is at a food company school.

Charles A. Hodkins will replace Mr. Herbert Etier as Agricultural instructor at the Lake Profidence High school for the 1950-51 season. Mr. Ormand Patrick of Forest will succeed Mr. Hodkins as instructor on the Veterans program.

Miss Bettye Abernethy on her trip to Ruston Wednesday was accompanied by Mrs. John Rolfe Howard and daughter Carol, who visited with Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Jones in Arcadia and were on hand to welcome the arrival of Hershel McGinty.

A revival meeting will begin Sunday, June 4 at the Dodson Methodist Church. The Rev. Roy Grant of Choudrant will be guest speaker.

Pow Wow Celebrates With Annual Banquet

Gala Affair Proves Climax To Year's Activities For College Newspaper Staff

Serving as a climax to the year's work, staff members of the Northeast Junior College newspaper, Pow Wow, and special guests recently celebrated in the form of a banquet at a local tea room. The affair, which has become one of the traditions of the college, took on added significance with the winning of the All-American rating for issues published during the first semester of the current school year.

This festive event will be long remembered for sheer enjoyment and artistry which marked details in its planning.

Day lilies, roses and Marguerites predominated in floral arrangements used effectively on the long table, and they were placed at vantage points throughout the banquet rooms. A pretty feature was the presentation of corsages to all ladies who were present on this occasion.

Adding gaiety to the affair were the clever place cards designed by two staff members, Gerry Bliss and Bill Hair. They reflected something characteristic of each guest's work or personality. Also marking each cover was an attractive program bearing the caption, "All-American Eighteen Times," the title which the publication holds as result of its rating by the National Collegiate Press Association.

Marked by originality, its page titles and menu were presented in journalistic terms, which increased the merriment of the evening. The last page, headed "By-lines," gave opportunity for autographs that should serve to conjure happy reminiscences in years to come.

Louie Mathis, editor of the Pow Wow, who served as toastmaster, introduced the program numbers designated as "Feature Copy." The invocation was given by Maj. Hugh W. McClary, head of the military department at N. J. C., who has shown keen interest in the newspaper's progress. Associate Editor Bill Hair of Winnsboro gave a humorous description of the tense situation experienced by the staff during the weeks just prior to the announcement of the publication's rating.

Miss Freddie Jo Wilson of Calhoun added variety to the program by playing two accordion numbers. Then Herbert McGrath of Albuquerque, N. M., entertained the group with a yarn which was woven about staff members. Miss Alice Rolleigh of Calhoun held the interest of everyone by describing in clever fashion the future of guests as well as students who had worked on the paper. Impromptu talks by several visitors added to the atmosphere of good fellowship.

On the list of surpises of the evening was the presentation of gifts. The staff gave Mrs. Annie Lee West Stahl, sponsor of the Pow Wow, a handsome silver tray with appropriate engraving. The presentation was made by Mrs. Hugh W. McClary, who was a member of the staff during her two years as a student at Northeast Junior College.

Representing the Pow Wow personnel, Mrs. Stahl presented a cash gift to Mr. Mathis of Monroe as a token of appreciation for outstanding work which he accomplished as editor. The two associate editors, S. T. Howell of Wisner, and Bill Hair of Winnsboro, received leather shaving kits. A similar gift was presented to Rex E. Pensinger of Dallas, Tex., business manager.

Special recognition was given Bert Hatten of West Monroe. He edited the Pow Wow during part of the first semester of the current year prior to his leaving N. J. C. to devote full time to the Monroe Morning World.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lester Johnson of Holly Ridge. Mrs. Johnson, the former Johnile Johnson, was the first N. J. C. woman student to edit the Pow Wow. For the last two years she has awarded a prize for the best feature story appearing in the publication.

Other special guests were: Miss May Read, member of the Northeast Junior College staff, who was presented as an honorary member of the Pow Wow; Miss Alice Chilton, former associate editor, and Doyle Parker, former editor.

Members of the newspaper staff who were present included:

Misses Joyce Hicks, Margie Valentine, Janie Graham, Alice Rolleigh, Freddie Jo Wilson, Bobbie Ray Nelson and Gladys Roussell. Others were Messrs: Louie Mathis, S. T. Howell, Bill Hair, Rex Pensinger, Burl Bailey, feature editor; Horace Thompson, sports editor; Stanley Hodges, photographer; Gerald Bliss, cartoonist, Herbert McGrath and Gerald McCullough.

Bridal Parties Honor Betty Jane Thompson

Miss Betty Jane Thompson whose marriage to Austin Neal Hale will take place on June 10 is being feted at prenuptial parties

Among these was the linen show- planned in her honor.
er given on May 23 at the home of Mrs. Joseph Allen Combs, Sr. Miss Thompson was wearing a dress of navy blue and white polka dot with navy accessories and a corsage of gardenias presented to her by the hostess.

Mrs. Combs presented the honoree with a mass of colored balloons which held the direction that each gift might be found.

The dining table which was covered with a lace cloth was centered with a silver bowl of white gardenias with silver candelabra and white tapers on either side.

Delicious refreshments of punch, open faced sandwiches, bride's cakes and mints were served to the honoree, Mrs. Ralph Thompson, Miss Alma Jean Linquist, Miss Jane Shea, Mrs. M. C. Thompson, Jr., Mrs. W. L. Alexander, Mrs. O. R. Brauer, Mrs. W. A. Smith, Mrs. J. A. Combs, Jr. Mrs. Lewis Harris, Mrs. E. C. Dansby, Mrs. R. S. Burnside of Tallulah, Miss Bonnie Gaston of Shreveport, Mrs. John Lewis, Mrs. Obera Bove, Mrs. M. E. Massie, Mrs. L. H. Leverett, Mrs. H. G. Laffler, Mrs. A. L. Bates of Natchitoches, Mrs. R. E. Hanna, Mrs. Fred Hancock, Mrs. A. A. Thoman and the hostess, Mrs. Combs.

Miss Alma Jean Linquist was also hostess at a luncheon given in honor the bride-elect at a local tea room.

For this occasion Miss Thompson was wearing a becoming navy blue nylon dress with linen jacket of chartruese and navy and white accessories and was presented a corsage of carnations. She was also presented at this time with a piece of silver in her chosen pattern.

Centering the dining table was a lovely bowl of pink roses. Place cards marked the places of the following guests: Miss Thompson, Miss Jane Shea, Miss Pet Simmons, Mrs. W. L. Alexander, Mrs. Ralph Thompson, and the hostess, Miss Linquist.

Home Gardener Club To Sponsor Flower Show On Monday

The final preparations for their initial flower show are now being made by members of the Home Gardener Club. Although some of the ladies are reportedly suffering stage fright at the thought of entering an arrangement in a flower show, a good showing is expected. Mrs. M. J. Hortman has been testing her arrangements on the family for some weeks now. Her son Joe had a sudden attack of hysteria after looking at one of them, but Mrs. Hortman declares the posies had nothing to do with it.

Since potted plants under the horticultural division must have been in the owner's possession for at least three months, Mrs. Gerald Frasier is perfectly safe in entering her pot of philodendron. She has had it for three years, during which time it has sprouted two new leaves.

The senior member of the club, Mrs. L. A. Smith, has been scouting the south end of town on foot in search of flowers. If anyone misses some prize blooms from their garden on Monday morning, he may find them in Mrs. Smith's centerpiece. She is saving her own flowers to enter in the horticultural division, since these must be grown in one's own garden.

Mrs. E. L. Hoskins, club president, is completely grateful for the novice class, which is only for adults who have never received any award on an arrangement class of any show. Mrs. Hoskins regrets that she will not be able to enter the horticultural division. The Hoskins have been in their new home only a short while, and she declares her garden consists of a stack of lumber and a pile of scrap iron, and she has never heard of either of these winning a ribbon in a flower show.

The two most experienced club members, Mrs. Jewel McQuiller and Mrs. M. W. Montgomery, will be somewhat relieved when the show is over, as they have been acting as spiritual mentors, advisers, and guardian angels to the rookie members. Mrs. L. N. Copes, the chairman of the flower show, plans to go away and have a nice quiet nervous breakdown after the last bloom has been cleared away.

The hospitality committee will be on hand at the Gordon avenue Methodist educational building from 3:00 pm.. until 8:00 p.m. on Monday, June 5 to welcome the guests. Everyone is invited, husbands and children included. You will have a good time, so plan to be on hand.

OLLA

Mr. and Mrs. Taylor Finlay, Little Rock, Ark., are expected to arrive here June 4 for a short stay with his mother, Mrs. Ida Finlay. They are enroute to Denver, Colo. where they are to attend the summer session of the University of Denver.

The Ladies' Auxuliary of the American Legion Post, Mrs Dorothy Gross, chairman, in a coffee sale and poppies, netted $83.10 for the veterans' fund.

Leaving to attend the Methodist conference in New Orleans, Tuesday were Rev. and Mrs. L. P. Moreland.

Howard F. Finley, who has spent the past school session teaching and studying chemistry in Texas University, will arrive this week for a visit with his parents and Mr. H. F. Finley, Sr.

Mrs. E. L. Hoskins, club president, is completely grateful for the novice class, which is only for adults who have never received any award on an arrangement class of any show. Mrs. Hoskins regrets that she will not be able to enter the horticultural division. The Hoskins have been in their new home only a short while, and she declares her garden consists of a stack of lumber and a pile of scrap iron, and she has never heard of either of these winning a ribbon in a flower show.

The two most experienced club members, Mrs. Jewel McQuiller and Mrs. M. W. Montgomery, will be somewhat relieved when the show is over, as they have been acting as spiritual mentors, advisers, and guardian angels to the rookie members. Mrs. L. N. Copes, the chairman of the flower show, plans to go away and have a nice quiet nervous breakdown after the last bloom has been cleared away.

The hospitality committee will be on hand at the Gordon avenue Methodist educational building from 3:00 pm.. until 8:00 p.m. on Monday, June 5 to welcome the guests. Everyone is invited, husbands and children included. You will have a good time, so plan to be on hand.

'Candle-Light' To Be Presented At Little Theatre Playhouse

Three Act Comedy To Open For Unlimited Engagement On June 6

The Little Theatre of Monroe will close an active season of comedy and drama this week with the showing of a three act comedy "Candle-Light" adapted for the stage by P. G. Wodehouse, and under the direction of C. Stocker Fontelieu.

Today's cover page has been devoted to behind the scenes with cast and crew members who have spent the past four weeks preparing the show for its opening to the general public on June 6.

The sparkling comedy boasts an able cast headed by Jim Reynolds as the valet; Edith Grandy as Maria, and Mac Ward as Prince Rudolph. The five supporting roles will be portrayed by Frances Hale, the baroness; Gilbert Faulk, the baron; Sue Sharman Williams, Liserel; Roy Holloway, the waiter; Jimmie Smith, the chauffer.

Chairmen for the production crew are Dr. K. Albert Ringo in charge of make-up assisted by Rita Feith and Dorothy Fountain, who will also be in charge of wardrobe; Dorothy Elmendorf, stage manager; properties, Letha Gregory and Violet Willbanks; lighting under the supervision of Ted Landhy and Russell Kettenring will be handled during the show by Bob Whipple; sound effects, Freddie McDowell; publicity Dorothy Fountain and Betty Baldridge; boxoffice, Julius Cahn and the door, Lon Heuer.

Previous shows have been scheduled for five nights, however, "Candle-Light" opens for an unlimited engagement dependent upon the reservation response of the public. All proceeds will go to the benefit of this years building program.

MARILYN NECTOUX HONOR GUEST AT DINNER PARTY

Miss Marilyn Nectoux was a lovely honoree when her mother, Mrs. Irma Nectoux, recently entertained with a dinner party at a local restaurant in her honor.

Receiving the guests were the honoree, Mrs. Nectoux and Mrs. G. C. Headrick of Alexandria, grandmother of the honor guest. Marilyn was wearing a red organdy tea length gown embroidered in white with off the shoulder neckline. In her hair was a corsage of white carnations which also accented the neckline of her dress.

Guests at the party enjoyed merry-makers and dancing, with Elstner Frazer and Mike Cage winning the prize as the best couple on the floor and Barbara Barker and Dick Campbell, runners up. "The Farmer's Love Letter" was also played during the evening.

The dining table was most alluring in decorations which were centered with a bowl of mixed spring flowers. At intervals red tapers burned in crystal candelabra.

Guests enjoying this occasion with Marilyn were Dickie Seidenspinner, Joanne Heinberg and Philip Ambrose, Miss Elstner Frazer and Mike Cage, Miss Virginia Blanks and Robert Cudd, Miss Margaret Ann Lee and Tommy Bass, Miss Marion Huckaby and Alton McCready, Miss Ann Choate and Jerry McWilliams, Miss Julia Beth Williams and Johnny Wendell, Miss Pauline Barringer and Buddy Rizzo, Miss Patricia Ruple and Mike Boggs, Miss Barbara Barker and Dick Campbell, Miss Gail Bingham and Fred Hancock, Miss Martha Ann Coon and Fred Allen, Miss Jo Ann Walsworth and Reese Peterson and Miss Geraldine Whitledge.

The 25th convention of the Auxiliary of the United Spanish War Veterans of the Department of Louisiana will convene in Hammond June 4, 5, and 6. Members of the auxiliary here who will attend are Mrs. Mamie C. Arnette, past department president; Mrs. Sarah Gossett, past department president; Mrs. Stella Courtney, past department president; Mrs. Minnie Mangham, department chaplain; and Miss Dorothy Ann Bynum, who will be the soloist for the memorial service Sunday afternoon, June 4.

The Pearl and the Price

Most people know the parable of the "pearl of great price," and the man who sold all that he had to buy it (Matt. 13:46).

Have you ever asked yourself what it meant?

The "price" is our surrender of the afflictive human thinking causing our troubles. How to give up these human fears, how to grasp and find freedom would indeed be "the pearl."

The way of this liberating understanding is explained fully in the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy. Whoever will put its statements to the test will find this great Science of Christianity to be demonstrable.

Science and Health may be read or obtained at all Christian Science Reading Rooms. The coupon is also for your use.

Cooking Classes For Girls To Be Held

On Tuesday, June 6 from 9:00 to 9:30 all girls ten years of age or older are invited to register for cooking classes. The place is Red Cross office, 200 South Grand St., Monroe.

The beginners class will learn to plan and cook breakfast. This will include making biscuit that will delight Dad. The course includes cooking and preparing fruits, cereals, hot breakfast drinks, eggs, toast and hot biscuit. The last lesson the girls will prepare and serve breakfast to their entire group. The kitchen will be converted into a dining room, and the girls will eat together at one long table. One girl will act as "Mamma" another as "Dad". Mom and Dad will direct the "children" in the serving of the meal.

The advanced class will include girls who have taken the breakfast course at some time in the past. Their course will include cooking corn break, vegetables, cheap cuts of steak, simple salads and desserts. Meal planning and marketing will be included. The last day the group will make homemade ice cream and cookies and have a party. It will be necessary to charge a small fee for supplies used.

These classes are sponsored by the Girl Scouts but not limited to Girl Scout members. All girls with in the age limit are invited to register for the classes. "A good time will be had by all" as well as some good foods preparation learned. Mrs. Mildred Swift from the agricultural extension department will be the instructor.

Senior Class Of Neville Honored At Open House

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Noel, John Noel, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Forest J. Linquist, Miss Maurine Linquist, Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Rowe, Dickie Rowe and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Montgomery recently held open house at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Linquist at 213 K street honoring the senior class of Neville High School, faculty members, their wives and husbands and staff.

The dining table was decorated with gardenias in a crystal ring with ivy and gardenias entwined around silver candelabra holding tall white tapers. The Neville school colors of gold and black were carried out in the cakes, mints and sandwiches that were served.

Placed at vantage points throughout the house were magnolias, gardenias, shasta daisies and ivy.

Mrs. D. W. Griffith and Mrs. Paul J. Neal alternated at the punch bowl. Tea girls assisting were Miss Alma Jean Linquist, Miss Roberta Rowe and Misses Diana and Katherine Noel.

More than 100 guests called during the appointed hours.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Swift motored to Baton Rouge over the week end to attend the graduation exercises of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Lucas Jones, Jr.

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Yes—a feeling of inner insecurity. People who are not worried about their love affairs, their jobs, especially their personal qualities—looks, popularity, social standing and the thousand other human worries have a strange feeling of inner security, of peace of body and mind. Even if they are physically ill, they have peace of mind. The worrier, though well-to-do, will invent things to worry about—but it always comes back to that feeling of insecurity. Our booklet, "How to Relax," has helped many to overcome needless tension. Sent to you upon receipt of 15 cents (coin only) plus self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Yes, even 25 years ago. Two things make people really grow old. Actual breakdown of the body and development of old age attitudes. You are just about as old as you think you are. Another thing that is helping is that both employers and the public are getting used to finding many people vigorous and active at 70 and even 80 or beyond. Scientists have proved your mental power never grows old. Mental speed drops slowly, but take a bit more time and you can solve problems at 80 about as accurately as at 25.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Yes, for a time. But after a few interviews and personality and intelligence tests he will know you better than you know yourself. That's the object of going to psychologists and psychiatrists. Psychiatrists depend almost entirely on interviews. But psychologists also give you numerous tests that I think often tap your inner self deeper than is possible in interviews. Finesses Are Trees That Hide The Forest

By Oswald Jacoby

Written For NEA Service

The trouble with some bridge players is that they can't see forest for the trees. They see each suit as an individual problem, but they have no picture of the hand as a whole. This type of blindness is illustrated in today's hand

If West had been lucky enough to hit upon a heart opening, declarer's hash would have been settled immediately. He would have lost a trick in each suit.

As it happened, West opened the eight of clubs. Dummy played low, East finessed the ten, and South won with the king of clubs.

At this point, South saw that his best chance to make the maximum number of tricks in spades was to take a finesse. Likewise, his best chance to get the maximum number of tricks in hearts was to take a finesse in that suit. South did not stop to think about the hand as a whole. He proceeded to take a finesse in hearts with the intention of finessing the spades on the way back.

The heart finesse lost to East's king. East returned a trump, and South finessed again, losing to West's queen. The defenders then had no trouble cashing their two aces. The contract was therefore defeated.

If South had considered the hand as a whole, he would have realized that the correct line of play was to take no finesses at all. The contract would then be virtually assured.

South should lay down the ace and king of spades at the second and third tricks. He then leads a diamond with the intention of continuing the suit until the ace is forced out. This plan sets up a diamond in dummy on which South can discard his losing heart. Declarer therefore loses only one diamond, one club and one trump.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

Freezing The Pack Is Inadvisable

By Oswald Jacoby

"I have only just begun to play Canasta," writes a Milwaukee correspondent, "and perhaps for that reason I have difficulty in understanding the reason for freezing the pack.

"When you discard a deuce or a joker, you are parting with a very valuable card. It strikes me that you never get back anything of comparable value.

"If you eventually get the frozen pack, it is true you get your wild card back, but you have not had the use of it in the meantime. This is like putting money in the bank and getting it back after a while without interest.

"If the opponents get the frozen pack, they get 'your wild card with it too. This is like putting your money in a bank that fails.

"I suppose, since there is so much talk about freezing the pack, that there must be some advantage in doing it. Would you be good enough to explain what this advantage is?"

The reason you sometimes discard a deuce or a joker is that you want to prevent the opponents from getting the discard pile. Since the whole game is essentially a struggle for the discard pile, it is highly advantageous to shut the opponents out.

This does not mean, however, that it is agood idea to freeze the pack at any old time. It is foolish to discard one of your wild cards if the opponents have an excellent chance to win the frozen pack. To use my correspondent's comparisons, it's a good idea to invest your wild cards in a reliable bank because you will get back lots of interest; but you must make sure that your bank is reliable.

To carry this comparison a little farther, you don't invest every single cent that you own in the bank. You keep a little in your pocket for operating expenses. Similarly, you don't invest your only wild card to freeze the pack if you need that wild card for other purposes. For example, you might need it to make your first canasta or to meld out.

Freezing the pack is a tremendously important subject, and I shall have more to say about it next week.

Q—When the discard pile is frozen with a wild card, a player with two natural cards in his hand like the top card of the discard pile is going to pick up the pile. Does he pick up the whole pile or only down to where the wild card is? In other words, is the pile below the wild card ever picked up?

A—Whenever you take the discard pile, you take the entire pile. Many players put a wild card underneath the tray rather than in the discard pile. In such a case, of course, there is no question of taking the pile only down to the wild card. However, even when you put the freezing card in the pile itself, you take the entire pile rather than just a part of it.

Mr. Jacoby is unable to answer individual questions on Canasta from readers. However, he will include the most frequently asked questions in his column

Answer to Question No. 1

1. Yes—a feeling of inner insecurity. People who are not worried about their love affairs, their jobs, especially their personal qualities—looks, popularity, social standing and the thousand other human worries have a strange feeling of inner security, of peace of body and mind. Even if they are physically ill, they have peace of mind. The worrier, though well-to-do, will invent things to worry about—but it always comes back to that feeling of insecurity. Our booklet, "How to Relax," has helped many to overcome needless tension. Sent to you upon receipt of 15 cents (coin only) plus self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Answer to Question No. 2

2. Yes, even 25 years ago. Two things make people really grow old. Actual breakdown of the body and development of old age attitudes. You are just about as old as you think you are. Another thing that is helping is that both employers and the public are getting used to finding many people vigorous and active at 70 and even 80 or beyond. Scientists have proved your mental power never grows old. Mental speed drops slowly, but take a bit more time and you can solve problems at 80 about as accurately as at 25.

Answer to Question No. 3

3. Yes, for a time. But after a few interviews and personality and intelligence tests he will know you better than you know yourself. That's the object of going to psychologists and psychiatrists. Psychiatrists depend almost entirely on interviews. But psychologists also give you numerous tests that I think often tap your inner self deeper than is possible in interviews. GLORIA STRONG HONOR GUEST AT PRENUPTIAL PARTIES

Miss Gloria Strong has been feted with a whirl of parties during the week before her marriage which will take place today.

Mrs. F. C. McConnell was hostess at a conversational hour last Thursday. Miss Strong was wearing a pink printed silk and a corsage of carnations presented to her by the hostess, who also presented her a piece of silver in her chosen pattern.

The reception suite was decorated with magnolias and yellow iris. The hostess passed cards to the guest on which each one wrote her favorite menu and signed it. Mrs. McConnell made the cards into a clever little book tied with yellow ribbon and called, "The Favorite Menus of My Friends."

Delicious refreshments carrying out the yellow and white color theme were served to Miss Strong, Mrs. C. J. Strong, Mrs. E. N. Camp, Mrs. Earl Hamm, Mrs. H. B. McClendon, Miss Jean Bufkin, Miss LaVerne Cook, Miss Elsie Pipes, Miss Jackie White, Miss Polly Rowland, Miss Joan Bandy, Miss Loraine McClendon and the hostess, Mrs. McConnell.

On Saturday morning Mrs. Fred Cook, Mrs. Edward Ferguson, Mrs. Earl Hamm, Mrs. Ralph White and Miss Jackie White were hostesses at a conversations hour honoring the bride-elect. The green and white bridal theme was carried out in the decorations. The buffet was centered with a unique wedding scene with the bride and groom, flower girl and bridesmaid backed by greenery. Miss Strong was presented a corsage of gardenias and was wearing an orchid dotted swiss dress.

The guests were served from the dining room with the lace covered table centered with a wedding ring and arrangements of gardenias.

Refreshments were served to the honoree, Mrs. C. J. Strong, Mrs. E. N. Camp, Mrs. Irving Zeidman, Mrs. Lee Vickers, Mrs. Carl Riggin, Mrs. R. T. Taylor, Mrs. Robert May, Mrs. Lillie Berry, Mrs. Roy Brooks, Mrs. A. G. Morrison, Mrs. E. H. Scott, Mrs. Helen Smith, Mrs. S. L. Emory, Mrs. W. L. Morris, Mrs. Jack Willis, Miss Lydia Tolbird, Miss Harriet Russell, Mrs. Charles Chisholm, Mrs. Clyde Cook, Aimiee Cook, Mary Kate Boyce, Miss Betty Rhinehart, Miss Joan Bufkin, Miss Jo Chisholm, Miss LaVerne Cook and the hostesses.

Miss Strong was presented a piece of china in her chosen pattern.

Also complimenting Miss Strong was the kitchen shower given at the home of Miss LaVerne Cook with Mrs. Charles Elliott, co-hostess, Thursday afternoon.

The reception suite was decorated with yellow lilies, while a scene including a miniature bride and her bridesmaids adorned the dining table.

The bride-elect wore a green and white organdy dress accented with a lovely corsage of gladioli presented to her by the hostess.

Mrs. C. J. Strong, mother of the bride, and Mrs. E. N. Camp, mother of the groom, were presented corsages of gardenias.

Useful gifts were received from Miss Jackie White, Miss Jo Chisholm, Miss Carolyn Bagwell, Miss Frances Mitchell, Miss Ginger Strong, Miss Elizabeth Tillman, Miss Lorraine McClendon, Miss Polly Ragland, Miss Jeanine Watson, and Miss Joan Bufkin, Mrs. E. N. Camp, Mrs. C. J. Strong and the hostesses.

Delicious refreshments consisting of punch, party sandwiches and cakes were served to the guests.

Miss Martha Coldwell and Mrs. Harriet Russell also entertained Saturday in honor of Miss Strong with a luncheon held at a local tea room.

The guest of honor was presented a corsage of white roses from the hostesses who also presented to her a piece of silver in her chosen pattern.

Spring flowers centered the dining table and was placed at cantage points throughout the reception suite.

Clever place cards arranged with sweetheart roses marked places for the following guests: Miss Strong, honor guest, Mrs. C. J. Strong, Mrs. E. N. Camp, Miss Lorraine McClendon, Miss Jo Chisholm, Miss Betty Jo Camp, Miss Beryle DeLoach, Miss Molly May, Miss Marjorie Coldwell, Miss Ginger Strong, and the hostesses, Miss Coldwell and Mrs. Russell.

GLORIA STRONG HONOR GUEST AT PRENUPTIAL PARTIES

Miss Gloria Strong has been feted with a whirl of parties during the week before her marriage which will take place today.

Mrs. F. C. McConnell was hostess at a conversational hour last Thursday. Miss Strong was wearing a pink printed silk and a corsage of carnations presented to her by the hostess, who also presented her a piece of silver in her chosen pattern.

The reception suite was decorated with magnolias and yellow iris. The hostess passed cards to the guest on which each one wrote her favorite menu and signed it. Mrs. McConnell made the cards into a clever little book tied with yellow ribbon and called, "The Favorite Menus of My Friends."

Delicious refreshments carrying out the yellow and white color theme were served to Miss Strong, Mrs. C. J. Strong, Mrs. E. N. Camp, Mrs. Earl Hamm, Mrs. H. B. McClendon, Miss Jean Bufkin, Miss LaVerne Cook, Miss Elsie Pipes, Miss Jackie White, Miss Polly Rowland, Miss Joan Bandy, Miss Loraine McClendon and the hostess, Mrs. McConnell.

On Saturday morning Mrs. Fred Cook, Mrs. Edward Ferguson, Mrs. Earl Hamm, Mrs. Ralph White and Miss Jackie White were hostesses at a conversations hour honoring the bride-elect. The green and white bridal theme was carried out in the decorations. The buffet was centered with a unique wedding scene with the bride and groom, flower girl and bridesmaid backed by greenery. Miss Strong was presented a corsage of gardenias and was wearing an orchid dotted swiss dress.

The guests were served from the dining room with the lace covered table centered with a wedding ring and arrangements of gardenias.

Refreshments were served to the honoree, Mrs. C. J. Strong, Mrs. E. N. Camp, Mrs. Irving Zeidman, Mrs. Lee Vickers, Mrs. Carl Riggin, Mrs. R. T. Taylor, Mrs. Robert May, Mrs. Lillie Berry, Mrs. Roy Brooks, Mrs. A. G. Morrison, Mrs. E. H. Scott, Mrs. Helen Smith, Mrs. S. L. Emory, Mrs. W. L. Morris, Mrs. Jack Willis, Miss Lydia Tolbird, Miss Harriet Russell, Mrs. Charles Chisholm, Mrs. Clyde Cook, Aimiee Cook, Mary Kate Boyce, Miss Betty Rhinehart, Miss Joan Bufkin, Miss Jo Chisholm, Miss LaVerne Cook and the hostesses.

Miss Strong was presented a piece of china in her chosen pattern.

Also complimenting Miss Strong was the kitchen shower given at the home of Miss LaVerne Cook with Mrs. Charles Elliott, co-hostess, Thursday afternoon.

The reception suite was decorated with yellow lilies, while a scene including a miniature bride and her bridesmaids adorned the dining table.

The bride-elect wore a green and white organdy dress accented with a lovely corsage of gladioli presented to her by the hostess.

Mrs. C. J. Strong, mother of the bride, and Mrs. E. N. Camp, mother of the groom, were presented corsages of gardenias.

Useful gifts were received from Miss Jackie White, Miss Jo Chisholm, Miss Carolyn Bagwell, Miss Frances Mitchell, Miss Ginger Strong, Miss Elizabeth Tillman, Miss Lorraine McClendon, Miss Polly Ragland, Miss Jeanine Watson, and Miss Joan Bufkin, Mrs. E. N. Camp, Mrs. C. J. Strong and the hostesses.

Delicious refreshments consisting of punch, party sandwiches and cakes were served to the guests.

Miss Martha Coldwell and Mrs. Harriet Russell also entertained Saturday in honor of Miss Strong with a luncheon held at a local tea room.

The guest of honor was presented a corsage of white roses from the hostesses who also presented to her a piece of silver in her chosen pattern.

Spring flowers centered the dining table and was placed at cantage points throughout the reception suite.

Clever place cards arranged with sweetheart roses marked places for the following guests: Miss Strong, honor guest, Mrs. C. J. Strong, Mrs. E. N. Camp, Miss Lorraine McClendon, Miss Jo Chisholm, Miss Betty Jo Camp, Miss Beryle DeLoach, Miss Molly May, Miss Marjorie Coldwell, Miss Ginger Strong, and the hostesses, Miss Coldwell and Mrs. Russell.

Also complimentary to Mrs. Eliabeth Whitfield was the beautifully appointed luncheon given by Mr. W. E. Grasse at his country home "Grasse-haven."

Guests were informally received in the delightful patio, a recent addition to "Grasse-haven."

A great bowl of yellow lilies adorned the lounge while the centerpiece for the luncheon table comprised dark red roses banked by maidenhair fern.

Guests for the occasion were Mrs. L. G. Saunders, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Schubert, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. McMeans, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Godwin, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. McSherry, Mrs. Jack Harrington, Mr. Brooks, and Mrs. Alan Barham.

MY MAN and YOURS

Jean Carson of Dallas writes:

". . . I'm just a teen-ager and I wasn't going to write. But then, I saw a bachelor's plea in 'My Man' a few weeks ago and through perhaps you wouldn't mind printing a teen-ager letter, too.

"I am actually 16 years old but I act much older. All my friends say so, and I guess it's true. But do you suppose for even one second that my mother and father give me credit for having an iota of brains?

"Not a chance Oh, I don't mean that they come right out and say I'm a scatter-brain. No, they're more subtle. Say I have a date with a boy from school. That's when it starts:

"'. . . By the way, Jean,' Dad begins nonchalantly. 'This boy you're going out with. Who is he?'

"'He's Johnnie Downing,' I'll answer.

"'Downing?' Dad frowns. 'Never heard of any Downing in this town

"'He's a very nice boy,' I explain. 'And a really wonderful family. His dad runs a big filling station.'

"'A filling station.' Mom has come up for the tag. 'Oh, I'm not looking down my nose at filling stations,' she adds hastily.

"'How'd you meet him?' Dad asks casually.

"'At a school dance,' I say as politely as possible. 'Elaine Jones introduced me and he's the smoothest boy I've seen in a long time and you don't have to worry about him at all.'

"'Now, dear,' Mom exclaims. 'Don't get excited. No one is trying to probe into your private life, you know. Be calm!'

"Well, by now half the fun is out of the whole business. Golly! Can't parents realize that a girl isn't going to deliberately try to date some awful person? And when parents start throwing $64 questions at you, you just want to drop dead!

"So, if any of you mothers and fathers read this, give us kids a break, huh?"

" 'At a school dance,' I say as politely as possible. 'Elaine Jones introduced me and he's the smoothest boy I've seen in a long time and you don't have to worry about him at all.'

" 'Now, dear,' Mom exclaims. 'Don't get excited. No one is trying to probe into your private life, you know. Be calm!'

"Well, by now half the fun is out of the whole business. Golly! Can't parents realize that a girl isn't going to deliberately try to date some awful person? And when parents start throwing $64 questions at you, you just want to drop dead!

"So, if any of you mothers and others read this, give us kids a break, huh?"

LAKE PROVIDENCE

A reunion at Okaland Park in Ruston Sunday brought together 68 members of the family of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Sanders of Dodson. Brothers and sisters present were Mrs. W. C. Cookston of Winnfield, Mrs. A. L. Terral of Dodson, Mrs. A. S. Branch of Shreveport and Mrs. S. R. Aycock of Ruston, T. A. Sanders and D. L. Sanders of West Monroe and H. A. Sanders of Columbia.

All members of the family of the W. H. "Huff" Sanders and the George I. Sanders were present. Other relatives attending were Miss Zella Gaar and Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Lee of Dodson and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Pine and son, Don, of Dallas, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady McDonald and daughters Dotty, Pat and Connie and Mr. McDonald's mother Mrs. E. A. McDonald enjoyed a train trip to Long Beach, Calif., to spend a fortnight with Mrs. C. O. DeLane and family.

AT DINNER PARTY

Miss Marilyn Nectoux and Dickie Seidenspinner at a dinner party given in honor of Miss Nectoux recently at a local restaurant. Grouped around the young couple are guests who also enjoyed this occasion.

NEW TITLES IN MYSTERY AND BASEBALL STORIES ADDED AT OUACHITA PARISH LIBRARY

Long drowsy summer days when the temperature soars around 90 are especially made for the enjoyment of a good book. The Ouachita Parish Public Library has recently added new titles to appeal to every taste. One of the most popular kinds of fiction is the mystery story. A number of new titles of this groqup have been added recently. "Fire at Will" by Doris Miles Disney is by an author noted for her competence. "Hunt the Tortoise" by Elizabeth Ferrars is unusual and exciting. "That's the Spirit" by Mary Violet Heberden is by a new writer of mystery stories who has already secured quite a following. "Murder in a Hurry" by Frances and Richard Lockridge is unusually good. The Lockridge's are an excellent team when they work together. Mr. Lockridge tried writing one book without his wife's help and it was a very poor effort. "Death and Letters" by Elizabeth Daly is another Henry Gammadge story. The setting is in New York City and is concerned with the efforts of Henry Gammadge to rescue a widow who is being held in a mental hospital by her in-laws who want to get her money.

A new type of fiction which has a growing popularity is called "Science-fiction." To read this type of story you must prepare yourself for the impossible. Two new books of this type are "The Martian Chronicles" by Ray Bradbury and "Beyond Time and Space" by August Derleth.

At this season there is a great interest in baseball books. Several new ones are available. "The Sunlit Field" by Lucy Kennedy is centered around the Brooklyn Dodgers. Woven in with it is a good love story. "The Greatest Victory" by Frank O'Rourke is a collection of 12 stories about big league and minor league baseball. This book will appeal to the whole family. "The Catcher from Double A" by Duane Decker is another good baseball story by a man who knows his game. "Connie Mack's Baseball Book" by Connie Mack, the grand old man of baseball, will be interesting to every baseball enthusiast.

Novels of a more serious tone are also available. "Let Go Of Yesterday" by Howard Breslin is a very natural and moving story of an Irish American family in New York. "Hie to the Hunters" by Jesse Stuart is a fascinating story of the fox hunting sport in the Kentucky hills. Mr. Stuart knows his people and writes with a great deal of feeling. "Not by Any Single Man" by Brigid Knight is laid in England during the period of the Napoleonic wars. As usual in her stories Miss Knight has a very strong woman character. This book is interesting to read. "A Woman of Means" by Peter Taylor is a well done novel which will appeal to only a limited audience. "The Other Father" by Laura Hobsen is an odd sort of book, which again is for a limited audience. "Circle of the Day" by Helen Howe is a book which will appeal especially to women. It takes place in one day on the tenth wedding anniversary of the leading character, Faith Millet. Do not miss this book.

"Wintertime" by Richard Krebs, who writes under the pseudynom of Jan Valtin is not a pleasant story, but a very moving one. It appeared as a serial in "Ladies Home Journal." "Grant of Kingdom" by Harvey Ferguson is a robust novel of the early days in the southwest. "The Unheard Music" by Eleanor Cameron is a novel about the people who work in a library and their friends. All of the action takes place in one day. It is beautifully written by an author who is obviously familiar with library routines. "The Stubborn Heart" by Frank G. Slaughter is another of his historical novels about a doctor and his love life. This one takes place in the south just after the Civil War. The leading character, a southern doctor, had married a girl of known northern sympathies. Their life was not an easy one and reading about it is a delightful pastime. "The Savage Gentleman" by Noel erson is a story of high adventure nd romance during the French l Indian wars. It is well told makes absorbing reading.

arents are urged to call the ry and make reservations for their children to see one of the picture shows given by the forest commission next week. Shows will be given in Monroe at 10:00, 10:30 and 11:00 on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, June 5, 6 and 7. They will be given in West Monroe at the same hours on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 8, 9 and 10. Monday, June 12, at 10:30 and 11:00. Beginning on June 8, the story hour at the Monroe library will be held at 4:30 each Thursday afternoon. Beginning on June 7, the story hour in West Monroe will be held at 4:30 on Wednesday afternoons. Be sure to note the changes of hours.

Beta Sigma Phi Sorority Have 'Hot-Dog Party'

Members of Beta Sigma Phi sorority have been taking advantage of the perfect outdoor weather and have planned numerous picnics and barbecues. Monday night they met at Bernstein Park for a "hog dog party."

At this time fond farewells were bid to Dot Cromwell, who is leaving to enter the University of New Mexico, and Marguerite Hudson, who is leaving to enter the University of Colorado. It is with much regret that these two members are leaving as they have served tirelessly on the social committee of the sorority.

Members and guest present for the party were Hazel Cockerham, Dot Cromwell, Marge Dixon, Joyce Duchesne, Syble Duchesne, Marguerite Hudson, Louise Johnson, Mary Lilliam McLaughlin, Mrs. I. W. Jaffee, Juanita McQuiller, Imogene Meehan, Jack Meehan, Billy Hudson, Cleve Phipps, Jim Cromwell, Jimmy Jones and George Evanoff.

League Of Women Voters To Have Membership Tea

The Monroe League of Women Voters will culminate their annual membership drive with a tea Thursday afternoon (June 8th) from 4 until 6 o'clock a the James A. Noe home. All women of the Twin Cities, who are interested in league work are cordially invited to attend. The League of Women Voters is open to all women twenty one years of age or older. If you desire to become a leaguer, contact the membership chairman, Mrs. Ray Rhymes—telephone 4406—for particulars.

The League of Women Voters is a non-partisan organization that has for its paramount purpose citizenry participation in governmental affairs. This organization does not endorse or oppose candidates; but it is vitally interested in issues. At this time the local league is especially concerned that all citizens, who have not registered to vote, to do so without delay; for no one has to be reminded that our congressional race comes up in July. The league does not presume to tell any one how to vote, but it urges all voters to vote. It is by our ballot that we preserve our democratic way of life.

NEW TITLES IN MYSTERY AND BASEBALL STORIES ADDED AT OUACHITA PARISH LIBRARY

Long drowsy summer days when the temperature soars around 90 are especially made for the enjoyment of a good book. The Ouachita Parish Public Library has recently added new titles to appeal to every taste. One of the most popular kinds of fiction is the mystery story. A number of new titles of this groqup have been added recently. "Fire at Will" by Doris Miles Disney is by an author noted for her competence. "Hunt the Tortoise" by Elizabeth Ferrars is unusual and exciting. "That's the Spirit" by Mary Violet Heberden is by a new writer of mystery stories who has already secured quite a following. "Murder in a Hurry" by Frances and Richard Lockridge is unusually good. The Lockridge's are an excellent team when they work together. Mr. Lockridge tried writing one book without his wife's help and it was a very poor effort. "Death and Letters" by Elizabeth Daly is another Henry Gammadge story. The setting is in New York City and is concerned with the efforts of Henry Gammadge to rescue a widow who is being held in a mental hospital by her in-laws who want to get her money.

A new type of fiction which has a growing popularity is called "Science-fiction." To read this type of story you must prepare yourself for the impossible. Two new books of this type are "The Martian Chronicles" by Ray Bradbury and "Beyond Time and Space" by August Derleth.

At this season there is a great interest in baseball books. Several new ones are available. "The Sunlit Field" by Lucy Kennedy is centered around the Brooklyn Dodgers. Woven in with it is a good love story. "The Greatest Victory" by Frank O'Rourke is a collection of 12 stories about big league and minor league baseball. This book will appeal to the whole family. "The Catcher from Double A" by Duane Decker is another good baseball story by a man who knows his game. "Connie Mack's Baseball Book" by Connie Mack, the grand old man of baseball, will be interesting to every baseball enthusiast.

Novels of a more serious tone are also available. "Let Go Of Yesterday" by Howard Breslin is a very natural and moving story of an Irish American family in New York. "Hie to the Hunters" by Jesse Stuart is a fascinating story of the fox hunting sport in the Kentucky hills. Mr. Stuart knows his people and writes with a great deal of feeling. "Not by Any Single Man" by Brigid Knight is laid in England during the period of the Napoleonic wars. As usual in her stories Miss Knight has a very strong woman character. This book is interesting to read. "A Woman of Means" by Peter Taylor is a well done novel which will appeal to only a limited audience. "The Other Father" by Laura Hobsen is an odd sort of book, which again is for a limited audience. "Circle of the Day" by Helen Howe is a book which will appeal especially to women. It takes place in one day on the tenth wedding anniversary of the leading character, Faith Millet. Do not miss this book.

"Wintertime" by Richard Krebs, who writes under the pseudynom of Jan Valtin is not a pleasant story, but a very moving one. It appeared as a serial in "Ladies Home Journal." "Grant of Kingdom" by Harvey Ferguson is a robust novel of the early days in the southwest. "The Unheard Music" by Eleanor Cameron is a novel about the people who work in a library and their friends. All of the action takes place in one day. It is beautifully written by an author who is obviously familiar with library routines. "The Stubborn Heart" by Frank G. Slaughter is another of his historical novels about a doctor and his love life. This one takes place in the south just after the Civil War. The leading character, a southern doctor, had married a girl of known northern sympathies. Their life was not an easy one and reading about it is a delightful pastime. "The Savage Gentleman" by Noel erson is a story of high adventure d romance during the French l Indian wars. It is well told makes absorbing reading.

arents are urged to call the y and make reservations for their children to see one of the picture shows given by the forest commission next week. Shows will be given in Monroe at 10:00, 10:30 and 11:00 on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, June 5, 6 and 7. They will be given in West Monroe at the same hours on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, June 8, 9 and 10. Monday, June 12, at 10:30 and 11:00. Beginning on June 8, the story hour at the Monroe library will be held at 4:30 each Thursday afternoon. Beginning on June 7, the story hour in West Monroe will be held at 4:30 on Wednesday afternoons. Be sure to note the changes of hours.

Beta Sigma Phi Sorority Have 'Hot-Dog Party'

Members of Beta Sigma Phi sorority have been taking advantage of the perfect outdoor weather and have planned numerous picnics and barbecues. Monday night they met at Bernstein Park for a "hog dog party."

At this time fond farewells were bid to Dot Cromwell, who is leaving to enter the University of New Mexico, and Marguerite Hudson, who is leaving to enter the University of Colorado. It is with much regret that these two members are leaving as they have served tirelessly on the social committee of the sorority.

Members and guest present for the party were Hazel Cockerham, Dot Cromwell, Marge Dixon, Joyce Duchesne, Syble Duchesne, Marguerite Hudson, Louise Johnson, Mary Lilliam McLaughlin, Mrs. I. W. Jaffee, Juanita McQuiller, Imogene Meehan, Jack Meehan, Billy Hudson, Cleve Phipps, Jim Cromwell, Jimmy Jones and George Evanoff.

League Of Women Voters To Have Membership Tea

The Monroe League of Women Voters will culminate their annual membership drive with a tea Thursday afternoon (June 8th) from 4 until 6 o'clock a the James A. Noe home. All women of the Twin Cities, who are interested in league work are cordially invited to attend. The League of Women Voters is open to all women twenty one years of age or older. If you desire to become a leaguer, contact the membership chairman, Mrs. Ray Rhymes—telephone 4406—for particulars.

The League of Women Voters is a non-partisan organization that has for its paramount purpose citizenry participation in governmental affairs. This organization does not endorse or oppose candidates; but it is vitally interested in issues. At this time the local league is especially concerned that all citizens, who have not registered to vote, to do so without delay; for no one has to be reminded that our congressional race comes up in July. The league does not presume to tell any one how to vote, but it urges all voters to vote. It is by our ballot that we preserve our democratic way of life.

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OF MONROE

Grammont at Catalpa

Ernest D. Holloway, Minister.

The Daily Vacation Bible School begins its sessions Monday, June fifth, nine in the morning. Children between the ages of four and fourteen are invited and urged to attend. The hour of dismissal is eleven in the morning. Mrs. W. E. Cole is director and with her will be associated many of the church.

"Fortunate Misfortune" is the theme of the morning sermon. Is this theme a contradiction in terms? Misfortune is often a boon, this is the teaching of the scriptures. And the acceptance of the Word of God as to life's hardships is a factor in mental peace, spiritual progress, and character development.

The evening worship will be in the First Christian Church, the first worship in a series of worship services shared in by the members of the two congregations, the First Christian and the Presbyterian of Monroe. The preacher is the Presbyterian pastor. His theme is "Faith, the Essential." The messages for the months will be based on the Apostles' Creed.

A hearty welcome awaits you at all hours of worship.

The series of sermons delivered by the ministers of the cooperating churches will be based on the contents of the Apostles Creed. The public is invited to all the services. These two churches have conducted union services of a similar nature for the past several years, and they have proved to be very helpful to both congregations.

Calvary Church Gets New Pastor

Rev. D. W. Nix, former pastor of the Second Baptist Church in Bogalusa, has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Calvary Baptist Church, Monroe and is assuming duties immediately. In his pastorate in Bogalusa, Reverend Nix, his wife and two sons are said to have contributed greatly to the spiritual life of the community.

This pastor is originally from Laurel, Miss and attended college in Mississippi Baptist College in Clinton, Miss. His the logical work was in Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary in Fort Worth, Tex.

He led Washington parish as evangelistic chairman in the recent simultaneous Baptist Crusade to a decided victory and was chairman of the Baptist pastors' conference in that parish.

The Nix family have just moved into the pastorium on Mississippi which has been recently redecorated.

Mrs. Nix is a graduate of Hillman College, Clinton, Miss. and studied religious education and music in Southwestern Seminary in Fort Worth. She is a member of the O. E. S. and the Court of Amaranth.

Stonewall Lodge Holds Election

Thursday night, June 1st, Stonewall Lodge No. 8, Knights of Pythias held their semiannual election of officers. The following were elected: Chancellor Commander H. E. Smith, Vice Chancellor Ray Magruder, Prelate, William A. Young, Master of Works Hugh B. Balfour, Master at Arms J. Leon Dennis, Inside Guard E. L. Harrison, and Outer Guard A. T. Bond. These officers will be installed the first part of July.

Final plans were made for church attendance as an order at the First Baptist Church, West Monroe, La. Sunday morning, June 4th. All of the members who do not have cars are to meet at the Castle Hall, 127 1/2 St. John St. at 10:30 a.m. Sunday morning, and there will be cars there to take them to the service. This is the one service each year when all members of the Knights of Pythias meet as a body to offer their devotions to the Supreme Ruler of the Universe, regardless of their church affiliation. All members of the order are urged to attend the Sunday service.

Safety Council Meets On Monday

Al Lassister, president of Ouachita Parish Safety Council, has announced that the regular monthly meeting of the council will meet on Monday evening at 7:30 p.m., June 5, in the city hall of West Monroe, Louisiana. All members are urged to be present for the discussion of important matters.

Committee chairmen of the following committees are requested to have their reports ready for presentation.

Attendance, Wallace Kendall; membership, J. W. Caldwell, H. T. Ward; publicity, M. F. Rice; industrial safety, J. R. Troeltzsch; fire prevention, Robert Farr; health and sanitation, Paul Voney; traffic, Sidney Gill; traffic subcommittee, Junior police, Mrs. Taunton Veasey.

THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH OF MONROE

Grammont at Catalpa

Ernest D. Holloway, Minister.

The Daily Vacation Bible School begins its sessions Monday, June fifth, nine in the morning. Children between the ages of four and fourteen are invited and urged to attend. The hour of dismissal is eleven in the morning. Mrs. W. E. Cole is director and with her will be associated many of the church.

"Fortunate Misfortune" is the theme of the morning sermon. Is this theme a contradiction in terms? Misfortune is often a boon, this is the teaching of the scriptures. And the acceptance of the Word of God as to life's hardships is a factor in mental peace, spiritual progress, and character development.

The evening worship will be in the First Christian Church, the first worship in a series of worship services shared in by the members of the two congregations, the First Christian and the Presbyterian of Monroe. The preacher is the Presbyterian pastor. His theme is "Faith, the Essential." The messages for the months will be based on the Apostles' Creed.

A hearty welcome awaits you at all hours of worship.

PLANS VACATION SCHOOL

The First Christian Church will conduct a Vacation Church School for a period of two weeks, beginning Monday. Sessions each day (Monday through Friday) will begin at 9:30 a.m. Three departments will be maintained—beginner, primary and junior. Mrs. R. T. Watson is dean of the school, and has a staff of able teachers to assist.

UNION SERVICE PLANNED

The First Presbyterian Church and the First Christian Church will conduct union Sunday night services of worship during June and July. The first service will be held in the Christian Church, Sunday, at 7:30 p.m. Dr. Ernest D. Holloway, minister of the Presbyterian Church will deliver the sermon, entitled, "Faith, the Essential." The series of sermons delivered by the ministers of the cooperating churches will be based on the contents of the Apostles Creed. The public is invited to all the services. These two churches have conducted union services of a similar nature for the past several years, and they have proved to be very helpful to both congregations.

Calvary Church Gets New Pastor

Rev. D. W. Nix, former pastor of the Second Baptist Church in Bogalusa, has accepted a call to the pastorate of the Calvary Baptist Church, Monroe and is assuming duties immediately. In his pastorate in Bogalusa, Reverend Nix, his wife and two sons are said to have contributed greatly to the spiritual life of the community.

This pastor is originally from Laurel, Miss and attended college in Mississippi Baptist College in Clinton, Miss. His the logical work was in Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary in Fort Worth, Tex.

He led Washington parish as evangelistic chairman in the recent simultaneous Baptist Crusade to a decided victory and was chairman of the Baptist pastors' conference in that parish.

The Nix family have just moved into the pastorium on Mississippi which has been recently redecorated.

Mrs. Nix is a graduate of Hillman College, Clinton, Miss. and studied religious education and music in Southwestern Seminary in Fort Worth. She is a member of the O. E. S. and the Court of Amaranth.

Shrubs Cannot Be Ignored In Garden

By Cynthia Lowry

No person who is charged with the care of a piece of ground can afford to ignore that portion of plant material classified as shrubs.

Roughly speaking, a shrub is a many-branched tree not exceeding 20 feet in height. They are useful in many different ways, from the quality and quantity of their flowers to their screening leaves. Shrubs may be used to conceal, provide privacy, provide a windbreak and just to give, singly or en masse, beauty.

If the homeowner wants a minimum of gardening chores with a maximum of color and beauty, shrubs are for him. The gardener seeking backgrounds, succession of bloom and mass effects for perennials and annuals invariably uses shrubs to provide part of the picture.

When to Plant Shrubs

Most people start thinking about shrubs when it's a little too late in the season to do much about them. Most of them require spring or fall planting. The ground should be prepared carefully, as one would for a perennial.

Most shrubs enjoy spots which have been dug deep, and a hole made ample to accomodate their roots without crowding. In transplanting, it's wise to dig well-rotted manure into the earth below the hole. After putting the plant and its ball of earth into the ground, fill in with rich topsoil and compost, taking care to eliminate airholes.

When the hole is two-thirds full, the soil should be pressed firmly, preferably with the feet, into place. Then the shrub is well watered and when the water has drained away, the remainder of the earth filled in.

On the Care of Shrubs

It is frequently a good idea to leave a dished area around the base of the shrub to catch and hold water. After that, the bush should be watered carefully until it is well established. Except for occasional pruning, shrubs require little care. A pint or so of bone meal sprinkled around the base and then dug in is ample for most of the leaf-shedding trees.

The list of shrubs is long, and it would take many pages even to list the varieties available to the gardener. Sufficient to say that there are some shrubs which can provide color every month in the year. Probably among the most popular are forsythias with their early spring yellow blooms, lilacs, spireas and rhododendrons.

There are a number of broad-leaved evergreens, so useful to provide year-round color and handy to put into shady spots. Most of the evergreens, including laurel and azalea, are a little more choosy and fussy about locations and types of soil. These plants thrive on acid soil, so it is best to keep them together rather than attempt to grow them in the same location as the shrubs and bushes which prefer alkaline or blander soil.

When and How to Prune

The rule of thumb for times to prune is, roughly, between flowering time and July for the spring flowering shrubs, and in the late fall or early spring for the summer-and-later flowering types. Dead wood should be removed, of course, but the trick in pruning a shrub is to maintain the natural outlines of the plant by cutting back to the base for old wood, and cutting off equal amounts of newer wood from each branch. Shrubs—except when used as a hedge should never be trimmed off to a hard round or square shape.

Without attempting to do more than mention personal interests—there are literally thousands to choose from—here are a few shrubs which can provide color 12 months of the year:

October to January: the native witch hazel, with its yellow, strap-shaped flowers. February: dogwood with its red stems. March: winter honeysuckle. April: forsythia, magnolia, flowering almond, spirea, shadblow. May: azaleas, deutzia, lilac, viburnum, lilac. June: mockorange, snowberry. July: buddleia, hydrangea. August: Rose of Sharon, abelia. September: Gordonia.

STARLET TO VISIT

Lois Butler, rising star with Eagle-Lion studios, will visit Monroe tomorrow in connection with the showing of the movie in which she stars with Lon McAllister entitled "Boy From Indiana." She will appear on the Joy Theatre stage. Her stop in Monroe is one of the many she plans on her tour through the south.

Starlet To Appear At Joy Tommorrow

By Jim Reynolds

The Hollywood "Cinderella" story is a well-worn tale, but there's something about the familiar fable that makes it pleasant listening.

Monroe moviegoers will find that a real life Cinderella is plenty pleasant to look at, too, when they see Lois Butler, lovely starlet of Eagle-Lion studios, in her personal appearances at the Joy Theater tomorrow.

Lois, an 18 year old charmer, originally from Indiana, will appear on the stage of the Joy in connection with the showing of her latest film, "Boy From Indiana," in which she co-stars with Lon McCallister.

Her charm consists in a lot more than that smiling face and trim figure, though. Lois is an accomplished singer, a silver-voiced coloratura, praised by such outstanding musical personalities as John Charles Thomas, Alfred Wallenstein and Nelson Eddy.

Thomas called her the best coloratura soprano he'd heard, bar none. Eddy invited her to guest star on one of his radio programs, and was so enchanted he had her return to the show three times. Wallenstein invited the young singer, then 16, to appear as guest artist as he conducted the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra.

Record fans, too, are acquainted with the pure tones, deft phrasing and exciting range of the diminutive Miss Butler. She's made albums for the Capitol label of songs by Victor Herbert and Sigmund Romberg.

Over two years ago, Eagle Lion, searching for a talented 'teen ager for one of its productions, called more than 100 youngsters for tests.

Lois, who had never appeared on the screen before, tested for the part but wasn't chosen. Talent experts, however, figured she might be suitable for another part, and called in top production executives to see her test. After watching the smiling girl go through her part, after hearing her sing, they signed her on the spot and assigned her the leading role in "Mickey."

The original screenplay hadn't cast "Mickey" as a musical moppett, but the Butler touch was too much to resist. The part was rewritten to give Lois the chance to charm the audience with her voice as well as her beauty.

"Boy From Indiana," a heartwarming and tender story of young love, set against the exciting background of quarter horse racing, is Lois' second starring vehicle. In addition to the popular McCallister, the cast includes veterans Billie Burke and George Cleveland.

Since the completion of "Indiana," Lois has worked in her first technicolor film, "Hi, Lonesome," co-starring with John Barrymore, Jr. It's slated for release soon.

Lois' trip through the south is primarily, sad to say from a romantic view, her honeymoon. The lucky man is Hall Bartlett, young screen writer well known to movie fans.

The Bartletts are combining their wedding trip with Lois' personal appearance tour.

When in New Orleans this past week, Lois took part in the celebration marking WNOE's increase of power to 50,000 watts, and was named "Miss WNOE" for the occasion. While in Monroe, she will appear on KNOE.

The tiny starlet, whose five foot frame tips the scales at just about 100 pounds, was born in Indianapolis, Ind. Shortly after, the Butler family moved to Los Angeles, where Lois' father is a building contractor.

Her voice training started when she was 11, under the careful instruction of Ralph Thomas, well known vocal coach in Hollywood.

One of Lois' favorite pastimes will be highly appreciated by her new husband. In her spare time, the young actress says, she loves to putter around the kitchen, trying new recpies and indulging in her specialty, bread baking.

A less domestic but perhaps more newsworthy hobby that's captured Lois' fancy is her collection of stuffed animals, not the taxidermist's variety, but the soft, cloth-covered "cuddly" type. Over a hundred specimens in her imaginative menagerie fill the Bartlett homestead at the present time, but Lois keeps on the watch for new additions to her collection. She hopes Monroe may prove a happy hunting ground for her textile trophies.

What makes this young and talented starlet most pround? Is it the praise of musical greats, or perhaps her popularity with movie fans all over the nation?

Lois answers that herself. "It's like the fulfillment of a dream, being a movie star," she says, "and it really makes me glow when I hear fine singers and musicians say nice things about my voice. But best of all of them, I like the simple title, Mrs. Hall Bartlett."

Teachers To Leave For Summer Study

By Oland Silk

A number of school teachers intend an exodus to the classrooms of universities and colleges this summer, far from the mountain camps and amenities which await their vacationing brood of young America.

Some of them will be taking refresher courses; some will get graduate study underway for masters degrees; others will seek to remove their status under temporary certificates which the state board of education issued those having deficiencies in certain requirements; still others will attend intensive study workshops which don't ordinarily take up a great portion of the summer months.

Reasons Cited

The state board of education has cracked down on instructors in colleges who do not have their master's degree. In some instances a time limit has been set for the acquisition of same. On the elementary and high school level, M. A.'s aren't required but they do mean more money in the monthly envelope. Some teachers in the elementary grades in the city school system are doing summer work to remove the temporary certificates. The certificates only allow one year of employment as a teacher.

Since the war both Neville and Ouachita Parish High Schools have gotten rid of teachers with the temporary status.

Teachers at Neville High School have been bitten greatly by the graduate study bug. Grace Brown, instructor in physical education, will take the 12-week course in her field offered at the Texas State College for Women, Denton, Tex. Others going to L. S. U. to work on master's include Leon Marks, Gus Petterson, Elmer Culpepper, and John Pennington. Genevra Washburn, librarian at Neville, will work in the L. S. U. library.

From O. P. H. S. will go Richard Cryar, instructor in distributive education, to Oklahoma A. and M., as will Wilma Smith and Ellen Fontenot. The latter two are commerce teachers and will do graduate work.

Lanier Thompson will attend L. S. U. He is also in commerce. Billy Hudson is scheduled for Colorado State Teachers College. He teaches civics.

Miss Ramona Cormier, choir director, will work on her doctorate at Columbia University in New York.

Workshop Group

The workshops sponsored by various groups in the summer months have a great appeal; as previously cited, they do not extend through most of the summer and they require strict study in just one thing, not a variety of matters.

Perhaps the most interesting one to be held near here will be the "Workshop in Child Growth and Development," to be held at Louisiana Tech. It is being sponsored by the supervisors of schools from the fifth district.

Seven consultants from the University of Maryland will conduct the two week program.

Twelve teachers from the city schools will attend. They are: Misses Marie Minard, Louise Moore, Kate Henry, Annie Winds, Marjorie Oliver; Mesdames Ione Hill, Orry Rust, May Snapp, Shirley Courtney, Grace Hudson, Avrice Simpson.

Another one will be held in Mandeville in south Louisiana. It is sponsored by the state board of education and the state department of health. Attending it will be Mrs. W. S. Vincent, Mrs. Louise Brown, Mrs. Bess Burns, and Miss Eloise Cann.

W. L. Perkins, of the commerce department of Northeast Junior College, has been given sabbatical leave to work on his doctorate at the University of Texas. He leaves today for Austin. He already has a year of study beyond his master's degree.

Dean Rodney Cline of N. J. C. will attend Harvard University the latter part of the summer for the junior college workshop sponsored by Harvard. Director of the workshop will be Jesse Bogue, former secretary of the National Association of Junior Colleges.

Dean Cline prior to the workshop study will teach two courses in education at Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn.

Paralytics Talk In Different Way

By Alton L. Blakeslee

NEW YORK — Dr. Hamilton Cameron was paralyzed by a brain stroke, unable to move, unable to speak.

"It was like living behind a glass well," he said. "I could hear doctors and nurses talking about me. But I couldn't let them know I heard or understood."

Now, six years later, Dr. Cameron is fully recovered. And he has devised a chart of hand talking to aid others who are left speechless by injuries or by strokes. They can talk with these simple hand signals, if they can move a hand and a few fingers.

Two fingers held upright means "No." Three fingers means "Yes." Four fingers upright, with the thumb laid across the palm, signifies "I understand." The clenched fist, with the knuckles showing, means "I'm hungry." he fist reversed, with the finger and palm uppermost, means "I am thirsty."

Spread fingers, with the plam down, signals that you're cold. The fingers spread, with the plam up, means you're too warm.

The chart is simpler than the sign language of the deaf and dumb. If the victim can read, he can follow the hand signals on the chart.

Cerebral strokes often paralyze speech centers or muscles only temporarily. The talking chart can be important to the patient's morale, Dr. Cameron said.

When he was stricken, "the most terrifying part of my experience was that people around me assumed that all my faculties were gone, and that I had lost the power to think as well as move or walk or talk.

"No one tried to instill me with courage. They didn't talk to me, assuming that my mind was dead. But my mind not only was active, it was racing along like a runaway engine."

Dr. Cameron, a minister as well as physician, is founder of the Benevian Shut-in-Church, and of National Shut-in-Week.

3rd Radio Station Will Open Here

Plans for the official opening of Monroe's third radio station, KLIC, were announced this week by its owner, Dr. F. P. Cerhiglia.

The new station will operate on a frequency of 1230 kilocycles with a power of 250 watts, broadcasting from its transmitter site on the Winnsboro road.

Main studios will be located at the transmitter. Downtown studios and offices are to be located in the Strauss Building.

Opening day ceremonies are planned for Sunday, June 18, when the new community station will begin its regular schedule and become the local affiliate of the Mutual Broadcasting System.

The station has already begun broadcasting test programs in the early morning. The ten day test period began May 30.

John Zapffe, formerly of Dallas, Tex., has been retained by Dr. Cerniglia as commercial manager and technical director of KLIC. Other members of the new station's staff have not ye tbeen announced.

Garden Tools Named For Different Jobs

By Cynthia Lowry

Assuming that men and women are gardeners because they enjoy the work, it is also safe to assume they are interested in owning tools to make the joys of gardening as efficient as possible.

Actually, you can get by with a minimum of tools—but the tools must be as personal to the gardener as his work shoes. A woman, naturally, likes light tools, slender handles. A stronger man will pick bigger, heavier tools.

Getting down to bedrock essentials, you need a lawnmower, a spade or spading fork, an iron-toothed rake, a hoe, a trowel, a small sprayer and some sort of a hand-weeder.

For those who have wide expanses of lawn, enough money in the bank and who are not mowing for exercise, a power-driven lawnmower is a wonderful time and back saver. There are gasoline and electric powered mowers and the cheapest are in the vicinity of $100. They do not, however, mean that all the mowing can be ended with a once-over. There are still small spots to be cut and edges to be manicured which can only be done by a hand mower.

See Your Hardware Store

The beginner gardener can safely make his initial purchases—outlined above—at the local hardware store. The only precautions he should take is to predetermine whether he works more comfortably with a light or heavier tool and whether he prefers a straight handled or D-handled implement.

Before many weeks are past, he'll be back in the hardware store money in wallet, shopping for some of the other tools which seem almost essential to happy gardening.

Among the first items undoubtedly will be clipping shears and pruning shears. Incidentally, it is cheaper in the end to spend money for good tools—particularly cutting tools. There are many trick clipping shears on the market, some designed to permit the gardener to stand up and clip by way of a long handled implement. My personal choice—and gardening is extremely personal — are clippers with a "squeeze" cutting action. For pruning shears, small size, I like a snubbed, compact little tool with a cutting edge hitting an anv edge. Others swear by the type with two cutting blades.

A Bamboo Rake for Leaves

A bamboo rake for leaves and to uncover gently the mulched flower beds is important. There's also a place for a broom-type of rake with spring steel teeth.

No gardener can have too many cultivating tools. A favorite of most gardeners is a three-pronged potato hook with long handle. Small wheel cultivators aren't expensive and do a good job where plants are in rows. In the cultivating department, there are diamond-point hoes and scuffle hoes for those who prefer to push instead of pull to get rid of weeds.

Hedge shears are essential for hedges, and a heavy pruning tool makes the work of keeping trees in shape earier. Fertilizer and major seeding is easiest accomplished with a spreader. A watering can is the handiest tool for transplanting purposes. There are trowels of all sizes and shapes for various purposes.

Pressure Sprayer Is Worthwhile

A small sprayer is but an introduction. The gardener will find it worthwhile to invest in a pressure sprayer, a duster—and a glass spray container if he proposes to use some of the new chemicals which are rough on metal.

It's almost impossible to get along without a wheel-barrow, and an assortment of baskets—the size depending on what you can beg from the local grocery store and what you decide is light enough to keep the sacroiliac in place. And of course, hose and sprinklers.

You'll need flower pots of assorted sizes, plant stakes, labels, and a hundred and one other items which will be acquired slowly.

OWNER TESTS WIRING

"Hot Box" of Robert R. Irwin, which he uses for testing his idea of radiant coolness for homes in summer.

Water Running Hot Or Cold Used To Heat Or Cool Home

By Saul Feldman

STILLWATER, Okla.—Hot and cold running water for every home! That was the dream fifty years ago.

It's the dream today of Robert R. Irwin, but he wants to use it for heating and cooling homes.

Irwin, assistant professor in mechanical engineering at Oklahoma A&M College, is working on a variation of radiant heating that he hopes will be inexpensive enough for every home owner to install.

In his workshop at the college, Irwin has developed a "hot box" which has scientific instruments and controlled ventilation.

"The biggest drawback to air conditioning, or cooling a home now, is the cost," Irwin explained.

"Refrigeration units are expensive for the average home-owner. Evaporative cooling systems are inexpensive but they are limited because while reducing the temperature, they also raise the humidity."

Irwin has found in experiments with his "hot box" that from 80 to 85 per cent of the heat flowing into a house comes through walls and windows. The remaining 15 per cent is supplied by body heat, electric lights and pilot lights.

The solution Irwin is working on is to circulate cool water between the inside and outside walls of a house and between ceiling and roof. The idea is not new in itself, but he is attempting to develop means to make it inexpensive enough for everyone to use.

Pipes running through the walls and ceiling would handle the cool water. In the winter, warm water would be put through the pipes for heating.

"Using warm water is being done now in many homes," Irwin said. "If we can perfect a suitable means of cooling water and sending it through the pipes, we could have year-round air-conditioning at a nominal cost."

Irwin's innovation in cooling the water would be an inexpensive cooling tower with a pump circulating the water. He figures a satisfactory heating and cooling system for an average house now runs around $2,000. His radiant heating and cooling system would run from $600 to $700.

"Right now, builders figure it costs 10 per cent to install radiant heating throughout a home," he explained. "For one per cent more, the same system could be used for cooling in the summer."

The cool water running through the walls would absorb most of the heat before it could get into house.

"The house isn't made cold," he said. "The system would just keep out the heat. After all, if it's 95 degrees outside and you can keep it 15 degrees cooler on the inside, that's a lot of relief."

Installation of the system is comparatively simple. A series of pipes are run back and forth through the walls and ceilings. Plaster is then applied over the pipes in the normal fashion.

The pipes are hooked to a hot water tank and pump for winter. In the summer a valve is turned and the water is cooled in the cooling tower.

Irwin's system will undergo a severe test this summer. A quonset hut being used on the campus as a classroom will be divided in two. Half of the sheetmetal building will be fitted with the cooling system, the other half left as is.

Under Oklahoma's hot summer sun, it shouldn't take long to tell just how much heat can be kept out.

Science May Lay Super-Duper Chick

Modern trends being what they are, it's not surprising to note that many Louisiana 4-H Club members are concentrating on what they call the "Chicken of Tomorrow." The name doesn't explain everything, though. . . . Just what is the fowl of the future like? Is it a supersonic, streamlined bird, all breast and drumsticks, or what?

"Well, it's not as advanced as all that," said Assistant County Agent Bob Childress. "The purpose of the 'Chicken of Tomorrow' contest is to demonstrate how broilers can be brought to a greater weight earlier, through selection of breeding stock and better care and feeding."

In previous such contests, Louisiana poultry growers have exhibited birds weighing more than five pounds at 12 weeks of age. As any poultryman will tell you, that's pretty good, especially when it's the average weight of a number of birds and nott just one or two unusual specimens.

The official date of the "Chicken of Tomorrow" contest are June first through third at Alexandria, La.

Seven Ouachita Parish 4-H members, Doris Burnett, Myrle Kilpatrick, Carey Brooks, Dick Holloway, Joyce Malone, Ralph Kilpatrick and Wanda Lee Jordan, will enter the competition.

In charge of the project in the parish is Miss Aubry Dawson, associate home demonstration agent.

"Although there doesn't happen to be any beef, dairy cow or swine of tomorrow contest," said Childress, "the beef cattle producers of Louisiana, as well as dairymen and swine growers, are achieving similar results with better feeding and breeding. The farm animal of tomorrow can be found on many Louisiana farms today, bringing a new prosperity and stability to Louisiana agriculture."

Modern Pilgrims Visit Historic Spot

PLYMOUTH, Mass.—Editors of America's county papers, weeklies and small dailies, are going back to Plymouth Rock June 25 under the auspices of the National Editorial Association.

That Sunday afternoon at three o'clock the editors will hold a rededication service and reaffirm "our faith in the ideals of liberty and justice on which this nation was founded."

Of the 48 state governors who have been asked to proclaim June rededication month, 29 already have done so. Others are expected to follow.

The 5,300 editors in the association have asked ministers to use rededication sermons in each church of the nation June 25. They will stress the theme in their own editorials and ask other publications, radio stations, civic and veterans groups to do the same.

The 1950 convention of the association will be held June 15-20 at Providence, R. I. The trek to Plymouth Rock will follow.

Lester Williams, of Columbia, iss., co-chairman of the rededic tion committee, wants to make it "pilgrimage of rededication." He es a peril to the nation in the "gradual loss of individual freedom" due to the encroachment of "big government, big business and big labor."

His co-chairman is Howard Fowler, of Mansfield, Mass. The two chairmen will lead the editors on a tour of New England and Nova Scotia in the days between the end of the convention and the June 25 ceremony.

Parisians Preoccupy Themselves With Highsounding Isms

By Serge Mauri

PARIS—'Tis the ism season in Paris, where there are cults that worship the onion, war against the wearing of clothes, babble sounds instead of words, or just simply contemplate.

Of course, isms flourish here the year round, including the best known of them all—communism. But there are a lot of off-the-beat cults around, if you're coming to France and want to get away from the tourist routine of the Louvre, the Folies Bergeres, the Eiffel Tower, or castles in the Loire valley.

The "popes," "priests," and just plain members of these cults are coming out into view on the sidewalks now that the chestnut trees are beginning to spread their leaves on the boulevards.

Slip into an aperitif at practically any cafe around the Boulevard Saint Michel or the Boulevard St. Germain and you can scrape up an acquaintance with: Existentialism, sensorialism, dolorism, ephiphanism, lettrism, intimitism.

Or, if you like to dance nude in the moonlight, or hate cameras, you might try to join up with the: Omphalopsiques, iconoclastes, neo-medievaux, of phoebephiles.

Apart from communism, the best known of the isms is existentialism, whose leader is Jean Paul Sartre. His plays have appeared on Broadway.

EXISTENTIALISM
AP Newsfeatures

A lot of people treat existentialism as a real philosphy.

The Catholic church has taken it seriously enough to denounce it as atheistic. One rough way of summing it up is: "Existence is something that you're stuck with. You can't change things for the better, so it's not worth trying."

However, the word has lost practically all meaning in France, where students use it to apply to almost anything a little away from the normal, and where nightclubs are called "existentialist" just because they are frequented by teenagers who like be-bop.

Among the more interesting of the others are:

LETTRISM—Followers of this cult believe sounds are better than words for real poetry. Their work bears such titles as "Double quarte tin K," or "Sextet in O." They meet in cafes and babble gutteral sounds at each other. Their leader is Isidore Izou, recently the object of police action for writing an allegedly pornographic book.

SENSORIALISM—Led by writer Ignace Legrand, these people hold that an artist must experience every sensation he describes. Legrand nearly starved to death while writing about hunger.

OMPHALOPSIQUES — These people meet in a barbershop on Sunday, and "to recover their original innocence" sit quietly staring at their navels, andthinking about "the 18,014,483,333,333,333 men who separate them from Adam."

ICONOCLASTES— They are against all human representation, and particularly photography. They take a dim view of all humanity, and think man shouldn't try to leave any trace of himself behind. A photo takes away a little bit of each man's soul, they feel. At their weekly meetings, they burn a big waste basket full of photographs.

NEO-MEDIEVAUX—They dress in medieval clothes in protest against the decadence and artificiality of present life. At their meetings, the leader ppears, with two female pages and intones: "Down with perversity. There are moral rules that make tormented, unhealthy beings of us. We must recover our innocence. All our actions must be pure. Let's begin by attacking prudishness."

He then undoes the corsage of the two pages, while male members of the cult do the same to their female neighbors.

PHOEBEPHILES—This reportedly is a sect that was introduced from Bulgaria in 1924, whose members believe that moonlight on the stomach purifies man of all his faults. The men all wear beards, too, and in the summer cult dances nude in the moonlight in forests around Paris.

Shrubs Cannot Be Ignored In Garden

October to January: the native witch hazel, with its yellow, strap-shaped flowers. February: dogwood with its red stems. March: winter honeysuckle. April: forsythia, magnolia, flowering almond, spirea, shadblow. May: azaleas, deutzia, lilac, viburnum, lilac. June: mockorange, snowberry. July: buddleia, hydrangea. August: Rose of Sharon, abelia. September: Gordonia.

MSGR OFF TO EUROPE

Msgr. John C. Marsh, pastor of St. Matthews Catholic Church, leaves on Wednesday June 7 for New York, where he will board ship for Europe, touring Italy, Germany, France, Spain, and Ireland. Msgr. Marsh will be away for over two months.

STARLET TO VISIT

Lois Butler, rising star with Eagle-Lion studios, will visit Monroe tomorrow in connection with the showing of the movie in which she stars with Lon McAllister entitled "Boy From Indiana." She will appear on the Joy Theatre stage. Her stop in Monroe is one of the many she plans on her tour through the south.

Starlet To Appear At Joy Tommorrow

By Jim Reynolds

The Hollywood "Cinderella" story is a well-worn tale, but there's something about the familiar fable that makes it pleasant listening.

Monroe moviegoers will find that a real life Cinderella is plenty pleasant to look at, too, when they see Lois Butler, lovely starlet of Eagle-Lion studios, in her personal appearances at the Joy Theater tomorrow.

Lois, an 18 year old charmer, originally from Indiana, will appear on the stage of the Joy in connection with the showing of her latest film, "Boy From Indiana," in which she co-stars with Lon McCallister.

Her charm consists in a lot more than that smiling face and trim figure, though. Lois is an accomplished singer, a silver-voiced coloratura, praised by such outstanding musical personalities as John Charles Thomas, Alfred Wallenstein and Nelson Eddy.

Thomas called her the best coloratura soprano he'd heard, bar none. Eddy invited her to guest star on one of his radio programs, and was so enchanted he had her return to the show three times. Wallenstein invited the young singer, then 16, to appear as guest artist as he conducted the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra.

Record fans, too, are acquainted with the pure tones, deft phrasing and exciting range of the diminutive Miss Butler. She's made albums for the Capitol label of songs by Victor Herbert and Sigmund Romberg.

Over two years ago, Eagle Lion, searching for a talented 'teen ager for one of its productions, called more than 100 youngsters for tests.

Lois, who had never appeared on the screen before, tested for the part but wasn't chosen. Talent experts, however, figured she might be suitable for another part, and called in top production executives to see her test. After watching the smiling girl go through her part, after hearing her sing, they signed her on the spot and assigned her the leading role in "Mickey."

The original screenplay hadn't cast "Mickey" as a musical moppett, but the Butler touch was too much to resist. The part was rewritten to give Lois the chance to charm the audience with her voice as well as her beauty.

"Boy From Indiana," a heartwarming and tender story of young love, set against the exciting background of quarter horse racing, is Lois' second starring vehicle. In addition to the popular McCallister, the cast includes veterans Billie Burke and George Cleveland.

Since the completion of "Indiana," Lois has worked in her first technicolor film, "Hi, Lonesome," co-starring with John Barrymore, Jr. It's slated for release soon.

Lois' trip through the south is primarily, sad to say from a romantic view, her honeymoon. The lucky man is Hall Bartlett, young screen writer well known to movie fans.

The Bartletts are combining their wedding trip with Lois' personal appearance tour.

When in New Orleans this past week, Lois took part in the celebration marking WNOE's increase of power to 50,000 watts, and was named "Miss WNOE" for the occasion. While in Monroe, she will appear on KNOE.

The tiny starlet, whose five foot frame tips the scales at just about 100 pounds, was born in Indianapolis, Ind. Shortly after, the Butler family moved to Los Angeles, where Lois' father is a building contractor.

Her voice training started when she was 11, under the careful instruction of Ralph Thomas, well known vocal coach in Hollywood.

One of Lois' favorite pastimes will be highly appreciated by her new husband. In her spare time, the young actress says, she loves to putter around the kitchen, trying new recpies and indulging in her specialty, bread baking.

A less domestic but perhaps more newsworthy hobby that's captured Lois' fancy is her collection of stuffed animals, not the taxidermist's variety, but the soft, cloth-covered "cuddly" type. Over a hundred specimens in her imaginative menagerie fill the Bartlett homestead at the present time, but Lois keeps on the watch for new additions to her collection. She hopes Monroe may prove a happy hunting ground for her textile trophies.

What makes this young and talented starlet most pround? Is it the praise of musical greats, or perhaps her popularity with movie fans all over the nation?

Lois answers that herself. "It's like the fulfillment of a dream, being a movie star," she says, "and it really makes me glow when I hear fine singers and musicians say nice things about my voice. But best of all of them, I like the simple title, Mrs. Hall Bartlett."

Teachers To Leave For Summer Study

By Oland Silk

A number of school teachers intend an exodus to the classrooms of universities and colleges this summer, far from the mountain camps and amenities which await their vacationing brood of young America.

Some of them will be taking refresher courses; some will get graduate study underway for masers degrees; others will seek to remove their status under temporary certificates which the state board of education issued those having deficiencies in certain requirements; still others will attend intensive study workshops which don't ordinarily take up a great portion of the summer months.

Reasons Cited

The state board of education has cracked down on instructors in colleges who do not have their master's degree. In some instances a time limit has been set for the acquisition of same. On the elementary and high school level, M. A.'s aren't required but they do mean more money in the monthly envelope. Some teachers in the elementary grades in the city school system are doing summer work to remove the temporary certificates. The certificates only allow one year of employment as a teacher.

Since the war both Neville and Ouachita Parish High Schools have gotten rid of teachers with the temporary status.

Teachers at Neville High School have been bitten greatly by the graduate study bug. Grace Brown, instructor in physical education, will take the 12-week course in her field offered at the Texas State College for Women, Denton, Tex. Others going to L. S. U. to work on master's include Leon Marks, Gus Petterson, Elmer Culpepper, and John Pennington. Genevra Washburn, librarian at Neville, will work in the L. S. U. library.

From O. P. H. S. will go Richard Cryar, instructor in distributive education, to Oklahoma A. and M., as will Wilma Smith and Ellen Fontenot. The latter two are commerce teachers and will do graduate work.

Lanier Thompson will attend L. S. U. He is also in commerce. Billy Hudson is scheduled for Colorado State Teachers College. He teaches civics.

Miss Ramona Cormier, choir director, will work on her doctorate at Columbia University in New York.

Workshop Group

The workshops sponsored by various groups in the summer months have a great appeal; as previously cited, they do not extend through most of the summer and they require strict study in just one thing, not a variety of matters.

Perhaps the most interesting one to be held near here will be the "Workshop in Child Growth and Development," to be held at Louisiana Tech. It is being sponsored by the supervisors of schools from the fifth district.

Seven consultants from the University of Maryland will conduct the two week program.

Twelve teachers from the city schools will attend. They are: Misses Marie Minard, Louise Moore, Kate Henry, Annie Winds, Marjorie Oliver; Mesdames Ione Hill, Orry Rust, May Snapp, Shirley Courtney, Grace Hudson, Avrice Simpson.

Another one will be held in Mandeville in south Louisiana. It is sponsored by the state board of education and the state department of health. Attending it will be Mrs. W. S. Vincent, Mrs. Louise Brown, Mrs. Bess Burns, and Miss Eloise Cann.

W. L. Perkins, of the commerce department of Northeast Junior College, has been given sabbatical leave to work on his doctorate at the University of Texas. He leaves today for Austin. He already has a year of study beyond his master's degree.

Dean Rodney Cline of N. J. C. will attend Harvard University the latter part of the summer for the junior college workshop sponsored by Harvard. Director of the workshop will be Jesse Bogue, former secretary of the National Association of Junior Colleges.

Dean Cline prior to the workshop study will teach two courses in education at Peabody College, Nashville, Tenn.

Paralytics Talk In Different Way

By Alton L. Blakeslee

NEW YORK — Dr. Hamilton Cameron was paralyzed by a brain stroke, unable to move, unable to speak.

"It was like living behind a glass well," he said. "I could hear doctors and nurses talking about me. But I couldn't let them know I heard or understood."

Now, six years later, Dr. Cameron is fully recovered. And he has devised a chart of hand talking to aid others who are left speechless by injuries or by strokes. They can talk with these simple hand signals, if they can move a hand and a few fingers.

Two fingers held upright means "No." Three fingers means "Yes." Four fingers upright, with the thumb laid across the palm, signifies "I understand." The clenched fist, with the knuckles showing, means "I'm hungry." he fist reversed, with the finger and palm uppermost, means "I am thirsty."

Spread fingers, with the plam down, signals that you're cold. The fingers spread, with the plam up, means you're too warm.

The chart is simpler than the sign language of the deaf and dumb. If the victim can read, he can follow the hand signals on the chart.

Cerebral strokes often paralyze speech centers or muscles only temporarily. The talking chart can be important to the patient's morale, Dr. Cameron said.

When he was stricken, "the most terrifying part of my experience was that people around me assumed that all my faculties were gone, and that I had lost the power to think as well as move or walk or talk.

"No one tried to instill me with courage. They didn't talk to me, assuming that my mind was dead. But my mind not only was active, it was racing along like a runaway engine."

Dr. Cameron, a minister as well as physician, is founder of the Benevian Shut-in-Church, and of National Shut-in-Week.

3rd Radio Station Will Open Here

Plans for the official opening of Monroe's third radio station, KLIC, were announced this week by its owner, Dr. F. P. Cerhiglia.

The new station will operate on a frequency of 1230 kilocycles with a power of 250 watts, broadcasting from its transmitter site on the Winnsboro road.

Main studios will be located at the transmitter. Downtown studios and offices are to be located in the Strauss Building.

Opening day ceremonies are planned for Sunday, June 18, when the new community station will begin its regular schedule and become the local affiliate of the Mutual Broadcasting System.

The station has already begun broadcasting test programs in the early morning. The ten day test period began May 30.

John Zapffe, formerly of Dallas, Tex., has been retained by Dr. Cerniglia as commercial manager and technical director of KLIC. Other members of the new station's staff have not ye tbeen announced.

Garden Tools Named For Different Jobs

By Cynthia Lowry

Assuming that men and women are gardeners because they enjoy the work, it is also safe to assume they are interested in owning tools to make the joys of gardening as efficient as possible.

Actually, you can get by with a minimum of tools—but the tools must be as personal to the gardener as his work shoes. A woman, naturally, likes light tools, slender handles. A stronger man will pick bigger, heavier tools.

Getting down to bedrock essentials, you need a lawnmower, a spade or spading fork, an iron-toothed rake, a hoe, a trowel, a small sprayer and some sort of a hand-weeder.

For those who have wide expanses of lawn, enough money in the bank and who are not mowing for exercise, a power-driven lawnmower is a wonderful time and back saver. There are gasoline and electric powered mowers and the cheapest are in the vicinity of $100. They do not, however, mean that all the mowing can be ended with a once-over. There are still small spots to be cut and edges to be manicured which can only be done by a hand mower.

See Your Hardware Store

The beginner gardener can safely make his initial purchases—outlined above—at the local hardware store. The only precautions he should take is to predetermine whether he works more comfortably with a light or heavier tool and whether he prefers a straight handled or D-handled implement.

Before many weeks are past, he'll be back in the hardware store money in wallet, shopping for some of the other tools which seem almost essential to happy gardening.

Among the first items undoubtedly will be clipping shears and pruning shears. Incidentally, it is cheaper in the end to spend money for good tools—particularly cutting tools. There are many trick clipping shears on the market, some designed to permit the gardener to stand up and clip by way of a long handled implement. My personal choice—and gardening is extremely personal—are clippers with a "squeeze" cutting action. For pruning shears, small size, I like a snubbed, compact little tool with a cutting edge hitting an anv edge. Others swear by the type with two cutting blades.

A Bamboo Rake for Leaves

A bamboo rake for leaves and to uncover gently the mulched flower beds is important. There's also a place for a broom-type of rake with spring steel teeth.

No gardener can have too many cultivating tools. A favorite of most gardeners is a three-pronged potato hook with long handle. Small wheel cultivators aren't expensive and do a good job where plants are in rows. In the cultivating department, there are diamond-point hoes and scuffle hoes for those who prefer to push instead of pull to get rid of weeds.

Hedge shears are essential for hedges, and a heavy pruning tool makes the work of keeping trees in shape earier. Fertilizer and major seeding is easiest accomplished with a spreader. A watering can is the handiest tool for transplanting purposes. There are trowels of all sizes and shapes for various purposes.

Pressure Sprayer Is Worthwhile

A small sprayer is but an introduction. The gardener will find it worthwhile to invest in a pressure sprayer, a duster—and a glass spray container if he proposes to use some of the new chemicals which are rough on metal.

It's almost impossible to get along without a wheel-barrow, and an assortment of baskets—the size depending on what you can beg from the local grocery store and what you decide is light enough to keep the sacroiliac in place. And of course, hose and sprinklers.

You'll need flower pots of assorted sizes, plant stakes, labels, and a hundred and one other items which will be acquired slowly.

Ancient Egyptians built temples in honor of cats.

OWNER TESTS WIRING

"Hot Box" of Robert R. Irwin, which he uses for testing his idea of radiant coolness for homes in summer.

Water Running Hot Or Cold Used To Heat Or Cool Home

By Saul Feldman

STILLWATER, Okla.—Hot and cold running water for every home! That was the dream fifty years ago.

It's the dream today of Robert R. Irwin, but he wants to use it for heating and cooling homes.

Irwin, assistant professor in mechanical engineering at Oklahoma A&M College, is working on a variation of radiant heating that he hopes will be inexpensive enough for every home owner to install.

In his workshop at the college, Irwin has developed a "hot box" which has scientific instruments and controlled ventilation.

"The biggest drawback to air conditioning, or cooling a home now, is the cost," Irwin explained.

"Refrigeration units are expensive for the average home-owner. Evaporative cooling systems are inexpensive but they are limited because while reducing the temperature, they also raise the humidity."

Irwin has found in experiments with his "hot box" that from 80 to 85 per cent of the heat flowing into a house comes through walls and windows. The remaining 15 per cent is supplied by body heat, electric lights and pilot lights.

The solution Irwin is working on is to circulate cool water between the inside and outside walls of a house and between ceiling and roof. The idea is not new in itself, but he is attempting to develop means to make it inexpensive enough for everyone to use.

Pipes running through the walls and ceiling would handle the cool water. In the winter, warm water would be put through the pipes for heating.

"Using warm water is being done now in many homes," Irwin said. "If we can perfect a suitable means of cooling water and sending it through the pipes, we could have year-round air-conditioning at a nominal cost."

Irwin's innovation in cooling the water would be an inexpensive cooling tower with a pump circulating the water. He figures a satisfactory heating and cooling system for an average house now runs around $2,000. His radiant heating and cooling system would run from $600 to $700.

"Right now, builders figure it costs 10 per cent to install radiant heating throughout a home," he explained. "For one per cent more, the same system could be used for cooling in the summer."

The cool water running through the walls would absorb most of the heat before it could get into house.

"The house isn't made cold," he said. "The system would just keep out the heat. After all, if it's 95 degrees outside and you can keep it 15 degrees cooler on the inside, that's a lot of relief."

Installation of the system is comparatively simple. A series of pipes are run back and forth through the walls and ceilings. Plaster is then applied over the pipes in the normal fashion.

The pipes are hooked to a hot water tank and pump for winter. In the summer a valve is turned and the water is cooled in the cooling tower.

Irwin's system will undergo a severe test this summer. A quonset hut being used on the campus as a classroom will be divided in two. Half of the sheetmetal building will be fitted with the cooling system, the other half left as is.

Under Oklahoma's hot summer sun, it shouldn't take long to tell just how much heat can be kept out.

Science May Lay Super-Duper Chick

Modern trends being what they are, it's not surprising to note that many Louisiana 4-H Club members are concentrating on what they call the "Chicken of Tomorrow." The name doesn't explain everything, though. . . . Just what is the fowl of the future like? Is it a supersonic, streamlined bird, all breast and drumsticks, or what?

"Well, it's not as advanced as all that," said Assistant County Agent Bob Childress. "The purpose of the 'Chicken of Tomorrow' contest is to demonstrate how broilers can be brought to a greater weight earlier, through selection of breeding stock and better care and feeding."

In previous such contests, Louisiana poultry growers have exhibited birds weighing more than five pounds at 12 weeks of age. As any poultryman will tell you, that's pretty good, especially when it's the average weight of a number of birds and nott just one or two unusual specimens.

The official date of the "Chicken of Tomorrow" contest are June first through third at Alexandria, La.

Seven Ouachita Parish 4-H members, Doris Burnett, Myrle Kilpatrick, Carey Brooks, Dick Holloway, Joyce Malone, Ralph Kilpatrick and Wanda Lee Jordan, will enter the competition.

In charge of the project in the parish is Miss Aubry Dawson, associate home demonstration agent.

"Although there doesn't happen to be any beef, dairy cow or swine of tomorrow contest," said Childress, "the beef cattle producers of Louisiana, as well as dairymen and swine growers, are achieving similar results with better feeding and breeding. The farm animal of tomorrow can be found on many Louisiana farms today, bringing a new prosperity and stability to Louisiana agriculture."

Modern Pilgrims Visit Historic Spot

PLYMOUTH, Mass.—Editors of America's county papers, weeklies and small dailies, are going back to Plymouth Rock June 25 under the auspices of the National Editorial Association.

That Sunday afternoon at three o'clock the editors will hold a rededication service and reaffirm "our faith in the ideals of liberty and justice on which this nation was founded."

Of the 48 state governors who have been asked to proclaim June rededication month, 29 already have done so. Others are expected to follow.

The 5,300 editors in the association have asked ministers to use rededication sermons in each church of the nation June 25. They will stress the theme in their own editorials and ask other publications, radio stations, civic and veterans groups to do the same.

The 1950 convention of the association will be held June 15-20 at Providence, R. I. The trek to Plymouth Rock will follow.

Lester Williams, of Columbia, Miss., co-chairman of the rededication committee, wants to make it a "pilgrimage of rededication." He sees a peril to the nation in the "gradual loss of individual freedom" due to the encroachment of "big government, big business and big labor."

His co-chairman is Howard Fowler, of Mansfield, Mass. The two chairmen will lead the editors on a tour of New England and Nova Scotia in the days between the end of the convention and the June 25 ceremony.

Parisians Preoccupy Themselves With Highsounding Isms

By Serge Maurl

PARIS—'Tis the ism season in Paris, where there are cults that worship the onion, war against the wearing of clothes, babble sounds instead of words, or just simply contemplate.

Of course, isms flourish here the year round, including the best known of them all—communism. But there are a lot of off-the-beat cults around, if you're coming to France and want to get away from the tourist routine of the Louvre, the Folies Bergeres, the Eiffel Tower, or castles in the Loire valley.

The "popes," "priests," and just plain members of these cults are coming out into view on the sidewalks now that the chestnut trees are beginning to spread their leaves on the boulevards.

Slip an aperitif at practically any cafe around the Boulevard Saint Michel or the Boulevard St. Germain and you can scrape up an acquaintance with: Existentialism, sensorialism, dolorism, ephiphanism, lettrism, intimitism.

Or, if you like to dance nude in the moonlight, or hate cameras, you might try to join up with the: Omphalopsiques, iconoclastes, neo-medievaux, of phoebephiles.

Apart from communism, the best known of the isms is existentialism, whose leader is Jean Paul Sartre. His plays have appeared on Broadway.

DOWN WITH PRUDISHNESS, SAY WE!
THE OMPHALOPSIQUES GO IN FOR NAVEL STARING!!
YOU SEE, HE WRITES STORIES FOR CHILDREN AND HAS TO GET IN THE MOOD!
SENSORIALIST AT WORK
AAKKOOKUM BOINK PHMPH ??
MMRAAA PIKAZAROO WHMPSK!!
EXISTENTIALISM
"EXISTENCE IS SOMETHING YOU'RE STUCK WITH. YOU CAN'T CHANGE THINGS FOR THE BETTER, SO IT'S NOT WORTH TRYING."

A lot of people treat existentialism as a real philosophy.

The Catholic church has taken it seriously enough to denounce it as atheistic. One rough way of summing it up is: "Existence is something that you're stuck with. You can't change things for the better, so it's not worth trying."

However, the word has lost practically all meaning in France, where students use it to apply to almost anything a little away from the norm, and where nightclubs are called "existentialist" just because they are frequented by teenagers who like be-bop.

Among the more interesting of the other cults are:

LETTRISM—Followers of this cult believe sounds are better than words for real poetry. Their work bears such titles as "Double quartet in K." or "Sextet in O." They meet in cafes and babble gutteral sounds at each other. Their leader is Isidore Izou, recently the object of police action for writing an allegedly pornographic book.

SENSORIALISM—Led by writer Ignace Legrand, these people hold that an artist must experience every sensation he describes. Legrand nearly starved to death while writing about hunger.

OMPHALOPSIQUES — These people meet in a barbershop on Sunday, and "to recover their original innocence" sit quietly staring at their navels, andthinking about "the 18,014,483,333,333,333 men who separate them from Adam."

ICONOCLASTES— They are against all human representation, and particularly photography. They take a dim view of all humanity, and think man shouldn't try to leave any trace of himself behind. A photo takes away a little bit of each man's soul, they feel. At their weekly meetings, they burn a big waste basket full of photographs.

NEO-MEDIEVAUX—They dress in medieval clothes in protest against the decadence and artificiality of present life. At their meetings, the leader ppears, with two female pages and intones: "Down with perversity. There are moral rules that make tormented, unhealthy beings of us. We must recover our innocence. All our actions must be pure. Let's begin by attacking prudishness."

He then undoes the corsage of the two pages, while male members of the cult do the same to their female neighbors.

PHOEBEPHILES—This reportedly is a sect that was introduced from Bulgaria in 1924, whose members believe that meditating on the stomach purifies man of all his faults. The men all wear beards, too, and the summer cult dances nude in the moonlight in forests around Paris.

Gay Technicolor Musical Has June Haver, MacRae

'The Daughter Of Rosie O'Grady' Opens Today At Paramount

Starring June Haver and Gordon MacRae, this technicolor film produced by Warner Bros. is heralded as one of the best of the Hollywood offerings to cover the period of vaudeville days in the last decade.

The story is heartwarming. The daughter of an ex-vaudevillian, played by June Haver, is forbidden to try for the stage by her irate parent. She does so however, obtaining the aid of a notab. figure of the show world of that period. This is Tony Pastor, played by Gordon MacRae who thus gets ample scope for his singing talents. When at the climax she is fired from a new show in order to force a decision of choice upon her, it is her father who sends her back to her greatest triumph on the boards at the side of the great Pastor.

For Miss Haver, "The Daughter of Rosie O'Grady" is an important vehicle for the singing and dancing talents she possesses, and in Technicolor she has no peer for beauty in Hollywood, this being her 13th consecutive film in the color medium.

Also in the cast are the popular Cuddle Sakall and James Barton. The latter created the famous Jeeter Lester role in "Tobacco Road."

David Butler handled the direction for Warner Bros. while LeRoy Prinz staged the many dance numbers in the film.

Singing Is To Last All Night

Wally Fowler and the leading quartets of the nation will present an all-nite singing convention in Neville auditorium on Saturday, June 10. This is sensationally different! Just think, six of the leading quartets in the country! Wally Fowler and his Oak Ridge Quartet, The Rangers' Quartet, Happy Goodman Family, Blackwood Brothers' Quartet, and the Allen Brothers' Quartet, and many others will be present. This program is sponsored by the Jackson parish singing club.

Wally Fowler originated this famous convention in the Ryman auditorium in Nashville. Since, he has carried it to many parts of the United States. You can't miss it! Mr. Fowler is doing a great youth work by incouraging local talent to perform on these concerts throughout the country. Local talent in the surrounding territories will be asked to perform on this program. Anyone desiring information can contact Garland May at 659-J or Madeline Farnell at 6595-J.

The Louisiana State Singing Convention will appear in Northeast Junior College auditorium today.

Lois Butler Starred In 'Boy From Indiana' Here

Movie Star To Appear In Person At Joy Theater On Monday

A new kind of horse star comes to the screen in "Boy From Indiana," Ventura Pictures' screen romance of modern Arizona whose human stars are Lon McCallister and Lois Butler, with Billie Burke and George Cleveland featured. The Eagle Lion Films release plays Sunday and Monday at the Joy Theater.

Texas Dandy, the horse that has a lot to do with the plot of "Boy From Indiana," is a quarter horse, so named because he comes of a strain of horses bred to run faster for a quarter of a mile than anything on four legs.

"There are 14,000 registered quarter horses in this country," says Frank Melford who produced "Boy From Indiana." "They are easily the outstanding horses used in all phases of livestock work. They can work on the range all week long and then race on Sunday.

Have Many Uses

"They're excellent as polo ponies, for rodeo work, or just as saddle horses. They're intelligent and gentle. They can beat anything in the world for a quarter of a mile and do it a dozen times a day.

"Quarter horses first came to my attention when I learned that a quarter horse had been brought from Arizona to Hollywood Park in Los Angeles and in a match race, on which a wager of $50,000 was made, beat a top thoroughbred sprinter by two full lengths. I decided then that here was an animal that might well fit into a motion picture.

"The deeper we dug into the subject the more interesting it became. The quarter horse was established in Virginia in 1665 and is the earliest American horse bred. The foundation stock of the quarter horse was a cross between Spanish and native English stock.

Spread Across Country

"Quarter horse racing was very popular, the quarter horse moved on to the great Southwest where he became known as the greatest cow horse in history. He has maintained this title, both on the range and in the arena, and as a race horse.

"Quarter horse racing has been popular for years in the range country and now is spreading. The first race on the daily program at the last Bay Meadows meeting was quarter race and I am sure quarter horse races soon will be featured at nearly all tracks."

The horse star in "Boy From Indiana" is Texas Dandy, a beautiful reddish-brown stallion out of Streak by My Texas Dandy, both quarter horses. Texas Dandy is owned by John Finley of the Finley Ranches in Arizona.

The picture was filmed entirely in Arizona in Texas Dandy's back yard, so to speak. Many other famous quarter horses also appear in the picture.

'House By The River' At Paramount Thursday

anominous, brooding river creates the dramatic background for the Paramount Theatre's forthcoming attraction, "House by the River." Filmed at Republic Studios by Fidelity Pictures, the movie reveals how the floodtide affects the tormented human emotions which rage behind the sedate facade of a prim Victorian mansion. Starring Louis Hayward, Lee Bowman and Jane Wyatt, the film starts a two day run Thursday at the Paramount Theatre.

Alone in the house one late afternoon, Hayward, a frustrated author, makes love to the pretty servant girl (Dorothy Patrick), and murders her when her outcries threaten to bring on the neighbors. His bookkeeper brother, played by Lee Bowman, arrives to find the girl's lifeless body at Hayward's feet. Knowing that Bowman secretly is in love with his wife—portrayed by lovely Jane Wyatt—Hayward plays on this affection and persuades his brother to help him hide his crime.

The two men put the body in a sack and throw it in the river, but the tides prevent it from being carried downstream, and it is found by the police.

Officially, the brothers are cleared at the inquest, but unofficially, the finger of suspicion points to Bowman and Hayward deliberately builds up the circumstantial evidence against him.

Skillfully, the narrative follows the perverse workings of the murderer's warped mind.

IN MOVIELAND

HOLLYWOOD, June 3.—(AP)—They were movie actors working on a movie stage, but—they were rehearsing a stage play!

For a moment, I thought I had gotten my medium mixed. But then the whole scheme was explained to me: The cast of "Born Yesterday" will perform the play nightly for a week and then make it into a movie.

"We're learning what we forgot 12 years ago," said Bill Holden, who has been away from the stage that long.

"Make it 13 for me," added the incumbent Oscar winner, Broderick Crawford. They returned to their rehearsal with Judy Holliday and the rest of the cast and I headed for the office of George Cukor, who is directing the film.

Cukor explained that the cast will perform the play for about five nights before small audiences of studio workers. A complete theater stage is being built on a movie set just for that purpose. After their short and exclusive run in the play, the actors will switch to the movie script and film the picture in the usual manner.

The cost of building the stage and paying the actors is considerable and I asked Cukor why the outlay?

"I think it will be invaluable for the actors to get the style and flavor of 'Born Yesterday'," he remarked. "You see, we are trying something quite revolutionary in this picture—we are trying to preserve the original story. Since it was so expensive ($1,000,000), it is only natural that we should."

The movie script, he said, will follow the Garson Kanin play closely—or as closely as the censors will allow. Judy Holliday, who played the junk dealer's mistress in the play, becomes merely his fiancee in the movie. Otherwise things are much the same.

"Obviously, the play must have had some value in the first place," the director said, "or it wouldn't have been so successful. The tendency in Hollywood is for ego-seeking creators to put their own stuff into a movie taken from a book or play. We are trying to avoid that here."

It was suggested that by doing the play first, the film actors will know where the laughs will be in the movie.

"That is a snare and a delusion," corrected Cukor. "In plays, most of the laughs come from lines. In films, you don't know where they will come from—it might be even a raised eyebrow. That is the trouble with making a comedy—you never know whether it's really funny until the first preview."

Actual Dividing Of Dog Ordered

DETROIT, June 3.—(AP)—The divorce case of Walter and Rachel Tucker dragged on for 19 months.

Disposition of the furniture—and a pet cocker spaniel—comprised much of the dispute.

Each of the Tuckers had been married twice before.

Yesterday Circuit Judge Ira W. Jayne, showing signs of impatience, gave Mrs. Tucker a decree with this pronouncement:

"Because of your long experience in marriage and divorce, each of you should have been able to divide this furniture without the aid of the court.

"I order the furniture sold and the proceeds divided equally.

Gay Technicolor Musical Has June Haver, MacRae

'The Daughter Of Rosie O'-Grady' Opens Today At Paramount

All the warm nostalgia, the lilting music, gay laughs and carefree atmosphere of vaudeville shows, song and dance routines, waltzs and violins in the old cafes will unfold in a colorful motion picture panorama on "The Daughter of Rosie O'Grady" now showing at the Paramount Theatre.

Starring June Haver and Gordon MacRae, this technicolor film produced by Warner Bros. is heralded as one of the best of the Hollywood offerings to cover the period of vaudeville days in the last decade.

The story is heartwarming. The daughter of an ex-vaudevillian, played by June Haver, is forbidden to try for the stage by her irate parent. She does so however, obtaining the aid of a notab. figure of the show world of that period. This is Tony Pastor, played by Gordon MacRae who thus gets ample scope for his singing talents. When at the climax she is fired from a new show in order to force a decision of choice upon her, it is her father who sends her back to her greatest triumph on the boards at the side of the great Pastor.

For Miss Haver, "The Daughter of Rosie O'Grady" is an important vehicle for the singing and dancing talents she possesses, and in Technicolor she has no peer for beauty in Hollywood, this being her 13th consecutive film in the color medium.

Also in the cast are the popular Cuddle Sakall and James Barton. The latter created the famous Jeeter Lester role in "Tobacco Road."

David Butler handled the direction for Warner Bros. while LeRoy Prinz staged the many dance numbers in the film.

The Wye Oak, at Wye Mills, Md., is 95 feet high and about 400 years old.

Various nations set the length of the nautical mile at 6,076.1 feet to 6,085.95 feet.

Singing Is To Last All Night

Wally Fowler and the leading quartets of the nation will present an all-nite singing convention in Neville auditorium on Saturday, June 10. This is sensationally different! Just think, six of the leading quartets in the country! Wally Fowler and his Oak Ridge Quartet, The Rangers' Quartet, Happy Goodman Family, Blackwood Brothers' Quartet, and the Allen Brothers' Quartet, and many others will be present. This program is sponsored by the Jackson parish singing club.

Wally Fowler originated this famous convention in the Ryman auditorium in Nashville. Since, he has carried it to many parts of the United States. You can't miss it! Mr. Fowler is doing a great youth work by incouraging local talent to perform on these concerts throughout the country. Local talent in the surrounding territories will be asked to perform on this program. Anyone desiring information can contact Garland May at 659-J or Madeline Farnell at 6595-J.

The Louisiana State Singing Convention will appear in Northeast Junior College auditorium today.

Lois Butler Starred In 'Boy From Indiana' Here

Movie Star To Appear In Person At Joy Theater On Monday

A new kind of horse star comes to the screen in "Boy From Indiana," Ventura Pictures' screen romance of modern Arizona whose human stars are Lon McCallister and Lois Butler, with Billie Burke and George Cleveland featured. The Eagle Lion Films release plays Sunday and Monday at the Joy Theater.

Texas Dandy, the horse that has a lot to do with the plot of "Boy From Indiana," is a quarter horse, so named because he comes of a strain of horses bred to run faster for a quarter of a mile than anything on four legs.

"There are 14,000 registered quarter horses in this country," says Frank Melford who produced "Boy From Indiana." "They are easily the outstanding horses used in all phases of livestock work. They can work on the range all week long and then race on Sunday.

Have Many Uses

"They're excellent as polo ponies, for rodeo work, or just as saddle horses. They're intelligent and gentle. They can beat anything in the world for a quarter of a mile and do it a dozen times a day.

"Quarter horses first came to my attention when I learned that a quarter horse had been brought from Arizona to Hollywood Park in Los Angeles and in a match race, on which a wager of $50,000 was made, beat a top thoroughbred sprinter by two full lengths. I decided then that here was an animal that might well fit into a motion picture.

"The deeper we dug into the subject the more interesting it became. The quarter horse was established in Virginia in 1665 and is the earliest American horse bred. The foundation stock of the quarter horse was a cross between Spanish and native English stock.

Spread Across Country

"Quarter horse racing was very popular, the quarter horse moved on to the great Southwest where he became known as the greatest cow horse in history. He has maintained this title, both on the range and in the arena, and as a race horse.

"Quarter horse racing has been popular for years in the range country and now is spreading. The first race on the daily program at the last Bay Meadows meeting was quarter race and I am sure quarter horse races soon will be featured at nearly all tracks."

The horse star in "Boy From Indiana" is Texas Dandy, a beautiful reddish-brown stallion out of Streak by My Texas Dandy, both quarter horses. Texas Dandy is owned by John Finley of the Finley Ranches in Arizona.

The picture was filmed entirely in Arizona in Texas Dandy's back yard, so to speak. Many other famous quarter horses also appear in the picture.

VIDALIA FIELD NOW EXPANDING

Showings Of Oil Pushes Out; At Present 3 Wells Producing

FERRIDAY, La., June 3.—(Special)—The fourth producing well in the steadily expanding Vidalia field in Concordia parish, south of Vidalia, parish seat, is indicated Thursday as showings of oil in Schlumberger tests and sidewalks were reported in the Harriss-Interstate No. 3 of R. A. Campbell.

The Harriss-Interstate No. 3 located section 18-7N-10E is a south offset to the discovery well the Harriss-Interstate No. 1 which is still producing high gravity oil from the Wilcos Formation from perforations from 5664-71 feet.

A total of eight feet of sand and shale from 5667-75 was reported Wednesday in the Harriss-Interstate No. 3. A total of five feet of saturated and effective oil sand was reported as well as three feet of shaley oil sand.

The well was drilled to a total depth of 6202 feet. Late Wednesday afternoon production easing was being set. It is estimated that about five days will be required to conduct the necessary testing before the well can be brought in as a commercial producer.

Up to the present time there are three producing wells in the Vidalia Field. These include the discovery Harriss-Interstate No. 1 and two north offsets to the discovery well—the Nichols No. 1 and the Nichols No. 2 of the Atlantic Refining Company.

A west offset to the discovery well—the Harriss-Interstate No. 2 was drilled through the Wilcos Formation, but was abandoned as "dry" when no showings of oil were found.

Deputy Sheriff Seeks Office

FERRIDAY, La., June 3.—(Special)—A. M. Shelton, Jr., deputy sheriff of Tensas parish and a former member of the state police, has announced his candidacy for the office of town marshal of Waterproof subject to the election to be held in the community on Tuesday, June 13.

Shelton states that he promises, if elected, to carry out the duties of that office to the best of his ability, and will at all times endeavor to serve all in a fair and impartial manner, being ever mindful of the rights of each individual with whom he comes in contact in the necessary performance of his duty, and that he will cheerfully and conscientiously observe and follow such orders and directions from those over him according to law.

YOU COULD HAVE HIDDEN YOUR LOOT ANYWHERE. WE'LL SEARCH THE ENTIRE SHIP. I'LL HAVE TO HOLD YOU-ER-IN IRONS.
SINCE I'VE BEEN ACCUSED, I INTEND TO SEARCH WITH YOU!
AFTER A SERIES OF ROBBERIES ABOARD SHIP, THE PHANTOM IS ACCUSED WHEN A STOLEN RING IS FOUND IN HIS CABIN.
WELL, BIBI?
I PLANTED THE RING IN HIS CABIN. THEY THINK HE TOOK THIS STUFF-BUT NOW THEY'RE SEARCHING THE ENTIRE SHIP TO FIND IT!
HOLD THAT SACK OPEN! HURRY, BALDY!
THEY'RE COMING DOWN THE PASSAGEWAY! STEP ON IT!
THE THIEVES PUT THEIR PREPARED PLAN INTO ACTION RAPIDLY..
SEALING THE ODD, LUMINOUS, WATERPROOFED SACK, THEY LOWER IT OUTSIDE THE SHIP, TYING THE ROPE'S OTHER END TO THE PORTHOLE COVER.

The PHANTOM
By LEE FALK and WILSON McCOY
YOU COULD HAVE HIDDEN YOUR LOOT ANYWHERE. WE'LL SEARCH THE ENTIRE SHIP. I'LL HAVE TO HOLD YOU-ER-IN IRONS.
SINCE I'VE BEEN ACCUSED, I INTEND TO SEARCH WITH YOU!
AFTER A SERIES OF ROBBERIES ABOARD SHIP, THE PHANTOM IS ACCUSED WHEN A STOLEN RING IS FOUND IN HIS CABIN.
WELL, BIBI?
I PLANTED THE RING IN HIS CABIN. THEY THINK HE TOOK THIS STUFF-BUT NOW THEY'RE SEARCHING THE ENTIRE SHIP TO FIND IT!
HOLD THAT SACK OPEN! HURRY, BALDY!
THE THIEVES PUT THEIR PREPARED PLAN INTO ACTION RAPIDLY..
WE'RE SEARCHING ALL THE CABINS.. JUST A FORMALITY.
WE DON'T MIND. GO RIGHT AHEAD.
Copr. 1950, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.
YOU'LL SAVE TIME IF YOU TELL US WHERE YOU HID THE LOOT-BEFORE WE PUT YOU IN THE BRIG..
I SEE YOU WON'T BELIEVE ME..I ALSO SEE THAT YOU WON'T FIND THE REAL THIEF..
THE PHANTOM GLANCES OVER THE RAILING, THEN...
WILSON McCOY 6-4
~SO I'LL HAVE TO FIND HIM-MYSELF.
.SUDDENLY, HE LEAPS INTO THE DARK SEA! CONT'D NEXT WEEK.

FLASH BOLDLY BLUFFS HIS WAY TO DALE'S CELL, SAYING: "ZIN ORDERED ME TO TAKE DALE TO THE AIRPORT." DALE, RECOGNIZING HIS VOICE, CAN HARDLY HIDE HER EXCITEMENT.
FLASH AND DALE ARE HARDLY OUTSIDE THE PALACE WHEN ZIN DISCOVERS THE TRICK. A GUARD STAMMERS: "THEY'RE HEADING FOR THE AIRPORT." TO THE GUARD'S SURPRISE, ZIN LAUGHS. "GOOD!" HE SAYS, "THE ONLY ROCKET-SHIP IN THE SPACE-PORT IS ALREADY BOOBY-TRAPPED."

NOW! Dental Science Shows that Brushing Teeth Right After Eating with

COLGATE DENTAL CREAM

STOPS TOOTH DECAY BEST

Better Than Any Other Way of Preventing Tooth Decay According to Reports in Authoritative Dental Literature!

2 YEARS' RESEARCH AT 5 GREAT UNIVERSITIES—case histories of hundreds of people who used Colgate Dental Cream right after eating—shows the Colgate way stops decay best! Better than any other home method of oral hygiene known! Yes, clinical and X-ray examinations showed the Colgate way stopped more decay for more people—than ever before reported in all dentifrice history!

EVEN MORE IMPORTANT, THERE WERE ABSOLUTELY NO NEW CAVITIES for more than 1 out of 3 who used Colgate Dental Cream correctly! Think of it! Not even one new cavity in two full years! No other dentifrice, only Colgate Dental Cream, has proof of such results—the best results ever reported in authoritative dental literature for a dentifrice of any type!

SO START YOUR FAMILY ON COLGATE DENTAL CREAM TODAY! By the time they enter school, 9 out of 10 children have one or more decayed teeth. Children love Colgate's wake-up flavor, so it's easy to get them to use Colgate Dental Cream correctly. No dentifrice can stop all tooth decay, or help cavities already started. But the Colgate way is the most effective way yet known to help your dentist prevent tooth decay!

CAPTAIN EASY IS THE NEW DEPUTY MARSHAL IN THE WESTERN TOWN OF HALFSHOD
CAPTAIN Easy
NO, IVY, I CAN'T PROVE THAT SAL PICKED BANDY'S POCKET IN DEADEYE'S GOLDEN EAGLE SALOON, BUT I'M WATCHING THE PLACE!
THAT BLANKETY-BLANK HOMBRE'S GONNA CAUSE YOU AND ME TROUBLE, DEADEYE!
T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.
IF I ROLL ANY MORE PROSPECTORS FOR THE MONEY YOU PAY 'EM FOR THEIR GOLD DUST, HE'LL GET WISE!
YEAH! HE'S GOTTA HAVE AN ACCIDENT!
I'M SHIPPIN' SOME GOLD TOMORROW! IF THERE HAPPENED TO BE A HOLDUP AND SOME WILD SHOOTIN', HE MIGHT GET PLUGGED!
GOOD IDEA, BIG THUMB! AND IF THE GOLD GETS STOLEN, THE EXPRESS COMPANY'LL HAVE TO PAY FOR IT!
AT SADDLE HORNE'S GENERAL STORE--
POOR BANDY! STILL TRYING TO GET CREDIT FROM DAD!
JUST ONCE, MORE, SADDLE!
NO! I'M KEEPIN' THE DOUGH YOU HAD AS PAYMENT ON YOUR BILL!
THREE TIMES I GRUB-STAKED YOU, AND THREE TIMES YOU SAID YOU GOT ROBBED AT THE GOLDEN EAGLE! THIS TIME I'M GONNA BE PAID!
OKAY, THEN! I'LL GET A JOB AT THE FEED BARN AND PAY OFF YOUR DOGGONE BILL!
THE NEXT MORNING--
THE MANAGER AIN'T HERE! SWIPE YOURSELF A COUPLE OF HOSSES, BOYS!
YOU SAID THIS WAS A STICK-UP, BIG THUMB! WHAT'S THE ANGLE?
FEED BARN
THE NEW DEPUTY MARSHAL'S GUARDIN' THE GOLD I'M SHIPPIN' TODAY, BUT I'LL SEE HE DOESN'T BOTHER YOU! JUST RIDE IN SHOOTIN' AND GRAB IT!
WE HEARD ABOUT YOUR TROUBLE WITH THE NEW LAWMAN, BIG THUMB! MAYBE HE'S GONNA GET HIT ACCIDENTAL, EH?
MIND YOUR OWN BUSINESS! JUST FOLLOW ORDERS AND GET GOIN'!
JUST MY LUCK! NO WAY TO GET OUT AND I AIN'T EVEN GOT A POPGUN!

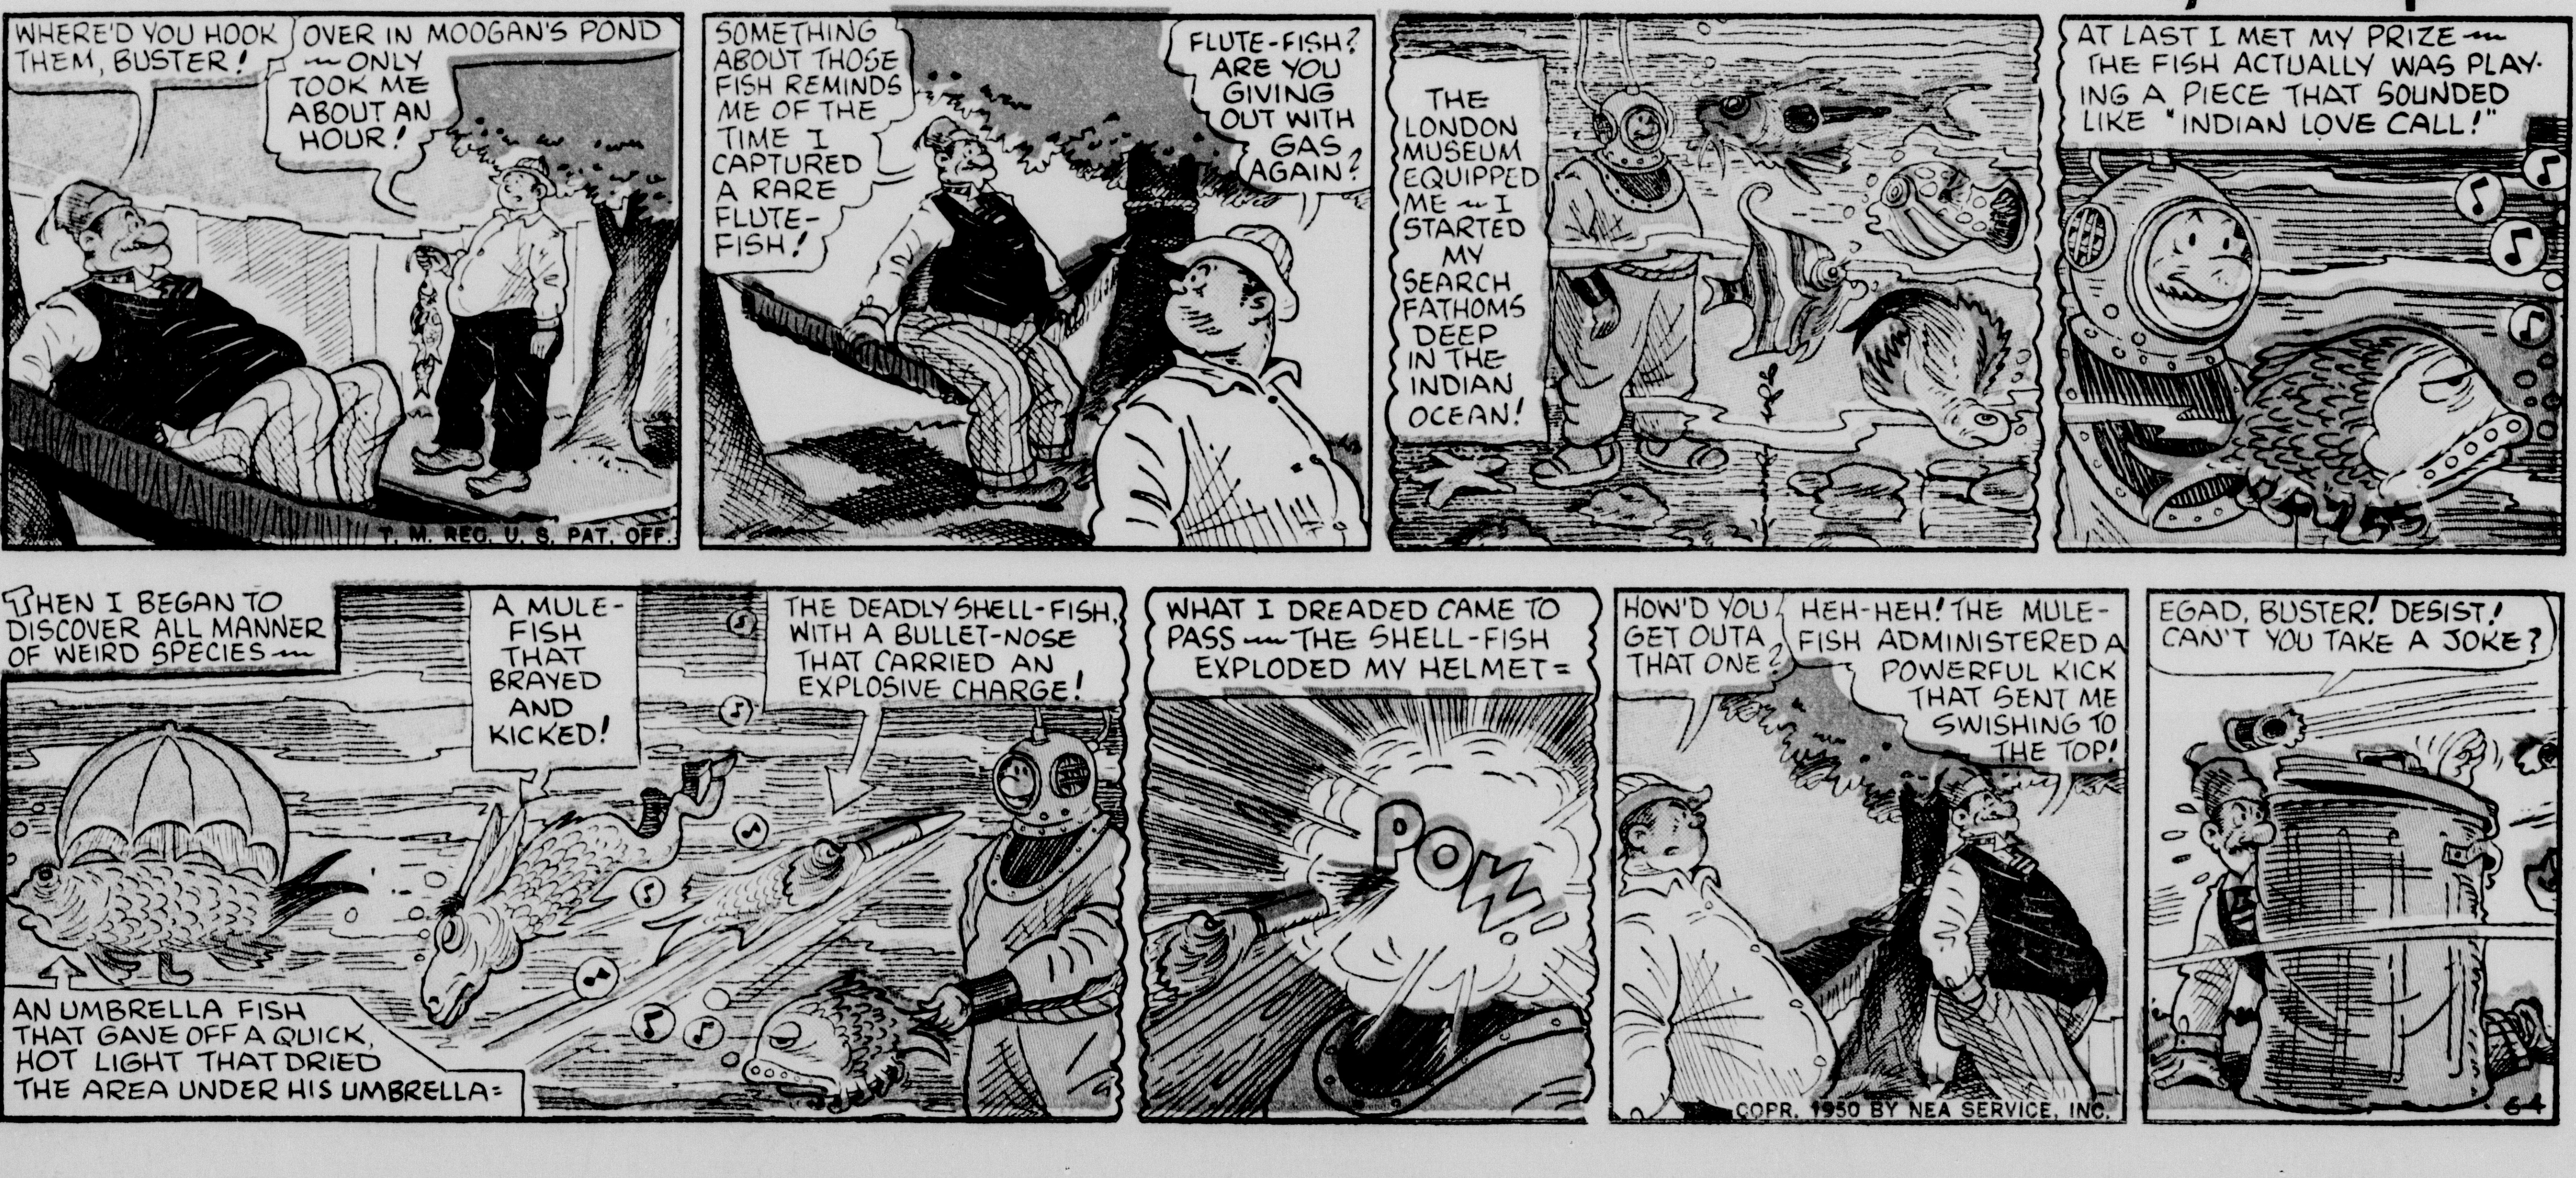
OUR BOARDING HOUSE With Major Hoople



WHERE'D YOU HOOK THEM, BUSTER!
OVER IN MOOGAN'S POND --ONLY TOOK ME ABOUT AN HOUR!
T. M. REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.
SOMETHING ABOUT THOSE FISH REMINDS ME OF THE TIME I CAPTURED A RARE FLUTE-FISH!
FLUTE-FISH? ARE YOU GIVING OUT WITH GAS AGAIN?
THE LONDON MUSEUM EQUIPPED ME -- I STARTED MY SEARCH FATHOMS DEEP IN THE INDIAN OCEAN!
AT LAST I MET MY PRIZE -- THE FISH ACTUALLY WAS PLAYING A PIECE THAT SOUNDED LIKE "INDIAN LOVE CALL!"
THEN I BEGAN TO DISCOVER ALL MANNER OF WEIRD SPECIES --
A MULE-FISH THAT BRAYED AND KICKED!
THE DEADLY SHELL-FISH, WITH A BULLET-NOSE THAT CARRIED AN EXPLOSIVE CHARGE!
AN UMBRELLA FISH THAT GAVE OFF A QUICK, HOT LIGHT THAT DRIED THE AREA UNDER HIS UMBRELLA=
WHAT I DREADED CAME TO PASS -- THE SHELL-FISH EXPLODED MY HELMET= POW!
HOW'D YOU GET OUTA THAT ONE?
HEH-HEH! THE MULE-FISH ADMINISTERED A POWERFUL KICK THAT SENT ME SWISHING TO THE TOP!
EGAD, BUSTER! DESIST! CAN'T YOU TAKE A JOKE?

FLASH GORDON
by MAC RABOY and DON MOORE ®
CORNERED, FLASH DISGUISES HIMSELF IN LOYO'S SPARE WORK CLOTHES AND MINER'S HELMET. BUT ZIN HARDLY GLANCES AT THE TWO "WORKMEN" AS HE SAYS: "I SET MY CAR AFIRE, KILLING FLASH. GET YOUR TRUCK AND DRIVE US TO THE PALACE."
LOYO AND FLASH DRIVE THE TRUCK TO THE PALACE. EN ROUTE FLASH WATCHES FOR A CHANCE TO RESCUE DALE, BUT IT IS HOPELESS. HE DECIDES THAT HIS BEST CHANCE WILL COME WHEN SHE IS IMPRISONED IN THE PALACE.
FLASH SCOUTS THE PALACE GROUNDS UNTIL HE LEARNS WHERE DALE IS LOCKED UP. CATCHING ONE OF THE GUARDS UNAWARES, HE "PERSUADES" HIM TO SURRENDER HIS UNIFORM.
FLASH BOLDLY BLUFFS HIS WAY TO DALE'S CELL, SAYING: "ZIN ORDERED ME TO TAKE DALE TO THE AIRPORT." DALE, RECOGNIZING HIS VOICE, CAN HARDLY HIDE HER EXCITEMENT.
FLASH AND DALE ARE HARDLY OUTSIDE THE PALACE WHEN ZIN DISCOVERS THE TRICK. A GUARD STAMMERS: "THEY'RE HEADING FOR THE AIRPORT." TO THE GUARD'S SURPRISE, ZIN LAUGHS. "GOOD!" HE SAYS, "THE ONLY ROCKET-SHIP IN THE SPACE-PORT IS ALREADY BOOBY-TRAPPED."
NEXT WEEK - ZIN'S DEATHTRAP. 6-4

NOW! Dental Science Shows that Brushing Teeth Right After Eating with

STOPS TOOTH DECAY BEST

Better Than Any Other Way of Preventing Tooth Decay According to Reports in Authoritative Dental Literature!

2 YEARS' RESEARCH AT 5 GREAT UNIVERSITIES—case histories of hundreds of people who used Colgate Dental Cream right after eating—shows the Colgate way stops decay best! Better than any other home method of oral hygiene known! Yes, clinical and X-ray examinations showed the Colgate way stopped more decay for more people—than ever before reported in all dentifrice history!

EVEN MORE IMPORTANT, THERE WERE ABSOLUTELY NO NEW CAVITIES for more than 1 out of 3 who used Colgate Dental Cream correctly! Think of it! Not even one new cavity in two full years! No other dentifrice, only Colgate Dental Cream, has proof of such results—the best results ever reported in authoritative dental literature for a dentifrice of any type!

SO START YOUR FAMILY ON COLGATE DENTAL CREAM TODAY! By the time they enter school, 9 out of 10 children have one or more decayed teeth. Children love Colgate's wake-up flavor, so it's easy to get them to use Colgate Dental Cream correctly. No dentifrice can stop all tooth decay, or help cavities already started. But the Colgate way is the most effective way yet known to help your dentist prevent tooth decay!

Always Use Colgate's To Clean Your Breath While You Clean Your Teeth—and Help Stop Tooth Decay!
